

I see there's a German lawyer, a very well-known German lawyer, by the way, who's taking out a class action suit against all these criminals, and that will be very interesting to see where that one goes. So we'll be keeping a close eye on that. So anyway, we've got three guests on this evening for you folks, a bit of a roundtable, kind of a targeted individual roundtable, if you will.

As you remember, two weeks ago, we had Helen Gurney on from the UK. Well, Helen's back with us again. Helen, how are you? Not too bad.

Thank you very much, Briza. Yeah. Good stuff.

Good to hear. And also last week, remember, we had Loki Hungard from Canada. Loki, how are you, sir? Good to talk to you again.

Hello there. Good to be here. Great.

And then also joining us, this is her second time ever she's been on a radio show. You may remember, folks, a chap by the name of Werner Bock. Werner used to call, he was a regular caller into Republic Broadcasting Network, particularly Diana Spengol's show.

And Werner was very much targeted by these criminals constantly on his farm in New Brunswick in Canada. And unfortunately, they got to him, and sadly, poor Werner was basically murdered by these psychopaths. And we're very glad to have his wife, his widow on with us tonight, Renata Detels.

And Renata, great to have you. I'm very sorry, obviously, about the loss of Werner. It must have been a tough for you.

But anyway, welcome to the show. Thank you, Briza. Thank you for having me on.

Yeah, you're very welcome. I suppose we'll start with you, Renata, and tell us about Werner, what was going on, and both of you, what was happening to you there, because you're in a very isolated area of New Brunswick in Canada. For folks who don't know what that is, it's on the very, very east coast of Canada, pretty much next to Nova Scotia there.

Isn't that correct? Yes, it is. Yeah, so tell us what was going on there with yourself. What is going on? Yeah, it is beautiful.

It is a beautiful country. It is very much underpopulated. And it practically belongs to the Irving clan.

So you can call it Irving country instead of New Brunswick, because that's what it is. So he's running everything here. Mostly it is wood, you know, harvesting of wood.

Most of the country is forest, forestry. And when Werner came here in 1969, they had an ad in the European papers, and they were looking for farmers to come to New Brunswick. And there were many abandoned farms.

And Werner thought, why are they abandoned? And he was told the people are lazy. They just didn't want to work. And Werner came here, and he bought a farm, and he set out to work on it.

And he worked, like, day and night. And he was making all his own machineries. And everybody knew him and got advice from him.

And he helped people out a lot. And suddenly in the 1970s, early, the tide changed, and they started to attack him. For some reason, probably they were jealous.

Or maybe he found out too much what is going on. And so they killed, over the course of 20 years, they killed 325 of his cows. 325.

With directed energy weapons, you can focus it in front of the nose of the animals, and then the air turns into nitric acid or something, or oxide. I always mix that up. I'm not sure which one.

And it is a liquid, a brown liquid. And it is very, very corrosive. And then also they can cause a heart attack.

They can cause the heart to explode. And this happened to Werner here in our driveway. It was on 5th of December last year.

And he died in my hands. I was giving him CPR. And the second car that drove by gave him the kill shot.

And I saw how his heart exploded. So anyway, I'm getting slowly over it. And I have not cleaned his stuff away.

I have to do it because every time I look at anything of him, I am reminded. But I still had the feeling he is still in the house somehow. I had that feeling.

But maybe it is time for him to move on and for me too. But I don't want to give it up here because I want to keep it in the way he was running it. He was not plundering the land.

He was nurturing it, the forest and everything. So he was into natural farming? Yes, totally. Organic and all that kind of thing.

Yes. And he was always saying, we are just the stewards of the land. We are not there to watch.

That's right. If we look after the land, the land will provide for us. Yes.

It's like that. But I'm all alone here. And the winters are long and cold.

And I can't do it. But it's hard. It's hard all alone, you know.

Right now, my chimney is clogged up. And I tried to sweep it and sweep it. But it seems to be a very small opening only on the top where the smoke can escape.

And I cannot make it bigger. I don't know why. And I called the chimney sweep.

He will do it with me. You don't have to do it. Can I ask you, Renate, is it the fact that you're German, would that have anything to do with it? Because, you know, we've heard of a particular case of Ernst Sundel and others like that, you know, who were, again, tired of it for their own things.

You know, we all know about Ernst Sundel and what he was about and how they treated him. I mean, it was the same, you know. They basically murdered him and put him in jail.

But it's just constant going after people of German origin. It seems to be, this is a case I seem to get. I keep hearing about this a lot, you know.

So what's your take on that? My take is a Jewish bus driver one time said to me, he slowly, slowly, he led me to there. You know, we were talking, the bus was almost empty. And we ended at this really fight of good against evil.

And that's what it is. And Germans are a thorn in their flesh. They have always been a thorn in their flesh.

And I see from my personal experience that the German people are overrepresented as targets. I've seen that. It was really true.

German descent or German people, both of them overrepresented as targets. But my targeting started probably, I was born into it. And it has to do with bloodline.

I am convinced now after I heard another one, and that was Helen, that she said she's bloodline and I'm bloodline. And so nobody knows about it. And my family, I don't talk about it, but I found out.

Because my grandma, she looks exactly like, you know, I can't say who, but you wouldn't be surprised. Yeah. Yeah.

She looks exactly like it. And, you know, the likeness, it jumps one generation. So my great-grandmother, she didn't look, but my grandmother looked just like him.

So anyway, I think it has something to do with this. Also, the thing with pedophilia has a lot to do with that. And people get born into a family where this is going on.

And it is generational. It goes on and on and on, you know. And I think that was the case with me too.

Yeah. But the last 50 years, I was constantly being targeted. Not the early years, not that much.

I didn't catch on to it until 2010. 2010, I stumbled upon the Protocols of Zion. And all of a sudden, I was reading it for a week.

And it was the long version. And I was like in a daze. I could not make sense of it.

And so until later, it came clear to me what it all was. And I thought, wow. And then I found another target.

And I saw we are targeted individuals and we have organizations in every country, every civilized country in the world. We have organizations where people band together. And we are talking to each other and the organizations talk to each other.

But nobody makes any headway ever because they are so infiltrated. And anyway, this network is so big. It is so tight.

It is so connected. There is no chance in hell you get even the tip of your toe in between it. No chance, you know.

Yeah. Yeah. I was trying to get away from it.

Well, in 1988, I immigrated to Vancouver with my daughter. And then we tried to make it there. But we didn't.

And so slowly, slowly, I went from one survival job to the next. And I never got the money that I had made in Germany. And I tried to make my translator's exam.

I was a good translator. And then always they said, oh, she came up with this expression. Anybody who can come up with this expression deserves to be a translator.

She's really brilliant. But she suddenly fell off, and she translated word by word, and it's worthless. And that was exactly what was happening.

Because what happened was when I was sitting there translating, somebody came with a cell phone or something, and they put the frequency on me, and frequency and gassing together, and I couldn't think straight anymore. And I went to really basic, and that was that. And you can see exactly the cutoff line, you know, from my real me and to the basic function.

And they did this every time, every time. Then I thought, oh, well, give it up. You can't win, and do something else.

Then I did. Yeah. When Werner, we were talking on the phone, he heard me on the conference call.

And I heard him too, and he phoned me, and we were talking for three years before I came over. And I came over after he had his court case, and he won, and they put him in jail. And he didn't call me.

And I knew he should have been back, and he didn't come back. And the next day he wasn't there. And then I mobilized Diana Spangola, and she made an extra show for Werner on.

She made an extra show for Werner. I found out he was in jail. The police was ridiculing me and pointing me not to be friends with him.

And then she said, oh, tomorrow is his birthday. Why don't you all phone the jail and wish him a happy birthday? And then Werner got like 150 calls all over the world in jail. And then they had to let him out, because they couldn't keep it under wraps, like letting him vanish there.

Oh, he had a heart attack in jail. Sorry about that, you know. And that was 2014.

And then I thought, I'm coming over here. And so we lived together for six years before he died. Almost six years, so at least something.

Yeah, it's tough. Yeah, I do remember, I recall Werner, you know, because I used to listen to Diana's shows and Arrested, too. But, you know, he used to regularly call in, and he was very vocal about all the different things that were going on in the world, you know.

But he also talked about his targeting himself, you know what I mean, and how he was really struggling just to keep the farm going. And then, of course, he was saying that the cattle were dying, and some of the other animals were dying. And it was just horrendous to watch it, you know.

Yeah. I had to admire him. He was a great old soldier, you know.

He kept up with it. He says, they're not going to beat me. Sadly, you know, they got him.

And it was very sad to hear that news, you know. Yeah. Very sad.

Yeah, so now, you know, as I said, we've got three target individuals on with us, you know, on tonight. And hopefully we can get a kind of a network going for you guys, because you're all basically all alone where you are. And thankfully, we still have the internet and Skype and emails and whatever that we can all kind of stay in touch.

And, you know, it's just good to have a little bit of a network there, because when you're facing this on your own, it must be horrendous. Because who do you reach out to, you know? And who's going to believe you, you know? Well, I do. Yeah.

Yeah. So, Helen, do you want to jump in there? Anything, any thoughts you have? Well, I'm just saying thanks, Braz, for setting this little network up, because me and Loki have already been emailing each other. And it's so good to, you know, to know someone who's going through similar stuff who's the right mind.

And, yeah, it's just so nice. And what a change that makes. So, thank you for setting that up.

And I think we just need to build on this network now. And maybe something can come out of it. Maybe some kind of justice even can come out of it.

I think so long as we're doing our duty, then that's justice itself. Whether we live or die physically, we're still doing what we should do. Yeah.

At least the information is getting out there. So, that's part of the battle, isn't it? So, the people know our individual stories. And we were just saying, weren't we, Loki, that, you know, publicity is probably our best form of defense.

Yes. Because, you know, the last thing that these creatures want is their M.O. being known. And the facts of their weapons and their covert systems becoming known, and especially of their identities becoming known.

You know, that's probably what they fear the most. So, you know, the more we put our information out there, then the more intimidated they are going to be. This is it.

You know, once we know what they're doing and how they're doing it, you know, everyone then is aware. If this type of thing starts happening, we know what's going on. And, as I say, they seem to be targeting people who are in kind of isolated areas, who are on their own.

And they tend to—I'd like to go into two women here as well, you know, who have no real way of defending themselves, per se. You know, Loki is a good strapping lad. I mean, he can maybe deal with that bit better.

But, I mean, Helen, I mean, ran out of a saying that maybe because of her bloodlines, she was targeted. Because people have asked me, you know, since these shows, like, why are people being targeted? Or have they done something in particular that have upset these people, you know? And that they want to come back at you and try and sort you out. But it seems to be a bit more than that, doesn't it? Because I don't—I mean, I'm sure there are a lot of targeted individuals out there who are quite well-known.

But for you three, I mean, you aren't that well-known. And, as I said, you haven't really—I mean, Helen, you haven't really done—you're not really an activist, per se. You know what's going on, but you're not really out there.

And so do you think it's a bloodline thing for you as well? Well, I would have been out there if I hadn't been targeted. I think that's part of it. I knew what was going on a few years back.

And I was starting to put information out and my ideas out and put little blogs out there. But that becomes virtually impossible when you're heavily targeted. So it could be just to stop people from going along in that direction.

That could be one of the things. I do strongly suspect, however, that I've been trafficked into this and that something's been going on around me since childhood. Oh, yes.

You were talking about this with your family about there could have been something going on. Yeah. I mean, I think—because I have family members in military research, and I do suspect that they traffic me into this.

And it's convenient for them, you know, because they can follow my life and events in my life and know what's going on. So, you know, that could be. So they could have seen you as kind of an experiment, maybe, just to see what— Yeah, a long-term study, a long-term experiment, yeah.

Bastards, I'll tell you. That's just despicable what's going on. I mean, Loki, you know, we know about you.

I mean, I know you've talked about it before that you've gone full at these guys, these Jewish criminals. And you've—they're trying to call them out whatever way you can, you know. Unfortunately, you were surrounded by a lot of them, which you probably didn't know that there were so many of them.

Yeah. There are really not few there, you know. In terms of my personal life, it's been going on probably from birth also, because I know my father had been stalked.

And I think it also is related to bloodlines, because my mother is of Danish aristocracy. And my father's mother is related to Egil Skalagrimsson. She was clergy and so forth from Iceland.

So that might have something to do with it also. Yeah. Yeah.

As I said, it's great that we can talk about this, because it's— As I said, we've done three shows in a row now. And I think it's important for all of us to be aware of this. Because as we see what's happening right now, our lives are being changed dramatically.

Well, they're trying to change it, that's for sure. But there is pushback. But you can see what the agenda is out here.

They want to just completely turn us into zombies. And I think anybody who's outspoken at all, I think are going to be targeted first. I think because we have been out there for a little while.

And I think this is why it's important for all of us and listeners out there as well. Whatever activism or anything you're doing, they probably do know about you. And they will come at you at some point.

So I'm not saying that they will, but they could. And it's just to know what to do when something like this happens. So it's just good to have this kind of network going and build it.

So at least we can all keep in touch and make sure that everybody's okay. And we can discuss ideas and whatever, you know. So I was glad, Renata, that you contacted me there after last week's show.

And I think you obviously got something from that. And you felt, well, this is great now. I have a couple of people now I can talk to.

And at least Loki's in Canada. Of course, I know Canada is such a huge country that you're a long, long way from him. But at least you're in the same country.

And it's good to know what's, you know, you can keep in touch with each other. You know, as I say, you have the same police system, the same kind of judicial system, so to speak. And, you know, the same kind of things, rules apply in Canada.

It's interesting, Renata spoke about the Irving family just right next door. When I moved here in 2017, the neighbors were called Irving. And they were from New Brunswick.

Oh, yeah, that's them. Yeah, it's got to be because they have a very creepy, weird behavior. They're always doing the gang stalking in the yard, you know, spying.

And they pretend to be like their, what is it called, HVAC trades people. People who cut up like metal all the time and so forth. So they're always sawing and cutting in the yard.

And always releasing the dogs on me and so forth and spying on me. But they have a weird look to them, sort of like a somewhat Jewish look. Yeah.

Yeah. I'm wondering, like, around that area, Renata, there's quite a lot of people of Scottish heritage, aren't there? Yes, a lot of them. Now, I'm not saying that Scots are great people and all that, but you have that Scottish Freemasonry side of things.

Yes. And there's this Irving family. I wonder, are they top Freemasons? Oh, sure.

Yeah. So most of them are Scottish. And one very peculiar thing is here, many people, they are now in their 60s.

They have been adopted suddenly. Every family, almost every second family had adopted children. Some more than one.

And why did that happen? They are about 60 years old now. Yeah. I find this really weird.

Are they adopting, like, non-white children? No, no, they are all white. And then Werner said there was a lot, they tried to make him into a pedophile. Like, when he was there, they would bring a little girl in and Werner would, like, make jokes with her.

Normal, what you do with four-year-olds, right? And then they took her out and brought her back in, no clothes on anymore. They took all the clothes off and sent her back in. And then Werner gives them a look, like, what's going on here? And then he said, I have to go home now.

And then the father looked really scared. Yeah, that's the way they set you up. They set you up to frame you.

And one time we went to one farmer and we wanted to get some money because he took the hay. And then his wife, and it was in the middle of winter, it was really, really, really cold. And she came in and she had this little boy on her arm, he was maybe one and a half, splinter naked.

I said, oh, are you going to give him a bath? She said, no. And she was just carrying him in the kitchen, splinter naked. What's that supposed to mean? I found this really weird.

Yeah. And so, they are trying, and Werner said he was taking some kids fishing because there were the hooligans coming, the only hooligans or whatever, they were little fish, like stint. And you can catch them with a catcher.

They just swim in the water in a big quantity. You can easily get it. And so, they went there and they did that.

And then when they came home, the eight-year-old girl said to him, we should have been doing some screwing. Werner told me that. Some screwing? As in sex? Yes.

From an eight-year-old. I think they trained him like that. They trained him to say those things.

And they were all adopted. And this is the story Werner told me here. And something weird is going on here.

I don't know really. It reminds me of Salem and the witches and what. That's not far from here.

I don't know. That's what they're doing. Sorry to interrupt you.

Satanism. There's Satanism going on here. It is widespread.

Widespread. All you neighbors who are listening to me now, now it's out in the open. Yeah, that's it.

That's what they're doing to me here too. They're always dragging like non-white children and Jewish children in front of me. Everywhere I walk, they'll always just like plant them there.

All of a sudden they'll just come out of nowhere. You know, they'll like get dropped off a half block away by a vehicle or something. And then they'll walk toward me on the street or put themselves right in my way so that they can try to have some undercover CSIS person, which is the, you know, like the Stasi of Canada, the MI5, MI6.

And so they can get them to photograph you near them or something to try to frame you as a pedophile. Same with across, like the neighbors right across the alleyway and then the other neighbor, they're always having their little children out there screaming and shouting and so forth, trying to get attention. Gosh, that's despicable.

I mean, that's just horrendous. But, you know, I've also heard where, you know, the actual, the crown itself, you know, it's still under the control of the queen, allegedly. But, I mean, there's a lot of stuff about children being taken from industrial schools and whatever.

Is that what you think they're getting, these children, Loki or Renata? A lot of them are like the Native Indian kids and whatever, they seem to be abducting them. Yeah, one of them was a Native guy who was adopted. But, you know, they are all 60 years old now, so I don't know them.

I just know what Renata told me, that they were all adopted. And it seemed like fashion. Or for some reason the pharmacy couldn't have their own kids, some of them, you know.

And they adopted three of them, or four, you know, some did. And very many farmers here, they had very many kids, like ten. Ten, that was not uncommon to have ten kids in this area here.

And I think it was very nice in the olden days before it all turned sour here. I think it was very nice. And when I found out the farmers had to leave because the soil was being destroyed by airplanes that fly over the pasture at night and over the fields and put soil sterile lands out.

And also they put out all kinds of pathogens. And when I made the test, he covered one patch of land when he heard one airplane approaching. And later on he took it off after half an hour.

And this little patch, it was wonderful. It gave a crop, but it was just a small top, right. And all the others, it was almost destroyed and couldn't really make fruit anymore.

I don't know what it was. It was some kind of grain. And they are still doing that.

And I want to talk about the airplanes. There is a flight school in Mongtan. And these guys, they are all Chinese or some are Asian.

They have slanted eyes and black hair. So they fly over at night mostly, but also during the day sometimes. So mostly at night.

And you can go to flighttracker.com or flightfinder.com. You figure it out, something like that. You punch that in. And you can see in real time this little airplane flying right where you are.

You can zoom in and right where you are. And you can see it crisscrossing over your house. I mean, I saw it crisscrossing over my house and over the fields.

And then you can see where it's coming from and where it's going. So that one came from Mongtan and was on its way to Miramichi. But first it came here and flew crisscross, crisscross and around and crisscross one more time.

And then it took off to Miramichi before the gas was empty. Because, you know, they don't have more than half an hour in our gas. So, yeah, he timed it perfectly.

And who knows what he did. And one time I went out and something was falling from the sky. I know sometimes chemtrails, you can see the stuff falling from the sky in the beam of your flashlight.

And maybe that was that too. But it could also have been the airplane. Because I know last year they threw large amounts of glyphosate from the sky in the yard.

And all my flowers were crumpled up. And when glyphosate hits the leaves, they desiccate. They get really brown and hard and crumpled.

And the normal weather doesn't do that. You know, they slowly fade away. But not like that.

I think they're doing that all over the planet, aren't they? With chemtrailing, the damage in the plants. What was the difference? Were these low flying aircraft or were they? Yeah, low flying one single engine airplanes. And they all come from the Monckton Flight School.

And I saw this more than once and I photographed it. And Werner phoned the Monckton Flight School. And even one time we went there and we talked with one of his teachers.

And most of them ran away. And Werner trapped one and he talked to him. And he never got a straight answer out of it.

Just like from NASA, never a straight answer. And it was that, you know. They are all in it.

They are all complying. And whatever the orders are, they do it. And they get rewarded.

And not too little. They get really great rewards. I heard that one gang stalking guy got like $1,000 to $10,000 a week.

Yeah, $1,000 a week is about right. But $10,000, I don't know. But yeah, sure.

If you kill somebody, you can maybe make $10,000. Who knows? I really don't know. Is this also another part of getting people off the land? Like as per Agenda 2030, this is about poisoning the land and then just so farmers can't make a living so they just have to leave the land.

Yes, 100%. That's it. This is what's behind it.

Yeah. Yeah. This is it.

Yeah, because I think the farmers are really getting a tough time at the moment everywhere. Oh, yeah. Over here as well, some farmers have been told to kill all their animals now because they're not going to get a proper price on the market.

Yeah. But not here. They are all independent.

And nobody can do anything to them. They just have to see that they have enough hay in winter. And that is that.

You know? Yeah. And they are not being touched because only selected farms get treated like that. And you can see how he just went on Werner's farm and nowhere else.

But then further up the river, they went to another place and another place. And Werner said, I know this farmer. I know this farmer.

You know? And so they want specific farmers out of the picture and they want to take it all. Yeah, that seems true because I was outside of Vancouver once. And there was this one Italian farmer.

And all the farms around them were owned by Sikhs who had probably been in Israel, which is like Jewish East Indians. And he eventually, it was reported in the papers, he had got gored by a bull. But I bet they probably assassinated that guy.

Oh, yeah. I was also in Manitoba in a small town there, like a farming village, which was surrounded by farmlands. And they had more chemtrails in that small 700-person village than they did in like big cities.

Yeah. Yeah. Yeah, it's happening everywhere.

And Renan, I mean, you know, with your email, you said pretty much what was happening to Loki was happening to you. Do you want to just tell people what has been happening to you pretty much, you know, on a daily basis as well? You seem to be constantly attacked. Do you want to give us a zoom? Tell us what's been happening to you.

I'm constantly attacked. And there's somebody close by to my farm, right? And this is where the attacks come from. Dr. Rahuni Kilde, she was Health Minister of Lapland, Finland, for a while.

And she wrote a book about it. And she said, wherever you think your attacks come from, forget it. It is always your neighbor.

Always. And if you are friends with this neighbor for 50 years, and if you went to school with him, it has to be your neighbor. Because of the closeness and the distance, you know.

That's why. It is. It always is.

And I agree with that. Because it's logical. Because of the distance.

That's what it is. So what are you saying? They compromise your neighbor in some way? No, the neighbor is the attacker. Yeah, they're all basically moved in.

Because right around where I'm living, they moved in all sorts of different people. And as soon as I came here, I was getting stared at stupidly by these people. They didn't even know who I was or anything.

But they were just staring at me in a sort of freakish, weird look. And then they were banging sticks in the yard and trying to harass me and banging on the wall and so forth. Do they need to do it to attack you by close range using these directed energy weapons? Yes.

You have to be close up. Yeah. Yeah.

Because Helen, you were saying everywhere you went, wherever you moved to get away from it, there was always some... Yeah. Your neighbor who knew people coming. I was in Germany.

I moved 16 times. I was 3 years in Germany. And the year before I moved, that one year before and the 3 years in Germany, I moved 16 times trying to get away from it.

And I couldn't. And then I thought, it doesn't matter. I have to be somewhere and I cannot move anymore.

Because every time you move, you lose something, you know. And later you have nothing, absolutely nothing anymore. Yeah.

And this is not it. Because it is not good to always be uprooted. It takes too much out of you.

Well, we all know if you're moving, how it's extremely stressful. Yes. You're already in a stressful situation.

Pack your bags and go again. It's just like... You don't have resources. Why do you have to pay the first rent and the last rent and all of that? Yeah, yeah.

It's bankruptcy. Yeah. I must have moved about 50 times in my life.

There was always some people causing me problems everywhere I went. So it must have been, you know, continual gang-stalking throughout to some extent. The only thing you do is hunker down and defend yourself in the best way that you can.

That's all you practically do. Moving is not an option really. It's not a solution anyway.

But these creatures, they poison my food. I cannot eat anything, anything at all. And now they poison my drinking water.

And there's some red stuff in it. But normally the water is yellow. But when it clumps together on the bottom, the water becomes clearer and it is red.

Like wine red. And I don't know what it is. And I have a hard time finding a lab.

And the lab said to me, you have to tell me the name of the poison so I can test for it. I said, if I knew the name, I don't need a test. What kind of concept is that? Yeah.

They're supposed to be scientists, aren't they? They're asking you what the poison is. No, we're asking you what the poison is. Yes, exactly.

And they said, well, there are like 10,000 substances out there. I said, just take the red ones or the yellow ones. No, they don't do it.

Have you tried to filter your water in any way or distill it? I've filtered through a coffee filter. That's all I can do. If I have a real filter, I spent $200 for some steam filter.

They sprayed it with some substance that you cannot remove from the inside and the water is like unbelievable. It stinks from 10 meters away. No, you can't do it.

You can buy a water distiller, a small one, a tabletop one. That was one price I did. Just, they wreck it.

They wreck everything. I bought a 700-pull-force magnet. I came here.

I pulled it out. It is less than a 20-pull-force magnet. The force, you know, they demagnetized it.

Everything I get, parcels, my mail, goes to some guy. He opens it, see if he has the record or not, and he wrecks it. And then I get it, and so I can send it back or I can just put it to a loss in my loss box.

You know, that's what it is. I'm going to say it poisons your food. How did they do that? I mean, is this food you buy in from the supermarket or is it food you grow or what? In your supermarket, when you look at the bottled water and they have all a different fill level, you know that there is something not right because it is done by machine.

So, machines don't make mistakes. And the butter, if you take the butter and it is folded in a weird way and it has a bump on top where there is too much butter and they just made the paper stretch, then you know there is something wrong with it. Now, I started weighing everything.

And now the weight is all right. But now, the yogurt, it is like one centimeter taken out and something added and then stirred around. And when you weigh it, it weighs exactly 500 grams.

But if they added something and they took something out, it means something that is heavier than the yogurt has been added. Do you agree? Can you follow? Yeah. So, what is that? Heavy metal.

Some sort of heavy metal like lithium, lead, arsenic, whatever you want, you know. Can you taste any difference? Can you taste anything that is different? The consistency of that stuff is not like yogurt. You can like cut it with a spoon and have a cut, you know.

And now, it is more mushy. And yeah, it does not taste as good. But it still tastes good and I am tempted to eat it.

But I cannot eat it because there is something really harmful in there. And one time, a restaurant mixed lead in my food because the rice was gray, but they are not me. We were so hungry, we ate it anyway.

And I got really sick for almost three days. I was sick, really sick. It was bad, bad.

Yeah. So, when it comes to food, what do you do then? Do you... I try to get something. Right now, I was in Subiza.

I bought two sorts of bread. One has a shiny surface. When I open it, it is all shiny.

Like there is some shiny liquid on it. It is fat. Some shiny liquid.

It does not have a taste. I ate one of it. So far, it is still down.

But the lettuce suffered from that substance and wilted and is mushy. So, I did not eat the other one because there is definitely something bad in there. And the other one had chlorpyrifos sprayed on it.

And chlorpyrifos is, right now, the latest fashion stuff. What they are usually, every week they change. But now, the chlorpyrifos, they have not changed for two weeks.

It is an organophosphate. There are 1,500 different organophosphates. Most of them are in the range between yellow and light brown or brown.

And some are colorless and tasteless. They look like water. You cannot even see what it is.

But most of them, they are aromatic. They have some kind of taste. And this one, chlorpyrifos, it burns you extremely.

It can burn holes in the skin if you touch it with your hands. And it has a biting smell. And it looks light yellow and it looks like creamy.

Not clear, not clear. It is like cloudy, cloudy. Yeah, this is chlorpyrifos.

And they spray this on their cars. Today, a car did it again. It was a red Hyundai Elantra.

And it had the number plate 809. And it had a young lady in there. And she overtook me.

And you could see she was scared to death to overtake me. Later on, she didn't overtake anybody anymore. She must have been very young.

I passed her by and I saw she was a young lady where she turned off. Yeah, and so she did that to me. I don't know what made her do it.

Probably she wants to belong to the network and be in the in-cloud. And belong, you know, and be safe and think she's the chosen one. Maybe this is why she did it, you know.

They are so stupid. They don't get it. And they will never get it because their brain is already destroyed.

Believe me, they don't have frontal lobes anymore where the empathy center is. You know, it's already destroyed. And they don't have any background to fall on.

They grew up with TV from baby on. And they don't have the old values anymore. To them, it's nothing.

They are new age. They say everything is the same, good one or bad one. It's all the same.

It doesn't matter. Bullshit, it's not the same. Right, they think they're beyond good and evil.

Yeah, I don't know what they think. I have no idea. No.

And all these neighbors, this is what I'm trying to get my head around, these neighbors, obviously you can see them and whatever. You know, I'm trying to get my head around the fact that they can get all these people into place and do these things. And I just wonder, how do they do this? Well, it's just through funding them.

They fund them with lots of money and then they conscript them into occultism through like sodomy and so forth. There's this one manual by A.K. Forwood about organized gang stalking. And it talks about how they use sodomic blackmail, how they basically.

This has happened to me actually several times throughout my life. I think when I was living in an apartment and so forth, I was trying to find people to, you know, room with me for apartments and looking for friends and so forth. And there's always like this Filipino in several instances.

There was a Filipino guy who just I said, OK, well, I guess we'll meet up. And then he tries to involve himself in sexual activity with me on every single occasion that happened three times at least where I was involved with these people. Of course, I never involved myself with them in any sexual activity.

So I said, yeah, OK, I guess. No, thanks. And so they just disappeared after that point.

But that's how they hook you into their cult through sodomic ritual, ritual abuse, because then it traumatizes you and it shames you. And then you don't want that information to be getting out to other people because it would damage your reputation. And then from there, they get the if that if that doesn't really work, then they make it or if you agree to that and you don't feel shame, then they'll accelerate it and do even more, you know, evil activities, probably criminal, you know, ritual murder or something of that sort.

That's how they how they get dirt on people so that they could bind them to the cult. That way no one can get away from it. And you know, they get they have the latest cars and they have great cars like SUVs, Acura SUV and Infinity SUV and even Cadillac SUV and BMW SUV.

There's lots of Cadillac SUVs around here following me around. Yeah, you know what? And how do they get the cars? I know how because I was transporting cars as a survival job in Vancouver for a couple of years. And so we were bringing the dealers.

They have a quota, OK? And if they take that quota, they get the cars real cheap. But if they can't sell it, they have to make the quota smaller and then they make less profit on it. They have to, you know, nobody is buying them.

They make less profit. They are out of business. They can't afford it.

So they buy the cars. They know they can't sell it. They put them away in the middle of nowhere far out in the boondocks and they have a big wired fence around it with barbed wire and a man with a dog and it's patrolling the perimeter.

And they have all those brand new cars in there sitting there waiting for five years to be over. And they get them away, haul them away, and they crush them, a car that has never been driven brand new, and it gets recycled into scrap metal. This is happening.

So what they do, they give them as a gift to the perps. They get a brand new car of their choice as a gift when they become a perp. And they get the gas too, the gas.

They get paid for the gas money. And every two years they get a brand new car of their choice. That's a nice little incentive.

Yeah, exactly. And this is happening. You see Filipino cleaners, you know, working as a cleaner.

And they have this SUV car, the BMW SUV. Yeah. And how can they get that money working as a cleaner, you know, toilet cleaner or floor cleaner? Yeah, this is how.

I've seen that a lot myself. Yeah. All these Filipinos and Negroes too, a lot of them, they have that.

Yeah. Helen, have you seen any of your neighbors, say, driving around in big cars or anything like that or flashy kind of, you know? Yeah, some of them. But the perpetrators that I've had, they've all been, you know, seemingly on the face of it just normal everyday families.

They just look normal. But you know they're not. They're not by any means.

And they're part of this very tight-knit network that are all in on this outrage, on this outrage of crime, of targeting people and attacking them with directed energy weapons. It's very, I mean, I tend to believe that they're born into it, that they are all you-know-whos. And perhaps some of them are paid, you know, they're just brought into it and they're paid to do certain aspects of the targeting.

But, you know, from my observations and my experiences, I would say they're all, you know, they're all born into this belief system whereby they think we're nothing, we're just animals to kill at will. Yeah. They look at us as animals, that's true.

Yeah. Yeah, I mean, and I'm thinking like, you know, the way they've just opened up all our borders now and let all these people in, wouldn't that be a nice job for them? If you want a job, you know, let's go and target these people, you know. And then, of course, if you try to complain about, oh, you're racist, you see.

So, yeah, I see exactly what they're doing here. Like in Mongtan, all Chinese, I know they are all gang stalkers. It's just the way it is.

And in Vancouver, lots of them, and even Japanese people, they can be Jewish too, and they are gang stalkers. Yeah, there's lots of Chinese Jews. I think they're called Tao Te Ching or something, those who cut the tendon in China.

Oh, yeah. Because they perform ritual murder sacrifices. Yeah.

There have been synagogues in China for like over a thousand years. You think they're linked with the triads as well, with the mafia there? Probably. Same with the Yakuza in Japan.

Yeah, yeah. Sometimes when you see Yakuza, the cops on the bus, they all get pale in the face, you know. That is something really fear-instilling to them.

Yeah. Yeah. Yeah, it's just like, you know, I'm just trying to think about how you could see the warning signs.

Because, like you say, where I am now, I'm in a fairly, you know, the neighbors around me are all, I know, I've been here 20-odd years, and I know, not all of them, but I know most of them, and they're all very nice and socialized with them and stuff like that. It would be very hard to kind of think that some of them could turn on me, you know what I mean? Yeah, of course. You know.

But, again, it's entirely possible, isn't it? You just have to keep. It can be arranged, you know. They just say to me about, wow, this is a really nice granddaughter you have.

You wouldn't want anything bad to happen to her, would you? That's what they say. Yeah. You know.

Yeah, that's. I mean, I think they'd more like to arrange or engineer situations to have your existing neighbors move out and then move in the pits if they were going to do that to you. Yeah.

That would be more likely scenario, I would say. Yeah. There hasn't been that many that, you know.

They're just saying around me, there hasn't been that many people moved in or out of here for a while, so. There has been one or two, but they're not near me, if you know what I mean. Yeah.

You probably know about it by now if something was happening to your brides or so. Yeah, yeah. They're probably okay.

If we start moving out, then you want to be worried. Yeah. You can't be worried.

See, this is, for us, it's going on for a long time. It's a different matter. And also, they cheated me into signing something.

Like, you know, every time I have an operation, they put some implant there. And first, you have to sign away something. And then they give me a syringe with some substance, and I'm all woozy and not there anymore.

And they said, you have to sign here. And they bully me to sign it. And I sign it because I have no resistance left.

And it's, but they do it. They do it like that. And once they have that, they feel they have the right to do it.

Mm-hmm. And how are you going to retrieve the signature? And then always when you go back later and you want to talk to the doctor, oh, he's still on holiday. Mm-hmm.

For two years. Yeah. Yeah, if you're ever trying to push it, I know it's difficult if you're in that situation, but if you can, you're being asked to sign, you're under duress, okay? Yes.

You can sign your name under duress and then all rights reserved, if you can remember that. But it's a difficult one, I know. Yes.

When you're drugged up and you just won't forget. You easily forget that. Yeah, it's a whole general procedure is under duress.

Everything you do legally with the government, you're always under duress because it's like a secret government that puts a gun to your head without you being able to know. Exactly. Basically, they want you to consent.

They say everything's by consent, but they really are pushing you to consent. And you have a way out, and that way out is just reserving all rights. You know, because once that's seen on the document, there's nothing you can do.

Any signature you have, if you can always remember, any time you sign an official document or if you're dealing in commerce at all, your signature is all rights reserved and your name. That's your new signature from now on, folks, okay? Anytime you're dealing with commerce. Oh, yes.

Well, it's under duress if they really are putting pressure on you, yes. But anything at all that you're dealing with in commerce, just cover yourself. It's all rights reserved and then your name, and that's it, okay? And that refers to the legal system too, doesn't it, Brian? It does, yeah.

And it's just that basically you've reserved all your rights now, so now you're infringing upon me. Now, they mightn't care about all that. They might still want to get you, but at least it's something that you can use, okay? It's a weapon.

We have to use whatever we can here. Yes, absolutely. So there's just little things that you can always try and remember and bear in mind if that situation does happen.

But I just say to everyone, if you're signing your name anywhere with regards to your driving license, whether your insurance forms, anything like that at all, all rights reserved on your name. That's your new signature now. Yeah.

See, so then there's no comeback on you. So if they say, well, you're in breach of this contract, well, no, I reserved all rights. So good luck.

Goodbye. You see? That's what you do. That's how you cover yourself.

So just a little legal stuff there for you all. We should do, just if I could ask a question just before we go. So we always sign in capitals with that all rights reserved? It doesn't matter how you sign it.

Okay. It doesn't matter. Once you reserve all rights, it's okay.

That's it. And then, again, if you're stopped by a cop on the street or if they drag you into a courtroom, again, you say, I reserve all rights. I reserve all rights.

And you say nothing more. That's it. Now I push you, you might have to repeat it again, but don't say too much.

Just say it every now and again, I reserve all rights. Then you might ask them, am I free to go? As I said, they might hold you for a while, and they could try and break you, throw you into a cage for even a couple of days. I know some people who have.

That's how it's happened to them. But they walk out, you know, and they're trying to press charges again. So you just reserve all rights.

You send everything back to them. So it's just got to play clever. Don't be antagonistic.

Don't be saying, oh, I'm going to get you. I'm going to do this. No, that's no use.

You're playing right into their game by doing that. You just need to find their little Achilles heel. Just send that in.

I reserve all rights and stuff like that. And then you walk away from it. You just walk away.

That's their game. That's it. And they want you to play.

They really, really want you to play. Yeah, because then you're starting a controversy, and they can justify their actions against you. Exactly, yeah.

So, listen, we're at the top of the hour, folks. It's been a good hour. And let's see now.

Yeah, we're going to take a music break. I think Graeme has lined up. Van Morrison has come out with a new song called We Were Born to be Free, which is great to see.

Obviously, he's getting fed up with what's going on, and he's decided to write a song about it. A couple of other musicians are doing it, too. So we're going to play that, and we'll be back to you in about, I think, three minutes or so.

Okay, so hang with us there, folks, and we'll see you on the other side. Okay, welcome back, everybody. This is the Pricer here on The Pricer Show, and we have three guests tonight.

We've got Renata Detels. We've got Loki Hulgaard and Helen Gurney. I'll have to call Helen back on her phone again, so I'll just get her back in a minute or so.

Welcome back, Loki and Renata. Good to be back. Yeah, yeah, we're back live.

So, yeah, anything? Well, I'm just trying to get Helen back in again, so is there anything you guys want to talk about there while I do this? Just give me about a minute here. Yeah, I just wanted to discuss Renata. She's in a place where there's this family, this occultist bloodline family called the Irvings with a G. I guess they're some type of Scottish family.

I'm wondering, would they be related to some extent or in some way to Irvings with an E on their name? Because the next-door neighbor here, they're called Irving, and they're from New Brunswick also, and they're obviously gang stalkers, obviously funded to do this, so I'm thinking they're somehow related to them. I really don't know. I just know that Irving here, he has oil and he transports it on the railway.

That used to be a people transport railway too, but it doesn't anymore. It's just for Irving now, for the oil transport from the coast, and he has lots of gas stations everywhere. Yeah, almost a monopoly, you can think, but it's not quite a monopoly.

There's still Shell there and also other ones. Sorry, we just got Helen. Helen, you're there, yeah? Yeah, I am there, yeah, thank you.

Okay, great. Sorry, Renata, continue. I just said they have a lot of gas stations, and they also have a share in a food market and lots of other shares in other things.

It's a huge network. Kind of people say they own New Brunswick. And they're Scottish? Do you think that they may be related to Jews? That they might have Jewish... When it's Irving, is it I-R-V-I-N-E, is it? No, it's G at the end.

G at the end, yeah. Well, it is a Scottish name, that's for sure, but I mean, it could be... In the way Jews operate, they change names. They do that with Irish names as well.

Yeah, Irving next to me is with an E, but they seem to be sort of Jew-y looking. They've got a sort of dump-y looking body and so forth. I don't know any of them, I just know they have a lot of... I just hope David Irving isn't related to them.

No, David Irving was a totally different guy. Yeah, yeah. But yeah, it is a Scottish name, but as I said, what I'm looking at is the Freemasonry angle of that, you know? The Scottish life was very big, you know? There is a lot of Scots came over from back in the day and settled all around, that's why you've got Nova Scotia next door to you as well, which is... Yeah, Nova Scotia.

New Scotland, yeah. I just went... I went there one time and I tried to buy something and I got stalked, but my food didn't get that poisoned and I even managed to buy some fish and it wasn't poisoned. Yeah, but I could see it.

It is worse. It is worse than here. And when I said... He talked to a guy and he said, yeah, that's the way it is.

It started in Nova Scotia and now it's here and so it will go across the provinces to Vancouver. That's what he said. And that's what happened.

Year by year by year another province and then it was all installed. And the real big fat gang stalking that it started in 2000, but it got really, really worse when they installed the fusion centers and that was 2010. And Vancouver fusion centers sprang up everywhere.

They took the old people community centers and they turned them into fusion centers to train the perps there. So that's what a fusion center is? I don't know what they do, but that's what they... Like a training center? Yeah, yeah. They train the perps.

And even they went to old people home and trained old people in the one-handed sign language. I was watching that. Even in the sports ground they were giving lessons in summer to old people.

On the one hand it's Dazi sign language. I saw that. Amazing.

So they call it Neighborhood Watch and they call it... Oh, Neighborhood Watch. Yeah. Community policing.

And the police has a community policing station and people can go there and sign up. And there's all sections and they all get a brand new car. So they feel like they are in heaven.

Thank you government. I'm so glad. Sure.

This woman, she's this and this pedophile terrorist, you know, all kinds of things. Shoplifter. She's never been caught in 40 years, you know, but it doesn't mean she doesn't need surveillance.

She needs surveillance, you know. Yeah. This is what we call communitarianism.

This is the third way, right? Which is a mix between communism and crony capitalism. And it's all part of the community. You have to be part of the community.

So there's community policing, neighborhood watch and we're all in this together. How often have we heard that now in the last six months? We're all in this together. And we have to kind of work together.

We've got to get rid of the far right and all these extremists, you see. Yes. And, you know, so anyone who isn't part of that, who says, no, no, that's a lot of crap, you know, we're not buying into that type of stuff.

At least now they're beginning to say, well, now we know who we can go for. Domestic terrorist. Do you call it domestic terrorist? Yeah.

Yeah, it's very insidious what's going on. It really is. We have to be aware of it and get it out there.

And I think with this whole lockdown stuff, this is where we're beginning to see, you know, you can see the idiots who they are. The people are wearing masks. Sorry, you're idiots.

Okay. It's either that or they're occultists themselves. A lot of the gang stalkers wear the masks in their vehicles, it seems.

As a way of signaling, you know, we're virtuous, we're better, this is what you should be doing. Behavioral. I wonder, like, a lot of these summer designer masks they have, are they little sigils and stuff on the masks that maybe people would recognize? Is there a bit of that going on, I wonder? I think I've seen a couple of skull masks.

Yeah. They're trying to signal to you that you're going to be killed. Because I was in the gym once and they were playing, like, Gloria Gaynor's I Will Survive and so forth.

They always walk around with shirts with various slogans on them also to try to imply messages to you. Of course, there's all sorts of other coding, like the vehicle color that they use. They'll use, like, red minivans and blue trucks and gray minivans.

And then they'll have certain neuro-linguistic programming techniques where they'll have, for example, like a dog hanging its head out of the window of the passenger side every time they drive by. And then they'll do that multiple times in a day just to try to signal to you. And then they'll, like, beep their horn multiple times to try to, you know, condition you, to sensitize you to those stimuli.

That way they can try to program your mind to induce stress. And they'll multiply that by, you know, endless amounts of time. Yeah.

It's the ambulance. The ambulance is chasing me whenever I was, like, getting gas. So the ambulance was already there or just pulling in or just pulling off, you know.

And it doesn't matter where I go. They know exactly how much gas I have and if I need it. And then they just follow me and go there.

So what do you think? They're following you because they hope you might have an accident and pick you up? No. Or what is it? What's going on there? They just want to stress me out. They want to stress me out.

Right. You've got ambulance workers who are essential workers who are supposed to be attending sick people and they're chasing you. They're coming after you.

They have nothing else to do, you know. And when they get a call, then they turn off and go on the call. But meanwhile, they're chasing me.

Funny. Yeah, it happens all the time to me, too. It's always the fire people and the EMS.

And then the police also are always involved. And then they've got their undercover police who are probably CSIS or else RCMP or whatever other plainclothes officers. There's always just whole teams of these people that are just tailing after you endlessly.

It's just completely pathetic. But that's how they enforce their tyranny. Because it's not about the people.

It's just about themselves, you know, enslaving the population as tax slaves so that they can have total power for themselves to do whatever they want. They're basically just parasites. I used to have some respect for police and so forth, but now I certainly don't, given the way they behave.

No. Yeah, you know, you need a proper policing because they've gone rogue completely. It seems the same here as well in Ireland.

It's gone completely rogue. And, you know, they'll always kind of give people who are standing up against this lockdown nonsense to give them a hard time and, you know, accuse them of being far right and blah, blah, blah and causing trouble. But when it's Black Lives Matter or Antifa or whoever, they have protests.

It's not a problem, you see. But the thing is, though, you know, these people that are doing this, these are the useful idiots they're using because they're going to come on with a cosh eventually as well, aren't they? I mean, it might be nice at the moment. They might be driving around in a nice BMW and all the rest of it, but they're just being used, do you think? Yeah, it's interesting.

I heard that they're just going to be killing off all the white police and military afterwards anyway. And they'll probably be shot in the back by Jewish sergeants or whatever or the non-white invaders that they bring in once they create enough chaos. Yeah, five minutes after they kill us, they will be killed too.

What do you think? It was always like that in history. You can go back to, what, I don't know, Caesar or even further back to the Stone Age. It was always like that.

They don't like to have people alive who are witnesses to their dirty deeds. Yeah. Yeah.

Helen, any thoughts yourself? Anything that you want to add from there? It's an easy way, isn't it? If they're picking off one by one anyone who shows any signs of resistance or waking up. So they've got, like, armies of people who can very easily go after go after anyone and more or less get them and break them, wreck their lives, neutralize them, basically. So it's probably divide and conquer, but it's also neutralizing any signs of resistance.

Yeah, that's exactly what the word is, neutralization. Yeah. The first sign of it is, you know, again, the government was saying, like, you have to shame people who don't wear masks and stuff like that.

You have to shame them and report them. I mean, this is this makes East Germany look like a teddy bear's picnic, Renata, I think, you know. East Germany was pretty bad.

I saw it when I was young. My grandparents were there, and we visited them a lot. And, yeah, it was really bad.

One in three. One in three. And the word Sehrsetzung, this is a Stasi program, it's called Sehrsetzung.

That means decomposition of a personality in every aspect of their life. It will be destroyed. That means relationship, family, everything.

Money, jobs, housing, whatever. All of that will be destroyed. Attacked and destroyed, and helped.

That's what they are doing with us. Yeah. That's funny, I was just saying to Graham before we came on air that I was in the supermarket a few days ago, and I saw to my surprise, I saw this guy, an older guy, about the same age as me, maybe a bit older than me, and his son, who was probably in his early twenties, both were not wearing a mask.

And I approached him and said, I'm glad to see you two, because you're a rare commodity these days. And they turned out they were Polish. And they knew exactly what was going on.

I was talking to them for about 20 minutes, 25 minutes, shook both their hands and said, that's great. And they were saying, it's very sad, I've got good Irish friends, but I cannot get through to them. I cannot get through to them.

It is sad. And he said, I grew up, I grew up in Poland when, you know, under communism. I can see what's coming, he said.

It's coming again. It's coming back. Wow.

Yeah, exactly. It will keep coming back so long as Jewish supremacists rule society. Yeah.

Because that's their inherent nature, is to be a communist, to have like this closed system society. Just like in Israel or in Brooklyn, New York, in the Orthodox communities, they've got these very tightly controlled spy societies where nobody has any freedom. Yeah, indeed.

And yeah, let's talk about this COVID nonsense as well. I mean, where you are, Renata, is it lots of people wearing masks? Tends to be in rural areas people don't need to. And half the people, they don't even live in Perikodiak here.

They live around it and in the forest, everywhere, you know, and people just build something in the forest and move there and there. It's sad. I don't think they have any permits or whatever.

I don't think so. They can pretty much do what they want. But the MLA, he wants to change that.

He told me. I asked him what his goal is and he said, we have to clean up the country, free them from all these settlements and make a smart city. So this is his plan.

But now, yeah, it is pretty okay. And nobody wears masks. You have to wear them in hospital upon entry and all the time when you are there and the doctors have to wear them all the time.

But otherwise, I saw it in Mongtan. In Mongtan, it has 100 million people not 100 million, 100,000 inhabitants. So it's the large city here, right? Number one and Fredericton is number two.

Two cities. And Costco they wear a mask. I don't think it was enforced because I was in there once and nobody said anything to me.

But then in Walmart, they came after me and I had to take a mask. And so after I took the mask, somebody sprayed pesticide on it and I nearly perished. It is unbelievable, these people pesticide spraying.

I mean, really. And then I had to put it up on my head and nobody said anything after that. And after a while, it expired and when I came to the cashier, I pulled it down again because I didn't want to hear another sermon.

And then I got out of there. When somebody gives you a mask, you should just put it on your head like a hat. Yeah, but don't put your nose at them.

Wear it somewhere. They say you have to wear a face covering. They don't say you have to wear it on your face.

You have to wear it. This movie, this guy, he put like a Zorro mask on, the black one, around the eyes. The security guard, he grabbed him and said, you have to go out.

And he said, you see this sign outside? He said, I saw the sign. It said to wear a mask. I'm wearing a mask.

And he went inside grinning, grinning. That's it. There's little ways around these things, you know.

I mean, you've got to remember, like with a supermarket, it is a kind of, it is a private institution of such, I mean, obviously you can go in, but they can dictate the rules once you're in there. But they still have a duty of care to you once you're in there as a customer. So what you can do is you can ask if you're, they say, oh, you have to leave, or we're refusing your service, or whatever.

You ask for the manager's name and the CEO, and they say I want to get a risk assessment study done on the effects of wearing a mask. Like, does it stop the spread of this? Is it doing damage to me while I'm in your store? Because it is doing damage to me. I'm holding you liable.

Then you can put in what's called a notice of liability into them, and you can say, right, if I get any kind of lung problems or respiratory problems, I'm coming after you. And then watch them, watch them say, okay, go on ahead. So there's things, you know, we have to look at different things and push back, you know.

Because they do have a right to refuse you. They do, because, you know, it's like a bar or a restaurant or something like that. If you come in and you're drunk or you're stupid, they can tell you to leave.

They've every right to do that. In fact, they reserve all rights to do that, so they can do it. But once you're in there, and you are a customer, and you're not causing any problems, then you have, you know, they have a duty of care to you, so you can hold them to that.

You can hold them liable, notice of liability. These are little things that we can all use, you know. And don't be afraid to do it.

Don't be afraid to speak out. Just say it. And get other people to do it, too.

Talk to other people, saying, you know, I also heard about the masks themselves. When they make them, the actual cloth is soaked in formaldehyde. Wow.

Yeah, it stinks like pesticides, those things. Yeah. So you breathe, you know, even if you're only wearing it for ten minutes, if you're only going into a store for ten minutes, right, you're still breathing formaldehyde for ten minutes.

That's not going to do you any good. Right? So, stuff like that we can all do, you know. Of course, the Jews don't mind wearing them themselves because in their religion, they think they're just going to reincarnate in another body afterwards anyway.

So they don't mind behaviorally modeling and doing damage to themselves or their own kind, because in their opinion, they're just going to come back again anyway and we'll all be dead, according to their plans, because it says right here in this Dr. Eric Karlstrom's article, The Protocols of Gang Stalking on Protocol 5 of the Protocols of the Elders of Zion, it says, it is essential for us at whatever cost to deprive them the Goy aristocracy of their land, and we will take all measure to extirpate from the face of the earth all the educated forces of the Goyan. Uh-huh. That's obviously what they're doing to Renata.

They're basically trying to destroy the land, trying to take the peasants from the land, as it says in the Protocols. Uh-huh. It says here, in our program, one-third of our subjects will keep the rest under observation from a sense of duty on the principle of voluntary service to the state.

It will then be no disgrace to be a spy and informer. Now it's Protocol 17. Uh-huh.

Yeah. So that's the same thing they did in East Germany. Uh-huh.

One-third. Yeah. It's the same M.O., the modus operandi, the same thing they're doing.

Yeah. And now we have to call them out on all of this. And now they've got this... Sorry, Helen, go ahead.

Sorry, Brad. I was going to say, now they've got this satanic unbelievable technology. It's, uh, it's far, far worse.

It's going to be far, far worse as we get away with it this time. What, you know, what we can inflict on people. And I can attest to what this technology can actually do.

It can talk to you. It can monitor your every single thought so you've got literally no peace. It trashes the integrity of your mind and your body.

It can manipulate your body through this technology. It can sexually assault you through this technology. It's absolutely unbelievable what this is.

And if they're going to inflict this on people, it's, you know, we're really heading for hell on earth. It's called virtual telepathy is some of it. It is.

Is this, um, is this kind of 5G technology? What type of technology do you think they're using here? It's called stuttering. The perpetrators that were going after me, remember they actually got, they were attacking my teeth so that they could implant me. And they actually managed to get in this one particular time.

I have been implanted. And then I started to hear, shortly after I started to hear the voice to school, you know, the voices directly from this implant. So I realised I'd been implanted.

I think that happened to me here too in the summer. And Renata, you were saying you got your teeth as well. My teeth, yeah.

But they also the nose, ear and throat doctor, he put something in my nose. It's a hard knob. You can still feel it.

And then he wired it to the ears and my throat. So they have a microphone or something in my, or some bug in my voice box. And my ear, my one ear is constantly ringing and beeping.

And this is voices. But the voices bypass the ear and they go directly into the subconscious without me knowing what they are saying. So they are always suggesting some kind of stuff to me and I have no idea to find out if this is my own idea or if it's their idea.

I only do it when they want to make me use swear words because I don't want to use swear words. I usually use very few swear words. And if they want me to do something dirty, they give me dirty suggestions.

I know they don't come from me. So I know that for sure. But all the other things like choose this apple or that one, that's all their choices.

I don't know. But all the time when I want to buy an apple, I want to say I take four apples and I choose them. All of them are injected with something.

But then sometimes I close my eyes and I go blindly into the bin and I grab some and then only one was bad and all the others were good because I did not choose them. I chose them blindly. And this proved the point that they can influence me on all levels all the time.

And this is how I had this one accident because my inner voice and that was their inner voice said to me, yeah, who cares? Just drive through it. But I never listened to that voice again. I always push it away.

It's not Jiminy Cricket talking to you. But it's kind of Jiminy, but it's a satanic Jiminy. Yeah, pretty much.

If I could just relate. Sorry, go ahead. Just briefly, one time I was right around the time when that Brandon Tarrant false flag shooting occurred, I was hearing and dreaming about all these things way before that happened, like by a week.

Right around that time. When that happened, that false flag, that was during their sacrifice season in Perim. And the numerology was all Kabbalistic numerology involved.

So what they were doing to me, I think, because the police were always surrounding me at that time trying to interrogate me, trying to talk to me about the so-called Tarrant shooting and so forth. I think that what they're trying to do is to try to set me up in a false flag terrorist attack so that they can create that fake reality to try to make it a reality. Because that's what they do.

It's like a hyper-reality simulacrum. Like a created idea that they manifest into being as a means of trying to of course the objective is to create terrorist attacks so they can build their police state and traumatize the population, but also so that they can demonstrate their power, that they have the ability to do that to you. There's this one guy in Canada in Toronto called Stephen O'Keefe.

I'm not too sure if he's still alive or not, but he had a bunch of material on the internet called Deceive and Hide Jewish Mob Stalking Operation Catalyst. I'm reading a quote from him. He says, it's designed to move the target into a scripted surveillance sequence where anything can happen to them, like a mock collision to take them out while appearing accidental, with all immediate witnesses who are in on the black operation.

So they're just completely contriving these fake events to make it appear like there's all sorts of chaos, but they're obviously the ones who are the architects of that chaos. It doesn't happen organically. They constantly overtake me on the right-hand side on the highway.

Constantly. I have to always look like a lynx. I have to be super aware.

And I am. I'm careful and I'm not driving fast anymore. But that's stressful because sometimes you just like to relax.

I need this peace. I need to just relax in peace. I'm not having to deal with this bullshit.

Give me a break, but it's just constant stuff. Yeah, I go far out. I'm driving to this ocean and I drive through the park.

There's not much traffic. There's not much traffic here period, you know. But just when you drive to Moncton, it's a little bit.

I've been driving in Vancouver. This is a totally different ballgame. I actually enjoy the game.

Driving fast and escaping and doing this and that. Yeah, but I'm getting older, you know, and I really, yeah, I want to. I enjoy driving.

I like that. Of course, it could be dangerous because they could drive you off the road or, you know, cause you to take over your vehicle's electronics and cause a collision. Yeah, they can take over the vehicle and they want, they give me such a hard time to have my vehicle repaired.

I know that they just want to keep it for three days so they can put all kinds of gadgets in there so they can make me drive off a cliff or something. Renate, do you have, is 5G being rolled out there where you live? I mean, I know it's rural. I know they put that into cities, but what's... It's everywhere.

We have a new tower on the highest hill here around here. Before we had two towers. First we had only the one.

Then we got another one here. 500 meters behind my pasture there. And then we have this new tower.

Werner and me went there and we were talking to the guy if he knew what it was. He said, yeah, it's a cell phone tower. And Werner said, yeah, it's a 5G tower.

He said, what's 5G? We said, yeah, 5G is a killer network. And he looked at us like we were crazy and we were used to that. So we tried to explain it to him that this is very dangerous for all of them.

He said, well, is this my job? I mean, what do you want me to do? Yeah. That's the way they get you. That's the way they engineer this chaos because it's all compartmentalized and people, you know, they're forced by necessity to work.

And of course they don't care because they're selfish, right? They have no values. They don't really know at that time, probably. They didn't really know.

But there's one guy. He's very, very knowledgeable. He's my favorite go-to source.

And that is Joe Imbriano. The website is the Fullerton Informer. And when you go to his, any of his videos, he's rattling off all his websites.

So 5gdangers.com, this is one website. And he has stuff there. And he can exactly explain how the 5G network goes from 6 gigahertz to 60 gigahertz.

So at 6 gigahertz, it interferes with the uptake of iodine. We all need iodine. It is like a hormone.

We need this absolutely together with vitamin D and copper and zinc. And then the other one is 60 gigahertz. It interferes with the oxygen.

It hinders the oxygen molecule to bind with iron in the blood, the hemoglobin. So then you breathe in and it wants to bind to the iron in order to make, go to the lungs and do its work there. And it can't.

And then you breathe in and nothing happens. And you breathe in three, four times and then you fall down and die, you know. This is probably what happened in Wuhan because Wuhan switched on their 5G.

It was on when all these things happened. And so they are just trying to bullshit us with this virus thingy and that's what really happened. And that was the 5G.

The other thing is, and Emiliano says that too, they can't focus it right in front of your nose. And just you are affected and nobody else because they can't focus it. And this is what Werner made this film about, Farmer's Ordeal, or if you put Werner Bock, Farmer's Ordeal, you can maybe find the movie is still on, it was a four part movie.

And he said that this is how they kill the cows from a distance. They just focus the beam right in front. And the other day I was going to my well to see what I can do and somebody helped me and he helped me there.

And he was far away and I was like 100 meters behind and I had such a hard time to breathe and walk. And I heard Werner's voice saying to me, never cross the field alone, never cross the field. They beam it in front of your nose and you fall down and you die.

Don't do it, don't do it. Drive there with a car, you know. And I was thinking, this is it.

But they didn't do it because I wasn't alone. So they can't do it in the forest because of tree density. And the trees and 5G, they don't mix.

This is why the trees, they can't stop 5G. It is very short distance. Where the other beams, they were long distance, but the 5G is very short distance.

So they have to put towers and that's why they want the towers must be close to the houses. And so that's why they want to hurt us all in a smart city. So where it's a tower right in front of your bedroom.

And then they all have us in the death squad. And here in the country, they can't do that much, you know. They can still do it, but probably they can target certain people, particularly if they are implanted and they can take them out.

But they turn all of us in living antennas with the chemtrails. Because the chemtrails are full of barium, strontium, magnesium, aluminum, and all of that. And this is heavy metals and they are in your blood and make you conductive.

When we look at directed energy weapons, okay, now we've heard of Dr. Judy Woods who's talked about 9-11 that it was taken out by directed energy weapons. A lot of people don't agree with that. I actually looked at that and I think she could be onto something there.

But I'm no physicist, so I can't make a proper determination there, but there's definitely something very strange to happen there. And then when you look at the forest fires that happened in Australia, and then of course in the west coast of America there, which they're still going on. So what's the difference there, do you think? Are they using some kind of more powerful weapon or what do you think is going on there? I've been spraying those chemtrails and they are like flame encouraging agents in there, like aluminum makes it burn faster and hotter, way hotter, everybody knows that.

And other things are in the chemtrails, so the forest, they ignite real easy. But they can shoot it from, even from a drone, they can ignite it. And I have lots of beams on my photos.

I photograph everything all the time. Not anymore, but I used to photograph everything. So I was out in the borderline between the United States and the last part of B.C. And I was in a shallow ocean with my family and my grandkids.

And maybe 50 planes flew over us, and over my grandson and everybody, and they were putting beams down. And I have the beams on picture from the airplane. And those were maybe even model airplanes involved, because some of them look very antique.

And it is very hard to determine how high a plane is. Is it model or is it not model, you know? Is it a real plane? And so it could have been drones, some of them, some of them. But nowadays, everybody has drones.

There's this next remote village, it's sparsely populated, there's only one shop, and it's called Salisbury. And it had a big store, and they were mostly selling new computers and used computers and computer repair. And then they had model trains and model cars and whatnot.

And then suddenly they had drones, and then they had more drones. And then they got rid of all the computers, and now they are just a drone store. They probably did that for gradualistic purposes, so it made it look more organic, more real, more believable.

That was their intention from the beginning. I guess the store is run by Jews, right? I have no idea. There's nobody living there.

It's very sparsely populated, and they can live on drone sales, and they can live well just on drone sales. So that tells me every schoolboy has at least three drones, and they are all using them at night, flying over my house and over other people's houses. Yeah, and dropping stuff on you.

Yeah, and torture their neighbours through the kitchen window at night. Who knows?

How can they live on that? You have to think about that. Yeah.

It's not they all want to make nice pictures of the ocean or something, you know. I mean, there are those people too, but yeah. Okay, alright, so Renata, what do you do to try and protect yourself? I mean, I know you're trying to put things into your house, making shielding and stuff like that.

Logie is trying to do the same too, and Adam has tried it as well. I mean, the thing is, it's very expensive to get all these things. A lot of this equipment is very expensive.

Okay, so first of all, I have an EMF meter, but for 5G it is useless, because it only goes for 8 GHz. And it is called Acousticom 2, and it is very easy, and I gave one to Andy Kitschbach, and I'm glad he's using it. He was using it.

So here's mine. Oh yeah, and Acousticom 2, and it goes from 200 MHz to 8 GHz, and I can recommend it. It has only one button, you can't do anything wrong, and you can see on the color scale if you're in the danger zone or not.

And it's very good. And I have a Geiger counter, because they shoot us with radar, and one smart woman said, when you have three cars passing your house, the radar wave is going higher. They build up the wave, and on top it will be tipping over into radioactivity, into ionizing radiation.

And so now my Geiger counter says 0.08, and that means normal background radiation, but sometimes it's at 0.22, this is when I'm getting woozy, and 0.24, I can't think anymore at all, and if it gets even higher, I get all jittery, and feel like I'm going to fall down, dying. But if it's only for a very short moment, like in the airplane, then in the airplane it goes to 3 point something, it's really 72 times higher than normal. Then, yeah, in the airplane you cannot do anything, you can't take it out, if it makes a beeping sound, they come and take it away, so you have to be very stealthy about it.

So I have these two meters, and then I have another meter for it shows milligauss, and because they're very dangerous ones, they are at very low frequencies, it is also from EMF fields. And my other one is called Radex, this is Geiger counter, and I would really strongly recommend for you to have one, because these are directional, and when I open my front door, and I hold my meter there, nothing happens, because there's a screen door, and the screen door shields the radioactivity, the, not the radioactivity, the, what? Electromagnetic fields? The microbeams, yeah, the microbeams. They get shielded by normal aluminum flyscreen.

They can't get through there. And as soon as I open the flyscreen, the meter makes a sound. So the meter can make a sound, or if you choose, you can make it to press the button again, and the sound is gone, but it still shows you what's going on.

So, it shows you exactly the direction, so you can, from the sound, you can determine, is this my smart meter, or is it the tower, or is it my wife's cell phone? You know exactly what it is, and it shows you where you are, and where you have to work on. And right now, here in my place, I have zero microwaves, but they can shoot me with scalar waves, and they do, and there's nothing against scalar waves, because they go through everything, and you cannot shield against them. And also other things, what maybe ultrasound, or infrasound, sound waves, they use sound waves too.

So, there are other things, particle beams, particle beams are really horrible, it makes you feel, you fall apart, and this came a lot from airplanes, but also from cars, a lot from cars, and maybe this is what killed Werner, I'm not sure what it did. So, so, Werner before, and when a friend got a vinyl siding, he asked him if he can take the aluminum, and he said yeah, you can, for $300, and so Werner paid him $300, and he put it all on our house, and we have aluminum siding, and they can't get in here. But if they are in here, like if we wired everything, all the computers are all totally wired, no nothing wifi, no cell phone, I don't have a cell phone, I have a flip phone, and it's not on, I use it just for emergency, and one time I had it on in the car, and everything was closed, and it's like a Faraday cage, and then the energy bounces around, and it makes you crazy when the windows are closed in the car, so I can't take it at all.

Yeah, I believe by just wrapping the phone in aluminum foil, or you could get a lead-lined bag too, and stick it inside. Put it in the fridge. I put mine in like a metal container, I just leave it off in there.

I just use it to videotape what they're doing to me, and whenever I go outside, I just take video footage. Yeah. And I tried to make a Faraday cage with my bed, but it has to be grounded, you have to ground it, and that is the thing, but you know they can tamper with the wire, with the ground wire, so I'm scared to do it, but then if you close it all off, the energy, when they stick, they come into the house, I can't keep them out, so they stick, they can stick the energy inside, and then it will bounce around, and make more damage than not shielding, but you can shield with leather a little bit, it's quite good, but leather jacket, leather hat, and some people swear on magnets, they make a big magnetic field, but as I said, they demagnetize my magnet, so... You could get a magnetic mattress pad too, there's some guy, some guy named Dean Bondly in Calgary makes magnetic mattress pads, it's called Magnetico, is his company? Yeah.

Helen, you've tried magnets as well, haven't you? Yeah. I couldn't live without magnets, they really help, excuse me, because I've been tortured to my head a lot, you know, the excruciating pain, and one thing that really works is magnets, so I highly recommend, you know, small industrial strength magnets. Those are the neodymium ones, aren't they? Yeah.

I think they're called N35 neodymium magnets, I ordered a whole bunch of them, because I was trying to make a magnetic mattress pad myself before, but then it didn't really, I didn't really know what I was doing too well, but I still have a whole bunch of them. What do you do with these though? Like, how do you arrange them? Well, you just stitch them into a hat, or you could just use a piece of metal to put around your head, put fabric around it, and then stitch some magnets onto that piece of metal so you can wear your magnets around your head. Yeah.

That's a very... I did that last, and I thought they cannot switch me off anymore, so I put four magnets in the hat, maybe it wasn't enough, because they could still do it to me, and then I put the north side to my skin, the north side, right, and the south side to out, so when they are all in the hat they repel each other. Is that the correct way? Well, I just put a few, several together, two or three together in a column, and then spread that around, I have about three columns of those, and spread them around into a hat, so they cover my temples, and my forehead, and that wards it off, that wards off the you know, the torture, whatever beam is inflicting that torture. I would say also, I've been mutilated with invisible lasers, you know, the attacks to my teeth, they've been carving out my gum tissue, and I found the best remedy for that is actually shielding fabric, and you can get these shielding hoods for your head, which are used with silver, and you need three of them, you need three of them to ward off the attacks by lasers, but they do work, yeah.

Is that the one from that company, Les E.M.F.? Yeah, Les E.M.F., yeah, this is where I got my stuff too. I had some, but I lost them. I had a coat from there too, but I lost that.

And also, you can get like a mosquito net with silver thread in it, and then they can't get into your bed, but my perps, they come inside, so I can't forget all of that. Yeah, yeah, you're saying somehow they get into your house, do you think they get into your house? My house, I don't know how they do it, but it's a very old house, and they come in. I can hear the door downstairs, but upstairs, I don't hear the door, and I have a lock, and I secure the lock, they come in.

But I know that this is law, and there was Colonel Alexander in America, and Ron Johnson is a Jew, but he wrote a book, it's called Men Who Stare at Goats, and it was all about Iraq, and what they did to the people in Iraq, and so on. And Colonel Alexander, he tried to walk through the walls all the time, and he hurt his nose, because he couldn't manage it. They said, if a body vibrates at the same frequency as the wall, you can walk right through it.

And also, the other one, what you really have to do is shielding. Okay, shielding, not shielding, grounding, grounding. Okay, grounding is you get up and you stand outside on the bare ground with your bare feet for just a couple of minutes.

I think they call that earthing too. Yeah, they call it also earthing. Or you can lay down on the earth in summer, but in winter you can't.

So you can touch a tree trunk, and then you are earthing yourself. Because the earth has 8.3 hertz, and this is our frequency, that's the Schumann resonance, and we have that, and the earth has it, and we need to be in touch with the earth and this resonance. If we have a higher resonance from those energy weapons, then we feel very miserable, but we can get rid of it immediately if we just stand on the ground.

If you have a concrete floor and there is earth underneath and not a cellar, you can ground through the concrete. But if you don't have it on asphalt on the street, it doesn't do anything. You have to be on concrete or on the earth or on grass.

But the less you have in between and your rubber shoes, they are insulating you. This is why we all have super load and in the olden days when we had leather soles, we didn't have that. That's right.

You see all the modern shoes have rubber kind of soles in them. Yeah. But you can make a grounding clip in that shoe.

It's like a ground wire off the heel or something. There are some things you can do. Or you can buy moccasins from the Indians.

They sell beautiful moccasins. Yeah. For a very high price, of course, usually.

Yeah, but it's OK. All leather shoes are expensive. It's not that... You can make your own too if you can get basically scraps of animal skin or leather.

Old leather cloaks. For $28 in Michael's store, they give you a set where you can make your own moccasins. OK.

Ronal, I just want to ask you a little bit off topic, but obviously you're from Germany. Yes. You've seen what's going on in your home country.

Yes. What's your take on all of that? My take on it is we had 5 million demonstrating in Berlin and every weekend first a little less than 1.3, then 3 million, then 5 million. Then Merkel came down and said, no more demonstrations! Or jail and stuff.

But now all the doctors, they are getting together and they are banding together and they are suing the government and this beautiful lawyer videos that you talked about, videos out there. They are really doing something and they are very disciplined. As the guy said, Germans grew up very... I'm like that too.

I was always a rebel and I wasn't that disciplined, but I am more disciplined than anybody else here, believe me that. And so was Werner. This is just in our blood.

And so they are doing something. I think we're seeing a kind of a rising of the German spirit again. I saw this Dr. Rainer Fulmik.

He's coming. He's a well-renowned lawyer in Germany and he's spent a lot of time in the US as well and he knows all about common law and the European Napoleonic law. And he says that he has to take a class action suit to either America or Canada to take these people to bring them into a court and hold them responsible to answer some questions here.

And that's great to see that and to see a couple of million people in Berlin over the last few weeks is fantastic. Considering what's happened to Germany since the end of the war how they've been treated and everything like that. But Germany still has a clue who's doing it.

They don't have a clue and they still have... That's the problem. It's still there. I can't see Dr. Rainer Fulmik calling out the Jews in this type of stuff.

This is the issue. We have to get to the actual enemy who's perpetrating this. It'll always go back to the Jews.

It'll always go back to Tel Aviv. That's where the evil is stemming from. And as long as they can't see that, I don't see them really succeeding.

But anyway, they are trying. You have to start somewhere. Renate, we have to start somewhere because a lot of people don't know this stuff either.

I try to talk to people about the Holocaust and stuff like... I can't get through to them on this. I even give them books to read. Read this.

And the Andy Hitchcock's book, The Synagogue. I give it to a few people to read and they say it's very interesting but they still can't get it. Even though the evidence is right there in front of their eyes.

Come on. It just shows you the level of brainwashing that's happened over the last... They're like zombies. It really is.

It's astounding. It's like in Tolkien's book with the Ents when they're asleep and then the spirit of the Aryan comes there like Frodo and stuff comes there and then they go to Orthanc which is like the Masonic technocracy and then they smash it down and get rid of all the Orcs who are burning the women, who are raping the women in other words, the Entwives and then they confront Saruman up in the tower. That's like Freemasonry.

So it's like the spirit of the Aryan is waking up and finally coming to oppose the Tyrants directly right in their own space. Pretty much have to otherwise it'll be out of the way with it. I'm seeing some good things happen here in Ireland as well.

We've been asleep for a long time and we still have this neocolonial mentality that we have to duff our cap oh yes sir, no sir blah blah blah and we've had 800 years of that and then the Vatican came in after that and pretty much told us what to do and then it was the European Union and we've never really had a chance to be a free people. But now we're seeing something coming we're seeing a stirring happening by the young people too which is great. There was a lot of division there was a lot of infighting and stuff like that but that's always going to happen.

Eventually at one point we have to all realize it doesn't matter what you think or what your ideas are, they're going to come after you one way or the other no matter what. You're a white person you're either a Celt or you're German or you're whatever, European they want you dead. We're top of the list.

When they talk about depopulation we're top of the list. We have to somehow unite the white people. We have to do that.

There are a lot of petty differences among people but we have to stop that now. I'm always saying to people, get out there and do some talk to your neighbours about all this stuff and this coronavirus nonsense is a great opportunity for us all but it can be very disheartening because just watching people walking around in masks the other night just by pure chance I met this Polish guy who was totally on board with everything I said. He knew exactly what I was talking about.

The Hungarians too. Yeah. There's always something good there to take from it and it can be very disheartening but there is some things going on and we don't know, because we're all in our little isolated pockets we don't know what's going on over there what's going on over there but there are things happening and so we have to start at the beginning.

Not everyone's going to get what we know especially the Jewish question that's a difficult one but at least to see that their governments are totally, you know, they don't care about you. Your health authorities don't care about you. They want you dead.

They don't want you healthy, they want you dead. And so you know, how can you have faith in these people? How can you trust these people? How can you ever vote for these people again? How can you ever do this again? You can't. So we have to just say now it's our time to move away from it and eventually people will start getting it and then we it's up to the likes of us who do know more and say right let's go to the real source of the problem.

Let's go to the real source of the problem. The root of the problem. And not to allow the Jews to portray us as white, evil white people who want to enslave.

Because we don't want to harm anybody else we just want to be free and self-determinative if that's a word. We want to determine our own lives and not be overrun and you know enslaved or done away with. That's really all it amounts to for the most part.

Preservation of identity. And of course if we preserve our identity we can help others as well right? So it's not necessarily mutually antagonistic. Like an either or.

Yeah. And you can talk to black people and say well you're being used you're being pawned as well. They're going to come after you too.

You might get lots of shekels now and free housing and stuff like that. But I mean it's still not going to work out well for you guys either. So you know we've got to be very clever how we how we deal with this.

Instead of I think protesting and marching it has an effect because it's a great way of networking with people and meeting people that's on the same level. But it doesn't achieve anything right? Really. What we do is we have to get them like by just things like non-compliance you know not boycotting in many ways you know particularly Jewish companies and whatever like that.

I mean I saw something there in the UK. Helen and I saw about Sainsbury's which I believe are a Jewish supermarket. Tesco is another one.

Tessa Cohen. Tesco. Yeah and And we also have to wake up the military.

Yeah I was just saying that in Sainsbury's they set up a safe space for black people so they can keep away from white people. It's really funny. I saw that.

Yeah. We have to make sure that the white police and military those who are actually not corrupted they understand that if they don't side with their own people and serve their own kind then they're not going to be able to have a future anyway. They'll just be shot in the back by the Jewish sergeants or Chinese communists or whatever.

One of the tools of the ruling power. The thing is I've seen there's been demonstrations and the cops have been challenged and says you know your family's at risk too. They're going to change society.

You won't be able to feed your family or pay your mortgage or anything like that. And a lot of them are just standing there oblivious. But I did see one guy I was watching the body language one guy was shuffling on his feet.

You know he was kind of uneasy with all he was hearing here. I think the younger ones are reachable. Yeah.

The ones who are masons are basically mind controlled and they're probably controlled by whatever sort of dark entities Jews work with. Indeed. We're at the end of the show here folks.

Any final thoughts from all of you? Renata? I can't think of anything else at the moment. Okay. Helen, anything? Well we've got to win this.

We've got to win this because the future doesn't bear thinking about if we don't. I know first time the technology that they can use against people and how they can just trash everything it means to be human, to degrade what it means to be human, to trash any ideas of personal autonomy, personal will. You know, I can't stress enough how they can condition people from within your own body, they want to manipulate your own body and this 5G is just basically part and parcel of that enslavement network that they want to pull around all of us.

This is the end of humanity, we don't win this. That's a bit dramatic. That's what Zursatsong is.

Sorry? Zursatsong means decomposition, their whole goal is just to decompose us, our identity, to destroy our identity totally. Yeah, absolutely. They want to tread on your very soul, they want to destroy your very soul.

There's no limit to the extent that they want to destroy us. That's why we have to do what we can right now just to make our whole lives oriented around fighting against this evil. There's no other alternative anyway once you're involved in it.

Yes. We've got to stick together, solidarity, and go full force against this absolute evil. We really have.

Now or never. I'm here, but I can hear you. Alright, thanks again.

Thanks again too. Talk to you later, Renata. Yeah, okay.

Okay, good night. What? I think the goyim know. That's ridiculous, the goyim don't know.

I think they know, Renata. They won't want us around. We're gonna have to shut it down.

Cause the goyim know. The goyim know. The goyim know.

Cause the goyim know.
