Approximately 5,000 years ago, the rising of Aldebaran marked the vernal equinox and was the beginning of the Babylonian New Year.

Hebrews called Aldebaran God's Eye and Aleph

Aldebaran is also known as Buddha's Star, the Star of Illumination, God's Eye, and the Eye of the Bull.

As we can notice the vector around Polaris our actual conventional fixed star representing our position in the ecliptic casually seems to be VW and the original German named Kafer (Beetle)Volkswagen made originally just for the Nazi elite, Khepher represented with a beetle head was the prince of darkness (underworld) and Xeper is the actual name of one of the temple of Set the Egyptian Satan founded by General Michael Aquino CIA director of Mk ultra project. www.xeper.org

Mr Aquino shows with pride on this video a Knight of Malta Heinrich Himmler sacrificial dagger used at Wewelsburg (means beetle) Castle.

Jeremiah 32

30 "The people of Israel and Judah have done nothing but evil in my sight. They have done it since the nation was young. In fact, they have done nothing but make me very angry. They have worshiped statues of gods their own hands have made," announces the Lord. 31 "This city has always stirred up my burning anger. It has done it since the day it was built. Now I must remove it from my sight.

32 "The people of Israel and Judah have made me very angry. They have done many evil things. They, their kings and officials have sinned. So have their priests and prophets. And the people of Judah and Jerusalem have also sinned. 33 They turned their backs to me. They would not face me. I taught them again and again. But they would not listen or pay attention when they were corrected.

34 "They set up statues of their gods. They did it in the house where I have put my Name. They made my house 'unclean.' I hate those statues.

35 "The people built high places for Baal in the Valley of Ben Hinnom. That is where they sacrifice their children to Molech in the fire. That is something I did not command. It did not even enter my mind. They did something I hate. They made Judah sin."

36 You people of Judah are saying about this city, "By war, hunger and plague it will be handed over to the king of Babylonia."

But the Lord, the God of Israel, says, 37 "You can be sure that I will gather my people again. I will bring them from all of the lands where I send them when my burning anger blazes out against them. I will bring them back to this place. And I will let them live in safety.

38 "They will be my people. And I will be their God. 39 I will give them a single purpose in life. Then, they will always have respect for me. I will do it for their own good. And it will be for the good of their children after them.

40 "I will make a covenant with them that will last forever. I promise that I will never stop doing good to them. I will cause them to respect me. Then they will never turn away from me again. 41 I will take pleasure in doing good things for them. I will certainly plant them in this land. I will do those things with all my heart and soul."

42 The Lord says, "I have brought all of this horrible trouble on these people. But now I will give them all of the good things I have promised them.

43 "Once more fields will be bought in this land. It is the land about which you now say, 'It is a dry and empty desert. It doesn't have any people or animals in it. It has been handed over to the armies of Babylonia.' 44 Fields will be bought with silver. Deeds will be signed, sealed and witnessed. That will be done in the territory of Benjamin. It will be done in the villages around Jerusalem and in the towns of Judah. It will also be done in the towns of the central hill country. And it will be done in the towns of the western hills and the Negev Desert. I will bless their people with great success again," announces the Lord.

Please share this message time is running and children dying, God bless them !

To the right we can see the nazi black sun symbol on Wewelsburg Castle said to be the heavy dark matter white dwarf binary (Sirius B) companion of our Sun explaining Sirius heliacal rising and the Coptic 365 days sideral Egyptian year which starts on 911 being its middle years the 311, also explaining 911 and 311 well known ritual sacrifices.

The Julian Calendar was also based on the sideral heliacal rising of Sirius, which was not as exact as the actual Gregorian reason why 10 days had to be suppressed up to 158, if we add this 10 days to 911 and 311 we will get on to the actual equinoxes dates, sacred and sacrificial dates for Satanic worship.

Vril and Bovril Wikipedia

Vril is a substance described in Edward Bulwer-Lytton's 1871 novel The Coming Race, which was later reprinted as Vril: The Power of the Coming Race. The novel is an early example of science fiction. However, many early readers believed that its account of a superior subterranean master race and the energy-form called "Vril" was accurate, to the extent that some theosophists accepted the book as truth. Furthermore, since 1960 there has been a conspiracy theory about a secret Vril Society.

Bovril is the trademarked name of a thick, salty meat extract, developed in the 1870s by John Lawson Johnston and sold in a distinctive, bulbous jar. It is made in Burton upon Trent, Staffordshire, owned and distributed by Unilever UK.

Bovril can be made into a drink by diluting with hot water, or less commonly with milk.[1] It can also be used as a flavouring for soups, stews or porridge, or spread on bread, especially toast, rather like Marmite.

The first part of the product's name comes from Latin bos (genitive bovis) meaning "ox" or "cow." Johnston took the -vril suffix from

Bulwer-Lytton's then-popular 1870 "lost race" novel The Coming Race, whose plot revolves around a superior race of people, the Vril-ya, who derive their powers from an electromagnetic substance named "Vril."^{[2][3]}

In 1870, in the war against the Prussians, Napoleon III ordered one million cans of beef to feed his starving troops. The task of providing all this beef went to a Scotsman named John Lawson Johnston. Large quantities of beef were available across the British Dominions and South America, but its transport and storage were problematic. Therefore Johnston created a product known as 'Johnston's Fluid Beef,' later called Bovril, to meet the needs of the French people and Napoleon III.^[4] By 1888, over 3,000 British public houses, grocers and chemists were selling Bovril. In 1889, the Bovril Company was formed.

John Lawson Johnston (1839-1900) the creator of Bovril was born in 29 Main Street, Roslin, where you'll find Bovril Johnston's café and there's a Roslin Historical Society plaque above the door. As a butcher back in the eighteen seventies he developed Johnston's Fluid Beef which he later called Bovril. From Roslin, he set up a business to manufacture his products in Quebec, later moving to London where he lived at 'Bovril Castle' -- Kingswood House, Sydenham while he developed the Bovril brand across Britain. Bovril was closely associated with the Playfairs, the Edinburgh & Bengal medical family; Lord Playfair had once been a laboratory assistant to Baron Liebig, founder of Liebig's Extract of Meat Company (Oxo).

Note Scottish relation with German Rosicrucian Alchemist Baron Liebig which used Egyptian symbology in his meat extract publicity.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Liebig%27s_Extract_of_Meat_Company

John Lawson Johnston married Elizabeth, daughter of George Lawson, biscuit manufacturer of Edinburgh. Their second son George Lawson Johnston (1873–1943) also managed the Bovril company and was raised to the peerage as Baron Luke. Educated in Canada, Dulwich and Polmont, he worked in Canada, Australia, Africa and Argentina developing expertise in trade and raw materials. In 1896 he returned to London and the board of Bovril Ltd, becoming Vice-Chairman in 1900 when his father died. He was a Director of the Daily Express from its foundation in 1900 to 1917, and a director of Lloyds Bank.

Occult encrypted publicity :

Note left below Bovril's publicity regarding on how to find the polar star, the vector of the VW.

Bovril holds the unusual position of having been advertised with a Pope. An advertising campaign of the early 20th century in Britain depicted the Pope seated on his throne, bearing a mug of Bovril. The campaign slogan read: The Two Infallible Powers - The Pope & Bovril.

In 1893 Bovril prepared special concentrated food for the Norwegian polar explorer, Drn Nansen. He believed there was a general drift across the polar basin.

In 1908 Shackleton took Bovril with him to the latitude 88 on a sledge journey that pioneered the way to the Pole and ranks as the greatest ever made.

Thule / Hyperborea / Atlantis

The Thule Society (German: Thule-Gesellschaft), originally the Studiengruppe für germanisches Altertum 'Study Group for Germanic Antiquity', was a German occultist and Völkisch group in Munich, notable chiefly as the organization that sponsored the Deutsche Arbeiterpartei, which was later transformed by Adolf Hitler into the Nazi Party. Hitler, however, was never a member of the Thule Society.

Origins

The Thule Society was founded August 17, 1918 by Rudolf von Sebottendorff, a German occultist, as the Munich branch of the Germanenorden, a secret society a.k.a. the "Order of Teutons" (1912).

Von Sebottendorff later claimed that he originally intended the Thule Society to be a vehicle for promoting his own occultist theories, but that the Germanenorden pressed him to emphasize political, nationalist and anti-Semitic themes. Since this claim was made while the Nazis were in power and von Sebottendorff had little to gain by denying anti-Semitism, it may well be true.

Beliefs

A primary focus of Thule-Gesellschaft was a claim concerning the origins of the Aryan race. "Thule" was a land located by Greco-Roman geographers in the furthest north. The society was named after "Ultima Thule" — (Latin: most distant North) mentioned by the Roman poet Virgil in his epic poem Aeneid, which was the far northern segment of Thule and is generally understood to mean Scandinavia. Said by Nazi mystics to be the capital of ancient Hyperborea, they placed Ultima Thule in the extreme north near Greenland or Iceland.

The Thulists believed in the hollow earth theory. The Thule Society counted among its goals the desire to prove that the Aryan race came from a lost continent, perhaps Atlantis.

The Thule-Gesellschaft maintained close contacts with followers of Theosophy and the followers of Helena Blavatsky, a famous Occultist during the second part of the 19th century.

Anthroposophical themes were common too, as the motto Der Weg ist in Dir - 'The Way is present in You', expresses. Self-realization and the supreme position of the human person were essential to the Thulists.

PROTOCOL No. 3

1. To-day I may tell you that our goal is now only a few steps off. There remains a small space to cross and the whole long path we have trodden is ready now to close its cycle of the Symbolic Snake, by which we symbolize our people. When this ring closes, all the States of Europe will be locked in its coil as in a powerful vice.

Ouroboros encrypts the Luciferian stargate cycle, the feathered angel serpent holdin the tail of their human Luciferian legacy.

POVERTY OUR WEAPON

5. All people are chained down to heavy toil by poverty more firmly than ever

JEWS WILL BE SAFE

11. THIS HATRED WILL BE STILL FURTHER MAGNIFIED BY THE EFFECTS of an ECONOMIC CRISES, which will stop dealing on the exchanges and bring industry to a standstill. We shall create by all the secret subterranean methods open to us and with the aid of gold, which is all in our hands, A UNIVERSAL ECONOMIC CRISES WHEREBY WE SHALL THROW UPON THE STREETS WHOLE MOBS OF WORKERS SIMULTANEOUSLY IN ALL THE COUNTRIES OF EUROPE. These mobs will rush delightedly to shed the blood of those whom, in the simplicity of their ignorance, they have envied from their cradles, and whose property they will then be able to loot.
