

Loki-Hulgaard-Interview- martinez perspective 2020-03-09

Okay, you are listening to a special interview for alt-right.com. I'm Brandon Martinez. My guest today is Loki Holgard. He is a dissident right activist from Canada, who was charged a number of years ago with a hate crime or hate speech because of some flyers that he had distributed throughout his neighborhood drawing attention to the great replacement that is currently ongoing throughout the Western world, but especially in places like Canada, where the government is currently under the leadership of an extremist radical Marxist who has prioritized the agenda to replace white people in the country.

Thanks for being here, Loki. Thanks for having me on. I appreciate the opportunity to get the message out.

Not very easy to find interviews with people who care, especially in this country. We don't seem to care in the least. Absolutely.

I'm sure that nobody will take the time to look into your case and see what a farce it is and how it is a political persecution for someone who is simply speaking out against a genocidal agenda to replace the founding stock of the country with other people who had nothing to do with that country. Your case starts about two years ago, this happened. We spoke about a year ago.

Fill people in on where the case stands right now. Okay. Well, this happened on, I was arrested on the August 1st for allegedly distributing leaflets and flyers and stickers around and stamping money bills with the message Jewish white genocide and various other forms of propaganda.

All this is on the website that people can refer to, free-speech.is-great.net That's free-speech.is-great.net and that will contain much of the information, but the police disclosure that had been put up on there was taken down through order of the crown of the court. So right now it's going through process. They've scheduled a trial that is to be held over the course of a couple of months.

They're having like a day here, a day there, because they were afraid that the statute of limitations was going to go through so that they couldn't get the trial in because then the case would have been thrown out. So they basically, so far as I know, and I have finally obtained a lawyer who's actually decent and he seems to actually care about free speech and recognizes the corruption that's going on. He's sort of a younger lawyer, maybe a little bit millennial, like an older millennial type.

So he seems to be somewhat concerned with free speech, not like the previous lawyer who had been a slightly younger millennial who was more like a Marxist type, if you want to call it that, a cultural Marxist. So he was working in collusion with the Jews, it's my own speculation, to basically throw me under the bus and get me to sign the so-called Statement of Facts before that was about last year. But now it's sort of up in the air.

I don't exactly know what the status of things is going to be. There's an application to the court to have the whole case thrown out because there's so much procedural anomalies in the case and so many discrepancies where the police had made up a bunch of evidence, pretended that they saw this or they saw that, but there was no evidence produced that they did see this or that. They said they'd seen certain things through my window and so forth and that they were following up on noise complaints.

It's just a lot of sort of suspect, whatever you want to call that, stretching the bounds of the law or the rules of the law. So there's an application to try to get the whole case thrown out at this point. So right now you haven't yet been convicted of anything? No, it's basically been charged.

I've been charged with a bunch of weapons offenses for not having properly stored weapons, having allegedly filed off serial numbers of weapons and so forth, and then from there all the propaganda-related material, which is what led to my house being searched by the police and the property of mine stolen, about $8,000 worth of property, my money and so forth. And so, no, I haven't been charged. I've only been charged with things, but there's been no convictions or anything of that sort because it hasn't gone to trial.

It's just been kicked around. Right. It seems like they're just trying to drag this out as long as possible as essentially just a harassment scheme to make your life difficult, and this is what they've done many times before to many people, like pretty much everybody who has been charged, I guess they've charged you under the criminal code hate speech law? That's right.

Right. Basically, yeah. That law has been used against a number of different people throughout Canada, and it's always the same circus, the same clown show where they just drag it out as long as possible.

They smear you throughout the media. Their intention is to just dirty your name enough so that you cannot find employment ever again. Basically.

Basically. Yeah. And so, of course, I have to pay the lawyers.

I luckily managed to get legal aid, which, of course, just means that there'll be a debtor paying the legal fees forever and ever. But when this first occurred, they actually wanted to railroad it in as fast as possible because I'm thinking they were trying to get some type of legal precedence going on during the time period of when other people were also being subjected to this. They seemed to be wanting to actually accelerate that sort of legal restriction.

But, yeah, I can understand what you're saying about, you know, trying to make as much of a big deal about it as possible and damaging those who oppose it as much as possible because that's happened to me here in many different subtle ways. Right from the beginning, basically, I was on welfare and I'm on welfare because I didn't obtain any employment here. And so the welfare person tried to cut off my welfare by like a hundred bucks or so.

So that reduced it to like 500 bucks or something to live on. And then also they had the psychiatric nurse. I'd actually attempted suicide because I got so tired of living in this hellish society, which, of course, is a mistake on my part.

But, yeah, I guess I was too influenced by Christian identity at the time. I, you know, became sort of, you know, wanting an escape, I guess you could say, leaning on the crutch of that Christian identity ideology a little bit too much. So I actually attempted suicide when I was put into the hospital.

The psychiatric nurse there, she basically asked me if I was going to reattempt. And I said, yeah, I probably will do that if I have to go to jail and so forth. So knowing that, I even explicitly stated that I would reattempt or probably reattempt.

She just let me go out of the hospital so that I would hopefully reattempt. So basically they're trying to do that. The police officer who was attending before, some Filipino guy, he was basically demonstrating to me how to kill yourself, like which part of the anatomy to cut and so forth so you'll bleed out.

And so basically these people are doing whatever they can to hamstring you and sabotage you in the most subtle ways that you could possibly imagine. Because they know when you're really poor, you are dependent on sort of like a survival chain, I guess you could say, that is comprised of very, very fragile links. So if one thing happens to you, then that could be the end of you.

The police took all the money I had here because it was stamped with these bills or these messages of Jewish white genocide. And that was a means of propagandizing people. And so when they stole that, that took away all of my money.

So I had no money to almost live. I had to borrow money from my mother to even exist, to have food and stuff. And then they took all my knives so I couldn't even cut up vegetables or something.

I had slit wrists. So I had to get that repaired. When the ambulance took me to the hospital, they also ended up submitting me to a collections agent for the ambulance ride.

So that gave me bad credit or even more bad credit than I previously had. So it's just a cascade of dominoes. It's just one thing after another.

And that's sort of the procedure of the Jews. They'll try to throw stumbling blocks into your path to the greatest extent they can. And then that way they can obviously harm you.

And that in every sense, from whatever medical procedures or financially, I also had one of these Christian people who was a bank clerk. She actually got my bank canceled, bank account. And then also I had this other Christian in South Africa.

I was going to get to type up one of my books because I've got this anthology of short stories that I was going to have typed up. And then I gave her the money. She was, what's her name, Leigh Oxley-Dupreez from the South Africa Family Relief Project with Karen Smith.

And I gave her like $1,500 of the money I had scraped together to type this up. And then she just runs it through like a voice-to-text thing and screws me over. And then for the next like six months I'm waiting to get my money back.

So she screwed me over too. I could sort of tell that all these Christians are working hand-in-glove with the Jews, you know, in general, because that's their religion, right? They're Jew worshippers basically. So effectively the state is trying to encourage you to commit suicide.

I mean this really demonstrates the malice of our rulers right here. I mean these are people that are consumed with a vile, visceral hatred of the white race. And anyone who stands up against their tyranny, their maniac agenda to replace us, is encouraged to kill themselves.

I mean there was a recent clip that came out of some Democrat from the U.S., some Jewish Democrat from the U.S., who was joking about the white male suicide rate. He says, you know, the studies are showing that a large number of white males are killing themselves. And that's a fucking great thing.

You know, they're laughing about this. This is exactly what they want. But we cannot give them what they want.

We have to fight them. We have to stand up against it. Oh, that's for sure.

So that's why I understand. Yeah, I definitely understand I was in error there. But that's, I think, largely the result of the Christian identity that was basically polluting my mind at the time with that reliance on external authorities, you know, a fairyland in the sky, a never-never land.

Even though I never really subscribed to it entirely, I was too influenced by it. So I had a willingness to, you know, take the Christian route and sort of, you know, turn the other cheek, as it were, or allow myself to go and fly away to the Savior in the sky or whatever it may be. Right.

So, I guess, you know, it weakens you mentally. Basically, Christianity makes you into a mental cripple, I would say. And the Jews have invented Christianity for that purpose so that they could make you basically into that sort of slave, as Nietzsche said, that Christianity is religion, women and slaves.

I also had some help here by the alleged activist for white rights, Paul Fromm, here. But then as soon as I started, you know, questioning Christian identity, I was like, is this really, you know, Christianity? Is this what Christianity really is? Then he basically ends up terminating contact with me, too. So, you know, I'm thinking he might be conservative or something like that because he's working with Faith Goldie and people like that.

So, I have no idea. That's weird, yeah. I've had a little bit of contact with Paul Fromm.

I've never met him or anything, but he seems like a guy who helps out people that are on the ropes with his hate speech stuff, and it's surprising to me that he abandoned you. Yeah, I don't really know myself. I think it's mainly because my understanding is that he's just like an operative of the cabal that plays a role in the dialectic of, you know, pretending to be on the side of white people and trying to portray white people as Christians so that they can get the war against Islam going, maybe, and Christians versus Muslims, or all the white people are Christians, so go and fight against all the Arabs and Negroes, and, you know, then the Jews can rule it all afterwards.

From my own experience with Christian identity people is they, well, these guys tried to, at one point years ago, some of these Christian identity people tried to dox me because of my disagreement with their religion, basically, right? You know, I wasn't, I never bought into it, and, you know, they're so petty that they're willing to throw a fellow white nationalist under the bus over a disagreement and sell them out to the Jews, because at that time I was anonymous and was not trying to get thrown in prison for hate speech, right? And they were willing to try to dox me over some stupid disagreement, right? So from that point on I never really wanted much to do with people involved in that because it's unhinged, because it's just an unstable group, and they kind of send us off in the wrong direction. Anything Christian is basically divisive and sectarian, so unless you're 100% subscriber to their dogma then you're basically an enemy, that's why you have, you know, Catholics versus Protestants and everything else, they'll spend their lives infighting and unifying against the common enemy. Right, I mean, they even hate the other types of Christians, they say, like, Catholics are heretics and these Christians are heretics, it's like, yeah, we're really going to win this fight with the Jews by, you know, having internecine warfare between Christians, right? Right, exactly, yeah.

I never really subscribed to Christian identity 100%, but I was influenced by it to a great extent, because I was always listening to these alt-right podcasts that were Christian-identist, and I couldn't find anything else to listen to, so I was like, okay, we'll just listen to it anyway, but yeah, definitely not the way to go, that's for sure. So I saw a video recently, I just looked you up today to see if there was any new news articles and stuff, and I found this video on Facebook with some Antifa weirdos that were following you around as you were trying to get to this trial. Do you remember that incident? Trying to get to the which? As you were going to the courthouse, there were some Antifa people that were trying to harass you there.

Yeah, that was pretty much right around the time of the initial phase of this debacle. They were trying to scream and shout about how they're against hate, blah blah, dressing up in their little cheesy Spider-Man costumes to try to portray themselves as just fun-loving, happy people, blah blah blah, and portray the other as a devil. That's the sort of way they have of construing or constructing the identity of the other to portray themselves as this humble, good person.

Why do you hate? Why do you hate? Virtue signaling. And then these same Antifa people, you see them on the e-mail. They're spamming me e-mails, making comments on the Bitchute channels and interviews I've had, making death threats, saying that they're good with knives and stuff like this, and spamming me with videos saying that I was a pedophile or that they caught me on camera masturbating to child porn or something like this.

Various other stupid things. There's this one in the States who is spamming the channels of Bitchute interviews. They were stating that I was going to be put into jail, that I was going to commit suicide in jail, that they were going to use a particle beam weapon to subject me to mind control, like Alfred Schaefer, they said.

They said Alfred Schaefer was being kept in... A German prison subjected to that sort of... Look how they dress, look how they act. They are degenerate drug addicts. And these are the people lecturing others about morality.

It's always the case that it's the Antifa types that are the ones engaged in pedophilia and BDSM, Satanism. These are sick, sick twisted freaks. And they come around and try to condemn moral upstanding people who are standing up for traditional society.

It's utterly crazy. And all that they say in this video is, we can't have hate in this country, we can't have hate. These people are motivated by a radical hatred of the white race.

Antifa stands for white genocide. It stands for the erasure of all whites. And yet they are lecturing others who are opposing this genocide and calling them evil.

It's very ironic, isn't it? Pretty much, yeah. And not only are they lecturing, but they're actually making death threats. So I submitted my lawyer to the police, and I had encountered one of these Antifa, or actually two of them, at the court one day when I was there for whatever purpose, having to appear.

And one of them was being dragged in there, I guess, for those death threats, and another one was ratting me out with more information, because they spy on my, on the Bitchute and various channels, and try to submit channels of content that I have to the police. So now they have like, I don't know, 400 videos or so, probably even more, of content that I've made on some of my channels. So that's all.

But of course I don't really care, personally, because I've got nothing to hide, so I don't care. I actually want the police to know this sort of information, at least the white police, who are potentially reachable, if they are at all, of course. Right.

So that's perfectly fine by me. They're just basically demonstrating their own corrupt nature, that they spy on people, slander people, try to destroy their reputation and everything else. Around here in this town, this is basically like a sort of Zionist stronghold.

They've got a military base nearby, a NATO training base. They've got a lot of swarthy-looking Israeli people, that look like they're affiliated with the Mossad or something around here. And they've got a class 4 bioweapons or biotechnology facility here.

So it's a sort of safe space for Jews, my opinion is. I had read once in the New York Times, they had an article about this town, Medicine Hat, Alberta, that they were trying to sell it, sort of, put an advertisement out for Medicine Hat, because it has its own gas and oil supply here, it's got its own farmland surrounding it, its own water. So it's a self-sufficient place.

So I'm thinking that a lot of these New York Jews, with all their money, they're trying to bring them in here as like a safe space to hide out, for when they cause chaos in the world or something like that. So this whole town is basically, yeah, it's pretty much a Jew-controlled town. There's really, every box store is controlled by them, all the government offices seem to be controlled by them.

Pretty much everything, the security companies, the cab companies, they have a total monopoly here on more or less everything. So everywhere you go, you get a lot of hostility, a lot of the Christians especially. It's a Jew-controlled country, and Justin Trudeau is their king.

He is the leader of the Social Justice Crusade. And his chief minister of immigration is a Somali refugee himself, who has pledged to open the floodgates to untold millions of immigrants of brown skin. There was a video I just saw recently called the Rural and Northern Immigration Pilot Program, and this was basically a new Canadian government initiative to convince brown people from the third world to move to rural and northern parts of Canada, which are majority white still.

So you see that the government of Canada is totally committed to the demographic replacement of whites, so they're not satisfied with Toronto being majority minority now, they're not satisfied with Vancouver and Edmonton and all the big population centers having a non-white majority or close to it. They are trying to push these people into the small pockets of homogenous towns of white people in the rural parts of Canada. And then they charge people like you with hate speech for pointing this out.

How dare you criticize people for trying to overrun your territory and prevent you from living in your own country. What a horrible person you must be. That's basically the mentality.

And of course it's most of the bourgeois class go along with that because that's how they get their money and their status. They're basically just self-seekers who sell their own people out for profit, for the most part. How does an Antifa loser respond to this point? If you ask them, you know that Africa is 99% African in most of those countries, would you oppose the Africans if there was a massive influx of, say, Chinese people or white people going into Africa and shifting demographics so steeply away from blacks? If they opposed it, would you call them racist? And they can never answer this question because it's the ultimate double standard.

It's like black people can have homogenous societies but white people can't. Chinese people can have China but white people can't have Canada. So this one example, this example of racial homogeneity across the brown world shows the anti-white double standard of our enemies.

It's just clear as day. Pretty much, that's their whole modus operandi. It's so-called, what is it, quotation, white people, only white people can be racist.

So in other words, racism is just necessarily a function of the biology of the mind of white people. And somehow, you know, it never really makes any sense in terms of their theory applying to practical realities. They just try to create that impression that it does because that's the whole of their modus operandi of the Jews, just to try to create a fake reality and impose that reality on actual reality.

What Baudrillard spoke of in his book Simulacra and Simulations, the hyper-reality where they're just constructing a fictional world and saying, here's your world, buddy, and if you don't like it, then you're this name and that name. You're a heretic, you're a devil, a witch, a racist, a sexist, so on. So it's all just fabrication.

So, effectively, these hardcore Marxists and leftists are able to state the most abominable things about white people, that white people are genetically evil. Like, I've seen this stuff. Like, there was things in, like, American University student newspapers where, like, white people's DNA is evil.

And, like, they're able to state these things. Like, that's the most pure form of racial hatred against whites, and it is permitted. And you'll never find in Canada the hate speech police going after a radical Antifa Marxist who's spewing about whites and how white people are the devil, or these Negro organizations who call whites the white devils.

Right? The hate speech laws in Canada and across Europe are exclusively used as a bludgeon, as a jackboot on the necks of the white man so that he cannot oppose the replacement of his people. That's all there is to it. Yeah, basically, it's more or less an incitement of violence against you.

You protest their incitement of violence against you, but then you're the one inciting violence somehow, which is absurd and a complete reverse projection of reality. So I have a clip here. I'm going to play this clip.

I'll get your reaction to it. So, you know, I think both of us agree that the architects of white replacement are Jews because they have a generational grudge against white people based on their exaggerated claims about pogroms and the Holocaust and all of this. So they have this insane revenge fantasy to do harm to whites and to prevent whites from ever organizing as a group against Jews.

Now, there is this podcast in the New York Times. You know how they call this a conspiracy theory. So when they go on the media, they say white genocide is just an anti-Semitic conspiracy theory, right? But then we have a podcast here in the New York Times where a Jewish man named Wiseman admits that it is true.

So let me play this clip here. So what's the connection? Why are Jews now seen as the puppeteers of Syrians, Mexicans, etc.? Well, you know, one of the central tenets of Judaism is remember the stranger for you were a stranger in the land of Egypt. It is actually part of the religion to welcome strangers, to welcome immigrants, to welcome refugees.

And actually, American Jews really created the concept of repairing the world, tikkun olam. And this kind of welcoming response to the stranger extended in the 1950s to African-Americans who were then stirring the civil rights movement. When I was the rabbi of the Jewish community in Berlin under the Hitler regime, I learned many things.

The most important thing that I learned in my life is that bigotry and hatred are not the most urgent problem. The most urgent, the most disgraceful, the most shameful, and the most tragic problem is silence. The civil rights movement was a seminal moment for Jewish and black alliances.

Martin Luther King had tremendous allies among rabbis, especially in the South. America, from the community of America. And yeah, that has tremendous resonance to Jews and to fighters in civil rights, and it also has tremendous resonance for the alt-right who always see Jews somewhere in the background orchestrating their demise.

What's kind of complicated about this discussion is that I was so prepared to have you tell me that all these tropes you heard about were factually false, but what's really tricky about this conversation and hard to grapple with is that Jews in America have done the things by welcoming outsiders that they're being accused of doing by these white nationalists in ways that completely defy all the simple hate. But what white nationalists believe is that these things you're describing are being done not out of altruism, not out of a kind of spirit of generosity, but to undermine white people. They see it as something being taken away rather than something being given.

Exactly. It all fits into the alt-right world of white genocide. So there you have it.

He says Jews have done the things that white nationalists accuse them of and at the same time, with the same breath, they say it is a conspiracy theory. Right. Nice contradiction.

Basically it's just spinning it in a positive way as they typically do to try to sugarcoat their poison and get the stupid goyim to swallow it down. That's usually their little method. Even you can hear when they speak, they have a sort of funny sound to their voice.

Everybody's so happy, but the evil white people are so angry and hateful in their finite world of hate-based, whatever, bigotry and so forth. Even the rabbi who was discussing the whole thing there did the same thing, basically. Well, the Jew on that podcast referenced Jewish religious ideas or concepts related to tikkun olam and welcoming the stranger, which is such bullshit because we look at the policies of Israel and they do not welcome the stranger one bit.

In fact, they vigorously oppose immigration from non-Jews and they have huge protests against the black people coming in from Africa and they call them the N-word and everything. They had government ministers saying that these blacks are a cancer in Israel and that they're going to change the demographics of Israel. You have Netanyahu who said the greatest threat to Israel is Arab, the Arab demographic time bomb.

And he has been forcefully putting up border fences and saying we're doing this to keep out the wild beasts. So how can they say that they believe in welcoming the stranger when they do not do it in Israel? And all these people, these Jews that support massive immigration into white countries, they all support Israel's staunch ethno-nationalist policies in Israel, right? Well, they also do that in their own so-called communities. Usually it's some privileged, gated community that they live within the community of others as a deliberately self-segregated nation within a nation.

So the Jews will live in their privileged community over the river or over a bridge and have security hired to protect them, police to protect them as a buffer between themselves and their going-on slaves. And then they'll say, oh, we're just here to welcome the stranger so long as we can live in our exclusive Jewish community in our million-dollar mansions. And then all the poor white people are being thrown into the streets and put into prostitution by all these Negroes and so forth.

You get their government grants for convenience stores and so forth, which I've seen on multiple occasions. You know, some Negro will be selling his useless convenience store products and then out of the back there'll be a young white woman prostituted or, you know, some of the redskins in this country and they'll be running drugs out of the place or something like that. That's so-called welcoming the stranger, basically welcoming a foreign invader, which they've done throughout history, which is basically their natural biological inclination to preserve their own kind and to try to take over the societies of others, basically to use low-IQ idiots like the Antifa or Bolsheviks, the proletarian class, to attack the more intelligent class and then to try to take it all for themselves through whatever revolution or in the midst of chaos that they foment.

You know, in this case, in today's society, I think they're just building up towards a revolution. Once they get enough bodies in, then they'll start doing what they did in South Africa and in the African colonies. They'll start arming them clandestinely, you know, create more gang war and so forth, more welfare statism, and use that against whites, create more discrimination against whites and more hatred in the media they control against whites so that they can mind-control people to, you know, attack whitey, especially the baby-bloomer whites.

They're always, you know, banging away on them, trying to, you know, put forth this talk about morality and love and so forth, this sort of Christian, liberal-type attitude as a means of getting the baby-bloomers to go along with it because there's still a voting bloc that actually has an impact. So they're basically just using that to set us up, generations up for destruction. Let me, I want to just keep playing this clip because it's so fascinating.

It's so revealing as to what's happening and how Jews admit that they are doing these things, but then tell us, oh, it's for your own good, Goyim, so just go along with it, right? They're saying, it would stand to reason that anti-Semitism would flare up whenever nationalism is on the rise in the U.S. Or internationally. And frankly, it is my view, and this is a controversial view, that when borders are blurred, when distinctions actually are diminished, Jews tend to flourish. But when the drawbridge is raised, when borders are more clearly defined, when people are defining sharply what it means to be an American or a British, those are bad times for Jews because as nationalism rises and as these ethnic and national distinctions are sharpened, the Jews tend to be left out of that definition.

So, I'm not sure why you didn't hear it, but it was playing on my end, and he basically said that when borders and identity are more sharply defined, Jews tend to be excluded from that scenario. So for this reason, they seek to multiculturalize, to break down identity, to water it down, so that they aren't excluded or ejected as they have been. But of course, they want to practice the polar opposite of that in their own nation, where they seek to segregate and to exclude everyone that's not a Jew.

So we see the racial hypocrisy of the Jew come right out. And they have no shame in saying it. They do that in their own communities and in the nations that they invest as well, pretending that they're a victim, being excluded, while they control basically the whole of the government of this country and are overrepresented in all the government jobs and everything else by thousands of percent, underrepresent their numbers in society statistically and overrepresent the numbers of whites so that they can try to justify cutting them out even more and more, and then simultaneously giving their own people more and more of the jobs and so forth, and then claiming that it's white privilege.

So it's just basically an inversion of reality that they operate on the basis of, so that they can pacify people or blind them, hoodwink them about the truth, and then basically put forth their hyper-real fake truth in place of it, and then continue to further take more and more and more, which is obviously their little procedure, their dialectic, if you want to call it. They have their leftist shock troops parroting the myth of white privilege, and yet it is Jews that are privileged, it is Jews that are vastly overrepresented in all the main institutions, and then you have Jews themselves saying that there's white privilege and saying that whites need to check their privilege and to give away their power, like this guy in Hollywood named Jonah Hill, a Jewish actor, recently came out and said, the white men in Hollywood need to give up their power to brown people and women. What is he talking about? Hollywood's dominated by Jews, and he's not calling for Jews to give up their power in Hollywood, only the whites.

So this shows, again, the racial animus of Jews against white people. They hate white people, they have a grudge against white people, they seek to diminish the power and influence of white culture so that they can rule easier, so they can establish this kind of androgynous mass of plebs who just smoke weed and go to the shopping mall and the movie theater, and that's the society that they seek, because they benefit the most in such a scenario, right? Yeah, basically, untermenschheit is what I call it, the ideology of the underman, the untermenschen, basically what they're selling to people, they want everybody dragged down to the lowest depths, mixed together so they have no identity, basically the kolerge plan, that instead of a nation of races or peoples, it'll be a nation of individuals, so everybody's an individual, you know, I'm okay, you're okay, who cares if you're a violent rapist from the Middle East or Africa, you know, it's just individuals. Why anybody can do that, it must be rape culture, nothing to do with non-whites, it's just men in general, and of course they speak of them as men, but I actually would not qualify them as such, because their behavior and genetics don't really suggest that they are men in the sense of white, anatomically male beings, they're basically more beast men than they are men, in their behavior, so why call them men? So, right, I mean, this is the trajectory of our society, this is certainly the trajectory of Marxist gulag Canada that punishes white men for simply opposing the replacement and enslavement of their own people to a small clique of Jewish supremacists who hate them and seek to annihilate them, while at the same time establishing an ethnocratic regime in Israel that blows up little children for sport, you know, and this is the state of affairs, you can be a Jewish supremacist, no problem, you can support the murder of children to prop up an ethnostate if you're a Jew, and you can send money to that state, you can fundraise in Canada, in America, for that state, you bribe all the politicians so that they give money and weapons so that that country can continue to do that, but if you're a white man in a white land, you cannot even speak in favor of your own ethnic group, which is under attack, and then they act like they're all surprised when there's violence, if you're stopping people from speaking, from their freedom of speech, to oppose a hostile plot against their race, then they can expect violence, I'm not endorsing it, I'm just saying that's what you can expect when you oppress people on that level.

Well, I think that that's what the Jews are actually trying to do, they're trying to put huge amounts of pressure and restriction on white people's national liberty, and then on top of that, abuse them psychologically to the extent that they're on the verge of committing suicide and being cast out of their society, having no employment or meaningful careers or families, so in other words, taking everything from them, creating conditions where that's almost certainly something that would happen, and then they create some false flag terrorist attacks or something like that, and say, oh, look at what the white devil did, he's so full of hate, and use that as a justification for taking away firearms and so forth. So, even in this society now, I've tried to reach out to all the existing firearms organizations, I think there's only two of them so far that I can remember, and not a single one of them had a willingness to actually do anything to oppose the actually currently existing laws or to try to scale them back, the only thing they're trying to do is to uphold the current laws and not get further laws instituted, so in my opinion, all these sort of conservative types, they're basically just putting a brake on the Marxist progressivism, that's their only function is just to make it, to pacify the population, basically, through claiming that they're going to oppose the Marxist agenda or the Jewish agenda, which is what it really is, and at the same time, they're not doing anything to take away the currently existing corrupt laws that didn't exist a decade ago or five years ago, so it's basically just a dialectic of left-wing and right-wing, these people are just playing both ends against the middle. Well, the Jews control both sides, though, the conservatives, you know, in Canada, you have Ezra Levant, who dominates the whole conservative movement and media, and he's a rabid Zionist Jew, and they control the liberals also, and they just play them both, you know, they kind of like, when the liberals go too far, they put a conservative in, and then when people get sick of him, they put a liberal back in, and it's just this merry-go-round of bullshit, and both of them work for the racial interests of Jews in both Israel and in white countries, and, you know, those people are totally spineless cowards who refuse to state the obvious truth of what's happening, just want to put little band-aid solutions on things, including on immigration, they just talk against illegal immigration, but not the mass legal immigration that's displacing us, which is the real problem.

Right. Even in Canada, people like Paul Fromm, for example, who I initially thought might be sort of like a actual legitimate pro-white activist, and maybe he is, I don't know, but it suggests to me that he is just part of the, and a lot of the people in the alt-right too seem to be sort of like operatives that are just trying to shift people into Christianity somehow, that they're basically working with Jews, just like Paul Fromm working with Faith Goldie, who is affiliated with the Jewish Defense League, so obviously that's not really true. And conveniently a form of Christianity that is totally like pro-Jew and blind on that question, and not even necessarily racial, it's like, the thing is, it's race over religion, you can change your religion, but you can't change your race, so why would you put religion above race? And if religion is so important, then why would these people even oppose black African immigration so long as it's Christian, right? It's insane.

Yeah, that's basically their mentality, the Christians, those who try to worm their way or get their foot into the door of the pro-white movement, which I don't even know if it exists in Canada at all actually, but they seem to be just portraying themselves in that light so that they can co-opt the movement for themselves and then just try to hook it into a pro-Christian thing so that it's against Islam and it serves the Jews' interests of creating greater Israel, and that all the whites are being basically sort of set up for the slaughter or hooked into that dialectic, the whites are Christians, go and fight against the Muslims. It's just religion and ideology, it's not racial. And in which case, why would I care about that at all? I hate both Christianity and Islam.

I hate all Abrahamic religions, so why would I support that? That is the main problem in the world, basically, all of that lunacy. The only thing good I can see with Christianity is that it promotes big families, and if white people followed their instincts, they would mostly be mating with other white people. In Christianity's traditional values, at least the older version of Christianity, until it got co-opted by liberals and subversive Marxists, did promote somewhat of a traditional lifestyle and traditional gender roles.

However, if it doesn't include race in the analysis, then it's kind of a hindrance, it's kind of a misdirection. It's like, yeah, we can have all these traditional values, but if you don't care about race, then what's stopping? You will not even care if a white girl goes and race mixes with a black guy, right? So... Well, it says, either Jew or Greek in Christianity, and that's their sort of fallback principle, that there's no race, it's just everything's all equal. So long as it's traditional.

But whose tradition are we talking about, really? A tradition of memorizing Bible passages? Why is that valuable? Some of those Christians are the worst, because one, they're totally race-blind, and they're following a liberal version, not only of Christianity, but of race. And their Christianity is so watered down and weak, and then the only strong point that they pursue is the worship of the Jewish race and of Israel, and the commitment to sending white people to go die in squabbles in the Middle East, right? Totally pathetic and cocked. Yeah, it's pretty much the only value, or the only so-called redemption of Christianity, in their minds anyway, to try to be manly or whatever they portray themselves as, is just to prop up weak and useless, meek and weak types.

That that's the whole mantra of Christianity, is just to serve the servants. Like Kurt Cobain said, just, you know, live your life to wash the feet of Negroes like the Pope or something like that. And that's a pretty pathetic purpose to be alive, as far as I'm concerned, that you should just live to wipe the ass of weak people, instead of trying to achieve greatness and try to, you know, develop some meaningful culture in society, instead of this... Right, the focus, the Christian kind of missionary mindset of like, you know, we have to help the oppressed and bring them the word of God, is totally misplacing the energies of white people into nonsense like missionary work in Africa and stuff.

Totally useless, doesn't even help. Africans cannot help themselves. We should leave them to their own destiny and fate and not do anything.

It's not our duty or our business to help them. Well, that's what Ben Klassen said, and I think it was, might have been the white man's Bible, that just made them to wither on the vine. You know, we're not here to harm people, we're not here to rule over people, we just want to be left alone, and then, you know, let nature take its course.

And this South African woman, who is the director of the South African Family Relief Project that I mentioned, who I paid to type up my writings for an anthology of my short stories and screwed me over, because a lot of these short stories were anti-Christian, but I didn't know she was a Christian, because I stupidly assumed she was pro-white, and then she just screws me over for like $1,500. Just a totally passive-aggressive and false person. That's basically the take-home message I've gotten, that you can't trust a Christian at all, they're basically all liars.

So how can people oppose racial segregation? So, you know, if a leftist comes up to you and says, well, if you're for racial segregation, well, you're a bigot, and at the same time, these people support these Native Americans or these Indians, who are racially segregated on their own reservations, and you have to be a blood member of their tribe to get on there. So they support racial segregation when it's brown people doing it, when it's black people doing it, when it's Jewish people doing it, or maybe they're anti-Zionist, or maybe they're fake anti-Zionist, but not when white people. So this is the grand hypocrisy of the race question, is everybody can be racially aware, can be ethnocentric, tribal, and segregationist, except for the white people, because we have to get rid of them, right? That's all there is to it.

Yes. It's all based on the false narrative of white villainy, how white people did all these horrible deeds according to the Jews, falsification of history. They control the academic system and the media, so they just make up a bunch of fake narratives about white people were slavers and colonialists, when the reality is, it's actually Jews who were behind colonialism through the British Empire.

As soon as Cromwell left the Jews back into England, then that's when colonialism began through the British Empire, and there were white children at the age of like 8 years old working for 14 hours a day in factories that were owned by Jews, and white people dying on the streets. So how is that a benefit to whites? You know, have whites been living in the Golden Palace or having some luxury life? It's only Jews who have been living that life, and maybe a few of the upper class went along with them, but the lower class and working class whites, you know, they were living in squalorous conditions even 100 years ago. So if anyone's a victim of all this slavery and colonialism, it would be white people, especially.

So in my opinion, that's going to be a big karmic backlash against Jews for what they've done. Well, it's like we have some white people engaged in colonialism and slavery, and so did every other race in the world, but nobody's guilt-tripping the blacks or the Arabs for doing it. It's only bad when whites do it.

It's colonialism and imperialism that's only bad when whites do it. Arabs can do it. They invaded and conquered Spain and other parts of Europe, and that's fine, and nobody uses that against them today.

You know, you have the Islamic State that's going around massacring thousands of people in the name of Islamic imperialism. So we can point the finger right back at the non-whites for all of those things, and at the Jews, and we win the argument every time, and that's why they have to censor us, because they lose the debate. They cannot win a debate with us, and that's why they refuse to actually debate us at all.

And that's why they fall back to an emotionalization, because they don't have any rational argumentation to put forward, so they have to turn it into an emotional issue, make it so that people disengage from their rational brain. Every time you say the word race or the word white or Jew, then people go into their state of, whatever it may be, this programmed state like Pavlov's dog, they start lashing out based on hearing certain words, and that's just a result of the way the Jews classically condition people's minds and the media they control. And that's why they control them.

I wanted to ask you about the recent election in Canada with this new political party called the People's Party Canada with a guy named Maxime Bernier, and it seems to me like he's kind of just one of these grifters who's grifting off the kind of Jordan Peterson centrist, you know, woke centrist takes, and is really just proposing a kind of very watered-down, weak-willed response to the Marxists and is not advocating for anything that would substantially block this agenda. What's your take on that? Yeah, basically I wrote about that in some little document called Project Population Pacifier, Populism, and so the whole idea is basically just to pacify the populace with these so-called, you know, working man's hero types when the guy's probably just some type of Freemason or Zionist or something like that. And he, I think, got only 3% of the votes of the entire country, so it's basically a melody.

And I went around here when he was running for the, or during the electoral campaign, I went to the mall because that's where they had some booth where they were trying to, you know, get people ginned up for his campaign, trying to hook more people into their party, for the local party around here. And I was trying to tell the woman there, one of the women, I guess she was a Christian or something, about what was going on in the world and so forth, and she was aware of the South African issues and so on. But then I said, well, you know, I started talking racial issues to her, and then she's like, oh, I don't believe in segregation, getting all sort of uptight and so forth.

So that basically just terminated the conversation right there. You basically can't talk to people in this country about racial issues because they're just too much a bunch of, I don't know, weak-willed people or they're not capable of breaking through the mold that they're programming. They are henpecked.

Yeah. Because the Canadian government, the media, and the academia is totally run by a bunch of degenerate, blood-sucking Marxists who want to end the white race, as Noel Ignatieff, the Jewish Marxist theorist, said, that the goal is to abolish the white race. So we have these are the people in charge of all of our institutions in the West telling white people from birth that they have to work towards the eradication of their own people.

But that's not hate speech, ladies and gentlemen. That is not bigotry. That's not racism.

That's wokeness. That is virtue. So that's what we're up against here.

Canada is a hellish gulag run by a transgender extremist lunatic called Justine Trudeau. I call him Justine Trudeau. Sorry? Because he's a Jew.

I call him Justine Trudeau because he's a Jew. And his father was probably, what is his name, Castro. He's a Jewish transgender.

He's got all the woke boxes checked off. You know that. But this is it.

It's literally turning into some kind of clown world lunacy. You couldn't even make some of this stuff up. It's so out there.

It's so outlandish. And we're the sane ones. Everything we're saying on the show right now is totally logical, rooted in basic common sense.

And I don't see how anyone who listens to this can think that we are crazy people. I mean, we're advocating for a traditional society where white people are the majority and maintain their culture and race as every other race does throughout the world. How is that a hate crime to say such a thing? But that's the world we're living in today.

Just to wrap it up here, do you want to tell people where they can find some of your content? Because I know you make videos. Yeah, they can check out, again, the hate speech quote-unquote site. It's free-speech.is-great.net. And then another site for my stuff is the-struggle.net. And that should be good enough for that.

There's a bunch of channels on BitChute that I have also with content. I can always submit it to you, and maybe you can put it in show notes or something if you want, for contact information. Yeah, no doubt.

I'll put a link to your websites on the post when this goes up. I appreciate you coming on, Loki. I wish you all the best.

I hope you beat these Marxist censors or find a way to even get out of there. I mean, the thing with Canada is it's such a degenerate place. I mean, it's one of the most cut countries in the world.

It's so hard to get through to people there. And for that reason, I- Pretty much, they're basically marginalized. Yeah, I mean, I live in a van down by the river in the States in a nice warm place if I could get there, but I doubt that'll ever be a possibility now that I have these legal Marxist cane or black spots on me.

I don't think they'll probably even allow me to get out of the country at all. But who's to say what will be? I can never be sure. They won't try to assassinate me or something.

I don't even know. Is there anywhere where people can donate to you? I think I might have had something like that on a website, but I think I got like 12 bucks from people, so there's really no point bothering. Okay.

Most people wouldn't give any money anyway, so basically all I ask is that people spread around my content and save the content if you can from the hyphen struggle site and then from the legal case site. Just save it for me and then spread it around because you never know how long it's going to be before they start trying to shut this stuff down too. I'm sure they'll find some excuse.

All right. Thank you so much for coming on, Loki. You're a real patriot and you've been doing some very good work also.

Your content is interesting and highbrow and I hope people take a look at it. I'm going to post this up on alt-write.com. This has been another episode of Martina's Perspective. Thank you everybody for listening.

Take care.
