

weltanschuuang superconsciousness kaminski

Good afternoon everybody, it's Kominsky Goes Ballistic Behind Enemy Lines on speakfreeradio.com for September 8th, 2022. We have our special guest, Loki Hullgard, back again to talk about Miguel Serrano again. We're going to have phone calls in the second hour as we usually do.

The number to call, and I should attach a one to the beginning of it, which I always forget to do, 1-605-562-0400, and the access code to follow is 811-7272 and the pound sign. I have several announcements at the beginning of the show. I have my first ad on Kominsky Goes Ballistic, it's Reed Sainsbury's book, Exposing the Lies of History, published by Money Tree Publishing.

I'm happy to recommend that because I heard Reed Sainsbury, the interview he did on Giuseppe's show a couple of weeks ago, and it was a great interview with an attitude about describing history that we all should have. So that's a book worth getting. Let's see, what else do I have to do at the top here? I don't have to apologize about screwing up the phones last week because it wasn't entirely my fault.

Let's see here, what else is, oh yes, on the speakfreeradio.com website, we have chat rooms, podcasts, all the great hosts, and streams enough to give you enough entertainment to last the week. The show tonight is about superconsciousness, and the German term for that is Weltanschauung, and I'm so psyched about this story. This is a continuation of the story Loki and I did earlier in the week about Miguel Serrano.

This story, it's like I'm in Disneyland. This story is much better than Star Wars or even the Lord of the Rings. You know, I'm no expert in these matters, only kind of a dilettante in search of reason, just a hack journalist trying to cut through the crap.

And the story Serrano tells in 800 plus pages about Adolf Hitler, the last avatar, is the same story he tells in Son of the Winter War in 32 pages, give or take several hundred subplots and four or five complete novels as well. So Loki and I are planning on dissecting Son of the Winter War in two hours, whereas analyzing the last avatar would take two years. Son of the Winter War stands for the resurrection after nine days.

Both tell a story about human history that nobody really knows. These are the stories of the archetypes. And it goes back far beyond the Bible, which the Bible, in my opinion, is a psychotic Jewish soap opera by comparison.

Serrano's work answers all the questions the Pope and his priests, as well as the rabbis and their bankers, are terrified to answer, like how the sons of God came into the daughters of men. That's a question that a lot of people have asked and hardly anybody knows anything about. But the thing that's been on my mind since I was first introduced to the work of Miguel Serrano was that, at least in my superficial perception, there seems to be a better understanding by men of women and by women of men.

And so we're going to talk about that a little bit today. Now, what I said about that was, think about how much better life would be if, instead of experiencing a succession of lovers used for crass and carnal purposes and chafing under the cruel rule of a selfish God named Yahweh, the Prince of Darkness, who ordered you to rob and kill people he didn't like, if instead you found a perfect match for that long-missing piece of your soul, instead of thriving toward some stuffy residence at the right hand of some creep you could never understand, you and your partner bonded forever and found your way to eternal life on the astral plane without any devious directions from power man priests. Now, there's so much information that Serrano has put out in a whole series of books.

I've just mentioned two of them, and I'm going to let another one get in the way, which is, if I can find it here, no, it's not that one. It's Mano the Man to Come. And this is where I gathered quite a bit of material, which I'm really going to ask Loki about it.

He's going to tell you about it because he has such a much better grip on this material than I do. Let me see where I am here. I'm awash in literature.

Loki, how are you doing today? Pretty good. Are you looking forward to this as much as I have been? Yes, I think it's important that Serrano be gotten out as a sort of doctrine, his ideas in a more didactic format, presented more as a synopsis, but with sufficient detail that people can actually understand it, because a lot of the few information that is available, it's not really good enough for people to understand. It's just sort of people reading like Nos and more esoteric writings of his, which most people couldn't really understand unless they're an initiate or something of that kind.

It's hard to fight your way into, for sure, but it's like once you get in there, it's I mean, for me, it's like Disneyland, it's all these questions about ancient history that many of which I never even had until I started reading him. It's a whole cosmology and anthropogenesis and cosmogenesis, it ties everything together. It pretty much presents a whole story of the history of the world and worlds beyond this world.

There's a couple of teaser lines that I just can't resist getting out and exploring ancient history, and not just Susurrano, but in other people, because there seems to be a whole waterfall of information coming out now with a lot of different people. How Lord Krishna had blue skin and the great Sumerian hero Gilgamesh was 16 feet tall. That's not something you learn in history class.

This is my opinion of the whole situation that we're trying to illustrate for people to learn more about. Exactly what the world is missing is knowledge of our astral bodies, which has been erased by the Prince of Darkness, powers that humans used to have thousands of years ago, which enabled them to construct all these fantastic artifacts and cities and technical achievements and statuary like the Great Pyramids, which cannot be replicated by the primitive technology we use today. And then there's this kind of a general summation of the whole situation.

The Hyperboreans and Aryans, which we know about, but most people don't, are kept prisoners under the hypnosis of the Demiurge with the help of Satan slash Saturn slash Jehovah and his genetic robots, the Jews. Today's gods try to keep humans separated from their divinity, and hence the wonders placed before them remain unseen, like Hitler's base in Antarctica, where the supermen take off to Venus in their UFOs, their Vamanas in their shape-changing astral bodies. Don't be scared.

It's only in your imagination until you resurrect and actually do it. Before I get to the list of chapters in the Sons of the Widows, I make that the widower, I wanted to just touch on, and I don't want to get everybody too confused about what I have like I am now. But the, yeah, the two things I wanted to get across at the start, and then we'll start going through the chapters, was the different relationship between men and women that Serrano describes is, doesn't have anything to do with the slavery imposed upon women in the historical world that we know where they have been locked up and not really, it's like men didn't try to understand them, they like captured them, and there's so much more to a healthy relationship than that.

And the other thing is eternal return and reincarnation. So let's, before I get any more confused than I already am, let's go to the Sons of the Widower and do it chapter by chapter. And the first chapter was going to be about rabbis.

And I'm going to read the introduction to it and then I'm going to hand it over to you and you can explain it a little more in depth. Isn't the first chapter on catastrophe? It says the catastrophe. Tell me about that then.

I think that basically discusses what is also discussed in Menuh for the Man to Come, explosion, which is pretty much the, I guess, demiurgic Big Bang, the explosion of this so called God, the Logos, who manifested itself and superimposed itself with violence. Upon the world that pre-existed it, which is not something that could be a lot of things. That could be a lot of different things.

What popped into my mind was Jason Breshears saying the collapse of the water canopy. That could be the comet hitting the earth. And it's like changing everything, mostly changing the oxygen contents so that these giants who appear to have been the Hyperboreans couldn't keep their size.

And eventually the human race shrunk down to its present size over the course of many centuries. It could be a result of Saturn and the magnetic fields being generated from Saturn that is basically like a death force. Right.

And that works through these ice rings that were formed around Saturn to keep to make it into a captive aeon. Right. By these probably by some type of reptilian type entities is my suspicion that there's been depictions in video footage from NASA about these sort of weird elongated spacecraft that are shown making these ice rings around Saturn.

So what it does is transform Saturn into basically a radio station that transmits these sort of radio waves or maybe magnetic fields that constitute time and generates time, the matrix or Maya, the illusion that we live in. And this basically keeps people in low density vibration so that they can have their souls vampirized and they can't attain immortality, they can't resurrect or become what they were. They can't return.

All the major philosophical systems that I've ever heard of posit there was some kind of confrontation in space. The War of Gods and Men is the convenient title of many of these things. And who was who becomes a matter of debate.

And it leads to the contemplation of the white race coming from the North Pole. Well, the the opponents came from somewhere else. I would so far as my research is superficial, researches have revealed there's a guy named Robert Ernst Dickhoff, who wrote a book called Agartha.

I read that. I just read that. It's quite a book.

Yeah. In 1951, he was a Buddhist from Germany who had set up the I think it's the American Buddhist Society out of New York City. But I think his work is a bit distorted.

It's possibly a corrupted distortion. He claims that it's basically the Aryans from Mars who came from Elbeber on prior to that time. And that's corroborated by Blavatsky in her The Secret Doctrine.

Right. And on Venus, he claims that there are some type of reptilian creatures, whether they just took it over the planet Venus or don't know. But it was a comet that came into the solar system.

And that's not native to this solar system. Venus. That's the that's the that's the opinion of the Thunderbolts guys who are a bunch of recent scientists, too many of them Jews, who insist that Venus was a comet expectorated from from Jupiter or somewhere else that streaked across the sky and was described in many of the ancient legends as causing the great catastrophe that legends of Atlantis and other ancient civilizations were apparently destroyed by the effect.

The Norse myths are about that. But but getting back to Serrano and Mars and Venus and and I thought the Dickoff book was was a kind of typical of E.T. books of that time in the early 50s. Yeah, that's what it read like to me, too, sort of a theosophical propaganda.

Many of those stem from like Ray Palmer's amazing stories that were have been adopted by would be new age gurus in recent years, as in telepathic communication with with Zeta reticuli or Pleiadians or groups like that that are just just I mean, I mean, they've they they they pollute the investigation of ancient history, as far as I'm concerned, having having experienced some of them. But what I've never been able to get straight is who are the good guys and who were the bad guys? It's like we know who they are now, but who were they then? It depends on how far you want to take it back. I personally believe that the Aryans came from if we if we consider it from a purely materialistic standpoint, which is not really Serrano's conception at all, that they came from they went to Mars from Aldebaran, and then they went to the north after that and to the Gobi Desert subsequently.

But Serrano doesn't really seem to discuss anything of that kind at all. He he's basically claiming that they involuted on the earth, but they might have involuted as Vimana, that they were in an astral form. That's and then they did that.

Yes. It's like the people who came from Venus were of an astral form. And from reading parts of Serrano, it's like they weren't fully corporeal.

And I'm not sure what that means. But what I think it means is that the part of humanity that once existed and created some of these fantastic civilizations that we only see glimpses of in artifacts that we can't really explain nor replicate, that these were done by beings much smarter than we are today. I think what that means is that they're in a more subtilized astral body like the they were maybe like he speaks of the immortal Vajra of the Rubedo phase, their subtilized matter.

And when they came to the earth, how does that pertain to today? And what does that aspect of our inhabitants of our planet today mean to a civilization that basically has had this is going to be tough on Christians and all the other current believers. But we haven't had real spirituality since Yahweh took over the complex of earth religions. Well, it's just been an undercurrent or an opposition, something deemed heresy by the Abrahamics and the mainstream religious philosophies or fanaticisms.

Oh, OK, so anyway, the next chapter in Sons of the Widower is the rabbis, right? Yep. And that says neither Abraham nor Moses ever really lived, nor David or Solomon were ever kings. And that's an observation I made just from basic Egyptian history, because they were they were Egyptian pharaohs whose identity was stolen by the Hyksos who were becoming the Hebrews.

There was never any captivity taking place in Egypt. That's Dr. Rezat in Cairo says that much less a crossing of the Red Sea or a tumbling of the walls of Jericho. That is to say, the whole Old Testament is an invention, a forgery.

There were no 12 tribes of Israel or anything like that. There never was an empire nor a fatherland in Palestine. Now, then, if the Old Testament is an invention, an imaginary story, then the New Testament, the Gospels based on the old are also invented.

If Abraham never existed, nor Moses or the tables of the law or the Ten Commandments, much less did Joseph, Mary or Jesus of Nazareth, the evangelists were authors of a soap opera, as someone would say today, that of a bunch of skillful politicians conspire to overthrow the Egyptian, Persian and Roman empires, being thus able to impose a minority, gypsy like tribe over the rest of the two legged animals by means of their cunning and deceit. And do have you ever heard an explanation of what's going on in the world today that's better than that? Yeah, it's basically a deception. That's all Abrahamic religion amounts to.

It's probably secretly allegory, like astro theological allegory, where Christ is the sun and so forth. And they just invented it and then they can steal it from the slave population so they can keep them stupid and living in fear in a lower density vibrational frequency, which is how they trap them inside their matrix so that they can harvest their soul. Just if I could mention an idea that it came to me about Venus, maybe the devias came from Venus because Venus was being captured or occupied just like Saturn by these reptilian entities.

Because it's spoken of like in Dickhoff's book, Agartha, that Venus has reptilians on it. But if you want to look upon that as credible, his stance. Well, that leads us to the type of being that could exist at 800 degrees on the surface of Venus would have to be some other consistency and composition than people who exist on this planet at 80 degrees.

And so to traveling past the Van Allen Belt around the Earth, there's no possibility that you can do that in a physical vehicle of material density because it would burn up because of the radiation. So there is no such thing as space travel from the Earth in physical form because it can't be done. And that leads us to in Serrano and in his peers in this category, there's in fact, a lot of different categories that keeps being references to the hollow Earth and people inside the planet.

Who are they? Yes, according to Dickhoff, he speaks about reptilians being in enclaves in the Earth, but his work is sort of probably partially propaganda and materialistic. But there's also a lot of conceptions that the Earth is hollow. You have people like Edgar Rice Burroughs writing his The Land That Time Forgot and various other novels at the turn of the last century, which speaks about going into the actual physical material Earth that has a central sun and that is a hollow.

That's how planets are formed, according to Hollow Planets by Jan Lamprecht. But whether that's entirely true or not, I could see there being, you know, subtle matter that can be existed within because it's a different dimension. So that might be true as well, like the base of Neuschwabenland in Antarctica of the Third Reich, that it's possibly not a material thing, but it could be both.

I mean, it does seem to be material. It's hard to tell, especially in Man of the Man to Come by Serrano, it's hard to tell whether he's writing in empirical reality or whether he's writing in a dream. And that's what he would call the astral level.

And his experiences on the ice in Antarctica would seem to be a dream rather than a reality. But it's not crystal clear like that. Anyway, after the rabbis and sons of the sons of the widower, the son of the widower, son of the, thank you, the son, yes, come the robots.

And I love that combination, rabbis and robots. They kind of go together. And it goes something like this.

Will we dare to penetrate the darkness of the greatest mystery of all? Who are the Jews really? For Alfred Rosenberg, they are the organic lie. And Nicolaus Palacios, a Chilean author, years before in the 20th century, also sustained that the Jew can never tell the truth. I mean, how often have we seen that? We see that every second of every day that we've been alive.

We're recommending that before reading a book, we should find out about its author. And if it's a Jew, don't read it because it's false. And, you know, I don't know how many I can come up with an infinite number of Internet references backing up that statement.

Among the millions of beings populating the earth, what is a Jew? He's not an animal, although he could be a shite. I don't know what a shite is. It's basically a Hebrew word that references an animal crossed with the man or sort of like a manimal figure.

Okay. He's not a human being either. He is most probably a robot at the service of an extraterrestrial being who is Jehovah.

And as such, he has to carry out his orders if he is to continue in existence. And when you observe what the Jews do, they are completely controlled by their head rabbis. Can I mention? Yes.

I'm just going to interject something quickly from Dickoffs at Gartha. He speaks about a lot of hypnosis and telepathic communication coming from these reptilian aliens and that they have emissaries on the earth. So it's sort of cross references there.

Right. Thus God's people come into being of Yahweh, Saturn, Satan, Saturday, Sabbath. Therefore it's necessary for them to create an untenable world situation that leaves no other option but a great war.

The economic crisis is inevitable without the middle Eastern oil. The destruction of the New York towers gives the USA, this is the Jews, planetary control under the pretext of a war against terrorism. Those who are not with us are against us.

And finally, the collapsing of the spiritual world of the West, leaving the Christian church leaders and the very same Freemasonry without any any kind of ideological support. And that's about the robots. And the next chapter is about the Christians.

You remember what? Could I mention something about these cybernetic robots or genetic robots? Please do. I've heard that these beings are basically hybrids of Neanderthals and these reptilian entities. And I was always speculating through reading Serrano, because it's very ambiguous, whether this Jehovah being is distinct from the Demiurge, because he speaks of Jehovah and the Demiurge.

And that maybe this Jehovah being is basically like a Pindar type figure, that chief reptilian, because he does speak of it as an extraterrestrial. Pindar. Pindar was a famous Greek poet.

Yeah, but it's the Rothschilds and so forth are alleged to be like the head of the Rothschild family to be Pindar. That's the name of this being. And it's, I forget in what language, but it references something to do with the phallus.

And it's like a reptilian connotation. You have people like David Icke and so forth, the more popularizers and distorters, disinformation agents. But at the same time, they shift attention away from that group toward like the royal family and so forth.

But still, there's a lot of connections there and a lot of evidence that would suggest that these Shaidim are like cybernetic hybrids with Neanderthals and the reptilians through maybe genetic engineering, and that they might actually be extraterrestrial entities who have created them. How does that jive with David Icke's reptilians? Well, basically, I don't recall David Icke. I only read one of his books before in a couple of presentations, but he basically claims that these so-called Illuminati elites that he blames as the ultimate cause of everything, he says that they're shape-shifting trans-dimensional reptilians and that they can basically go in and out of the physical reality and that they take the form through specialized interbreeding of a physical humanoid, people like the Queen of England and so forth.

He claims that they're reptilians and that it may very well be the case, but obviously, it relates to a larger tribal group than merely this Illuminati so-called elite bloodline. You've undoubtedly heard the news about the Queen today. That's right.

She's passed on, they say. It could be the case that they're trying to, that they ritually sacrificed the Queen right around this time because it's the 2022, 22 is the number of Yahweh in Hebrew Kabbalah, last I've heard. So they might be trying to usher in a new Messiah-like figure to play in with the biblical script, the narrative of Bible prophecy or Abrahamic eschatology so that they can fear-monger the slave class and get them whipped up into a frenzy to attack the devil or whatever.

Whatever they say we have to do. And there's a lot of devilish activity going on in the world today. There's no question about that.

I'm constantly, it's like the reason we're investigating this in the first place, if we were in a stable world, we probably wouldn't be dabbling in this quite as much as we are, but there's just been such a series of disasters throughout our lifetimes that you have to dig behind what they're telling us because what they're telling us just doesn't make any sense on any level. Let me say this, it's about halfway through the first hour, we are going to take phone calls at the top of the hour, if anyone would like to call us, and as soon as I can find the page with the numbers on it, which I've conveniently buried beneath a bunch of paper. One moment, please.

Ah, here we go. I'm told that when you call in, be sure and put the one in front of the number, which is 605-562-0400. The code you'll be asked to punch in is 811-7272 and the pound sign.

You can listen to all of our interviews and all of the interviews of the other show hosts on the podcast section of speakfreeradio.com. There's also chat rooms to make your comments and streams of other shows throughout the internet with a lot of great people talking sense all throughout the week, and we encourage you to listen as often as you like. Where was I on the list that we were talking about? There's actually, we're talking about three books. We're talking about Miguel Serrano's 800-page masterpiece, Adolf Hitler, The Last Avatar, and that's like seven books in one, really, that is full of history, full of speculation about the astral realm and really a tremendous insight into some of the great characters of the 20th century, like C.G. Jung and Hermann Hesse and Savitri Devi, and just, he knew a lot of famous people.

He got around a lot. He was ambassador to India, ambassador to a couple of European countries, but first and foremost, he was a devotee of Adolf Hitler and in South America, that was not such an easy thing to do. And his output is suitably suppressed because anything about Hitler is suppressed, but he certainly, how would you describe the impact and the meaning of Serrano on world thought in general? It's difficult to say because he's part of the golden cord of esoteric Hitlerism.

He follows sort of in a sequence, probably deliberate on the part of initiates to reveal this doctrine to people, which has probably existed forever, is like a perennial philosophy or Sophia Peronis, and that he is basically revealing at certain times, which is a result probably of aonic conditions and a result of deliberate, willful intent on the part of high level initiates to reveal the truth to people. He woke up to or became, allegedly became awakened to the truth of National Socialism in 1938 with the massacre of Chilean National Socialists in Santiago. And interestingly enough, 1938 is a very significant year.

Allegedly, David Lane was born at that time, if he even existed. I've heard on good authority he did exist. Yeah, and once again, this is all probably cosmic.

It's these people incarnate or are born at certain times and certain events occur at certain times because they are a result of cosmic changes within the Manvantara, the cycles of time and the certain aeon. And so right around 1938, that's when more or less the Second World War was also beginning. So that was a highly significant thing.

That was sort of a manifestation of Aryan consciousness in opposition to that of the Demiurge. Why is David Lane's life so meaningful? Well, if he existed at all, which I guess is probably true, then his significance consists of his his wotanist creed that he put forth and his actions of funding, sort of like being an intermediary between various pro-whites in the States like Frazier Glenn Miller and Bob Matthews, who also was born in 1983, which is the reversal of 1938. Yeah.

And Bob Matthews was a sacrifice or sacrificed himself for that idea. Yep, he did. And so we see the connections there, the revelation of David Lane in the form of the pyramid prophecies.

He's claiming that the Bible or parts of it were written by Francis Bacon, I believe, and that it's, you know, an anagram for wotan is in a white stone. It's just a lot of numerology and so forth, sort of revealing the meaning of this idea. The idea of wotan and wotanism, which is esoteric Hitlerism, which is basically a transmutation of yourself into a god man.

Interesting. Yeah, wotan is will of the Aryan nation. What role did all this play in the work of Adolf Hitler in the Second World War? Did which? Just wotanism.

Well, so far as I can look through a glass darkly and view it, it seems like Hitler was an initiate. He was affiliated with who knows if anybody, he was he was the avatar of Vishnu, as Serrano says in Adolf Hitler, the last avatar, which is a proper translation of the book. Right.

I've been told that. Yeah. Hitler's Mein Kampf was pretty much a revelation in its own right of a certain doctrine or creed, a creed of the Aryan, similar to the ancient Aryan idea in the Rig Veda, in the Law Code of Menuh.

It was all about caste. It was all about race. It was all about inequality and affirmation of difference in the face of or in opposition to this current of disintegration, which is a demigod, Jewish push to make everyone equal.

And that has devolved so far today that we have governments telling us that black people are the good people and the greatest threat to peace is white supremacy. Yeah, the greatest threat, what they mean by peace, of course, is their totalitarian rule for themselves over everybody else. Under the facade of equality, which they just use as a cover to justify their sneaky genocidal agenda, their replacement agenda.

So it's a distinction, as Julius Evola phrased it, differentiated order, the order and hierarchy of Aryan, of the Aryan culture. And then the undifferentiated chaos of egalitarian ideology, which began most significantly to have its influence at the beginning of the age of Pisces with Christianity, which is sort of like the original egalitarian communist ideology. There's a definite connection there between Christianity and communism, no question.

They basically use Christianity as a mechanism of subverting ancient Rome and destroying its hierarchy. And the patrician class using all the scum class to rabble rouse them to, you know, blame the patricians for what they themselves were doing as a subversive element of merchants within Rome. Is that is that a reflection of what's happening today? Basically, it's the eternal return all over again and just a different aeon.

The end of the aeon of Pisces and the Kali Yuga, whereas at that time it was the end of the, I guess, the Aryan age. Now it's the age of iron and it's going to be it's going to be bad, they say. Yes, going into the age of lead.

That's why Serrano prescribes a multi-dimensional war, a war everlasting against these boastful claimants to supremacy who are trying to disintegrate all that which is higher so that they can be the top of a heap of rubble. That's the Jewish thing. Yeah, that's that's yes.

That's I mean, we see it everywhere we turn today where goodness and mercy are in short supply everywhere and ridiculed by the people in charge. And the the the the advocacy of perversion is is the new grace. And it's like it's like it's hard for me to understand.

I'm just, you know, I just say I'm a normal person, but I'm kind of a normal person who, you know, likes good things and doesn't like bad things. And how could we how could we have our highest authorities in the world now from the Pope on down to to be advocating these perversions that are so bad for people and actually kill people? And it's like it's like I've always faulted in my own superficial way. The like I say on my stories, it's like we're suffering from a corrupt belief system that is actually working to destroy ourselves.

And how can anybody and we see it everywhere. How can anybody say that is a good thing? And yet that's what our government does. And it's like the people turn their back on that knowledge and just disappear into their own addictions and compulsions and don't pay any attention to it.

They're just sacrificing their own children. Yeah, they've become totally animalized where they only live for the flesh. They have no higher higher purpose.

Yes, Serrano speaks of the animal men. Anyway, getting back to our checklist, I noticed that we're running out of time in the first hour, so I'm going to speed up a little bit. You have esoteric Christianity and you have what's the other one? You have Aryan Christianism.

What's the difference between the two or are they the same? I'm not too sure if there is a difference, really, because the way he speaks of Christianism with a K, meaning more or less the magnum opus, and that is basically what the Aryan is, is the. The total man or the absolute man or the absolute woman, the one who has fulfilled the magnum opus and has become who they are through the chemical process, I'm going to put it on down to the break and after the break, we'll be taking phone calls at SpeakFreeRadio.com. You're listening to Kaminsky Goes Ballistic Behind Enemy Lines on SpeakFreeRadio.com. The call-ins will begin at the start of the second hour. The number to call is the 1-1st-605-5620-400 and the code you'll be asked to punch in is 811-7272 and the pound sign.

I'll repeat that number since the calls are coming up. 1-1st-605-5620-400 and the code is 811-7272 and the pound sign. Running down the list of the son of the widower, we come at the very end to the SS Black Order, the left-turning swastika, for example, which rotates on the opposite direction to the rotation of the Earth and points toward the return to the polar Hyperborea, is revealing the intent to overcome man's involution to recover the Superman, the total man, the god man, the divya of the origins.

It is also the swastika of the bow of pre-Buddhist Tibet. SS means Schwarzsonne, Schwarzstein, and the black son of the Tibetans, the Hyperboreans, of the Enos, and the black stone of the Kaaba, which relates to the Buddhist religion in some way, I don't understand. But one of the things I'm trying to get at was the destruction of National Socialist Germany was such a horrendous thing where it's claimed to be a heroic act because the Jews control all the media and they claim that six million were died in these death camps when in fact, I guess this is a great example of involution or the inversion of values, it was the most people killed in World War II were the Germans, and most of them were killed after the war was over because they were slaughtered by the Americans, the Russians, and the British, and starved to death in fields and burned to a crisp in cities that were undefended.

And it's like now the whole world venerates this atrocity as heroic. And if there's ever been a more horrendous inversion of values, I would say that would be it. I would say it was all an occult ritual, but they were not the ones in control of it because it was sort of karmically necessary in the sense of winning by losing.

Like the events of that time, they occurred, they were imposed upon people, people never had any choice. They weren't allowed to live and let live like the National Socialists had established more or less a relative paradise. And then it was all subverted because in an occult ritual so that they could crown themselves the Messiah, which is what their intention is.

But even so, it's just a pyrrhic victory because they've already lost because they had to use physical, material force in order to get their way instead of just having their ideas of equality, of victimhood win, which they can never win because they're false. In the second half of the hour, we're going to have phone calls. Phone numbers can be found on the speakfreeradio.com website.

Today's show, Welton Chong Superconsciousness with special guest Loki Hullgaard is the second of a kind of a two part series that started last week investigating the writings of Miguel Serrano, who is mostly unknown to people because he wrote in Spanish most of the time and because he dealt heavily with a forbidden subject, as indicated by the title of his most famous book, Adolf Hitler, The Last Avatar. And avatar is an interesting word. And in fact, Loki, explain to me the deeper meaning of avatar and what that actually means for people who aren't too sure about it.

Well, it's basically that a certain physical being on the earth, human, whatever, becomes controlled by a higher dimensional entity. Esoteric Hitlerism is the general category that Serrano is generally classified in. And he brings up an interesting name that I'm intensely interested in.

Professor Hermann Wirth, founder of the Anna Nirby, a superior institute for the investigation of the SS, knew all of this. He gave a lot of truth to Mr. Serrano during his final days when he was writing his most important work on the history of the Jewish people, a manuscript that has been made to disappear and which could now possibly be at the Vatican. How much do you know about Hermann Wirth and where can I find out more about him? Well, basically, he was affiliated with the Anna Nirby and he was kicked out of it.

I think by Himmler, because his conception was sort of a mother goddess idea that derived from Bacchus and he had a sort of distorted understanding of things, thinking that the culture of the Aryans was always like a mother goddess culture, when the reality is that was only during the times of decadence and the decay of society, as Julius Evola speaks of in, I forget which work of his, could be his autobiography, as well as a revolt against the modern world. And basically, Hermann Wirth had made that claim that, similar to Dugan now, who's taking that idea, Alexander Dugan, the sort of Kremlin propagandist, he's taking the ideas of Hermann Wirth trying to create a Eurasian, Hyperborean empire, trying to reformulate that so that they can put forth Russia as this new savior figure from Western liberal decadence, creeping in through the backdoor. But Hermann Wirth, that's basically his gimmick, is that it's sort of like a Guinea-centric, matriarchal theory where he thinks that that is the basis of all societies, when the reality is it's typically a patriarchal society where both the men and women had their distinct functions in society, not in the Abrahamic Christian sense, but in a more free and participatory sense where women played the role of like priestesses as well.

Same with in ancient Rome, too. Coming down the stretch of the Sons of the Widow, we have, this is going to really lump everything together, the Sons of the Widow, the Son of the Widower and the Sons of the Widow. It's typical Serrano of all this terminology, you can have your head spinning.

He talks about Parzival, who is a famous character in German literature, who was the son of another widow. And he talks about the prime task of all of these heroes is to find the grail, to become one with the self, recovering our lost totality, or else to remain a prisoner of the demon wizard in a castle lodge where they will be under the spell of the demon's hypnosis until one day they may also free themselves by the miracle of the grail. Now, we've heard so many descriptions of what the grail might be, something in the blood, perhaps.

What's your take on this part of this legend? Julius Evola has a good book called The Mystery of the Grail on this subject, and basically it's pretty much an allegory of alchemical transmutation of the magnum opus, of the unification of the masculine, the feminine, and the transcending of the lower self or the false self, the illusory, you know, beast consciousness trapped in this material world of the Demiurge. The Demiurge. So the grail is basically attaining that philosophical gold, but I think it also has a lot to do with the blood of the Aryan race, because as Jörg Landsvang Liebenfels wrote of in Theozology in his book, he speaks about how the Aryan race has the grail, it's the divine electron or the god particle.

What's the difference between the eternal return and reincarnation? I think it's the same thing. It's the same thing. Oh, actually, there is a distinction.

The distinction is basically that it's just a different conception. Reincarnation, they claim, it's like a distortion of Aryan ideology of Vedism by way of mixture with the Dravidians. So it's sort of like shamanistic, Dravidian, Indian conception of the self being something that just circles around perpetually.

And then your goal is to attain nirvana and just escape and not, you know, resurrect on this earth or attain immortality on it. Whereas the eternal return is sort of like the different elements do not necessarily preserve their form, but their contents within the Maya, within the realm of illusion. So the distinction... Oh, go ahead.

Loki, we've just done a hell of a data dump on everybody who is mostly not familiar with Serrano and the Hyperboreans and the true motivations of World War II and the ancient gods. What do you think is the most important thing for people to take from all this talk? And what paths should they follow if they want to learn more about this? Well, the path is the path of the warrior in whatever form, in every sense of the word, battling against your lower self or false self and against the enemy which wishes to deny you the means to unify or to integrate your soul, have a fully integrated soul, a diamond body. So the goal is basically, as Serrano speaks about in Resurrection of the Hero, the last of the esoteric or the second, the third of the esoteric quaternary, he says in there basically that it should be a war everlasting, both in the material as well as in the spiritual realms, over yourself, overcoming yourself as well as overcoming the enemy.

It's not a disjunctive choice where you can just live a gnostic life of selfish, focus on trying to become a god on the earth and then just say to hell with everybody else. It's all just individuals. It's all my perception because you're part of the whole and you're part of a collective consciousness.

So you're part of a race, racial culture, and therefore you have obligations and duties and you incarnated on the earth for a purpose, which is basically to overcome the demiurge. Translate that down to ordinary people living ordinary lives. How should they take this to heart? I just recommend that they read the Resurrection of the Hero or Resurrection of the Hero, it's called.

And what that means, what that means is basically to become detached from the phenomenal plane, from emotion, to live a more transcendent life. Amen to that. We're headed down toward the midpoint break.

I hope we have one caller patiently waiting. We'll deal with, deal with, we'll welcome him. Shortly after the break, you're listening to Kaminsky Goes Ballistic on speakfreeradio.com and we'll be back in three or four minutes.

Get yourself something to drink, make a pit stop, and we'll be back with Loki Hulgur to talk about something that's very important but very complex. Was it a conspiracy? Did you know that the police in Boston were broadcasting, this is a drill, this is a drill on bullhordes during the marathon? That the Boston Globe was tweeting that a demonstration bomb would be set off during the marathon for the benefit of bomb squad activities and that one would be set off in one minute in front of the library, which happened as the Globe had announced. Peering through the smoke, you could see bodies with missing arms and legs, but there was no blood.

The blood only showed up later and came out of a tube. They used amputee actors and a studio quality smoke machine. Don't let yourself be played.

Check out And Nobody Died in Boston, either. Available at moonrockbooks.com. That's moonrockbooks.com. You are listening to Speak Free Radio, the free speech Internet radio platform. Heads, you lose, I'm going to blow your damned head off.

How many times in movies have we heard that line? The words are almost always spoken by some dirty, drunken ruffian who very much wants to remove the brain box from the shoulders of some despised adversary. And yet not once in the real world have I ever witnessed anyone being decapitated by small arms fire. The head in question might be a mess, but it is still attached to the body proper.

What often happens in real life, provided the shot is true, is what Wyatt Earp threatened to do to Ike Clanton in the movie Tombstone. They might get me, growls Earp, as Ike's murderous gang close in and while he points the pistol barrel at the leader's forehead. But not before I turn your head into a canoe.

I have seen autopsy stills of JFK after he was killed in Dallas. I've also seen headshots from various wars. Indeed, although the coconuts remained attached, all these men had their heads turned into canoes, canoes.

They had been de-brained, but not beheaded. The power of the bullet is such that upon exiting, it just sucks everything out with it. Blood, bone, brain, all.

Heads do get blown off, of course. During the American Civil War, there were numerous accounts of beheadings, a la cannonballs. During one particular battle in the American Civil War, officers had an especially hard time with skidaddlers cutting for the rear to escape the gruesome carnage.

Only if one were lucky enough to be wounded or if one was helping a wounded comrade, could one turn for the rear and safety. When a Yankee private went down with a musket ball to the leg, an Irish soldier nearby quickly saw his ticket. Throwing the wounded man over his shoulder, the paddy raced for the rear.

In the din and tumult along the way, the panting Irishman failed to notice that a cannonball had neatly removed the head of his wounded charge. Why, soldier, said the startled surgeon when the body was finally dropped onto the operating table, this man has no head. Now, the dirty lying beggar stared the Irishman, and he told me it was his leg.

In 1920, Henry Ford began publishing articles in his newspaper, The Dearborn Independent, which would end up being published as a four-volume set of books entitled The International Jew. This four-volume set spanned over 1,000 pages, comprising of 80 articles, and in 2012, Andrew Carrington Hitchcock published an extract of each one of these articles in his book, The Synagogue of Satan, Updated, Expanded, and Uncensored. In 2020, 100 years after Henry Ford started publishing The International Jew, Andrew Carrington Hitchcock, Blackbird Nine, and Golden Pipe Wrench began recording a 12-part series on this four-volume set.

Money Tree Publishing are now proud to offer this groundbreaking 12-part series, containing over 11 hours of audio content, on one of the most astonishing and controversial series of books ever published. We hope you find it as interesting to listen to as we found it to produce. Yours, A.C.H., B.B., and G.P.W. Welcome back, everybody.

You're listening to Kaminsky Goes Ballistic, Behind Enemy Lines on speakfreeradio.com. Our special guest is Loki Hulgaard tonight, and we have been dissecting the work of Miguel Serrano and his tremendous perspectives into ancient history. And we have a bunch of people hanging around because they want to talk to us. And the first one is this fellow, Area Code 816.

Thanks for your patience. How can we help you? 816. Yeah, I just want... Yeah, am I here? Can you hear me? I can hear you fine.

Hello? I can hear you. Okay. No, anyway, I wanted to ask your guest if he's familiar with Chakra Dhyana at all.

It's to get you to a higher level of consciousness, and that's what you guys are talking about tonight. Right. I've been doing it for 10 years, and you take in basically quantum mechanical energy, which is Holy Spirit, and it goes up your body.

And when you get to your third eye, you start seeing things out of your third eye, if you've done it a long time. And there's a trick... Let me ask him if he knows what you're talking about. Hang on.

Loki, what do you think about that? Could you say the name of it again? What's her name again? No, the name of the... Chakra Dhyana. C-H-A-K-R-A. Dhyana is D-H-A-Y-A-N-A.

It's what Christ... You know, he did live, and he went to India with the Apostle Thomas and Matthew, and that's what they learned and brought back. So I've been doing it twice a day for 10 years, and I do a trick where when I get to my third eye chakra, I go to the three chakras above the matrix and focus on them and make vibrations and then bring the information down. And you get things that kind of are what you all are talking about, but because it's coming, it's a pure channel directly from within, I don't get all the interference that we get when anything hits this realm.

So I just wondered if you were familiar with that. Yeah, obviously I'd never heard about that, actually. Is there a source where people can find out basic instructions in how to do this? Yeah, it's... Yeah, it's really simple.

You can find it on the internet, and I found it through Oneness University in India. I went to a webinar or whatever. They had one here in Kansas City where they had these monks from India, and they talked to us and showed us how to do these things.

And what amazed me is they talked about Christ. You wouldn't think monks from India would be talking about him, but they were giving the seven steps to prayer, and no one knows how to pray, okay? And there were two priests or whatever behind me, and when they were giving these seven steps, I turned around to these guys and I says, why in the fuck don't they teach this stuff in the church? And what these priests said to me is, the church doesn't want to lose power. It just blew my mind.

I mean... That's their thing. Yeah, so... Listen, we have calls backing up. Let me see what they... Okay, I'll let you go.

Just go to Oneness University in India and you'll find out, and you can download. I mean, I did this on Mitchell Bach's show, who's part of Jim Fetzer's program. I spoke for four hours about the stuff I got on two shows, and Mitchell said, I can't have you back because I got attacked in the non-physical, and it was too much for him, so I couldn't talk about it anymore.

We better let you go then. Thanks for calling. Thanks for the information.

Yeah. Age 04. Can we help you? Hello? Hey, John.

How are you doing? Hi, Sophie. How are you? Pretty good. A couple of questions and maybe a little bit of a third.

This is Catherine. So, one thing, talking about what the last caller talked about, and then I have two other questions for you. Talking about what the other caller just talked about, recently, like I used to be, I once was able to do this out-of-body experience where I like went through, like circles were going over me, and then I saw different things, and it might have been like a near-death experience But then, recently, I, you know, when I was sort of meditating, you know, relaxing, I started seeing like a light, like if you turn your eyes, there's like a light back there.

There's a light source. So, I had that. So, I have so little, I mean, when you were talking, I was, hello? Yes, sorry about that.

Go ahead. When you were talking, I was thinking, oh, could somebody just give like the first or second or third grade version of this? Because I had no idea what you were talking about. But then, on the other hand, I always did suspect, you know, how like in the gospel it talks about losing your life to gain your life, and all this stuff.

I always thought that there was something more going on, and that it was like maybe a karma play, how like the worst and most despicable people should have murdered the best and most, you know, enlightened and godlike people, you know, the Jews versus the Germans. I also have often thought that, you know, the torturing and the horrible stuff that they do like in MKUltra is actually part of, it's not just wanton torture and sadism, that it's part of a growth process for the initiative. I can't say it.

I can't say the word right now. René Guénon, he called that the counter-initiation. It's basically like a black magic process.

Wait, wait, wait. Can I just ask you something? Go ahead. Can you just, without bringing up names of people that I have no idea who they are, could you just give a very simplistic idea of what you were saying? Very simple, so that somebody with no esoteric knowledge can understand it.

If you're referring to like the black magic that they practice? Yes. If you're referring to...

All of it. All of it.

Like how like the best people, the Germans, were destroyed by the worst people on the planet, the Jews. Yeah, like it says in the Bible, may their blood or may his blood be upon them and their children. So karmically, they basically have this mark of Cain on them.

And I've known... Go ahead. Just let me interject one thing quick and then continue on. The person that I learned Reiki from was a Persian Israeli.

And he, you know, used to go around to different groups, mostly Jews, and they were wanting to change their DNA. I kid you not. And I was like, he was talking to me about changing your DNA.

And I was like, why on earth would I want to do that? So I think the Jews do understand that they're cursed, and they do want to change their DNA. And maybe that's why they, you know, they did this vaccine hoax so they can change everybody else's DNA so they don't look so bad in comparison, because they know something big is coming. But if you can just say what you're saying without referring to all these different people that I have no idea who they are.

You know, it's like somebody talks about philosophy and they bring up just a bunch of different philosophies. And it's like, just say what it is you want to say without referring to a bunch of other people. So could you just elaborate more on what you were talking about, about the Germans versus the Jews? Yeah, I would agree with that.

It's basically the group who were the cause of the death of Christ, allegedly, assuming he really existed, which may very well be the case that he did. I don't know. I can't prove it one way or the other.

So I can only assume the hypothesis. But as an allegory, even if it's only just an allegory or having allegorical meaning, then you can see how it's pretty much a sacrifice. He martyred himself.

He won by losing because he was pure and his ideas were pure and so forth. And they obviously were not. And they wanted only temporal power and basically venerated their ego.

But can we really look upon that as true? That's the allegory or stories in what is called the Bible. I mean, maybe it makes some sense, but I can see how how they the group that practices like the black magic, the Kabbalists, that they're basically what they're doing there, so far as I can tell, is to empower themselves by having a relationship to entities. They're sacrificing people and then these entities feed off the sacrifice, the energy that's released from the sacrifice, and then they give power to them as an exchange, as a quid pro quo.

Right. But they don't understand so much that they're losing so much of their eternal soul when they deal with those entities. And you're right about what you said, like the Jews want the power on this world, but we exist in so many other dimensions.

And, you know, that's why, like Jesus said, he who wants to save his life will lose his life. But it seems like, to me, the black magic Illuminati are being played by these entities. Like they don't know that they're being played.

Yeah, that's why they're referred to, some of them are referred to as like a cybernetic robot. And like we had spoken of earlier in the show about David Icke's ideas about the reptilians, that they're trans-dimensional shapeshifters, whatever specifically they are, you know, that they basically genetically engineered these beings from Neanderthals that are mixed in with like everything and everything as an anti-race. Yeah, I could get that.

I could get that a lot. I don't think they're fully human. No.

That's a very great call. We have another guy from England who's been hanging on there for a long time and I'm sure he'd love to say something. All right, well, thanks for taking my call and leave me on to listen, please.

Thanks. Thanks for being there. Julian, is that you? Hello, John.

Yeah, speaking. You're a patient man. Thanks for calling.

Great to hear your show. Thank you. No, no, my pleasure.

And Loki, I've got to congratulate you. You're the greatest, most erudite, how can I describe it? Serranoist I have ever heard. And I'm convinced that Don Miguel would be absolutely proud to hear you speaking about his work.

He would. Well, I do whatever I can do to try to get the message out. Sure, but I love the way that you articulated earlier.

A lot of these more esoteric and poetical writing is quite difficult for people who are not initiated to understand. And I'm by no means an initiate. I'm barely a novice, but I'm sure that Don Miguel was an adept.

But the stuff that I have read, The Ultimate Avatar. I've also read The Son of the Widower. And I read C.G. Young and Herman Hesse, A Book of Two Friendships.

And that was the only book that Professor Young ever wrote a preface for. What an absolute, you know, before given insight into how much he was respected by some incredibly memorable people. Yeah, that definitely legitimates his message for people who just come from the outside and don't really know who he is.

Because if you were to just stumble on his books, then you'd think without him referencing all these people that he knew and so forth and actually verifying it with photographs and stuff. Then you'd think, well, this guy could just be making a lot of this stuff up. It could just be hodgepodge that he derives from various books and then invents it or something like that.

But it's substantiated. He wrote, I think, a four-volume autobiography called Memories of He and I, which I have not been able to find, but I think is only available in Spanish. And it goes through more proof, extensive proof of his life history and so on.

So it proves he was a real person. He was affiliated with real people. And, you know, for that reason, it's credible.

It's not something just invented. I personally can't claim to be an initiate, but I can see that there's truth in what he says. He was massive friends with a lot of very illustrious people, wasn't he? Characters from all our histories who we know and some of us know even more.

But, you know, when he talked about amor, and it's obviously without the term of love, as the Cathards called it. But it's the reverse of Roma, isn't it? Roma is the Church of Rome, the Church of Abraction, the Church of the Judeo-Christianic and the Ergic-Robotic. It's hard to hear what you're saying.

These are fading in and out a little bit. Julian, are you still with us? Sorry. Yes.

Yeah, I'm still with you. You got me? Yes. When he spoke about amor, you know, the reverse of Roma, the Church of Love of the Cathards.

You know, without death, amor, without death, you know, it goes right against the Judeo-Christianic Church of Rome. The suppression of the Divine Feminine and, you know, these people who are into wearing dresses and abusing little boys. Yeah, that just testifies to their perverted inversion of reality that they subscribe to this.

They claim they have the truth, but in reality they're just the lie. And they follow the organic lie of this cybernetic robot and this fake God, which is not God or not the sum total or absolute supreme being. Good questions, Julian.

These are great questions, Julian. Thank you. I, you know, I like to call your show, John, you have great guests and, Loki, you're one of the best.

Well, thank you. It's great to talk to you guys. Thanks for calling, Julian.

I appreciate it. Thank you, gentlemen. Take it easy.

Talk to you next time. So, Loki, are you with me, Loki? Yep. So, let's see.

I have to do this. You're on Kaminsky Goes Ballistic, Behind Enemy Lines on speakfreeradio.com. The phone numbers are on the website, speakfreeradio.com. Call from just about anywhere in the world. If you're in the U.S., its area code is 1-605-562-0400.

The code you'll be asked to punch in is 811-7272 followed by the pound sign. Let me repeat that for those of you who can't write as fast as I can. 1-605-562-0400.

The code to join the conference is 811-7272 and the pound sign. And be sure to notice on the website that there are chat rooms. There's also podcasts for all the great hosts we have and live streaming and other types of streaming.

A whole retinue of interesting people that we're all proud to have participating. As long as I have this opportunity to say a little bit about speakfreeradio.com, it's not really so much that I want to put down other places that have a whole bunch of good hosts and guests, some of which we piggyback and bring them on. But I found after watching talk radio or Internet talk radio for 20 years or so, that I don't recall a place that we have like speakfreeradio.com that is so accommodating to hosts who want to talk about forbidden subjects.

And I want to thank the people who brought this to us for their devotion to free speech because I think it's quite remarkable. Loki, what would you say about that? You've done some talk radio in your time. Has there been this level of candor anywhere else? Not in any more mainstream platform, just in a totally concealed way almost.

Just like interpersonal conversations uploaded on the Internet type of thing. That's the only way it could ever become even more explicit. But this is definitely the pinnacle of clarity.

Pinnacle of clarity, we like that. Yeah, that makes a great t-shirt. And it's just that we're in trouble, in case you haven't noticed, in terms of free speech and in terms of what the general run of the public has exhibited over the past, you know, in the COVID years, where it's getting better now, but there's been such a large percentage of people who still succumb to these, oh, I shouldn't be too negative, but it's hard not to be negative, to people who say that white supremacy is the greatest threat to peace in America because the peace in America hasn't really been threatened that much by white supremacists.

In fact, the so-called white supremacists who have tried to talk about peace generally wind up in jail. And I think the thing that gets me worse is that the people who are supposed to be enforcing the laws are the ones who are breaking it. And if it's not obvious to everybody who's listening that there is a deliberate plan to destabilize America and bring the United States down to the rest of the world, I mean, what have you been paying attention to? And this goes back to World War II, imagine that.

It goes back to World War II. I hate to bring up Jason Breshears because I haven't thoroughly vetted him, but he said something the other day that caught my attention, was that the Bolsheviks took over the world in 1946 after the end of World War II, where they had the phony Nuremberg trial. Another thing that always gets me is people are going to use the principles of the Nuremberg trial to judge the truth of today when the Nuremberg trial was a total hoax that most impartial Americans said was a total hoax.

And it's like, let's see what this is. Apparently, when I mentioned the phone numbers to call in on the website, one followed by area code 605-562-0400, and the access code is 811-7272 and the pound sign. And we'd love to hear from you if you'd like to call us.

Okay, that was a request. And so it's like, I don't know whether people are like falling back to sleep because they're just so weary of all the lies that have been told about World War II. And it's like this reality that has been created on television where Lester Holt always talks about the 6 million dead and Jews are able to generate all these anti-Semitic crimes and pass laws through Congress that if somebody were to oppose them, they suddenly lose their seat in Congress.

What do you think, Loki, about how the - I mean, everything's been inverted, but the inversion of what the National Socialists tried to do in Germany has fouled the general intelligence of the population to such a degree that when you try to talk about how this has happened, when you try to talk about James Bach or the bombing of Dresden or any of these other things, it's like things don't even register in the minds of people. Either they've never heard of these things or they think you're nuts for even bringing them up. Well, it's just trauma-based mind control.

All you have to do is just beat it into the brains of the masses over and over again with a lot of emotion and the authorities, powers that be, have that power to do that. So, because masses are asses and they just follow authority like sheep or lemmings off a cliff, then they basically will do whatever they're told. They don't think too deeply.

They don't think at other than a surface-level, reactive-minded, emotionally-based state of consciousness, which is why the occultists call them goyim or cattle or animals because they don't have a higher consciousness according to them. We have another call, Loki. 404, how may we help you? Hi there.

It's Michael. Hi. And I just want to say, hi there.

I love your show. Thank you. I agree, great guest.

And I would love to hear both of your opinions about and give everyone a reminder about the anniversary of 9-11 with regard to the occult side of things, the numerology involved in it, and, of course, the 21st anniversary is this Sunday. And it's already one of those things that seems like it's just buried into the memory hole. I agree.

Loki, what do you think? The occult ramifications of 9-11. Yeah, it seems like they're possibly planning some sort of event, fake event for that time because this is the year, like I mentioned, 22. 2022 is, you know, the number of Yahweh in their Hebrew Kabbalah.

Oh, the sixes, yeah. 22 letters of the Hebrew alphabet. And 22, I don't know how many spinal vertebrae there are.

Is it 22 vertebrae of the spinal column or is that 33? That's 23. 33 or 23, if I recall correctly. Yeah, I don't remember exactly myself either.

It must be, well, there's 12 thoracic, there's 7 cervical, I think. Thanks for bringing up 9-11. And then there's 5 lumbar.

Yeah, whatever. There's definitely some sort of significant occult holiday that they're coming up with, almost certainly, especially in conjunction with the death of the queen, the assumed death of the queen, which could be just an occult ritual or even a ritual murder for all we know, unless we're Buckingham insiders or whatever. They said they did this to George Bush Sr., actually.

I recall that happening then. But he wasn't a major player. I'd love to hear either of your personal stories about 9-11, an insight of where you were on that day.

Let me tell you one other thing about the queen. Once upon a time, I interviewed Eustace Mullins, a great privilege. We spent three days.

He came through Port Charlotte when he was running around the country in the final year of his life, protected by a man who was taking care of him. And we had numerous great conversations, had the temerity to exchange a few books with him. And I asked him, so Eustace, who really runs the world? Is it the queen or is it the Sanhedrin? And he didn't miss a beat.

He said it was the queen. And that kind of surprised me because I'd been thinking all these years it was the Sanhedrin. And it just, I mean, here's this old lady who's like in control of the world, owns all the uranium mines in the world.

And it's like Eustace Pender. And, I mean, he has a pretty good pedigree as far as talking about these things. And it doesn't jibe with my perception that it's been the Israeli, the international Jews who've been in charge of everything.

In fact, the queen was never even able to go into the city of London. I don't think that's very credible, frankly. Really? I suspect that Eustace Mullins might have been some type of agent too because his whole agenda is like basically Christian identity.

He was light on the holocaust, I'll give you that. Yeah, and he was given a lot of publicity too in mainstream conspiracy circles. Interesting.

And it just doesn't really seem to be very, if he really had the truth, then why is he given so much publicity all the time? I mean, maybe it's just a partial truth that he had to offer. Even if they're a cult. Oh, go ahead.

Go ahead. I would say to that simply that it's plausible that we're just dealing with somebody from an earlier generation. He died when the internet was nascent, right? So he's coming with his worldly understanding.

And I think the reason he's still publicized such as on Speak Free Radio is because he was ahead of his time. But I wouldn't expect him to have his finger on everything. The idea that the queen is, I agree it's not credible that the queen is in charge, but let's just wait and see what happens now that she's supposedly gone.

I don't think anything's going to change. I think it's much more plausible that this network that we're confronted with is actual. Yeah, they're making their moves for something bigger now because this ties into their, I guess, British Israelite conception of the succession of the king lines or something like that.

I'm not too familiar with it, but I think they have to have something like a king. Since we're talking about Chile, I've been informed that one of the memorable 9-11 events was the assassination of Salvador Allende by Henry Kissinger's proxies way back when to lead to the establishment of Pinochet, a general who was killed on 9-11. And Pinochet's dictatorship, and funny we should mention Chile because they just had a plebiscite in Chile where they were going to inflict a new Klaus Schwab-like constitution on the people and it got voted down resoundingly without the necessity of any kind of riots, which everyone was expecting.

So that's a piece of 9-11 trivia. I've had a lot of turns of the calendar with 9-11 and I would say my top one was when I wrote a story. Back when it first happened, I was one of the first people who came out.

9-11 was a hoax in early 2003 when nobody was saying anything. The whole world had remained in stunned silence for like a year and a half. And so I wrote a story one time.

I was big on rents in those days, had seven and a half million hits at one point. And I wrote a story, Jews don't believe in freedom of speech. That was when my fortunes took a radical turn for the unfortunate because it's like up until then I was widely sought after.

I did one of the first big radio interviews against 9-11 on WLS in Cincinnati. It went to 37 states and it was kind of a big deal. But as soon as I said Jews don't believe in freedom of speech, what happened was because I was on rents, rents changed the title to Zionists don't believe in freedom of speech.

And unbeknownst to him, the story was published on other websites who said Jews don't believe in freedom of speech. Now over the years, he's caught up to that glitch. It's like we had a big fight then and we parted company, which was too bad because that's about the biggest exposure you can get on the internet.

But ever since that time, I've been banished, blackballed, and ridiculed, accused of being a Jew, all this other stuff because I refused to call them Zionists way back when. And it's still the same handicap now when you have idiots like Benjamin Fulford and Gordon Duff calling these people Khazarian Mafia. Right, it's because they're cryptos themselves.

Correct. So that's my big 9-11 story. Other than I went through about the first seven waves of the 9-11 skeptics movement before I made the conclusion that one of the major reasons why this 9-11 skeptics movement failed was religion, primarily Christian identity, because the best 9-11 video was Mike Delaney, John Allen Martinson doing whatever the name of that was.

Oh, God, I can never remember the name of it. That's the best 9-11 video. And they couldn't join the 9-11 skeptics alliance, which was greatly flawed by Jewish-controlled large organizations, 9-11 Truth, and I don't remember all of them now.

That was a long time ago. But it's like they had the best video, but they wouldn't participate because you had to be a Christian identity guy to participate with them, and they were really snobbish about it. And it was stuff like that, this particularism, plus the Jewish infiltration of all of the 9-11 skeptics movement, just like we have now with the Jewish infiltration of all the COVID skeptics stuff, where you can't develop a united front primarily because of partly religious influence, but also partly Jewish influence of people like Steve Kirsch and Kevin Barrett coming out and saying that, oh, yes, COVID has been isolated.

I don't know if you saw this the other day, but Kauffman torched Judy Mickiewicz, who said, oh, yes, we've isolated this, and this is what Kirsch and Barrett are saying, too. And it hasn't been isolated. It's just it doesn't meet the definition of being isolated.

But there are certain doctors now who are like playing ball with Pfizer and that bunch in a surreptitious way and saying, oh, yes, we need vaccines for certain things when the real, true doctors, hardline doctors say you don't need a vaccine for anything. Anyway, that's a tangent off of the 9-11 thing. I have one other 9-11 item.

The greatest story ever written about 9-11 was written by an Australian guitarist named Gerard Holmgren, who said that the best, and this is really hard to find on the internet now, the most fantastic conspiracy theory ever written about 9-11 was the government's version of it. Did you get all that? Yes, because it's a fantasy. That's right.

It's fantastic. Yeah. So any other questions? No, I mean, if you have other callers coming in or whatever, I'm just happy to talk to you all.

No, I don't see anybody here. I got a message I better check, but I can do that here, I think. The only other thing I would say is that it surprises me to hear about Barrett, Kevin Barrett especially, Gordon Duff.

I've never trusted him. He sounds slippery on the internet, just audio, just listening to him talk. He's all over the place.

Here's my favorite Barrett story. He recently wrote an obituary for John Stattmiller. You remember John? He was the honcho at the Republic Broadcasting Network.

And Kevin wrote the obituary, and in it he mentioned that his first interview on - hold on, I got to check my board here. Something's happening. Why did my board change? Isn't that interesting? Here we go.

I'm back. Yes, I have another call. I'll be right with you, 970.

He wrote in this obituary for John Stattmiller that his first interview on RBN way back when was with me. He was sitting in for Fetzer, actually. And he said that it was his pleasure to, after accusing me of being an anti-Semite, to have protected the Jews from John Kaminsky.

And so I've been a little askance at everything he says ever since. But anyway, be that as it may. If he's a Muslim, he accommodates them, right, because their religion is very similar.

Anyway, we have a call from 970-404. Thank you very much for calling. Thanks, guys.

Appreciate it. Yes, thanks. 970, what do you got to say? Yes, this is Steve Campbell from Glenwood Springs, Colorado.

Hi, Steve. John, the Mike Delaney and John Allen Martinson video is 911missinglinks.com. Thank you. God, why can't I remember that? It was a great thing.

It started with the Levant Affair in Egypt and just went through all of these perfidious deeds that they committed down through time. It has never been taught by anybody because every other 911 video has pulled punches, as you know. Okay, I'll hang on.

Okay. So, Loki, 911 was before your time. You were a youngster, right? No, actually, when that occurred, I was in a private school in grade 12, and it was a school that was heavily populated by the tribal members, and they were all acting it out like it was some sort of horrible thing.

I was just sitting there in the office waiting for some basic bureaucratic process, and I was always thinking to myself, how come these people are so concerned about this, you know, so what? Some buildings blew up, big deal. That was basically it. That's funny.

I was thinking about you the other day, Loki. You're half my age and know twice as much as I do, which is an interesting algebraic equation. Here's another call we have from Area Code 412.

How may we help you, sir or ma'am? 412, speak to us. I'm a bearded cat. I'm a Muslim lady.

So not, sir. Thanks for calling. Maybe, miss, although the young shopkeepers these days call me ma'am.

I didn't joke there. So I am a Muslim lady, and I do not want to be lumped with the Jews. Kevin Barrett, I used to think some years ago, I was very excited, oh my gosh, there's this public Muslim talking the truth, you know how he calls his program Truth Jihad, and finding the truth about 9-11.

But bit by bit, bit by bit, over the years and months, I now absolutely just detest his ideas so much. I get, like, allergic when I hear his voice, because it seems to me that he, although my mom, when I was still listening to him, my mom told me, if you ever meet him, tell him he has a very good voice. He does have a beautiful voice.

However, it seems to me his modus operandi is to just run to some Jew and try to make them famous. Oh my God, do you know what he did the other day? Let me interrupt you. Do you know the horrible thing he did the other day? He talked, he interviewed.

I stopped listening to him, I do not listen to him at all now, for a couple months or years, yeah. Go ahead, John. I was going to tell you what he did the other day.

He had Gurmar Rudolph on there. Gurmar Rudolph, who does all these Holocaust books, and he had Gurmar Rudolph eating out of the palm of his hand and sucking up to him. And I was, I really wanted to throw up.

I just, I was so disappointed, so disappointed in Gurmar Rudolph. He was sucking up to him. Yeah, because we have to, I think people are misled by Kevin now, because he constantly talks himself as a Muslim, but he just, why doesn't he become a Jew? He is a Jew.

He, for example, he is a Jew? Yes, of course he's a Jew. Barrett, a famous Jewish name, Rona Barrett, the columnist. His physiognomy is pretty similar, actually.

He's got sort of squinty or slanty eyes and so on. Barrett explained that he did mention very sadly, I don't know, some months or years ago, that his mom told him, you know, Kevin, one of your grandmothers or somebody, maybe three grandmothers, is, you know, I'm just going to say Jewess, I guess she would have said Jewish. But the thing is that, for example, when even a white nationalist like Eric Stryker, you know, the National Justice Party, Yeah, he's more of a national Bolshevik.

A national Bolshevik, that's right. Yeah, I know a lot of people like that. He's a disinformation agent.

You mean Eric Stryker is a national Bolshevik? Or Kevin Barrett is a national Bolshevik? Eric Stryker. Who? Which one? Eric Stryker is basically a national Bolshevik and a Russian agent. Yeah, that sounds right.

Oh, I don't know. I'm a very simple lady and I'm quite, I mean, I just call myself just a very ordinary person. And I'm doing my best to try to understand who's a good guy, who's a bad guy.

And what we have to do to have good guys rule finally established. Why do we always have to follow some Jew, some rule that some Jew imposes? And they're always winning daily. Every day some law gets passed, you know, or somebody gets into a position like Biden became president.

And now we have to follow the foreign policy of Antony Blinken, the Jew, you know, and kill Christians in the Ukraine. So this is my main point. And I think, John, thank you very much.

For talking to me. I'll call you back. I think maybe in a month or two.

Anytime. Because I really want to support. You're a very brave lady.

Don't kid yourself. You're a brave lady. No, my name is Scaredy Cat.

My name is Scaredy Cat. The thing is, I'll just give you, like, how I started becoming suspicious of Kevin is, you know, just to say Eric Stryker, I still believe is a good guy. As I'm telling you, I don't know that much.

And I'm trying to study and understand. But instead of saying Eric Stryker of the National Justice Party, which is very good guy, white nationalist, trying to stand up for the downtrodden, you know, white children of Europe. He, instead of referencing Eric Stryker's article in the nationaljusticeparty.com, he will say something like, oh, in Eric Stryker's article in the UN's review, which is constantly advertising a Jew's magazine.

Amen to that. That's right. Anybody on UN's review has betrayed their independence.

Thank you. I thought I was the only one. And my heart was throbbing when I said that.

I didn't know of a public person who would say that. A lot of people have betrayed themselves by being on UN's review. With the exception of Philip Giraldi, who I love.

Philip Giraldi, thank goodness. He has his CNI, his website, counsellingforthenationalinterest.com, I believe, something like that. He's a good guy.

I would try to go to the person's actual website, rather than a middleman's Jew's magazine. Good thinking, very good thinking. Yeah, and we should all try to do that, as a very tiny step, just like me, a member of the general public, just because how is a good guy magazine ever going to grow if everybody just goes to the big famous Jew ones? And, you know, 98% now is Jew ownership.

So we have to start tackling that. And I see myself taking the trouble, and everybody taking the trouble, to find the actual good guys and ignoring the big Jews. It's very hard to ignore, but do that just a little bit extra, and then those little magazines finally will grow.

How does an acorn become an oak tree, you know? It has to be nourished by the good earth, which is the general public has to remember that it's the good earth, you know. And not some weed killers. We can't be weed killers, the general public.

Never forget what I'm about to tell you. The most dangerous thing in the world, the most dangerous thing in the world, is a Jew talking about peace. There's a quotation from one of the old Christian church fathers, I think something to do with, don't ask for peace, oh Jew, because you have no place in eternity.

No, don't ask for peace in this world. Hey, we have one more phone call. Thank you so much for calling.

I hope you call again. I want to find out more about you. There's actually an interesting passage in Serrano's The Son of the Witherers on Islam.

I'm sure of that. Go ahead. No, I'm going to grab this other call.

Thank you for calling. Call again soon. Okay.

And very nice. Thank you too. This is the first time I'm knowing who you are.

So thank you. Thank you. And thank you, John.

And maybe in a month or two, I'll talk to you again. John Kaminski. My website is johnkaminski.org. Check it out.

Okay. Thanks. Are you still there? Yep.

I know you're still there. I think I made a mistake, and I thought she was another call, but I think that's who I was talking to. She was a brave lady, and we need more people like that who ask real questions.

That's pretty much essential to stand up now. You can't just sit on the fence and twiddle your thumbs, thinking you're going to be safe. You know, if you've got a lot of money, you should be investing your money in this sort of movement and the people in it.

And if you have time, then you should use your time. If you have skill, then you should use your skill, but not just live for yourself like so many of the people in this society. That's right.

Possessive individualism. You're listening to Kaminski. It goes ballistic, and it went somewhat ballistic tonight.

And we've got a good show coming up. Giuseppe the Big G is going to be on at 7 o'clock, and he had that great interview with Reed Sainsbury the other night, and I pitched his book at the beginning. I see that the thing is blinking at me, so I think we're just about out of time.

Thank you, Loki, for another wonderful performance. Thank you for all your great callers, and be sure and tune in on Mondays and Thursdays at 5 o'clock when we're going to have more great shows like this one. And let me see here.

Yeah, that lady was great. In fact, they all were great. Coming on next, Speak Free Radio on tonight's Sane Asylum begins.

Good luck, Giuseppe. Why don't I have music? Where's my line? Ah, here it comes. They're playing our song, Loki.

Thanks again. I'll talk to you soon. All right.

The Sane Asylum. Definitely when people need. Yeah, somewhere.

Great job. Yeah, it's interesting about Kevin. Thank you.
