Hosted and sponsored by the Canadian Nationalist Front. With your host, Kevin Gordrow, going to join us here shortly. As well as his guest and co-host for the evening, Loki, both right out of Canada.

Going to enlighten us and share with us a very unique perspective that can only come from our Aryan brothers in the north. So I'm going to, as per our host's request, play one more tune by Final War. And then we will jump right into the broadcast.

So stick with us. As I said, you are listening to Frontline Discussion. Hosted and sponsored by the Canadian Nationalist Front.

And brought to you by Straight Arm Media. Alright, well that was a little Final War. Looks like our host might still be having a few technical issues.

However, the show waits for no one. And we're going to dig right in. Hopefully he will pop in here shortly.

It's going to be a little interesting. One, because, well, this is his show. But two, because I'm an American.

And this show's premise is from a Canadian perspective. So the closest that I can do as an American is take the news and the events that are occurring in Canada and relate them from the Canadian media. And then of course put a white nationalist, national socialist truth into the words that are being spoken.

Because unfortunately, just like here in the United States, Canadian media is just as skewed, just as leftist. If not more so, due to their lack of freedom of speech, than we are right here in the USA. So the first story we'll talk about a little bit.

And hopefully my Canadian comrades will jump in and add some light to this, some depth. Out of Toronto, Ontario shuts down schools until September because of COVID-19. Nope, that was not the article I was looking for, excuse me.

Don't you just hate that when you click something and the one that you want doesn't come up? Okay, there we are. We're racial news. We know COVID-19 is an absolute sham.

We're not discounting those that are sick or, God forbid, died because of COVID-19. However, the reality of the matter is, is not many did. And many of which who were quote-unquote said to have died from COVID actually died of other causes.

And COVID was simply listed as that cause of death. So still we're finding that our stats are skewed. So, you know, fake diseases, fake news, no use on a platform where we speak about truth.

So here we go. This is more R-Speed on this platform. Out of Ottawa, race was a factor in Ottawa karting incident report finds.

U Ottawa karting incident. I'm sure they will discuss what that is. Let's find out.

Security staff blocked Winston Mason from building where he worked and lived because he didn't have ID. And they show this kinky-haired negro standing here with a sourpuss face on his nigger lips there. All sad that he couldn't do what he wanted because he decided to go against the law, which in Canada apparently is to carry an ID.

Imagine that. It's also the law here in America in case you didn't know. That way, if stopped, you're always able to be identified.

If there's a medical emergency, you can be identified. I mean, the list goes on and on and on. But it's the law.

Anyways, so getting into the article, a report commissioned by the University of Ottawa's Human Rights Office, also known as the Canadian KGB, has found that race played a role in a black student being stopped by security while entering his residence. Well, if you don't have an ID, you're a suspect, regardless of what your race is. If that is the policy, if that's the law, and especially the policy of the building to show identification before being allowed to enter, it, of course, is for the safety and well-being of the other people that are in that building.

It is no one's fault but the spear-chucker that he didn't have his ID like he knew he should. Race had nothing to do with it. Stupidity, maybe, but race, not so much.

And that's just what I gather just thus far in this article. So Kuntikinte said he was blocked from going into his building where he also works as a community advisor. Ah, so he doesn't actually work, he just gets a stipend for doing something related to school.

And September 2019 by a security guard, oh, it's already over a year old. Wow, so we're really, really reaching here. I guess the food stamps didn't come in and Canada didn't say, well, we're going to pay for your education just because you're black.

So he must have to get his somehow. A security guard who demanded to see his identification. That's their right.

That's why they are paid as security guards. They're not paid to stand there. They're not paid to eat donuts.

They are paid to secure the facility. So I would call that doing his job. I, you know, when I am in situations where someone asks me for an identification, whether it's to buy a pack of cigarettes or it is to enter a building, I guess, not that that happens regularly other than maybe at an airport.

It's just one of those things. It's the rules. You follow them if you wish to play.

You can't play if you don't follow the rules. And this nigger knew exactly what the rules were. He is now causing a stink probably to gain attention.

Obviously, though, I mean, he undoubtedly still attends the school. He undoubtedly still lives at the building, so on and so forth. So really the only thing that's going on here is him complaining, which is pretty typical for blacks in general.

We're talking about those in Canada or those right here in the United States. So he complained some more. He says that the study was accurate, of course, because they ruled in his favor.

And he was just it's quoted here that he says he was disappointed. It's scope and was limited to the actions of the that it was limited to the actions of a security guard. So he's pissy that they didn't do an actual investigation.

I guess what he I don't know what he was expecting. You know, every college student, faculty member, teacher, et cetera. They just investigated the person involved in the incident, which also is expeditious and makes sense.

So he's nitpicking, but the reality is, is he's just mad because he's black and he needs something to complain about. He needs Whitey to oppress him so that he can garner support, so that he can garner sympathy, and so that he can continue to eke out his miserable. Let's see.

He alleges that the security guard grabbed him in his suitcase, which I say prove it, nigger. Although it doesn't look like any of that was founded or proven. They gave the security guard a little slap on the wrist.

Oh, look, there's another picture of him in his little another Kuta friend there. The Negro in question, I'm sure he's probably mildly retarded. If that's not just ugly, ugly Negro jeans.

He does not look like he should be attending college. But as we know, you know, affirmative Blackson, they all get to go to college. Heaven forbid they actually pursue education while they're there.

They realistically look like poster children for the Black Panther Party. I mean, they're all dressed in black. One of them actually is even wearing a bomber jacket, which is a little bit aggravating and asinine in and of itself.

Granted, it's not the same as the ones that we wear, but still close enough. And these strike me as quite potentially militant Negroes who are using this kind of thing to spark up that liberalism, that socialism that's very inherent at college institutions all over the world, especially with the thumb of Israel on all of the institutional facilities, whether we're talking about primary education all the way up to collegiate education. But let's see.

Mason said he filed a complaint with the Jew Commission. And he quote, he's quoted as saying they are a legal governing entity. And I would ask or be curious to hear what Kevin's thoughts were in regards to this, because I have this sneaky suspicion.

They're not. They're similar to the SPLC here in America, and they really have no legal standing, although our government in the process of giving Israel a rim job goes to them on a regular basis and uses them as a source of quote unquote information, even though we know even though we know it's fraudulent, skewed, etc. Let's see.

But scanning down just a little bit more here to see if there's any more relevance as far as wannabe Malcolm. Basically, it sounds like reading further that he's honestly, Niggs wants money. He wants to be compensated.

There's always an angle. And it's not even I don't think that he was that offended. It's that this is his in to have to do less.

This is his way to cry racism and get a free ride. Get a pat on the back for, you know, exposing evil white supremacists and be the most popular nigger on campus. This is what these liberal indoctrination facilities want.

This is exactly what they're looking to do is turn these types of degenerate individuals, these types that advocate for the rape of white women, the extermination of our people. I mean, these same types are the ones that get on camera and say kill whitey. This is exactly what these institutions want, and this is exactly what the Jew wants.

He wants to use these monkeys for his purpose because that level 60 IQ doesn't allow them to do anything on their own accord. They are willing pawns in the Zionist game. So let's see.

Interestingly enough. OK, you Ottawa, I guess, is a different way to annotate the University of Ottawa. Just to clarify.

And of course, due to all this, they do mention that it's going to be a racism free campus. And they quote Trudeau says a a global approach to combat racism on campus was adopted, including public. Consultations with members of the Ottawa's radicalized community and the establishment of the president's advisory committee for a racism free campus.

That's enough to make a grown man throw up. And Canada is a white nation. Well, at least it was.

I don't know if so, if that's the case now. But there's one right out of Canada for you pertaining directly to race, showing us that the same things that go on constantly here in America are also going on in Canada. They're playing out the same chess game again and again and again.

And every time they play, whites lose a little bit. The whites have less rights. Whites have less presence in the community, on college campuses, in the job market.

And that's what the Jew hopes for. That is their goal. So let's see here.

I'm getting to just another article, but I am going to flip back over to my board and give a check for our guest and host. So stand by just a moment. Ladies and gentlemen, we're going to go ahead and take just a short few minutes break while I assess some technical issues that we might be having with our host and just in general with the broadcast platform.

Alright, and we are back with Frontline Discussion, hosted and sponsored by the Canadian Nationalist Front. And my good brother Kevin has finally made it aboard by no fault of his own. It sounds like we are having serious trolling from, well, we don't know, but we would imagine Zog or some other interfering agent.

Could be tech, who knows, but needless to say, we are here and the host is with us, so I'm going to turn it right over to him. Racial greetings, brothers and sisters. Welcome to Frontline Discussion with your host, Kevin Goudreau of the Canadian Nationalist Front.

And welcome. It took me a little bit to get on, but I think what, as Chris and Marie from the Ray Voice Radio would say, I think we got zyked when a bunch of Antifa leftists, you know, call in and jam up the lines and the technology or whatnot. So we can't do what we want to do.

And it really warms my heart, the fact that they would go through so much trouble to stop us, which really isn't going to do much, but it just really warms my heart that we are such a threat to them that they feel the need to be such criminal harassers in that nature. And I think it's funny. And was their goal achieved? No, because we're here right now and we're going to continue.

So you got that right. They can't stop us. They'll never be able to stop us.

What they fear is unity. What they fear is us doing these types of broadcasts. Oh, especially from Canada, because, you know, people are like a Canadian doing a show in the United States because we're not allowed to do our own stuff here, really.

We can, technically, but with our hate laws, there's just too much liability and legal issues where it's just, for a lot of people, just not worth the bother because they're worried they're going to go to jail. And like some of us, who is going to be calling in soon, Loki, I hope you're listening. A friend of mine has already been charged with hate crimes in Canada, gone through it.

They went through his house, they took his computers, his phones, his guns, they took everything. Just because he handed out some money, he handed out money with a website printed on the money, something about the tribe, and he got charged with promoting hatred and whatnot against the Jews. And so, yeah, they took his guns, they took his computers, they raided his house.

This guy had no criminal record, nothing, and just because it was JewWatch.com or one of those things that he printed on money that he gave to people out in public, they charged him. Yeah, go ahead. That I was talking about before we were able to get you on, I got to fill this space somehow, and I figured talking about something going on in Canada would be a good way to do it.

First race-related incident that popped up was this coon, what his name is, Williston Mason, being blocked from entering the University of Ottawa and blah, blah, blah, and how he was oppressed and the whip was cracked and so forth. But the question I was going to ask you was regarding the agency, and we've talked about it before, and I was trying to make sure I say the correct name. I'm scanning down on the article here.

It is the Something Something Against Racism. The President's Advisory Committee for a Racism-Free Campus was one thing, and then the other one was the Human Rights Tribunal. Is that similar to our American SPLC in that it's not really a government agency, but the government uses it for their purposes, or is it actually a part of the Canadian government? The Human Rights Commission was supposed to be a temporary commission from the Queen of England, a former British colony.

It was supposed to be a temporary thing, and it's technically a valid government agency, which is temporary to investigate violations of hate crimes or whatever. It's a big load of crap. Nobody pays attention to it.

Nobody cares. But they do have sort of power. They're the kangaroo court.

The judges aren't real judges. They're like retired or they got kicked out. And the prosecutors, they're not real prosecutors.

Maybe they wanted to be or they got kicked out or they got fired. They're the losers. They're basically the dregs of the legal system that weren't accepted.

They're going to get a paycheck from this group. But they're by no means any real legal apparatus. They're just a bunch of yahoos that are basically a kangaroo court without any real ability.

They just - they get final say, and they don't have any power for criminal charges or anything like that. It's all about doing you. If you offended me so much, well, then - now they put limits on it.

It used to be they could sue you for whatever. Now I think they put the limit to $10,000. So if you hurt my feelings kind of - if you called me a douchebag and I cried about it, I could sue you for $10,000.

Wow. That's incredible. Man, that is so Jewish though.

I mean like without even insulting the tribe because I don't want to jeopardize your freedom and your ability to act. What else are they interested in but shekels? And this is a perfect example of them utilizing that very idea to screw people and label them and get money out of a deal. Now, what is the relation - and forgive me.

I know we've talked about this on the radio before - to this committee and the law that was originally put in place to keep the French and the British settlers equal and separate and happy? Is that similar or is that unrelated? No, it's not even related at all. Okay. Like originally the Multiculturalism Act was written for the French and English and also the natives.

Okay. Yeah, because Canada up until 1970 was 98% white and the rest were natives with a smattering of Chinese that built our railroads and a little bit of blacks on the East Coast that we saved from American slavery. So we had no racial problems.

There was no racial issues. It was all the Jews. It even says on Wikipedia the Canadian Jewish Congress pressured the Canadian government and Pierre Trudeau to make these laws.

It wasn't voted on. There was no public discussion about it. Nothing.

They just did it. Just like Justin Trudeau recently banning 1,500 guns, even bolt-action rifles, without Canadian consent. It's going to be overturned with the next government.

It's not going to stay. But it's just a fact that the Jews willy-nilly just do whatever they want because they're communists and try to disarm people because they disagree. They say the biggest threat to Canada is white supremacists.

I'm like really? Because of what happened in New Zealand. New Zealand's got nothing to do with Canada. Some dude went and wasted 50 hajis.

And incidentally, that mosque in New Zealand recruited at least three major terrorists that committed terrorist acts. So it was a recruiting center for terrorism. It wasn't just a willy-nilly, I'm going to walk into a mosque and shoot some Muslims.

This guy felt that he was under threat. His country was under threat. At least three people that came out of that mosque were recruited into ISIS and committed some serious terror attacks.

But the Canadian government was like, oh. So a few weeks ago, some dude in Nova Scotia went on a shooting rampage, probably because of the lockdown. The lockdowns created a lot of mental instability and depression and whatnot.

Like today, the wife and I took the dog out. We went to the water. We had a couple beers and enjoyed the fresh air and the ducks and the seagulls and watching the water.

It all felt good. And we're sitting there like, yeah, I can understand how somebody can, you know, go batty over, you know, being isolated. But anyways, this guy was already on the record with the RCMP and had already been charged with stuff.

And all of his weapons were illegal already. He had already been charged. He was not a legal gun owner whatsoever.

So Trudeau used that excuse for what he did to take away 1,500 different types of guns, even bolt actions, because this douchebag went crazy, shot a bunch of people. He was not affiliated with the right wing in any way. And all of his guns were illegal.

All of his guns were illegally purchased anyways. It had nothing to do with legal gun owners whatsoever. Yeah, we're just going to ban 15.

He's using emergency powers because of what's happening to push this. And everyone else is like, no, you're not taking our guns. If you're going to come take our guns, you know, it's not going to be pretty.

But, you know, take guns from law-abiding citizens and using the excuse of some dude on the East Coast that went on a rampage using illegal weapons. The guy had already been charged, already been convicted of all kinds of stuff. He wasn't allowed to have guns.

He had a gun ban already. And what I tell people, this group in the United States, they're an Israeli group. I forget what they're called.

Oh, they're called Memory. They posted a thing about me that I said I can get any kind of gun I want whenever I want, and that's true. So can every other citizen realistically.

I mean that's something people discount when they start talking about these red flag laws and they talk about legislating against guns. The reality of the matter is, is criminals will always be able to get guns, not that you or I are criminals, but the bad guys will always get guns. Those of us that are good citizens that follow the laws and then are not allowed to protect ourselves, we're the ones who are going to get hurt when these Mongoloid criminals come and try to rob us or rape us or murder us.

And this Memory group posted the fact that what I said on VK before I got banned was I said I can make a phone call and get any gun I want. And that wasn't the point of me getting guns or whatever. Yeah, I can make a phone call and get whatever I want.

The point is all this extra gun control for this guy that went on a killing rampage with illegal weapons trying to penalize law-abiding citizens, all it's going to do is make criminal organizations, organized crime, the mafia, it's going to make them more money. So instead of it costing me $700 for an RCMP issue Glock, it's going to cost me $1,600. It's just going to double the price.

It's just going to make organized crime more money. You're not going to hurt people that are going to commit crimes with illegal weapons. They're going to do it anyway.

It's just going to cost them twice as much and make organized crime twice as much money. What was my point is why I said I can make a phone call. Everyone has a friend of a friend.

I can get a 9mm Smith & Wesson for $700. Now it's maybe going to cost me $1,800, $2,000. It doesn't hurt me.

If I wanted to really do harm and be a criminal, I'm going to pay that $2,000. It's not going to hurt me, but it's going to make organized crime way more powerful and make them way more a lot money than it would be to penalize. Because everyone that commits these crimes, they're not law-abiding citizens.

They're all criminals. They're in Toronto. The guns, unfortunately, come across the border from the US in boxes.

I've seen the boxes. I've been there. I've held the guns.

I've fired them. I'm not going to give any details, but it's not going to stop anything. Gun control, the only thing it's going to do is drive up the price and make the mafia a lot more money.

Well, in regards to us as white nationalists, it's going to make us look to other venues, and it's also going to make us stockpile our weapons. Whether we're acquiring them legally or otherwise, we're going to be more inclined to hold onto them. We're going to be more inclined to make sure that we have the appropriate ammunition and stay ahead of these really unconstitutional laws, whether we're talking about in America or in Canada.

Because you and I, we can read the writing on the wall. We know what's coming, and we know that the only way to protect our families, to protect our livelihood and our property, is through the use of appropriate force. I'm not talking about going on a rampage.

I'm talking about being prepared to defend what's yours, your blood, your property, your family. That's your right, and they're inhibiting that right by restricting the firearms that we can purchase as legal, law-abiding citizens. But I tell you what, you come to my house and say they take the gun rights out of this nation and they make it like it is in the United Kingdom.

Don't think that'll stop me. I'll just bust out the battle axe. So, you cannot keep Aryans down.

We will find a way. Just like the Reich, when we were banned from training with weapons, we trained with shovels and picks. I've got friends right now, a lot of my friends went to the last anti-lockdown protest at Toronto's Queen's Park, which is the Ontario Parliament.

A lot of our friends are in the military, and they're like, if you want to take my AR-15, I dare you to come and get it. The guy said right on television, he's like, if you want to come and take my AR-15, I dare you to come and take it from me. And that's the point where it is now.

It's not happening. Yeah, sure, Trudeau can say whatever he wants. The dude that went on the rampage, all his weapons were illegal, were purchased illegally, did not have a license, had a gun ban.

And then they're just like, oh yeah, this guy did this, so we're going to penalize. And then with the anti-lockdown and the anti-vaxxers, and all these other friends of mine just went to Toronto. I stayed out of it because when I show up at stuff, it just goes south or whatever.

But anyways, friends of mine are like, no, if you want to come and take my AR-15 or my Mini-14 or whatever, it's not going to happen. You're going to get shot. It's basically what friends of mine, they're in the military are saying.

They're like, no, if you want to come and take my guns, you're going to have a fight on your hands. So Canada right now is on the verge of civil war. It might sound crazy to you, but it's not far off.

Honestly, I don't think it sounds that crazy at all. I mean what have we seen in the past when socialist nations are oppressed to the point of breaking? Revolution. We've seen it in Venezuela, and we've seen it in socialist Mexico.

We've seen it in all over the world. Anytime socialism is attempted, the result is either the society breaks down and becomes a third world nation in short order, or there's a regime change because socialism cannot work. It never has before.

It's not going to now. Yeah, and what I can also say is the Uzi is a piece of garbage. I've fired an Uzi among other guns.

My favorite is the SKS. I like the SKS and the Mini-14 and the AR-15 is kick ass, but an Uzi, the Israeli gun, that thing jams up. And the reason why there's so much collateral damage and innocent people get shot when niggers do a drive-by shooting – pardon my language.

I did a racial slur. When niggers do a drive-by shooting, the reason that innocent people get killed is because an Uzi is an inaccurate weapon. It just fires everywhere.

There's no accuracy, and it jams up. And if you're the coon firing the thing, chances are it's going to jam up and blow up in your face. So yeah, Israel, Israeli technology, not that good.

Well, and from personal experience in the military, I know that that's a weapon we call spray and pray. They point it in the general vicinity of whatever it is they're shooting at and squeeze the trigger until it clicks. This is not the effective way of utilizing a firearm.

A 9mm Uzi is not it. I'm a firm believer in one shot, one kill. I want my M16.

I want accuracy or AR-15 if you're talking about civilian model, and I want distance. And they seem to be the most effective in my mind. It also takes, I would say, discipline more to use weapons like that, whereas some of the automatic weapons take far less discipline because you can walk your impacts up onto your target.

But you also waste a whole lot of ammunition doing so. But that's just me. Yep.

And recently, in recent years, you know, why I brought that up too is, you know, not to use a racial stereotype, but a bunch of niggers did a drive-by in Toronto. And it was an Uzi, you know, trying to assassinate other gang members. And a 14-year-old white girl was killed in the crossfire.

And this was in front of a mall. Driving by a mall, yeah, shoot the other gangsters with an Uzi. And they sprayed everywhere, killed like a 14-year-old girl, white girl, and some other white kid.

And the outcry, yeah, sure, yeah, because they were white kids or whatnot. But it wasn't targeted. It was like, yeah, you know, gangsters shooting gangsters in Toronto is like an everyday thing.

But using an Uzi actually, you know, clipped a 14-year-old girl that lost her life, that, you know, had a life to live. You know, probably, you know, the prom school, you know, the prom girl type thing. There was pictures of her, and people looked at her like, oh, my God.

Like, seriously, that girl got murdered, like, by accident? And, you know, thank you, Israel, for your shitty guns. But, you know, if they're killing each other, I could give a rat's ass. You know, more power to you, do it, kill each other, save us the trouble.

But when white people get caught in the crossfire, you better look out. Well, and I mean, that's the best part about a white state, about our white future, is the idea that these nogs won't be on our corners spraying and praying over street territory. Oh, we own this street.

Oh, we own this corner. We sell the drugs here. That shit won't happen in a white society.

And if it does, these people will be expeditiously imprisoned and or extradited out of our society because a true Aryan society has no tolerance for drugs, has no tolerance for criminal activity, has no tolerance for this type of violence that's inherent in gangbangers. I mean, certainly there's not going to be an automatically perfect world if we eliminate all of the nonwhites, but certainly the influence and the generation rate will be a lot slower, and we'll be able to piece this and keep our society moving without having to constantly cater to these mongreloids. Oh, I guarantee, I lived in Toronto and I was living in a really, really bad area, Queen and Jarvis, if anyone's in Canada, they know that Queen and Jarvis is a really bad area.

That's where I lived, and I care less about what actually happened. These fucking niggers came collecting a crack debt from another nigger, and it was a $20 crack debt, and they beat this nigger to death with a baseball bat. His eyeballs popped out, and I watched this.

I saw some of this. I was there. I'm like, holy shit.

And it was over $20, over a $20 crack debt. I'm like, okay, yeah, it's kind of cool. You guys are killing each other.

But it was affecting it. Other white people saw that and were like, what the hell? Some dude's fucking eyeballs are - pardon my language - his eyeballs are popping out of his head and flying down the street over $20. I'm like, yeah, that's what's going to happen to you if you fall into that crowd.

Absolutely, brother. Anyway, yeah, I know I got into the show late. There's some technical difficulties.

But if Loki is listening and if he's on, I'd like to get Loki on with the recent Supreme charges. And honestly, if you'd like, maybe on the sidebar here you can shoot me a message and let me know what number it is, and I can dial him directly from Blog Talk Radio. Maybe that's the best way to bring him in, being that we're having connection issues.

I actually have had people report from a variety of sources trying to listen to this evening's broadcast that they have had issues logging in or listening, that when they try to call in on the call-in line, it boots them. It will either let them listen very briefly and then kick them from the call, or it will just come with a busy signal, and that's been across the board tonight. So if you are listening or if you hear this in the archive, we offer you our sincerest apologies, and we're working on figuring out what the issue is.

Okay, I'm just looking at my phone right now. I'll give you his first three digits. Okay.

I can dial out and call him directly the same way I did you as well. All right, if you see 587, that's the first three digits of his number. Okay, I have not seen a 587 this evening yet, but I believe it's in large part due to the technical issues, not due to anyone calling in or not.

As I said, some good friends and regular callers. Okay, so do you want me to text you or send it to you on Telegram? Either is quite fine. I just want to get him on board if he's still willing.

In the meantime, maybe relate to us some more things that are going on in Canada. I'll work on getting that set up. Okay, I also wanted to bring this up last week because we had so many callers and whatnot.

Brian Adams, do you know who Brian Adams is? Fortunately for me, yes. Okay, for other people that don't know, he's like the Canadian Bruce Springsteen. They were in competition back in the day.

Brian Adams, Bruce Springsteen, cut like a knife. Anyways, Brian Adams had a hotel booked in London, England for like months to do some shows, and then it was all canceled on him and he snapped. He's from Vancouver, the Chinese area of Canada, and he just lost it.

He lost it. He's like, I was supposed to do a show tonight, and this show is supposed to last like months, make him lots of money. He's like, you bat eating virus making Chinese pieces of shit, you bastards.

And he just went on and on and on, and the Canadian media is like, what the hell? Brian Adams went on a huge racist rant? I'm like, yes. Yes, yes, a Canadian icon, which is like the American version of Bruce Springsteen. It would be like Bruce Springsteen saying you bat eating wet market scumbags, virus producing dirtbags.

Oh yeah, at the end of it though, he said everyone should go vegan. And okay, that part I don't agree with because I'm a carnivore. But the fact that he went on about them bat eating and creating viruses and basically calling them Chinese pieces of shit.

For this Canadian polite icon, when you picture Brian Adams, can you picture him saying - you've got to look it up. Look up Brian Adams' Instagram rant. I totally can't because he's always struck me as somebody that was - although he was famous, was a decent human being somewhat, and was always very courteous and maybe not soft-spoken but not outspoken I guess is the word I'm looking for.

Oh yeah, after this rant, the Canadian media just basically lost it. They're like, what? Brian Adams just went on a racist rant? Oh yeah, he's like you bat eating virus creating pieces of shit. You guys cost me my show.

And I was like, I'm not a big Brian Adams fan of his music, but I love Brian Adams now. Love it. Oh, come on.

You don't like Brian Adams, and you're from Canada? How can you not? It's like you like Celine Dion. I'm a Metallica slayer dude. I'm a metalhead, old-school mega-ass motorhead and whatnot, but Brian Adams doing that, fantastic.

All right, I'm going to forward you Loki's number, and we'll see if we can get him on. Excellent. I appreciate that.

I was waiting for that forward. Yeah, you know, Brian Adams has been around in Canadian history. For those of you that don't know, I mean obviously he's not a historical figure by any means.

He's currently a musician, but he's done some big things in Canada. Like Kevin was saying, most Canadians, if not all Canadians, probably know Brian Adams. In fact, if I'm not mistaken, and correct me Kevin, did he or did he not do a very famous, well-received rendition of the Canadian National Anthem and Maple Leaf Forever? I think that's the correct title? Yeah.

As somebody who does audio and is cutting stuff for this program and other programs, kind of trying to figure out the musical montage of this particular venue, I thought that was interesting. I forgot completely about Brian Adams and the relation to Canada and all that stuff. In case you didn't hear, sir, we did have some final war plan prior to you getting on.

Some of my personal favorites, because I hadn't communicated with you as to what yours were for the evening. Yeah, so I've sent you Loki's number on your phone and telegram. Got it.

We will get him on board. Why don't you, as I said, go ahead with a story or a thought, and I'll be off for a second. I'm listening, but I won't be able to necessarily respond while I do this call.

All right. This is to you, brothers and sisters of the white Aryan race in Canada and the United States. The time is now.

We have waited far too long. We have bided our time. We've been, you know, working behind the scenes, doing whatnot, whether, you know, for old school skinheads, white nationals, whatever.

Bickering, arguing back and forth about whose way is better is no way at all. No way at all is arguing. The only way is to move forward together.

Together means all of us together, whether you be underground, above ground, skinhead, not skinhead, creator, Christian identity. It doesn't matter. We all have the same goals.

At the end of the day, we want to see the white Aryan empires to rise from the ashes and retake our fucking lands. Pardon my language. Sorry.

We need to retake our lands, retake what is ours. We built civilization. We created it.

We invented everything. These mongrels, these mongoloids are nothing. They are our slaves.

They are the lower class. Not because we make it so. It's because they were born that way.

It's not their fault. If a dog licks its balls, a dog licks its balls. It's not their fault.

It's just their nature. A monkey will, you know, stab other monkeys because it's a monkey. It's not their fault.

It's just because they're Simians. We are Aryan. We are white Aryan.

We are Euro-Canadians. Destiny, it is our imperative to take back this land, take back this world, and make our forefathers proud. My family founded this country 1606-1607.

Been here for hundreds of years. And we're not going to sit back and let a bunch of mongrels and liberals and commies bastardize, rape our country, and make it into like a piece of garbage. Am I the one? Yes.

If all else fails, I'm going to retreat into a log cabin into the woods. Am I the one that needs to do that? No. I am not the one that needs to do that.

That is just a survival skill that I learned from my ancestors that built this country. What we should do, should be doing, is building our countries, Canada, United States, Australia, Europe, rebuilding what our forefathers fought and died for. Not against national socialism.

Not against this or that. No. Brother wars are bullshit.

My own family fought against Germans fighting against Germans in my own family. Germans coming in U-boats in Canada to the Gulf of St. Lawrence being arrested by my other relatives. Yeah.

Loki. Loki is now aboard. Welcome, brother.

Nice to be here. Yeah, I was actually listening to the other podcast from the previous night. I was thinking the time zone was different.

I was just going to call in at 8 o'clock because it's only about 7 or something here. So they got the time off. Yeah, I should have said 8 p.m. Eastern.

But I wanted my American brothers and sisters to know, when I talk to them about hate crimes and what can happen to you, they think it's kind of weird. So I want them to hear from the voice of someone who has been through a hate crime charge and what happened to you over putting something about a Jewish website on money. How you got charged.

You had your guns taken away. They took your computer. Basically, you raped your house.

Yeah, pretty much. I just want you to tell your story and tell the American public what happened to you. Okay.

Well, I was on Kynan's show in the fall of the last year. So I talked about it then. You sure were.

Yeah, I'll give the website reference. It's free-speech.is-great. And there's only some of the content on there because people were saying that the crown, the jog, was saying to take it down and so forth. Otherwise, it would alter my bail conditions.

And that might have wound up with a $4,000 fine or my even being put in jail or something, pending trial or who knows what. So I guess somebody took some other website down. I'm not at liberty to say that it was me or anything because I don't want to incriminate myself.

Not to say that that would anyway. So basically, it all started August 1st, 2018 with just one simple stamp on a money bill that said Jewish white genocide and referencing a website to thezog.info, which is no longer a website now. Apparently, they've taken it down or something like that.

I think it's thezog.wordpress now or something like that. Just a statistical website. So they try to connect me with this.

They say that I did this. It's just all sort of circumstantial evidence that doesn't really prove anything. And something as simple as that justifies basically arresting me, putting me in a holding tank for about 42 or however many hours.

Simultaneously, just breaking and entering into the place I'm living and taking about $9,000 worth of my stuff, taking guns, taking computers and books and about $2,200 of money that had allegedly been stamped with these bills. And so they basically won't be giving any of this stuff back apparently so far as I know at this point. So I'd also received lots of death threats and things like that on the internet.

People saying that I'm going to commit suicide in jail or I'm going to be subjected to a microwave weapon. Those sort of so-called masers where they beam them against your skull and rupture your blood-brain barrier. Those are actual real weapons, only they don't sell them to the public, of course.

So who's to say what would have happened? So I basically ended up at the spur of the moment. I was offered a plea deal by the Crown at the last minute. As soon as I showed up there, they had given me this plea deal for the trial, which was in February.

And I said, okay, yeah, I'm just taking it because I don't want to be killed in jail. According to a lawyer, it wouldn't set a legal precedent, so I'll say, oh yeah, I'll plead guilty. But then apparently it does set a precedent, so I'm trying to retract that.

And now it's just sort of like in limbo with the courts. I don't really know what's going to happen, whether they'll allow this to be overturned, this alleged decision of mine to plead guilty. Basically, June 4th is when I have to go to trial for this, and then sentencing is sometime in June as well by some Jewish judge that came from I don't know how many hours away in Edmonton, Alberta, which is basically almost halfway across the province or so.

And for Canada, that's quite a distance. So I don't know how many hours that would be, probably like seven hours, eight hours driving. So they basically had everything lined up against me.

The heavy hitters, the prosecuting attorney was from Calgary, representing the Crown, as it's called here. And the judge was from Edmonton, and they've just been smearing me in the media left, right, and center and trying to set me up. Some Marxist reporter that I had spoken to, he basically framed me.

Even though I stupidly spoke to him, I probably shouldn't have, but at the same time I should have because I wanted to retract my plea. So he spoke to me, and then throughout the entire conversation, he was just trying to get me to make incriminating statements and so forth, so that I would acknowledge that I had various websites and so forth. So basically, it was just media slander throughout the whole time.

And I just want to add that they can't scare you about being Aryan, because I have four Swastika tattoos. The one on my chest is like the size of fucking Montana. And we don't have Aryan Brotherhood in Canada.

We're called the Brotherhood. But no, when I walk into a range in jail, and people see the Swastika on my chest, they shut the fuck up. They change their attitude.

They move along. It's not something to scare you with, because just mention my name, whatever, or you show that you're not afraid, the Aryans will back you up. It's not - cops back in the day, they were like, oh, we're going to send you to jail.

I'm like, good, because I'm going to get free tattoos and chocolate bars. Basically, for me, it's not a scary thing. It's not really so much the murderers and people like that who are, in my mind, the threat, so much as it is what they could do to you once they get you there.

In the cell, maybe they'll poison your food, maybe they'll frame you with that microwave weapon, or who knows. But yeah, so at the last minute, I said, well, if it doesn't set a legal precedent, I'll kill you. But in the prison system, a microcosm of society, there is a certain amount of respect.

If you have a Swastika tattooed, like I got four of them. I got one on the back of my neck. I got one on my chest.

I got one on each arm. So if somebody comes at me, they see a Swastika on their face, so they know who they're messing with. And they don't mess with it.

You know what I mean? So I'm just saying that these cops or agents or whatever that try to scare tactic the whole thing, well, you go in and you stick up for yourself. You're going to get respect. You're going to get extra food.

You're going to have a good bunk. You're going to have control of the TV, and you don't have to worry about anything. It's just they don't want people standing up for themselves.

Basically, I can understand that. Obviously, the Swastika is a symbol that somehow or other seems to immediately affect all these other creatures. As soon as they see that, they basically immediately that represents white power to them, and they can't cope with that.

It's a program response. It's like Pavlov's dogs, the drooling dogs. Seriously, I take my shirt off, and I got a seven-foot-tall Jamaican walking up to me.

I roll my jumper down in the yard. I'm thinking I'm going to fight this seven-foot-tall Jamaican. Oh, shit.

He's walking up to me like, oh, my God. This is going to hurt. I'm going to get a broken nose.

He walks up to me and goes, dude, that is the nicest Swastika I've ever seen ever in my life. He goes, that's awesome. Either they fear it or they respect it.

Respect it. That's obviously a benefit. Most of them seem to understand at least to some extent that they're being played by the Jews, but they're all involved in this sort of reciprocal use and abuse type relationship with the Jews, where they all play victim and the whitey is to blame, so whitey's got to cough up the benefits that they get to freeload on forever and give nothing in exchange.

All the black gangsters, like the top black gangsters in jail, they all know that Jews owned the slave ships that bought them and enslaved them. They all know that. They all know it.

That's why I got jumped by a bunch of wiggers. Seriously, I got my ass kicked by a bunch of wiggers. They were kicking my face and I'm fighting them.

And the fucking niggers, the leader of the niggers, the Black Panthers, said, get the fuck off him. Show him some respect. And he said, the Jews are the ones that enslaved us, not him.

Leave him alone. And when I heard that, I'm like, what? They actually know that? Yeah, I guess they're all connected in their networks with Farrakhan and his publication, The Secret Relationship Between Blacks and Jews. And they know all the history behind that.

Tony Martin, professor of whatever girls college in England, his presentations on the Talmud and so forth. Oh yeah, in my about 50 times in jail, I've fought two wiggers. I fought like two wiggers and the rest were like wigger plus.

They weren't black. They weren't white. They were just leftists.

Right, like a drugged out type who wants a virtue signal or something like that. Exactly. Oh, like I remember a Pantifa.

Oh yeah, we call them Pantifa because they wear panties. Yeah, pretty much. So you were in jail for basically mainly for this sort of activity, right? Or is there, it's mainly for like your activism, I guess you had been in jail for.

No, just let's say drunk, pissed off, getting into fights. I'm, you know, a bit of a scrapper, go to the bar. My last charge, I punched out a bouncer.

Actually, my last charge, okay, I went into an Antifa bar. Okay, that was my fault. I went to an Antifa bar looking for a fight and I punched out the bouncer and he charged me with assault because I punched him in the throat and broke his jaw.

So I punched him in the throat, broke his jaw, put him in the hospital and I got six months. But that was like four years ago, so I've been a good boy since then. I've been really nice.

I'm all accepting. That's just like a recipe for problems in my opinion. Alcohol.

But you're right. You're right. In moderation, alcohol is acceptable, but when it's in excess, I think anyone can agree that we're not in our best frame of mind or necessarily willing to act in the best kind of conduct that we might carry ourselves with normally if we were sober.

I think we can all agree on that. I walked into that place for a bottle of tequila. I went in with tequila.

It was an Antifa bar and I walked. What happened was I walked out with my beer. I wasn't allowed to walk out with my beer.

I did it anyways to pick a fight. I took my shirt off, ripped out the swastika. I'm like, you're getting fucked up.

You know who I am and I started punching that. I beat this guy up. There was like a six foot seven.

This guy was so huge. He was like this huge bouncer that could have killed me and he charged me and then like when he testified in court, he said that he had he needed counseling, that he was afraid to walk out his door because he was a, he saw my face everywhere. I'm like, dude, you're just scamming the government for a paycheck.

It was just bullshit. You know what I mean? This guy is like three times my size. Yeah, I don't really know what to do.

At this point in Canada for activism actually, I'm just sort of like living in limbo and sort of cut out of everything sort of in this smaller area. I agree. Yes.

Well, definitely with the restrictive laws in Canada, it's a hard decision to make because we feel racially driven to do what we're doing. But at the same token, we're no good to our people if we're incarcerated or dead. So there has to be a middle ground as far as activism in countries where freedom of speech is so restricted.

On a different note, I do have two callers that want to participate. One of which we know well. And I guess he spoke to you earlier, Kevin, about being on the program as well.

That's our good friend, Chris. And I'm going to bring him aboard. And then at the same time here, I want to bring... Not that British guy, is it? Yes.

Oh, no, not that British guy. That old guy? Bonsoir. Oh, no.

Oh, mon ami. Je suis Anglais. Mon appel, Christophe.

Je m'appelle Christophe. I'm starting to forget my French language here now. Oh, dear, oh, dear.

I just wanted to... Here we are. Sorry. I was just going to say, the whole alcohol thing, other than the Muslims now filling up British jails, 90% of people in British jails had some sort of relation to alcohol.

Whether it's fighting, you know, stealing because they were alcoholics, or, you know, whatever. You know, I mean, just, you know, drinking and driving, killing somebody. And obviously the Muslims now are pushing the numbers right up.

And then the other thing following up on the guns, I mean, look at, you know, Australia. It's pretty tough on guns, but they've got more illegal guns now and they're smuggling them in from Asia. These guns are coming in.

Well, they're basically just trying to build up their armies of the non-whites doing that illicitly, and then they're trying to cut out the rights of white people to own firearms. And nobody really seemed to care in the least about my case and the firearms issues related to it. All these issues about, you know, what's the capacity of the magazine, and so forth.

Yeah, pretty much. And then they took my firearms license as well, so now I can't even legally own any firearms. I'm disarmed and castrated.

But that's pretty much what they want to do with the white population, is just to pretty much disarm them all and then they can just go to work with all the savages, just sort of create a disintegrated society through endless crime, basically. Sounds like you need to come to America and claim, you know, political refuge. Well, I'd like to.

I had thought about doing something like hopping over the border, you know, legally even, if once this case blows over, just go there in a van and just live off someone's property if I could get in contact there. But if I were to do that, then I could probably just be rounded up by the government as an illegal immigrant. Like that Heinrich Holapka guy who got kicked out of America before.

Well, I mean, you know, you're always welcome to come and stay here, that's for sure. Now, if you're an illegal, that might be a different story. I obviously can't offer you sort of refugee status on the radio.

But coming back to the guns in Britain, same type of thing. They took away all the guns, handguns after, was it, I think it was Dunblane shooting where some crazy guy went into a school, I think in Scotland, and shot up all these children. Now, it's terrible.

I don't think so. I really don't sort of go down the conspiracy theory, you know, I'm not saying it wasn't. But the thing is, I mean, the guns were very, very under control.

There's next to no gun crimes in Britain whatsoever. So that was like the big thing. So even though, you know, Scotland is technically a separate legal system than England and Wales, I know they were under the crown, but the thing is, in other words, they could have banned guns, just, you know, handguns in Scotland, but they turned around and banned them in all of the British Isles.

But what's happened is, I mean, there was so many guns that people had in their houses, you know, 9mm pistols, AK-47s, SKSs, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera. I mean, you can go to Europe, especially if you go into the old Eastern European country, you can buy anything you want over there. And it might be a little bit more difficult now because Britain's, you know, pulled out of the European Union.

But once you had a gun, and once you were on European Union territory, your car wasn't searched across any border, so you could fill your car up and you needed to get it there, and just drive back to England. So there's no, I mean, and again, Australia and Britain letting in the dark-skinned people and they're killing everybody left, right, and center. And same, you know, up there in Canada, the guns are coming straight over from Detroit.

Yeah, they're trying to escape their own problems that they create. Go and live with Whitey, and then they just create the same chaos everywhere else, and then all the stupid Judeo-Christians keep pumping them in. They're like, we're all equal.

But then they never live with those that they bring in. They just hide away in their privileged areas and then virtue signal about how good they think they are because they give free advantages to those who don't deserve them and take them away from their own people and throw their own people in the streets. I could see that a lot here, too, with all these Zionist types in this town.

Basically, every one of them has no regard for the White people that they cast into the streets. The town who are on drugs and everything like that, too. Of course, that's pretty much everywhere.

Not too far south of the border from you, I was up in Minneapolis, St. Paul, and they have an area up there called Teepee Town, and I've never seen anything like it. Native Americans just lying around just drunk as skunks all over the streets. You know what I mean? People just drive by and do their thing.

But all of a sudden, when the old darkies move in out of Somalia or Sudan or Eritrea or Ethiopia, oh, it's a different story. You know what I mean? We've got to take care of these people. It was unbelievable.

I asked my cousins up there, I said, what about the Natives? These poor devils, rightly or wrongly, that's their home. Why aren't you looking after those people first? There you go. Screw them and the hordes they rode in on.

I don't have any love for Natives. I don't want them here. They are refugees from Asia, and they can go back to Asia or right into the ocean where the land bridge was.

They do nothing to contribute to our society. They double-dip in white law and Indian law, and I have personally had experience and seen these reservations in passing, of course, because I won't enter them. And they're shitholes.

They're literally third-world nations, and this is the way these people choose to live. They even have in Winnipeg, Manitoba, where I was living before, they have an urban reserve in the north end of the city, which is basically a total ghetto where they can more or less do whatever they want in there. And they're just sort of contained within those borders, all the boulevards and so on, just sort of separate boulevards and rivers, just keep them separated into their own section.

They literally sold their rights to their own land for fire water. I mean they lost out already, so it's a little late to be pissed off about it. I guess when they sobered up, they got angry.

I'm sorry? I have a lot of old blankets here. We can send them. I love it.

That was a bit wicked. They're probably won over most people's heads, but I'm not going to explain it. Nah, it's funnier that way.

Well, I heard that actually they had been given rubies for the land as well, not just like alcohol and so on, that they were given these bags of rubies. Oh yeah, pretty wild too. It still has its value, so they decided that was good enough consideration for them, so I guess that's the way it is.

Well, they spent the last 200 years complaining about it. It's not the white man's fault. They made treaties, and in the white man's world, that's an agreement.

You fulfill your agreement. That's the way it works, and they reneged on it, hence the term Indian giver. Not that it necessarily came from this particular context, but it's true.

It's absolutely a relevant statement. Yeah, well basically their sense of law is just might is right, the law of the jungle. I heard that on their reserves if only there would be less of them.

Yeah, they bury the bodies of those that they killed too. Just like they bury the bodies of their children that they don't want when they abort them. They just throw them into the dumpsters and stuff like that.

Classy. Not really shocking though. I mean this is the same group of people that was totally willing to rape, murder, capture, and scalp white people as they were just crossing peacefully.

So, I mean... Oh, go ahead. I was just going to say that I had seen some of these redskins like crack each other's skulls into the ground just in their fights. They just basically smash each other's skulls right into the concrete and don't seem to be affected by it.

They just get up and leave and say, fuck you, eh? And then just go away. Go back to their fire water. I'm an archaic.

And I think that's the way these poor Native Americans that their names are misused for sports teams. I mean here, for example, in Washington, D.C., you have the Washington Redskins which is terrible. It's a terrible thing.

It has a Hebrew owner. So, I think we should change the name to the Washington Yidkites. You know what I mean? That sounds good.

I thought that would be a better name. Wait, what about the Washington Wagon Burners? I like that a lot. There goes the neighborhood.

Yeah. Well, you know, let them get mad. What are they going to do? Just agree to more whiskey and go back to their reservation? Oh yeah, I should tell you too.

One incident that I had, I had to do security work in the middle of the night in this hotel. And these Redskins had their reserves flooded by some flood probably through chemtrails or whatever the case. And so they were all staying in this hotel and they were getting like $50 a day for food.

And they just left like huge plates of fruit and food just full of flies and so forth. And they'd be drinking all over the place and don't even care. They just get all this for free.

That's like as much money as I paid for food for a whole week. Well, right. And that's what I was mentioning.

You know, all racial slurs aside, even though they're fun, is the idea that these individuals are allowed to exist in two worlds. They're not just limited to their reservation. There's tribal police and tribal government, etc.

They have all of this set up, hospitals, schools, etc. So they have a self-contained community. I mean, in theory, they have what we whites want.

We want a reservation for white people where we have our own laws and our own borders and they're sovereign. The problem is that these Indians decide that they're going to leave their reservations and cause hate and discontent in white man's land. Then they're subject to white man's laws, but they don't ever have to be prosecuted via white man's laws.

They call the tribal police. The tribal police let them off. There's this new law that had been instituted that reduces the sentence of redskins just because they're redskins.

So they actually get a reduced sentence or something. I forget what it's called, but it's some legal decision where they don't even actually have to pay the full penalty even in the sense of usually the sentences are reduced for non-whites for probation and stuff, but even that, they reduce that also. So it's like a double reduction.

So they can just revolve around in the revolving door injustice system and do whatever they want. Then they can just recidivize, if that's the word, just keep going back in, don't care. So it's pretty disgusting double standard that they have.

Of course, they get their free money and their free land and fishing rights and school and free jobs and everything else. So basically just live a luxury life at the expense of white people who do all the work. Definitely.

Definitely. One thing I did want to do though before... Oh, it looks like we might've lost Kevin and I'm not sure why. Maybe he had a service interruption.

Kevin, are you still there? Okay. I did want to get our other caller. Hopefully we'll be able to get Kevin back on before the end of the program.

Give our other caller who I spoke to just briefly and is also from Canada. Maybe you guys can interact a bit and he has a question or a comment. So 613, you are live.

I believe you introduced yourself as Mark. Hi. Hello.

My name is Mark. I'm a citizen of Canada and I would just like to make a disclaimer. The opinions and comments mentioned on your show do not necessarily reflect my opinions or comments and I would just like to say that I'm not a racist but I do care about people.

I care about white people in South Africa. I'm a political activist for South Africa even though I'm Canadian. I'm terribly concerned with the genocide against the white Caucasians in South Africa.

I have friends who are... Oh, definitely. I mean, I'm giving an example where there's a horrific abuse in a large scale. Right now, we have in South Africa our brothers and sisters who are white Caucasians, the white farmers we've lost already over 90,000 have been murdered, raped, murdered, tortured simply because of the colour of our skin.

I'm against... I'm against racism and what is happening is a reverse apartheid to the worst degree. When South Africa was under apartheid, which ended 28 years ago, the blacks were very well treated in South Africa. They had excellent universities, medical care and jobs.

Now, what's happened is that the white community, although they meant well to share power, it was a huge mistake by allowing the non-white vote. Keep in mind, remember that the whites were a minority in South Africa and by giving up their exclusive authority to govern, they are now a minority being severely persecuted. The blacks were actually better treated under apartheid than now and I'll give you an example.

That's not my opinion. The Zulu king of South Africa six months ago said publicly and even to President Ramaphosa who is the president of the African National Congress, which is the ruling governmental party in power, the ANC in South Africa, he had said to the government and the people that the black people as a majority were better off in employment, health and services under apartheid than post-apartheid and this is a fact because actually the employment rate for blacks was very, very high during apartheid but now in a post-apartheid the employment rates are very, very low and what's happening is that the whites are being extremely discriminated against. Anything and everything that is going wrong in South Africa, the racist president and the racist EFF which is Economic Freedom Fighters and the racist I think it's actually Economic Freedom Front EFF Malema Malema who is the head and he was elected to sit as an EFF member of government, he is calling for the killing of whites and that is so wrong.

It is so wrong. That is basically what they are on the verge of doing here too in Canada using the redskins to do that the same as they did the blacks there and in America they are using the blacks and the mestizos to do that to the whites there to advocate for that sort of replacement agenda or genocide agenda. What is happening in South Africa is that the blacks are driving off the farmers off the land illegally and they are murdering on a wide scale basis.

There is ample video evidence showing individuals white people driving their cars in South Africa and black people attack them and murder them. This is happening. In the States and Europe there are large numbers and concentrations of them.

How many white people are killed in South Africa? There is a large number black people killed in South There is a large of black killed South is a large number of black people killed in South Africa. There is a large number of black people killed in South Africa. There is a people killed is a large of people killed in There No, I don't care.

You're being discriminated against. I'm only concerned with the white race. I mean, this is a, we're pro-white.

The relevancy, and I understand where you're coming from, but the reality is, is our race is a stone's throw from extinction. Those other races that you mentioned are far, far from it, and they are acting directly under the influence of Zionist Jewry and our Zog-occupied government to push us out of existence. I mean, definitely, South Africa, Rhodesia, these are prime examples of what could be, but we're already there.

We just haven't had the open civil war occurring in the streets. But this type of apartheid, post, excuse me, post-apartheid-type style government is exactly what we're seeing. Yeah, and when you- And when you had to do with that Ahmaud Arbery case, they're starting to use that as a justification to agitate for more black on white attacks.

Well, I want to mention one thing that may interest your viewers, is the fact that the American government has given millions of dollars to South African government, as well as the Canadian government. The Canadian government under Trudeau, last year, for example, he gave $20 million to the government of Ramaphosa in South Africa. They're supposed to be- Did your government honor refugee status? And it just simply went nowhere other than lining the corrupt political politicians' pockets.

And so I think that the Americans and Canadians need to tell our respective governments to stop giving or sending money to South Africa. Well, they're not going to do that because that's the whole agenda. That's the whole agenda.

Well, and telling them to stop is not going to do anything. They've been working up to this for as long as our countries have been in existence. Go ahead, sorry.

And since the fall of apartheid, we cannot differentiate between Johannesburg, South Africa, and Detroit, Michigan. Two- Huge difference. We can't differentiate.

Two totally different situations. When you look at it, they both look like bombed out countries that have been like striped with civil war and chaos, boarded up buildings, bodies in the streets. It's really Detroit and Michigan and Johannesburg, South Africa, really, you can't tell the difference.

I know a lot of Christian missionaries have worked in those places, and they told me that they can't tell the difference because it's so chaotic and gone back to primitive ways. One of the ways it goes back to primitive ways, if you look at Dearborn, Michigan, it's totally completely Muslim dominated now. When you go through Dearborn, Michigan, you swear you're in the Middle East or something.

And this is a threat. The Islamic faith is a severe threat to the people of Canada and North America. Well, basically, the Jews have said that it's the iron broom that they're bringing in to sweep away the whites.

Even rabbis have said that explicitly. So the real danger is the Jews who bring them in, and all the white race traitors who enable them to come in. They're the main problem.

The Muslims wouldn't be a threat if they weren't allowed in the country in the first place, and that's the cause of their being here is Jewish supremacy, the Zionist Jews, whatever you want to call them, and then all the liberals and Zionist Christians who enable them to come in, probably because they want to create that chaos in the first place, and they want to throw the white population, the blue-collar whites, against the Muslims and foment war and chaos. And then they can dialectically impose their order on top of that and justify quelling unrest, quote-unquote, which means bringing in United Nations troops with, you know, Russian troops with United Nations uniforms on or something like that to just go around and mop up anybody they don't like, calling them a dissident or a terrorist or something. That's what they've called me, too, in this case, is basically a terrorist and so forth, trying to portray me that way.

The United Nations is a threat to world peace. The United Nations wants a one-world government, and it's very satanic, quite frankly. Well, it's Jewish, basically.

It was created by Jews from the beginning. I mean, there's no point in phoning up the South African embassy. I mean, I bought a company from a South African diplomat, and the first thing he did was when Mandela came into power, he just, he never went back to South Africa.

He just claimed political asylum in the United States and eventually became an American citizen. And once he got his American passport, then he went back and visited, and he was telling me, you know, that, you know, even years and years afterwards, you know, they're telling you at the airport, don't go down this road. If somebody jumps out in front of you, don't stop and all this, and he's pretty much a left winger as well, considering, it was just sort of strange considering he saw what's happened over there.

But I've done many, many shows with South African guests on my shows, and I'm actually Thursday, I'm on a South African show over there. So I do cover an awful lot, but you're wasting your time contacting the embassies and stuff like, you know, especially the South African embassy. And also, most politicians in this country, you might as well, you know, bitch and complain about Israel and South Africa.

They're not going to do a thing. You know, it's, I don't know what the answer is for South Africa. I think they're an individual country, you know, I mean, they just carve out a part, you know, do what Israel did to Palestine.

I mean, that's what I think that's the only chance whites got. Or they could do what the Portuguese did in Angola and so forth and have a civil war and so on, or try to foment it, and then they could sit back and let all the niggers go at it and kill each other. And then they could, you know, do whatever they want.

Yeah, well, they're sort of doing it at the moment as well, but also, unfortunately, the blacks versus whites, the blacks versus blacks, already it just spills out into other areas. I mean, you know, we also mentioned about the king of the Zulus, you know what I mean? That was an old story from a year or two years ago. He's absolutely right.

You know, he said, you know, this is out of order, you know, but the communists, the ANC, they're trying to destroy the Zulu nation again, because, you know, the whites, the Zulus, yeah, they're standing up to the black South African government. I mean, this is how clever the leader of their youth leader is, the ANC. He went to Oxford on a Rhodes Scholarship, and when he was there, this is how intelligent this black bastard is, excuse my language, right? He complained that there was a statue there to Cecil Rhodes, and he didn't realise that Cecil Rhodes and his Rhodes Scholarship were one of the saints, and he got to Oxford.

Right, that's the typical case of irony right there. Unbelievable. That they get everything for free, just because they're not white, and then they somehow blame white people and think they're entitled to more, when the very notion of being entitled to anything, in terms of the fruits of white people's society, is white people themselves, who have stupidly given them names, mainly because of Christianity, and because of liberal values, which has enabled them to have soft and bleeding sentimentalist hearts, to basically screw their own people over in the name of humanity and various other meaningless words, which are just, you know, indoctrinated into the minds of whites by Jews, and their ideologies they've created, so that they can use the whites to bring about their own destruction through these insane, universalist, egalitarian value systems, that are basically a cancer of the mind, for the most part.

If they want to take us down, well, we're going to take western civilisation with us. They cannot exist without us. There's no point to this earth if we're not on it, because we're the creators of everything on this earth.

Without us, there's nothing. Exactly. But I mean, you know, Jeremy Corbyn, who was the leader of the Labour Party, openly boasts about his time working with the South African Communists, and he'd be driven around with Jews in the back of the car, and you know what I mean? And they'd be going through police checkpoints and stuff like this, and the black driver would be driving them around.

And of course the South African police at the time just thought it was a black chauffeur with a couple of white guys in the back, but in fact, the Jew was actually working for the black guy who was actually the Communist. But this is Jeremy Corbyn. I mean, this is when the ANC, these bastards were letting off bombs, blowing up people and what have you there in South Africa.

So this is the politicians. This is the politicians. Nobody in Great Britain, Canada, Australia, you know, maybe the odd one or something, nobody says a thing about what's happening to the whites.

I mean, Yam wants to be on his show, and he's welcome here any time. He might come visit and what have you. Him and I've met many men now.

Yeah, exactly, yeah. Yeah, I was supposed to be on his show, but then he never had me on there for some reason. Right, but he's been a good guest.

But I've had quite a few different lawyers and pastors and freedom fighters on my show as well. What is your show anyway? I think I've heard of it before. Well, my show doesn't exist because I got badly doxxed about a month ago, and we lost our platform.

But it's The Right Voice, and we'll be up and running again fairly shortly. I'm just waiting on some bits and pieces of the verdict out there. So yeah, we were up 165 shows, five years, and we were The Right Voice before, and we got taken down.

It hasn't really hurt me at all, because I've been waiting for it for a long time. And actually, in a way, it's actually sort of taken off my shackles. You know what I mean? Do you have a website for that show? We do, but it's closed because the archives were one of the things that was being used against us.

Okay, so you're being charged or something? No, no, and I'm not being charged at all. I mean, I just got my security clearance back as well, which I lost after 9-11. So I've got to go on fairly serious background checks and everything else for various reasons.

And at least in America, we still have the First Amendment, even though we're fighting to hang on to it. And the First Amendment and the Second Amendment basically go hand in hand. Yeah, well, in order to have free speech, you have to have firearms.

It was one of the first American shows that I was privileged to be a guest on, which kind of got me into the whole thing of doing radio shows, which was The Right Voice Radio, which gave me the confidence to do this show and do my own show. Finally. Thank you.

You know, it was quite a run for our money, and it's not over and done with yet. But, you know, for various reasons, I'm just hanging, hanging. We'll see.

The show might start tomorrow. You know what I mean? It might be a month. Who knows? There's various reasons.

But the good thing is, like I said, there's no good thing that obviously, in my particular neighborhood and everything else and things like this, and I don't rely on, they can't really hurt me for money or anything else. But everybody knows my beliefs anyway. And I would say if people, you know, I mean, if you drive past my house and you see all my rebel flags flying, you've got a pretty good idea.

And, you know, I mean, you walk to my door and there's like little rebel flags and there's like NRA stickers and I'm always packing a gun. So most people are pretty aware of my beliefs, that's for sure. But, you know, financially, you know, who knows? You know, I mean, I've got all different, there's all sorts of different things here.

I mean, the only thing I've just done recently is install cameras, which is something that's come down. Yeah, just a little bit. I mean, I'm not really bothered.

It's a backup, you know, and actually there's something stupid which they did about doxxing me, right? Because obviously we contacted the authorities, you know, the federal authorities now and the local police authorities. The reason is to cover our arse. But the thing is, because they've gone public and said to put all my details out there, I'm scared.

Do you see where I'm going with this? I'm really, really scared. If they come after me, I'm going to have to possibly defend myself. But of course, in this country, if I'm really, really scared, I could use my gun.

You know what I mean? Right? Yeah, but in this country you can't do that. In this country, you get, you know, maximum penalty if you defend yourself in any way but with guns. There have been people who have been arrested and so forth who are just trying to defend themselves against guns, you know, Redskins raiding their farms with guns.

And yeah, so that's why I actually prefer to be in the States if I could get there. Because I understand that dynamic. What I'm saying is the legality in Canada is very similar to American and British law.

It's very, if you're scared, you can use whatever methods you think are necessary at the time. You know what I mean? That's the thing. I'm really scared.

I was really scared. They scared me. I thought they were going to kill me.

You know what I mean? I thought they were going to, you know what I mean? They were going to do harm to my family. I thought they were going to come into my house and rape my little girl. You know what I mean? This is what you've got to say.

And this is what it is going to be. You know what I mean? If somebody comes around here and they start messing with me, it's not bravado. It's just that they're asking for trouble.

So basically, by them saying they're putting all this stuff out there, they give me a legitimate, solid, 100% solid legal reason to defend myself. And it's right there out in public. Yeah.

They've done it. In this country, you basically have to run away from your own house if you have a home invader come in there. You're basically legally obligated to just vacate your own home and leave it defenseless and so forth.

Well, it's just like how we just recently doxxed Evan Balgord. We got his house on Lavender Lane in Oakville, driving a white, what do we call that? White Ford Escape. We have his license plate and phone number.

I'm not going to publish it because one of the addresses we gave out was his dad. His dad is a lawyer. And we even gave out his dad's address.

We're like, yeah, your dad lives on 40 Mill Road, Oakville. Is that still your dad's address in case he wants to get his dad into it? You know what I mean? Just giving the enemy a taste of their own medicine. Exactly, yeah.

This guy has been harassing people and suing people for thousands of dollars. And we're like, yeah, well, we have your address. We got your phone number.

We know where your parents live. So think about that. I know the two main doxxers that came after us.

And it didn't take me very long to find out who it was. But the thing is, both of them live very, very privileged white lives. You know, if anybody talks about white privilege, it's these people.

You know what I mean? That, you know, it's like unbelievable. You know, it's a similar situation. Of course, they're all sort of combined with SPLC and ADL and all these other sort of organizations.

They make a business out of this. OK, they're doing very, very well. You know what I mean? These people are getting, you know, good salaries, all the benefits, you know, et cetera, et cetera.

These are not your antique folks you see on the street. You know what I mean? You know, with their, you know, with their black bandanas or whatever, you know, their face mask. That's a different type of antique.

But these guys are so well connected. They're connected to Bernie Sanders. They're connected to Hillary Clinton, Obama.

They're connected to Bloomberg. They're connected to the Pew Foundation, the Brookings Institute, the Washington Post, New York Times, basically American University. You know, these are these are these are how well connected these people are, you know, Black Lives Matter.

Well, it's like five years ago, Antifa published my address. And so Antifa like ran in front of my house and they were going to burn my house down. I'm like, I'm right here.

Come and burn it down. Come and see me. Me and my my ex and the cops came up to me and they're like, Antifa posted your address.

They're like, are you worried? I'm like, no. Like, Kevin, we know you because you have a lot of assault charges. And they said, if they come to your door, don't come outside.

They're like, if they come in into your house uninvited, you know, like try to kick my door in or anything like that. And they come inside. They're like, you can do whatever the fuck you want.

Basically, if they kick my door in or come in uninvited into my house, I could put my axe into their head is basically what they say. And they want me to write the like that Antifa, they're not going to because they're afraid of you. They're like, they're not going to come here.

But they they posted my address everywhere. They're like, oh, yeah, we're going to kill him. And one guy drove by us.

I was going to burn my house down. I'm like, oh, really? Why don't you come and say that to my face? And that was five years ago. And I guess what? I still live in the same house.

The what an epitome of the red mentality, all talk and no action. But I hate to say it, brothers. We have gone overtime.

We're actually about 15 minutes over. So we do need to close this one out so that we can start the next broadcast up. However, all of you are Chris, it's your fault.

I know all of you are welcome to call into the next broadcast and participate. The only disadvantage we have when we do an overlap like this is that other callers cannot call into the discussion we're having currently. So when we start the next broadcast, I'm more than happy to continue this discussion.

We just have to do it in a context where all of the listeners can jump on board. Did you have any closing thoughts, Kevin? Have a lot more topics to finish off next week. And I hope to invite the same callers on.

Chris and Loki to join us next week. We can finish off and finish off our discussion and go off on other topics. And I don't want to hold anyone up.

Yep, eight o'clock Eastern Standard Time. And yeah, we'll keep in touch till then. All right.

Thanks for having me on. All right. Good night, guys.

All right. Thanks, Loki. And Chris.

And thank you, Kevin. Truly, it's been a good show. I'm glad we were able to get you on.

And we're definitely looking forward to next week. Hopefully, we won't have any technical issues that slow up the process. But with that, I look forward to Siege Radio.

I think that's what it's called. You got it. That is.

Siege Radio coming up right now. Just about as fast as I can flip it over. We're going to be talking about the Turner Diaries, continuing from last week.

White Revolution. Oh, my favorite book. Only.

That's right. The only solution for our race in this nation and in Canada and in all white nations. So with that, stick with us.

And we'll be right back with our next program. 88, sir. And thank you.

14 words. White power.
