

the graham hart show with brizer interview november 2019

Hello ladies and gentlemen and welcome to The Graham Hart Show, me Bryser here on Cornwall Revolution and outofprism.blogspot.com where Mamie welcomes you to the best news aggregate site on the World Wide Web. It's good to have your company, folks. If you'd like to join us in the chat room, click on the HTML5 chat link on the top right hand side of the page, just below player of your choice.

I'd also like to welcome listeners of your folk radio, good to have you all on board. And I'd also like to make clear to all listening that I reserve all rights to my words, as do my guests. And our guest tonight, ladies and gentlemen, he's joined us from Alberta, Canada, I believe.

His name is Loki Hulgaard, that's the name he uses now, and he has said he's based in Alberta, Canada. He's had a tough life and he's been challenging the what he calls the JOG, J-O-G, the Jewish Occupation Government of Canada, and he's been distributing flyers, leaflets and everything with his various messages and trying to wake people up that way. And as such, they've been coming after him big time, and he's going to tell us his story and I'm sure we'll go into lots of other various things, too.

So without further ado, I'd like to welcome Loki. Loki, how are you? And thanks very much for joining us. Thank you for having me on your show.

Yes, indeed. OK, Loki, I suppose you better start from the beginning. A lot of people probably wouldn't have heard about you.

But you have a pretty amazing story to tell. I did hear you on the Radio Free South Africa with Karen Smith and Skalk there about two or three months ago, I think it was, and I was very interested in what you had to say. And I asked Karen, could she send me your contact details to get you on? So it's great to have you on here.

Of course, I was trying to get you on earlier, but then your Skype was taken down and all sorts of different things were happening, and we couldn't work it out. But thankfully, it's happening tonight. So that is great.

So Loki, I suppose, start off, where do you want to go? The floor is yours. Start at the beginning and then we'll take it from there. Well, basically, I'm just a Canadian citizen, I guess they call me, although I've never entirely felt like a member of Canada.

I've always looked upon myself as a European. My mother was born in Denmark. My father's parents were the pioneers who created a small town in northwestern Ontario in the woods.

So that's what I've always associated Canada with, this sort of like a pioneering white wilderness that was created by white people. But obviously, as time has gone by up to this present time, it's just become a consumer hellhole full of non-white immigrants and more or less an unlivable society. Of course, most people in this country like to pretend that it's a wonderful wonderland of love and diversity and peace and various meaningless phrases.

But for the most part, it's just a hell on earth. It's only going to become worse, I predict, as time goes by. And as their Calergy Plan is put more and more into action, more non-white immigrants, more chaos, more violence, more crime.

And then from there, more police statism, more spying and society will just fall apart and spiral out of control within the next decade, I anticipate. But as my personal circumstances, I was just born in the middle of nowhere in this country, in a very remote wilderness location. Nearest city was Winnipeg, Manitoba, which is about five hours drive away from where I was born, in the woods.

It was a nice community, lots of white people, the only other groups were the so-called redskins, those who call themselves natives or indigenous peoples in this country so that they can make their claim to being first and entitled to everything for nothing forever. So that was fine. I got along with them and didn't have any racial problems, but I was always racially conscious.

I was raised with the literature and culture of white people. The Ukrainian folk tales, the Scandinavian edda, Tolkien and various other valuable, meaningful culture. From there, never really knew much about multiculturalism, never really cared either because I'd never even seen a black person in my whole life until I was a teenager.

So I basically eventually left the small town where I was born, went to the bigger city. Even then, it was probably 80 percent white. So it's just like, oh, well, diversity, you had some interesting people from different places.

I don't have a problem with that. But then the more come in, the more they show their true colors, so to speak, the more you come to understand that they're not really very friendly toward you and they have their biases, their racial prejudices. But even then, it wasn't so bad when you were a small minority or a smaller minority.

In the city I was living in where I was taking school, taking philosophy in university, it was mainly white people and redskins. And then there was, I don't know how much percentage, maybe 10 percent or even 15 percent of those were not those groups. Of course, in that city, it's a heavily Jewish population.

It's sort of referred to as Chicago of the North, the homicide capital of Canada, basically a very violent environment if you can't buy your way out of the problems and live in your privileged community. Way away in suburbia, like the Jews do in their privileged areas there. So I basically became more aware of those sorts of issues when I lived there.

I had to live in the ghetto, I had to work in security in the middle of the night. I'd hear gunshots going off all the time. And so from there, I became more racially conscious, but I mainly became more conscious of these issues through just studying philosophy and acquainting myself with the culture and history of white people.

Nietzsche and Hegel and Aristotle and Kant, basically what they're trying to erase from history, they're trying to destroy the culture of white people and replace it with this disgusting globalist culture, identityless, faceless, raceless, luciferian, whatever you want to call it, democratic socialist, one monotheistic culture, I don't know what it would be called, global homo. And so basically, I came to realize that about the Jewish issue through reading speeches of Joseph Goebbels and from there, various other philosophers like Alfred Rosenberg and so forth, the National Socialist philosopher from Germany. And then I was like, well, the Jews, I never really seemed to have too much of a problem with them, but I came to realize through dealing with them that they were actually, you know, they looked upon themselves as a separate group.

They had a sort of generalized type of behavior. They were all somewhat similar in their behavior. I attended a private school for the last year of high school, which was largely comprised of Jews, which was affiliated with the university that I went on to attend, which was itself very heavily infested with Jews.

And the motto of the university was Lux et Florum, what is it, the eternal flowering of a true light, I think it was. So in other words, like a reference to Lucifer, Lucifer, the false light. So and this was right in the downtown with a lot of grungy, ghetto-y type environments around it.

So from there, I came to understand that, working in security in the ghetto and so on. And then from there, I basically said, well, what can I do about the Jewish issue? I mean, obviously, from all appearances, they seem to be having some sort of animosity toward white people. And so I said, well, maybe I should join the military.

So I tried to do that, didn't really work out, didn't much care for the environment there. It was sort of a conservator, you know, money bum thing. I never really supported foreign wars or going around the world, bobbing people or killing people.

And so I just got out of there. From there, I was left the city for about five years in 2011 on some business project with my liberal father that basically ended up wrecking my life. And then from there, I came back to the city and there was totally change from 2011 to 2016.

I guess this was the phase in the Jews game where they're trying to really wrap things up. And then I said, well, I've got to do something. What can I do about this? You know, this is becoming a very serious crisis.

They've completely increased non-white immigration into the cities. I was living in the country for about five years in different places for this business project and selling my grandfather's land, which my liberal father ended up selling to East Indians. I was going to set up a farm on it outside of Vancouver, but then he screwed my brother and myself over.

So basically I said, what can I do now that I'm seeing all this non-white immigration infesting the country of my birth? Well, I've got to do something. I've got to propagandize people. I've got to go around and put up slogans in washrooms and coffee shops and gas station washrooms and restaurants, you know, trying to alert people.

I've got to distribute stickers, put them up on stop signs, put them all over the place, travel around the city on a bike. So I did that. And then from there, in that city, I was noticing that I was having people tail after me in certain regions and malls and so forth.

I'd go into office complexes, put stickers inside the elevator doors, go from one to the other, one office building to the other. And then from there, I was getting some sort of undercover security, some Jews tailing me around. And then I would walk around outside at night, trying to get some fresh air where I was living.

And I would have a police helicopter sort of like spy on me and so forth, follow me around the city. Of course, that's probably what they do to anybody who walks around in the more bohemian, bourgeois, bohemian, trendy type of area that I was living near, which is at the same time had become a ghetto. So I was living in a ghetto apartment just before I came in there.

Somebody was hacked to death by a machete. I was living next to a red-skinned drug dealer on one side. On the other side, the other apartment, another red-skinned drug dealer and career criminal.

Right next door, I was living next to a house that looked into the windows and the top floor was a red-skinned with his homosexual lover. He would go through a whole bunch of those. He would be spying on me, screaming into my window, come on over and so forth.

So I had to cover my windows up with towels so that he didn't spy into my room. I had to put up wire mesh grills on the windows and barricade the doors and so forth so that these people might, you know, to prevent them from potentially coming in. Because at night out here on occasion, somebody coming up the staircase, trying to rattle on the doors.

And yeah, and then underneath there in the house adjacent, there was a race mixing couple. Some chubby white guy was a Christian with his Christian, Filipino, Oriental wife. And so from that point, I was like, oh, my goodness, I really should get out of this city hell and I should go and, you know, go get into farming or something and go off into the countryside and get into survivalism.

So I gathered all my gear and came here. But even then, I said to myself, I can't just, you know, hide away from all the problems in the world. There really is no escape and there's no way to hide because they're just going to come after you sometime anyway.

If they know who you are, they have some sort of trace. So I basically just continued with my activities, distributing leaflets and stickers around here, which is all discussed on the website, free-speech.is-great.net, which is the website related to the legal case. And when I was doing that, I was noticing, given that this town is about 30 minutes drive from a NATO base, I was noticing helicopters flying around the town, observing me.

So I would go from one side of the town to another doing this, either in daylight or even under, you know, not daylight conditions. And I would see on occasion police helicopters or maybe there were military helicopters tailing me around the town. And basically, eventually, I was caught for doing this through being excessively imprudent in distributing the stamped money bills, which I had stamped with permanent marker ink that said Jewish white genocide.

TheZog.info to give people an awareness, you know, a brief encapsulation of the general agenda of what was going on and why, because most people, you know, they think it's maybe liberals or whatever. Some people might think it's Christians who are bringing in all the foreign invaders and they might be a part of it, but they're not the ultimate cause. So I was trying to alert people to what was going on and the reasons for it.

So eventually I've been caught by doing this, paying people, paying shopkeepers and so forth with those money bills, face down, handing it to them face down to circulate it. But obviously that was very imprudent. Of course, at that time, I didn't realize that these sorts of issues were even very serious where they would be considered a criminal offense.

But in retrospect, obviously, I know that that's the case because now they're charging me for public incitement of hatred on several different counts. And they're trying to put me into jail for two years. And right around the time when this was going on, they had introduced something called M103, which is Motion 103 introduced by a Muslim in Ontario, which is just a sort of pretext for censorship.

I forget exactly the details of that motion, but it's become somewhat a part of their gradualistic aim of introducing legislation to justify greater censorship, which apparently preexisted that being called public incitement of hatred. So, in other words, by distributing messages that say immigration equals white genocide, which is a purely self-defensive message and is not in any way emotive, really, that somehow constitutes inciting hatred. I don't see how that could possibly be, but they'll do whatever they can to try to justify their censorship of people and to continue to facilitate their agenda.

And what it actually did, Loki, I'm getting bad feedback here now, it actually incited hatred of them against you. That's what it actually did, didn't it? Yeah, so it was the opposite, because all you were doing is writing little memes, I suppose, or little slogans on the money notes and you're spending them in the shops or whatever. And then they come after you because of incitement to hatred, but yet you didn't cause any disruption or any riots or anything like that.

In fact, all the grief that was given was given to you. Right, exactly. Basically, the media was slandering me quite a lot, and that's referenced on the website there, free-speech.is-great.net. And if you do a basic Google search of my name or a search on any reliable search engine like startpage.com, then you can discover the obvious, slanderous presentation in the media of me because I did have firearms in my place that were improperly stored.

And so when the police obtained a search warrant with admittedly questionable grounds of legitimacy to break into my place, then they discovered that the firearms were not properly stored, etc. And then from there, they took photos of those firearms and spread it out all out in a big spread as if it were like a drug bust or something or as if it were some sort of heinous criminal act and said, hater arrested for whatever the case, distributing material against Jews. I don't remember exactly what the captions of their papers were, but they're basically doing whatever they can to try to build this case up to be a precedent-setting case to portray me as if I were somebody who had any intentions of going around committing false flag terrorist acts like they've staged so many times.

You know, these false flags where they will either mind control somebody as a Manchurian candidate, or they'll be one of their operatives, an Assad agent or something, if the event even occurs at all. And then that person will be portrayed in public as if they were some sort of white supremacist hater who wants to kill all sorts of Jews. And then the Jews will be able to portray themselves as victims and hide behind the facade of victimhood, which is, of course, a complete facade, since they're the ones who are orchestrating implicitly, but not explicitly, a genocide against white people through replacement-level migration, which pretty much is the most obvious thing at this time.

But most people should be able to see that, that they're the main driving force behind that agenda, which is easily provable. Well, I see a lot of hate speech directed against white European people from the Jewish media in Israel. And it's quite, it's fairly constant, actually.

All you have to do is just go and look at the Carets or Times of Israel or any of these ones. And every, you know, every so often there'll be somebody saying bad things about us, pretty nasty things about us, actually. But we're supposed to suck that up, it's no big deal.

But yeah, but here's a guy like yourself on your own, pretty much, and they come after you, the whole force, they get the whole machinery of the state to come after you and just give you a hard time in any way possibly they can. If not, they put you into some kind of, you know, government hotel for a while to try and shut you up and do all sorts of things. But yeah, you're still here, so you're not given up.

And that's great to see. And more and more people are beginning to wake up and do stuff, proactive stuff. And again, not inciting hatred or violence, but just putting out facts.

Right, basically self-defense is a necessity at this time. Yeah. And everyone's entitled to defend themselves.

That's what you call a God-given right, an inalienable right. We have it. You have every right to defend yourself.

I would say at this time, it's the right to counter violence, because they're the ones who are violating our rights to exist in our own territory. They're denying us freedom of association so that we're not permitted to associate only with white people in any particular physical space on Earth, which has easily been proven by Craig Cobb in North Dakota when he attempted to establish a white nationalist town. And then he had his house burned down, I think it was, and people had chased him out.

So in other words, even in a tiny town in the middle of nowhere, you're not permitted to even exist exclusive unto yourself, which is denying people's right to freedom of association. And then you're not even allowed to speak about that, speak about your own dispossession and displacement in your own ancestral homeland, because then that would qualify as hate speech, because they hate it. And then from there, if you ever implicate Jews as the cause based on purely factual material, factual presentation of data that says the Jews are behind these organizations, they're behind these governments, NGOs or the government itself, and they're trafficking in these non-white invaders, then that constitutes anti-Semitism.

So in other words, it's a complete conversion of facts where everything that they do to you suddenly is projected upon you as if you were the cause, which is their logic, sort of a twisted, perverted logic. So in other words, according to them, anybody who doesn't worship them as the so-called chosen master race becomes an anti-Semite. So in other words, you're either a subscriber to Jewish supremacism or you're an anti-Semite.

And those are the only options you're given. You can't criticize Jews. And if you ever do, then that is the problem, not what they're doing, which is an inversion of facts, obviously perverted.

Yeah. Yeah, it's interesting to see that this is going on in Canada, because, again, most people kind of see Canada as a very kind of peaceful place. People are generally getting on with their lives.

And it's a nice place to live. Quality of life, as we hear, is generally good. But of course, a lot of that's all nonsense, too.

It is for some, but for most people, it's a struggle. But we're getting all this stuff, obviously, from the media that, you know, Canada, what a beautiful place and all the rest of it. And it's so diverse.

And you're also talking about the Indian people there. Again, there's a notion in Europe that the Indians are all very spiritually connected to the earth and nature and all that kind of stuff. But you obviously had a different experience, haven't you? I mean, pretty much.

It's more or less. Oh, sorry, what? No, we've also had Michael Goodrich, you've probably heard of Mike Goodrich, Thomas Goodrich, where he talks about the Indian wars in the United States as well. And that whole lie that the Indians are gentle, gentle people who just want to take off the land.

And actually, they were. That's a complete lie. Yeah, I know.

For the most part, my experience with them when I was growing up in the woods, I didn't have any problem with them. But of course, I was a naive young child and I didn't really understand reality or life. But recently, the experiences in Winnipeg, especially, which is a very heavily concentrated with their population, has demonstrated in a way their true nature, as it were, towards white people who just walk down the street.

They'll try to spit on you or they'll try to shoulder you on the way. I had a professor for part of one course, an introduction to theater course, which I used just to try to fulfill a requirement. And I'd gotten the worst grade I'd ever gotten in any course.

And the only justification he gave was because my papers weren't graduate school papers. But if they were graduate school papers, then obviously, why am I being given the worst grades possible for an introductory course? So obviously, his deliberately attempting to give me a bad grade was an attempt on his part to basically attack me, to give me a bad grade, to try to destroy my academic career there. And so I dropped his course, luckily, in time.

But of course, that was very inconveniencing to me. And recently, when I was there in 2016, just trying to get out of there, I was walking around the streets and I had some red-skinned young female student just sort of run at me on the streets on a crosswalk, just shoulder me out of the way, just make a beeline right toward me like I'm this target, this evil white man. When I came there from where I was living in rural Manitoba, I was going to reapply to the military.

So I went back to the city to do so in Winnipeg. And when I was there, I had enough money to pay off an entire lease, but none of the Jewish rental property managers would rent to me because I hadn't had an employment or record for a couple of years because I was involved in this project with my liberal father. And so they refused to rent to me.

And so I went to a government housing thing, which was staffed by redskins. And they went out of their way to harass me and insult me and try to basically cut me out. And they basically more or less rejected my application right away, which would, if I had not had a means to luckily find an apartment in that ghetto area, I would have been, I could have been on the streets or have to spend all my money on extended stay hotels just to live in that city.

So basically, they were doing whatever they could to try to sabotage me through that sort of sneaky Marxist, underhanded little way that they've been doing in South Africa, places of that sort where they, you know, they lie through their teeth and they pretend that, you know, they're all about love and peace. But then by default, if you're a white male, you're necessarily a target or the enemy. So they'll go out of their way to attack you in all sorts of insidious and underhanded ways.

But of course, with respect to the claim that redskins were here before white people, that is a fallacy, which is proven by Billy Roper in his book, Paleo-American Ethnic Diversity, and various other works which cite that Kennewick Man and various other remains were pre-existent in the Americas, both North and South, and that, you know, Quetzalcoatl actually means white gods, and that we were in South America as well as in North America way before, by at least, I think, 1200 or more years before any of these mongoloids came from Siberia. Yeah. And they came here and they slaughtered us.

If people look up on the Internet, on YouTube, it might be still, or Bitshoot it is, banned Mormon cartoon, it shows that white people were actually in the Americas prior to the redskins and that the redskins had slaughtered most of the white population. And those which remained were then assimilated again when George Washington returned to the Americas. You know, the last of the Mohicans and the Seminoles and various other tribes, they were actually white tribes and they were assimilated into the white population because obviously they're biologically similar or the same.

So, of course, they would be compatible. Whereas in today's society, anything that walks on two legs, that crosses over the border, so long as it claims to be a supporter of democracy or a supporter of Christianity, Judeo-Christianity, then suddenly it becomes equal. Whereas the white people, if they don't support that, then they become a devil.

And even then they become, you know, a devil or a demon, regardless, are basically cast into the streets of their own country, which is, of course, a completely perverse and immoral stance, at least in relation to a healthy value system. Right. So, you had a pretty difficult childhood, Logie, didn't you? Did I hear that your father abused you as well? Like,

I think physically abused you, though, wasn't it? No.

OK, tell us the story. Sure. He was more one of the typical liberal types, you know, one of those hippie liberals who lived for thrills and wanted to always get his way in all things, at all times, for the most part.

Just a sort of prodigal son who sponged off his parents through the whole of his life and had everything handed to him by his parents. So, I don't know what would be characterized as sort of a narcissistic personality type or a sociopath who basically does whatever he can to try to undermine others and belittle them, just so that he can pretend that he's a superior mortal. You know, he'll go out of his way to psychologically manipulate and gaslight and play all sorts of games, you know, so that he makes you think or influences you to think that you're defective or, you know, inferior in whatever way.

So, basically, that and his sort of alcoholic, I don't know what you call it, his alcoholic boisterousness or crudity, where he just sort of stand over you and mock you and insult you and so forth. And then, of course, not having much of a willingness to provide for his own biological offspring, because he wanted to control other people through money, my mother and my brother and myself. So, he basically used his money, which was in a way his parents' money that he got from his parents, to sort of keep us dependent at the lowest level of subsistence.

And then he never really educated my brother and I at all, never taught us anything. He was always away boozing it up with his friends on their sailboat or whatever else. You know, while we were living in a little apartment, he would take a screw and screw it into the thermostat so we could turn the heat up beyond like 15 degrees and 30 below weather, 30 below subsistence.

So, basically, just a lot of manipulation and harassment that threw my brother into the psychiatric ward at the age of 14, because he, my father, came in boisterous and drunken and my brother tried to defend himself. So, he threw a chair at my dad's head and then from there, my father called the police and then my brother was medicated and transported to the nearby city of Winnipeg from our hometown and woke up in a psych ward at the age of 14. So, he didn't even know where he was.

So, basically, just that sort of, you know, I'm always right, whatever I want, whatever I get type of liberal personality. So, that caused a lot of problems. But in a way that's sort of representative of a lot of that, a lot of the liberal, liberal baby boomers, they had a tendency, so it would appear, to live their lives for thrills and amusements and didn't really put too much effort in educating or raising their children.

Of course, it doesn't apply to all baby boomers, but just that particular demographic. Yeah, there's a certain sentiment out there, yeah. And what about your mother in all of this? Did she try and hold things together a bit or what happened there? For the most part, she was always working in a flower shop and she's still working in a flower shop.

And she's been working in that field since probably 14 years of age. So, that goes to show the contrast of a lot of people in this society. You have people like my father, who are sort of spoiled, prodigal son liberals from, you know, not necessarily rich classes, but classes of people where they have sufficient comfort that they can just amuse themselves and whatever the case.

And then you have people like my mother, who ran away from home at eight years old because her mother was physically abusive and who basically lived in relative poverty through the whole of her life, working in a flower shop and for 40 whole years. And yet she can't even retire because, you know, the nature of the system forces people to work to be alive. Yeah, it works and it works and you die, basically.

Basically, or until they kill you through allopathic medicine or whatever, or what is new with the radiation treatments or whatever other genocide attack against you, which is obviously what allopathic medicine is designed for is to fill the pockets of Jewish doctors and Jewish pharmaceutical companies like Pfizer, while they basically decimate the population of the whites, under the guise of helping. Now, when we look at Canada again, it's really only kind of come to prominence since Trudeau took over. Things changed pretty drastically since he took over, or was it always building towards that? So far as I can tell, it was somewhat of that nature.

But seeing the states, I think that's part of their dialectic. They have Elizabeth May in England, they have Trudeau in Canada, they had Barack Obama in the States. So it's sort of like a dialectic where they flip and flop between the left wing and the right wing.

So they'll put the right wing in for four to eight years and then create draconian legislation as a backlash against the progressive introductions of welfare statism and non-white immigration and so forth. And then from there, after they put the right wing in for that period of time, then they'll put the left wing in again as a reaction to that. And that will just further accelerate it and gradually, through that gradualistic process, that dialectical materialism of left wing, right wing, left wing, right wing, then they'll just gradually drag people into more and more slavery and worse and worse conditions and more and more police statism.

And so then they'll blame people if they retaliate and say, oh, you're not tolerant, you're racist, you're blah, blah, blah. So obviously that's what their intention is. And people being more naive and trusting in government as an institution, as a legitimate institution, so-called parliamentary democracy, they continue to vote when the reality is they're basically just supporting their own destruction and believing in false hope when there is no such hope in the system at all, because the system is inherently flawed and was probably designed that way from the beginning deliberately so that the Jews can put in a totalitarian government according to the protocols of the elders of Zion.

They say that they will eliminate the noxious poison of liberalism. So obviously their intention is just to use liberalism as a way of forcing people into agreeing to a more totalitarian government. Yeah, it is.

Yeah, it's the classic divide and conquer, isn't it? All the way down through the centuries, really. Yeah, Catholic, Protestant. Yeah, the whole thing.

What's your take on Trump in the US? Basically, I look upon him as just another controlled opposition Zionist. I've heard that he was actually a Jew, that his real name is Trump, D-R-U-M-P-F, and that, of course, he's married to a Jew. His two siblings or his two children are married to Jews.

Jared Kushner, the Mossad agent, is married to his daughter, and she, I think, converted to Judaism. And of course, Donald Trump has switched the US embassy to Jerusalem to try to fulfill these prophecies that they made up in their religion of Judeo-Christ insanity. And so basically, their intention is just to try to dialectically bring people towards this chaos.

I'm sure what they're intending is to create some sort of third world war between Russia, China, and the NATO powers. And I wrote about that in the manifesto that I had left for this case. My intention was to commit suicide after I'd been arrested because I got so tired of being marginalized, living as a recluse without any ability to involve myself in this society.

So basically, I wrote a manifesto and submitted it to the police because I wanted to get the message out somehow. I also submitted it to Paul Fromm, the free speech activist in Canada, so that he could, you know, give me some publicity or get this message out to people. But I wrote about how the Jews are probably trying to create a third world war and that they're just building up to that by trying to associate white nationalists or people who support white identity politics, even white survival, with Russia and with jihadism so that the Jews can then use their Zionist Christians to basically go after and maybe even round up and kill anybody who doesn't agree with their Zionist globalist agenda.

Yeah, so what I was saying is that with Trump, you might have noticed that this impeachment thing that's going on, all the people who are trying to push for the impeachment are all Jews. And it's kind of funny. I mean, he has surrounded himself with them from the beginning, but now they're all stabbing him in the back.

Yeah, I wouldn't even know, I think they just put him up there as a sort of sacrifice and a sacrificial scapegoat, because that's the sort of logic they employ, is always this sort of vengeful, vindictive, we're going to turn you into a scapegoat, we're going to project on you a certain identity, and then we're going to serve you up as a sacrifice before the public, so that we can associate you falsely with something that you're not associated with, such as, for example, white supremacy. Since Donald Trump is just basically a Jewish shill, then the idea that he would be a white supremacy exert, because he hasn't done anything that's benefited white people at all, he created red flag laws, which justify taking away firearms from people if they're called racist, if some Jew next door hears that you said anything about Jews, or they suspect you, or want to portray you that way, then they can rat you to the police, and the police can crash into your door and steal your firearms, and you're basically guilty before proven innocent. So obviously, they're trying to get the guns from the people through creating these laws, and they did it through Trump, just like they did through George W. Bush before him, the Patriot Act they created, so they could create these draconian police state legislation as a means of, you know, and then claiming that white people wanted it because they put in a scapegoat that looks like it's something pro-white, and then the white people will vote for it, thinking they're voting for justice or laws that protect them, but they're only voting for laws that disempower them, which is what the Patriot Act did.

So now everybody wanting to travel around on an airplane has to be rubbed down and massaged down and given rectal searches and whatever else, and then from now, they have red flag laws, they have, can't advocate boycott, divestment, and sanction of Israel in certain states, you can't speak about Jews, so they're already instituting, even in America, where they have constitutionally protected free speech, they're introducing the hate speech legislation and so on, and then from there, who's to say what they'll do, you know, extradition to Israel for war crimes if you ever criticized Jews, and then they can just torture you to death there, so you know what's coming. There are good signs coming out of Canada though, because there's a lot of people that I've interviewed here who are based in Canada, I'm sure you know them, Monica Schaffer, there's obviously Paul Fromm, as you mentioned, there's Brian Roo in Vancouver, and Frank Raymond, who we had on the show, is actually from India, he was very outspoken on this too, and of course one of the most famous people of all, and unfortunately no longer with us, was the great Ernst Zundel, and he played a huge pivotal role in my waking up to what we call the Jewish question, you know. Yeah, it's pretty sad, yeah, pretty sad to see that at this time, well over maybe 30 years later, after Ernst Zundel had presented more or less convincing proof that the so-called holocaust was actually a hollow hoax, and that it never even happened with Fred Leuchter and the trial of Ernst Zundel, and I think it was the late 80s, now still people are falling for this more of a psyop, this nonsense about the Jews being victims, but that just goes to show the strength of their media mind control apparatus, and the mind control that the people are under, people especially who are Judeo-Christians, who swallow whatever they tell them.

Yeah, yeah, and again they throw that slur like a holocaust denier, and it's a statement that David Irving came out with when he says, you can't call me a holocaust denier, because well he said I wasn't there, so, but I have an awful lot of questions to ask about the whole thing, right, and they don't add up. I would like to have a rational discussion with Jews and Jewish groups and whatever to talk about this. Yeah, yeah, they all understand that it's a lie and a ruse that they hide behind.

Basically that's their whole logic, or para-logic if you want to call it that, which is erecting a facade of victimhood, and then scapegoating others and portraying them in a negative light as a villain, and then getting other people to do the dirty work for them to go and kill them, saying these people are jihadists, they're islamicists, or whatever, and then, okay, let's go get them in the name of democracy, love, and peace, and you see that a lot with these Zionist Christian nuts. They'll always, you know, look upon you with this fanatical hatred and say, oh, I just, I wish you could come to Christ, you know, if you're a white person, and they'll throw you into the streets and say, oh, I wish you could only believe in Christ. So, in other words, if you don't subscribe to their particular dogma of Zionist insanity, then suddenly you deserve to die in the streets.

The people are basically no different than the witch burnings or the inquisition of the medieval ages, basically. So, they're the tools that the Jews used to try to basically enforce their tyranny over the world, and they're basically the ones under most severe mind control. Indeed, yeah, and of course, their so-called holocaust is the only one that matters, and then when we think of all the other ones, as you said, the Holodomor, you know, I think what happened in the Soviet Union and China, Cambodia, and then you can bring it back to my country, going back to what they called the potato famine, which was actually a genocide, which was the, which was a holocaust as well, because a lot of the dead bodies that people found, they put them into houses and they burnt them, because that's all they could do with them.

But we don't hear about that side of things, you know, we just think, oh, it was just a potato crop that failed, but we don't realize that it was a British crown at the time, just shipped out all the food on their armed guard to feed the soldiers of the British Empire. So, again, as I said, we're mortal people, we're beginning to wake up now to things, we're asking questions, we're not inciting hatred or anything to anybody, but we are asking questions and we would like to get some answers, and coming back at us and calling us haters and deniers and whatever terms you want to throw at us, racist, whatever, sorry, I don't buy it anymore, I don't do labels, you can stick a label on me, well, I'm just going to take it off and throw it in the bin, goodbye, okay? You know, I just want to get some answers to questions, see what's going on here, because people need to know what the truth is, and we ain't getting it at the moment, we've been just fed a diet of lies from the day we were pretty much born, so the whole schooling period, lie after lie after lie after lie. Basically, their main lie is egalitarianism, that there's no distinction between biological beings, bipedal biological beings, so-called humans, that there's no distinction or difference between them, and that it's perfectly fine to interchange them as if they're all interchangeable cogs in a machine, or economic units, that you can just substitute one for the other, regardless of their ethnicity, of their bio-spiritual character, which is obviously something completely distinct and singular, and if these people really cared so deeply about others, then why would they not advocate the preservation of these beings, which necessitates their being in their own territory? So, what these people are, they're actually murderers, these people who subscribe to egalitarian values, and advocate forcing everybody into the same physical space, that's basically a genocidal act, moving people around the world through, you know, forcing them, creating wars in their country, and then preventing them from preserving their identity and culture, is basically a genocidal act, which destroys their identity, destroys their culture.

I remember a recent quote that I had heard of from some anonymous Jew, I can't remember the name exactly of the person, but that first we destroy our culture, then we destroy you, and that's the sort of process, you know, they destroy people's identity and heritage, and that way they have no sense of identity, and from there they lose any understanding of their own value or worth as a people, especially when it's the opposite that's being done, it's not even a question of concealing the history and heritage of a people, which they're doing, but it's deliberately inverting it and portraying it as if it were something heinous or immoral, that in the name of some sort of moral goodness deserves to be wiped away from the earth, which is of course, you know, the exact implementation of that genocidal plan, make people demoralize people and prevent them from having any sense of regard for themselves, and then from there they can be softened up and weakened, and then from there their countries can be invaded by violent non-whites, such as Arabs or Negroes, and then they, the Arabs, the Negroes and non-whites can be incited to violence against whites by portraying whites in the worst light, and then from there, you know, just like they did in the South African colonies, they can use them to physically kill the white population, and then whatever remains, they'll try to, in the name of love, peace, and equality, mix together as their slave class, in accordance with the Kalergi plan of Richard Goodenobo and Kalergi. Yeah, and what's your take on the whole, the royal family and the Queen of England and the control that they have over Canada, because obviously what's come out recently, the whole Prince Andrew and the Jeffrey Epstein case, which kind of proves in many ways that these people, these so-called elites, whatever you want to call them, they're into, you know, pedophilia, and they'll do whatever they can to try and get out of it, but are Canadians still kind of feel that they've got some kind of loyalty to the Crown? Because I don't, you know, I think it's not just the Queen of England, it's the Crown Corporation, which is a Rothschild operation, which essentially is Jewish, so there you go. So she owns pretty much Canada, she owns Australia, New Zealand, and lots of other territories, India as well, other countries around the world, which is the former empire.

So what's your take on that side of things, and do you think that the reason why Canada has gone the way it's gone is because of that Crown rule there? That may be the case.

Canadians are more conformistic, more authoritarian in their mindset, more collectivized. I assume that that's probably attributable to the influence of the so-called British Dominion, but most people in Canada, they are opposed to the British Dominionism.

They, you know, they don't like that, they don't like the Crown, for the most part, so far as I've heard. Probably most people don't even understand that either, since they don't really understand their history. Maybe older generations do, but younger generations are largely not very well educated now because of the corruption of the education system.

But British Dominionism, I think most people seek autonomy in this country, and they don't want to preserve that historical tie, really, in any formal sense. But at the same time, yes, with your referring to Epstein and so forth, I remember somebody named Tim Reifat, R-I-F-A-T, who's often on Jeff Ferencz's program, R-E-F-E-N-C-T.com. He often refers to the Royal Family as basically a Luciferian cabal of pedophile cannibals, and that's basically, my opinion, what they are. They're basically Luciferians of certain bloodlines, and that these bloodlines, as David Icke said, are somehow related to reptilians, that they are somehow interbred, maybe paleo-historically thousands of years ago, who knows, with these potentially Nephilim or whatever they may be, these reptilian beings.

And the Jews are that, in my opinion, that they are actually a hybridized creature, that that's why they look upon themselves as a distinct species, because they in fact are distinct in that regard. That what makes them Jewish is the fact that they are bound up with this sort of reptilian DNA, and that they all involve themselves in these sorts of rituals. My belief is that they drink blood from blood banks, all the donations of blood that people donate to blood banks, that Jews actually drink that.

Abortion clinics, they consume aborted fetuses, that they probably involve themselves in torture ritual murder, as many works in Jewish ritual murder have proven over the years, such as Arnold Mises, my reflections on Jewish ritual murder in jail, My Irrelevant Defense, or Jewish Ritual Murder by Johann Eisenmenger, and various other court cases, Andrei Ushinsky, Simon and Trent, the Damascus Affair, around the turn of the last century, all this, in my opinion, conclusively proves that Jews are actually involved in this sort of human sacrifice. You see missing children posters all over the place, in every town, in every city you go, why are these children just missing? No child would ever go missing if you weren't cannibalized, tortured to death in a Masonic lodge or a synagogue, and their bones ground up and made into ash trays, or whatever the case, which is what a lot of these black magician Luciferians do. So I do not in any way think that those are far-fetched claims, if you examine the weight of the evidence in history, that these types are a distinct bloodline, they're obviously committing all sorts of atrocities, and it doesn't stop at pedophilia, it goes to torture, murder, sort of Dionysiac rites, I guess you could say, which trace themselves back to Dionysos, and this sort of mother goddess religion of the mother goddess and her consort Dionysos, and Cybele, or in Babylon it was Tammuz and Semiramis, and so forth.

So this is basically ancient bloodlines that have always had this same value system, and continue to perpetuate this value system. Now it's Gaia and whoever, Lucifer, are the mother goddess and the consort. This is discussed in detail in Bill White's The Tradition of the Mother, which can be got off Invictusbooks.com, it's not available for free, but that is quite revelatory of what's going on in this world.

Overthrow.com is his website. He's a political prisoner in the U.S., was one of the significant figures of the National Socialist Movement in the United States, and then was imprisoned. So I subscribe to the notion that those are all valid claims, and there's more than enough evidence to prove that, to a rational person.

Yeah, I mean, even speaking of David Icke, I mean, I don't agree with everything David Icke says, I mean, but I think he holds back on a lot of things, maybe for his own reasons, I don't know, but I think he does know quite a bit, and he did put a recent video out regarding the whole Prince Andrew affair and whatever, but here's the whole thing about the royal family and what they were about. And then, you know, he talked about Prince Charles' relationship with Jimmy Savile, the most notorious paedophile and necrophiliac, even, you know, and then also his uncle Lord Mountbatten, who was killed by the IRA back in the 80s, and that was, you know, I'm hearing reports from people I know here who said that the IRA didn't kill him because he was just a member of the royal family, they killed him because they found out that he was fiddling with children over here, right, that's the reason why he was taken out, so I just thought that was very interesting. But I just showed you that they're into this, into these ritualistic bloodletting sacrifices, particularly with children, and it is absolutely disgusting, horrendous evil beyond a doubt, and so we have to clean this up, and we have to expose it, and I think we're beginning to see the onion unravel a little bit now with the Epstein thing, because people are beginning now to ask some questions here.

Of course, that Prince Andrew interview that he did on the BBC was an absolute joke, really, but that's just a start, that's only, we're only just scratching at the surface a little bit here. Yeah, it doesn't really stop at pure child, adult sexual relations, that in itself is just a more G-rated version, even though it's extreme and evil itself, it goes way down to cannibalism and vampirism and torture ultimately, because that's how they invoke their demons or whatever, capitalistic demons, and they derive occult power through that means, and through drinking adrenochrome and so forth, or injecting adrenochrome and blood, because the blood is a life and occultism, as Giordano Bruno, I think it was, said, basically that's where the life force is concentrated, and so when they consume blood, that enables them to acquire the human energy that they themselves don't have, because they don't have the life force, because they are derived from these reptiloid entities. As to David Icke though, I'm pretty sure he's an MI5 or MI6 agent.

Could possibly be, I don't know, I have no evidence of that, but there's, yeah, I know what you mean, but he still, he still puts out, I think it's good for newbies to at least have a listen to him, because he does, he does put stuff out there for people to think about, you know, so we'll give him that for the moment, you know, so, but what his further agenda is, that's, you know, that's another, that's another day's work. Well, it's basically the same thing, it's always a globalist, egalitarian, race mixing. Yeah, he tends to kind of push that a little bit, doesn't he? He doesn't, he's not, he doesn't stand up for the white race as such, and he says, oh, I'm okay with homosexuals and whatever, as long as they don't harm me, and yeah, I can understand what he's trying to say there, but this is a, this is a disease, a virus that's infecting us all, and we don't need it, you know.

Well, basically he's the gatekeeper that's there to sort of give people 90% truth, or, you know, 10% truth and 90% lies, just like Alex Jones in the States, it's basically, you know, a sort of a popularization of this, so that they can shift people's attention from the reality, and they will then, won't be distracted, it serves as a scapegoat, or whatever you wish to call it, a red herring, is the word now. Okay, we've reached the top of the first hour, so we're going to take a music break for about three minutes or so, and we're going to, I sent Graham a song earlier on, but he didn't get it loaded up, but he's going to sing one of his favorites, one of my favorites, I think one of all of your favorites, and it's been, it's got a lot of publicity, and Graham had to deal with the boys in blue because of it all, but we're going to play it anyway, it's the one and only Hoax Train with Graham Hart, so we'll be back to you after this, folks. Get off the Hoax Train, the Hoax Train, the next stop is reading a diary, over in Amsterdam, written in pen and pencil, now there's a clue, you see the fire all white and dead, until 19, 1952, there was no stop, Graham of the world, wake up, you're on a Hoax Train, wake up, wake up, you're on a Hoax Train, a Hoax Train, Yeah, welcome back everybody, of course, the wonderful Graeme Hart, the producer of this show, and Hoax Train, an anthem that has reverberated across the world and has ruffled many Jewish feathers without a doubt.

So, our special guest tonight, joining us from Canada, Loki Hulgaard. Loki, welcome back. Great first hour, good information there.

Tell us, Loki, let's move into all the, you know, stuff regarding all the problems that you've been having with the law, so-called law, the Talmudic law, I suppose you'd call it that. Tell us a few things what happened, okay. So, you're writing little messages on bank notes, you're putting up flyers around the place, they come after you.

You obviously have been arrested, have you been jailed, have you, what have they done to you? Basically, later on in time when I was arrested, there was sort of flimsy evidence as to their justification for arresting me. It was based upon the payment for groceries with a money bill and the cashier, a Jew, in the local Safeway, which is the main chain in Canada for overpriced food. They took the money bill, they knew apparently that I had previously done this, so they held it up to their cameras there.

Even though there doesn't seem to be any video footage of that, that file, from the Safeway, because I had overviewed it with the lawyers, it didn't seem like there was any, like the file wasn't, was corrupted or something, or that it didn't even exist, that we should have been provided by the police in the disclosure. So, I handed this to the Jewish clerk, and then she, it was photocopied by the manager of the Safeway, another Jew, and then they submitted this to the police. And so, on the basis of that, they claimed that this was adequate evidence to monitor my place and so forth.

They claimed that they, once I had complained about the neighbours to the police, just like a day or two before, because the neighbours were staying up late outside, screeching and shouting, and so I complained about them to the police for a noise violation, because they wouldn't, you know, be quiet when I requested that they, you know, pipe down, because it was midnight or whatever the case. And so, when the police came the next day, they asked my name and so forth, and I didn't know anything about the fact that they had been spying on me. Why, I don't know exactly.

Probably because of the police helicopters chasing me around the city and, you know, gathering video footage on me, maybe, or something of that sort. Were they flying over your head, or how were they, how did you know they were trailing you? Basically, the layout of this town is sort of like somewhat of a circle. It's comprised of hills, I don't know what it would be called in terms of rolling hills and hoodoos, they're called.

So, basically, when you walk around the place, you're going up and down hills, but it's always sort of in a circular pattern, like the town is sort of a circle. And so, when I was travelling around it, through different areas of the town, distributing his leaflets, right behind me, there would be a police helicopter sort of like tailing me behind, behind me. Quite a few times it occurred.

And so, and later, the police helicopter, after I had been arrested and so forth, would a couple of times hover right over my house, so that I had to press my face against the glass window and look up on a very acute angle to see that police helicopter, you know, hovering over my place. But the police had come after with the noise complaint I made about the neighbours, and they apparently claimed that they had seen some stickers or something that they had later discovered when some of the police had got the search warrant to break and enter into the place here. And they apparently used that as a justification for arresting me.

So, that was the way in which I was arrested from there. They basically arrested me outside of this counselling appointment I had gone to, which the counselling was made a necessary condition by continuing to receive my $600 a month for welfare, because I had to fall back on welfare when I came here and retain employment. And so, after a while, they were threatening to kick me out, or cut me off of the welfare, the Jewish welfare workers.

But then they said, oh, well, maybe you should go to counselling, because I was, I was, you know, communicating to them in a sort of agitated manner that, you know, about these sorts of issues going on in the world. And so I decided to do that, in hopes that I might be able to, you know, find some means in the community to become involved in something through the counsellor. And so I was discussing matters with him about these sorts of things.

And he was a Freemason. And yeah, seemed to know quite a lot about these sorts of issues, sort of like a somewhat suspect person himself. And I was, I was suspecting that he might have himself, you know, dropped the dime on me there, but I'm not entirely sure.

He seemed trustworthy enough, confident and professional enough. But when I came out of that counselling session, the police ran up to me, looking over, oh, you're under arrest for public incitement of hatred. And they just clapped the cuffs on me.

And then one of them said, they just started looking in the bag, my bag, and then they find some more money bills from there. I'm arrested. I'm taken to their holding cell.

From there, I was basically kept in there for 42 hours or so. They say they're going to be arranging a bail package for me. I speak to the legal aid on the phone.

Legal aid is, you know, the lawyer with rural service, where they give you legal advice. And so I'm waiting for a lawyer there. The lawyer I end up speaking to is another Jew.

And he basically is speaking to the judge at the same time with me in like a conference, when they're arranging this bail package. And they're saying, oh, if you ever get out, he was saying he's supposed to be in my defense. And he was, you know, making sort of snide comments about if I ever get out type thing, sort of sinister statements.

So eventually, they gave me a bail package, meaning that I'm allowed to leave after about 42 hours of being up the entire time. And basically, I didn't want to eat any food there. So I just fasted and I just drank, you know, intermittent sips of the fluoridated water, chlorine filled water from the water fountain, because I didn't want to pollute myself with that poison.

So they give me conditions of bail for $4,000. And I had to have curfew hours allowed out of the house after 10 o'clock at night or before six in the morning. And I had to check in with the police every Friday.

And then from there, I was in this very tiny concrete cell for the entire time. I fasted and stayed. So I said, I was thinking to myself, well, I don't want to really live in this world anymore.

I get so tired of all the abuse and harassment and so forth. So I sort of decided at that time, I was just going to kill myself. So when I left, I had returned to my place and made the commitment to commit suicide the next day.

I had about six hours interrupted sleep, woke up, wrote the manifesto. For about four hours of writing, I just continually wrote about 14 pages or whatever it was, trying to get the message out, encapsulate what was going on in the world, what my views of it were, which is available on the website, which I've linked free-speech.is-great.net. And the manifesto that I had given to the police, because I just didn't care anymore. So I wanted to reach out to somebody.

I'd also copied it and sent it to Paul Fromm in Canada in hopes that he would be able to get the message out to other people. But then I decided, you know, without any emotion, really just sort of like a rational decision that I didn't want to live anymore. So I took razor blades and slit my wrists.

I was going to bleed out in the bathtub in a sort of stoical death. But then it didn't work and the blood was congealing. So then I looked at my wrists and I said, well, I'm going to have to do it again.

So I cut them again. And then it still didn't work. And from there, I said, well, obviously, this is something not desirable at all.

You know, something's telling me I shouldn't be doing this. Yeah, I'm glad to know. People are putting in the chat, glad you didn't do that, man.

I mean, I can understand how you felt. No, no, it's not the way to do things. No, I would definitely advise people never to do that.

You know, no matter how hard life is, obviously, you have to endure it regardless. And there's no easy way out. So just endure it and suffer.

But then when I had done this, I called the paramedics. They came there. One was a white police officer who was a confident person.

And then the sidekick, the Filipino officer, he was just demonstrating, you know, this is how you commit suicide. This is how you do it. And he was pointing to the anatomy, anatomical region, where they would kill you, basically, if you cut yourself.

And so from there, I got in the ambulance, went to the hospital to be patched up. And for which they charged me 350 bucks. And then submitted me to a collection station when I couldn't pay it later.

So yeah, and then from there, basically, a nurse, a Jewish psychiatric nurse was trying to, you know, entice me to recommit suicide or reattempt by saying, Oh, you never know what's going to be on, you know, in the in the afterlife or something, you know, trying to implant that idea in my mind is that there is hope if I reattempt suicide. And from there, I was also then sat down while I waited to have my, or when I after I had my wrists sewed up by a competent South African doctor that they had on them. This Jewish psychiatrist, I told her explicitly, I do not hate Jews.

And then what I find out just recently, when I reviewed the police disclosure, after having waited like almost a year to receive it, it said, from the from the psychiatrist, Loki spoke to me about his hatred of Jews. So in other words, she deliberately inverted the facts and lied, representing me as if I said that I hated Jews, when in reality, I explicitly stated that I didn't. And then so from there, she records me saying whatever, and then just lets me go after that doesn't put me on the suicide watch doesn't keep me there, even though I explicitly stated to her that if I were forced to go to jail, I'd probably just starve myself to death, that I wasn't interested in having to endure that for five years or whatever the case might be the culprit.

And so from there, I basically was told to just leave just to walk out. And then I said, Well, I don't know where I am. And then another Jewish nurse was saying, Oh, just it's not far from your place.

And I said, Well, I don't know where this is. And then she said, Fine, I'll give you a cab voucher. So like, it was like this big demand on my part or something like that.

So anyway, when I finally got the cab, there was a decent, white blue collar guy who said he had been in jail before, that's not so bad. And he probably won't even go to jail, given the, you know, the fact that the alleged offense was so insignificant, and so forth. So that gave me hope.

And I didn't reattempt suicide. But at that time, I'm doing very well, I've done something of that sort, given the sort of agitated state that I was in, since I've been fasting for like 50 or more hours, it really, you know, wasn't really too lucid. But obviously, that was a bad decision.

At the same time, though, that's what I was the state that I was in at that time. Yeah. So the Jewish psychiatrist was basically demonstrating her incompetence for the most part.

And I made sure that I lodged a formal complaint against her because of that. Because obviously, she her duty was to keep me there on suicide watch to prevent any sort of reattempts. But she failed in that duty deliberately, probably because she wanted me to do that.

Later on that time, the Jewish welfare worker that I was involved with, deliberately reduced my emolument per month by about $100. So I had barely enough money to even exist. The police had taken all of my computers, my USB sticks, they had stolen basically about eight and a half $1,000 of my stuff and left me and yeah, I had a couple thousand bucks in money that they had taken, which I had saved up.

Because it had the stamped messages, the Jewish white genocide, the zog.info stamps. So instead of compensating me for the money they took for the value of it, they refused to do so the court refused to do so. And then I was just from that point on doing whatever I could to get the message out, reaching out to people and basically trying to find a competent lawyer who would just railroad me through the system because they were trying to from the very beginning, railroad me through the system as quickly as possible.

Basically, putting the pressure on and so on. But I couldn't find any lawyer that was not willing to take a legal aid certificate. Most of them had no willingness to take on the reduced payment.

Yeah, they're like that. That's what I figured out about the whole legal system and these lawyers or vultures or parasites like the rest of them. I mean, I think there's some, there's a few, very few, you can probably count on one hand that would actually try to help you, but they're hard to find.

Luckily, the lawyer I just obtained a few months ago, he is of that kind. He seems to be very concerned with free speech and is doing what he can to assist me in the legal process. In other words, he's doing a proper job, not like a lawyer which I had received.

Eventually, right around the new year of this year, who had previously defended pedophiles and get defended or tried to overturn the decision for the conversion of faggots to straights in the city. He had basically, you know, enabled or disabled a Christian organization from offering a service of conversion of faggots to straights through the whatever sort of legal decision. They're claiming that was homophobia or whatever it was.

I'm not too sure, but he had done that. So he was obviously a liberal, but I still extended trust to him. I assume that he actually cared about free speech, which he seemed to maybe to some extent.

At the same time, that itself is questionable because later, he was working with the crown to work out a so-called statement of facts, which I was to agree to, which is basically a plea bargain, where I was supposed to agree to various facts that I did this, I did that, that I was a willfully promoting hatred, and so forth, which is, I believe, what they have changed the criminal offense jargon to from publicly inciting hatred to willfully promoting hatred. So, but of course, I couldn't agree to that, because I that was never my intention to quote unquote, promote hatred, willfully or not, obviously, willfully not. So basically, I couldn't agree to that.

And then from there, I said to him that I wasn't able to agree to these terms. So he said,

Well, I'll go back to the crown, we'll get some new terms revised or devised. And then they had come up with some other ones, which are more or less the same wording, just omitting a few statements.

And so I said, Well, is it basically just the same thing as what previously? So at that point, he said, Well, I can no longer, because you communicated to me things that might be against your interests, evidence that I have an obligation to share with the crown that I can no longer, it's not within your interest to obtain me as your representative. So I can no longer represent you. And so that was what severed the relationship with this lawyer, who had wanted to, for me to agree to those terms for like a one year jail sentence.

And then from there, I managed to obtain another lawyer, which is going up to the present moment. But last year, around the fall, during the false flag shooting of Robert Bowers, this Pittsburgh synagogue shooting, which they used to justify shutting down Gab for a time. Gab.ai, the social media network, where Robert Bowers, or allegedly Robert Bowers, who, how do we know he's even a real person, of course, allegedly said, screw your optics, I'm going in.

Yeah, this phrase to claim that he's going to go and kill Jews in the synagogue. And then of course, in that same synagogue, I think it was called the Tree of Life synagogue in Pittsburgh, about six to nine months before they had an active shooter drill. So that was either a massive false flag or a complete hoax, one or the other.

Yeah, basically just, and I think they might have falsified the names of the people who allegedly died. They just took them from graves or something like that. Yeah, whatever.

Yeah. So they all do. Yes.

All of these events are false flags. And so when I was at court one day, the detective, he is coming up to me and saying, it's about Bowers. And so I think he's saying, well, that's just a false flag.

See, all I have to do is just Google it up on the internet, just type in the name of the person and false flag. I probably get all sorts of occurrences. Basically, the police helicopter incident flying over my place a couple of times.

Right after the case, there was people out stationed outside my house here spying into the windows in the middle of the night and so forth. So basically, they were sort of making me a black person here and there. But you seem to be surrounded by Jews.

How did that happen? I mean, I heard that six million of them allegedly died in World War Two. So what? So many in your little town. Yeah.

Well, like I said at the beginning of the show, this town is basically a Zionist enclave. It's one of their sort of safe spaces in the world that they wish to sort of hide away in to avoid chaos that they're going to be creating because it has energy independence and agricultural independence. There are farmlands all around and it's on gas reserves.

So it can it can subsist even in the midst of total chaos. I remember when I was researching it on the Internet, there was it sort of. And of course, Christians, Zionist Christians look upon Jews as their chosen people, their master race.

So they subscribe to their Jewish supremacist ideology. I think we're back now, folks. Sorry about that.

We lost a few minutes or five or six minutes there. I don't know what it was. If you can let us know if you can hear me, please, in the chat room, that would be great.

Just let me know and then we'll continue. Yes, we can be heard. That's great.

OK, sorry about that, Loki. Yeah, you know, this happens. I'm sure this happens with you a lot, too.

Any time you try to talk, we get they try to hijack us a little bit and try to take us down. But it's getting interesting there, Loki. You're talking about a small little town you're living in.

It's Zion Jew Central. Pretty much. This sort of thing happened when I was on the interview with Stoltz before on Radio Free South Africa.

They basically cut him off and prevented him from even connecting like multiple times. And then you have to basically leave altogether. But yeah, just to continue on with that point about the town, Medicine Hat, Alberta.

If people can look that up, if they wish on the net and find out maybe an article that I remember discovering from the New York Times about how it's sort of like a safe space. So they're basically advertising to their fellow Jews, hey, here's a place to go and run away to before we create chaos. You can come and run here and then when we create the chaos that we're going to stage, then you can be the one to be to escape whatever sort of eventuality we're going to try to impose on the Gorian.

Yeah, that's my anticipation of what what they're intending, because here, most of the people seem to be extremely fellow Semitic Zionist Christian types, that if you don't subscribe to their particular brand of what they call Christianity, then you're basically a devil and you deserve to be thrown into the street to basically starve to death. Yeah, yeah, I'm hearing they're doing the same thing. I heard the same thing's happening in Argentina down by Patagonia way down south, where again, there's a lot of very good fertile land and mineral resources and whatever.

And lots of Israeli Jews are moving in there and taking over everything. It's called Planantina, I think it is. Yeah.

So it's quite interesting to hear that they're doing similar things in Canada in kind of remote kind of enough areas, you know. So yeah, that's very interesting. What I wanted to talk about, Loki, as well, is that you were arrested and you're well aware of the free man on the land stuff and, you know, standing up for yourself when arrested and you can ask certain questions and blah, blah, blah.

And I think you have tried to do something like that. There's two well known Canadians who have done that. Dean Clifford is one and another guy, Rob Menard, who I listened to in my earlier days before I kind of got wise to the Jewish problem.

And I found their information was very interesting. But then an awful lot of people were trying to use this in court, in police stations, whatever. And it just wasn't working.

It's very good information. But what's happening is that you're contracting or consenting all the way. So I've been, this is how I kind of woke up to everything was looking at law and legalities and this type of stuff.

And it's taken me a long time, Loki. I mean, the Jewish bankers here in this country are trying to take away my dwelling, which I bought, you know, because I fell behind with payments, whatever. And I actually had entered into an agreement with them, which they've accepted, which they accepted for about three years.

Then all of a sudden they turned on me and said, no, we're going to throw you out of your home. So I went through the whole court system and actually I didn't really need to do that. But I felt it was a good thing to do it because it exposed to me the lies, the deception, the corruption that is within the judicial system and the banking system, the most two powerful systems on this planet.

And there was little old me standing up against them and yet they couldn't do anything to me. And I'm still in the same house, still here. And in my journey, I have met various different people who are really scrutinizing this and looking at it.

And it kind of basically applies to everything. Everything is about consent. And the problem is that we are consenting to everything, even though we might not.

We are consenting to this bullshit system. The Jews are not putting a gun to our heads here. Either the government or anything, they're not putting a gun to our heads.

They're asking us to enter into a contract. And then when we don't, when we question it or if we say no, we don't agree, well, then they say they look at it as a breach of contract. And that's why they come after us.

You see, we're not kind of joining the dots here. So I found out through my various discussions with people that we bring it down to a few words and it's, I reserve all rights. So if you're stopped on the street by a cop who's accusing you, alleging you, alleging that you have done something, I mean, he has to prove his claim before he does anything like that anyway.

But he's alleging that you are committing hate speech or you're an anti-Semite or a racist or whatever. All you have to say, don't get into an argument with the guy. Just say, I reserve all rights.

And then when he kind of goes silent, you can just say, am I free to go? And that's it. Say nothing more, nothing more. Now they can try and hold you and detain you and all the rest of it, but you just keep sticking with that.

I reserve all rights. In other words, what you're saying is I reserve all rights that are given to me by God, creator, it doesn't matter who, what, you don't have to be religious here or anything because we have them. They were given to us at birth.

You have a right to life, a right to express yourself in any way you feel. Okay, you have no right to cause harm or loss to anybody, but that's what they're insinuating. But no, we haven't done that.

They have no evidence that we've done that. Writing a little meme on a banknote, Loki, is not evidence that you are inciting violence. And they know that, but they need you to consent to it.

Right, that's the reason why they wanted me to agree to the statement of facts, which of course, and any sort of agreement in those circumstances where you're being prosecuted for doing whatever it may be called, specifically in whatever specific country, inciting hatred or promoting hatred, obviously to agree to that implies that you acknowledge that what you have done is that, when the reality is that is just their semantic twist on the particular facts. But by agreeing to those facts, the way in which they're represented in their language, basically implicates you as agreeing to the meaning of that, you know, you are promoting hatred. But of course, that's the whole issue and the whole debate, that simply communicating a certain neutral fact or words, or a series of words, don't have that meaning strictly bound up with them.

Words are words, they don't necessarily imply any particular thing, because it could mean different things in the minds of different people. And not everybody is one dimensional and thinks exactly the same about all things. So it doesn't strictly follow from the premises that words of that nature will advocate for that sort of action or any action at all.

That is just what they wish to reify or make real by getting people to agree to this sort of thing. And by getting that consent, then they blame you for what they do to you. That's their whole logic.

Their whole occult logic is basically... Well, it's not logic. What they're relying on is you to testify against yourself. Basically, blame the victim, whatever you have to agree to what they're going to do to you.

You know, they release this information in various coded language or numerology or symbology. And they say, Oh, we told you what we were going to do to you. Now it's your fault.

And we can blame you for what we've done to you. Because we told you in secret language that nobody can really understand in any reasonable degree. But in their mind, that ex-fault hates them from blame.

That's the way they sort of karmic cop out. They think that they can escape their sins that they've committed by virtue of claiming that they allowed you to know what they were going to do to you before they did it to you. Sort of that speech building, bizarre logic that they fall back on.

Yeah, they're making a claim. Okay. So they need something to back that up.

And they're getting you to testify that that claim is correct. So that's ridiculous. So, you know, but they do it very cleverly with words.

It's a word magic, word spells, you know, spelling, spellings, all that. That's how they do it. And it's very clever.

And this is all Kabbalah, and all the sorts of how they do this. They're all black magicians. That's what their whole value system is based on is occult power and the accumulation of power for themselves against others and harming others in a sort of secret way.

Yeah. And like when Graham, you know, when he put out that video hoax train on YouTube, I mean, nothing happened for about six or seven months. And then I got a phone call from his wife saying that, well, they basically, they kidnapped him.

Now, Graham knew a few things because he's been looking at this for quite a while. And he kept asking him, is this a civil or criminal matter? Okay. And that's another very good question that you can use as well.

So keep that armory as well. So is this a civil or is a criminal matter? Right. But actually, by using my reservoir rights, you don't even need to go there because you stop it.

You stop everything right there. You're not giving your name, you're not giving your address, you're not giving any information out about yourself. Were you here? Were you there? You're not telling them anything.

And they can't do anything with you. They literally cannot do anything with you. And all down through history, we have consented to this nonsense.

Okay. We are the sovereign. All of us are sovereign.

Okay. In other words, we're king of our own domain. And unless we allow someone to conquer our domain, well, then we're going to be enslaved.

And that's what we have done. But we don't realize we've done it because they've used this word magic on us. And they use this trickery when they try to interrogate you or you go into a courtroom and a judge does this.

And you know, the way the courts are set up and the judge has got the cloak. Right. They're priests.

Yeah, exactly. It's like a black mass or something, you know. And I see, you know, people obviously haven't got a clue and they just consent to everything.

I've seen it here, for example, Loki, where people have literally given up their homes that they've paid for, you know, nearly paid for, or certainly put a lot of money into, hand over their keys to the banks because they fell behind. Due to the fact that the Jew bankers in 2008 crashed the system. Right.

People lost their jobs and whatever. And now we're not only seeing people losing their homes, but they're losing their families, their businesses, everything. That's obviously what our intention is, to deliberately crash their own system so that they can reset it in a more totalitarian manner.

Yeah. Agenda 21 is where we're going. Agenda 2030 is where the new, this is the Jew world order.

And they're all behind that as well. Right. Into this communitarian mindset where everyone is one big world community.

We're all one. Right. Nobody's got any homeland, any heritage.

No, no, no, no nations, no borders. We're all one. We can mix all the religions together.

We can mix all the races together. We can mix it all up. And we're all one big community.

And it's all decided by consensus. And of course, if you look at that word consensus, that doesn't mean agreement. It's just like, it's the mind, it's the herd mentality.

Right. I think that actually derives itself from ancient Rome and the god Consus. And what that is, is basically a god of disintegration or disillusion that everything is dissolved or reduced to the common herd and becomes absorbed into this sort of nothingness, which is basically what Bolshevism is.

Everything is reduced to the simplest terms. And so it just leads people to their own destruction. They have no integrity.

They have no individuality. They're not a person. They're just a member of the mass that can be absorbed into this mass.

Yeah, you're an expendable slave. That's the way they look at us. We're expendable slaves.

And yeah, we'll give you rights, but they are the rights that we will give you. And they'll try and take away your god-given unalienable rights. They're going to take them away from you.

If you consent, of course. Right. When you say, I reserve all rights, you don't consent.

You don't consent to anything. You don't consent to their bullshit system. Just leave me alone.

I haven't done anything wrong. There's systems based on the Noahide laws, which Ronald Reagan put into the Education USA Act, which is served as like a cover in 1980, whatever it was, I don't remember exactly, 1980 something, to interject, to inject the Noahide laws into the US, which basically nullified the constitution so far as I know. Yeah, it's also called communitarian law.

The EU law is communitarian law. Yeah, that's where it's gone. That's what we're seeing in the EU now.

Look at Germany and Sweden and France and Britain. And now even here in Little Old Ireland, we're nearly down to 20% of our population are non-Irish. We're never born here.

Most are from Africa. And just think of what's going to happen when the baby boomers reduce their numbers because they're aging. They're all dying off.

And white people are not having babies because it's too expensive. Right. And of course, then you have the MGTOW and then you have the Employment Equity Act in Canada.

You have affirmative action in the States that cuts white males out of employment so that they can't even obtain employment. And then we have the destruction of the nuclear family and the demoralization of white males in the media, the portrayal of them as devils. You know, it's all designed to work from multiple angles, a death by a thousand cuts type of procedure or method to destroy white people in every way they can possibly imagine.

But as to this town here, I've seen huge amounts of Jews relative to other places. They seem to be at least 20% of the population in this town. And yet it's represented as if it were 90% white.

But the reality is, given that most of the white people in this town are baby boomers, the young white is probably maybe 30% or maybe even 40%. But even then, when the baby boomers are dead or largely dead, then how many more Jews are going to be in this town? How many more non-whites? You see a lot of Arabs being imported and various other non-white demographics, Chinese buying up franchises and property. And then from there, they'll just start buying up the farmland when the Jews make it impossible for people to be able to pay for the farmland, the taxes, and they'll start taking it away from the white farmers and giving it gratis to Chinese and so forth as their replacements.

Yeah, indeed. That's what we're seeing all over the place. They're destroying Irish farming at the moment because the EU have entered into a trade agreement with South America where they're going to bring in basically tainted beef from South America, cheap tainted beef, which is going to destroy Irish farming.

A lot of farmers are waking up to it, but the problem is they don't know the bigger picture. This is the thing. People need to know what the bigger picture is.

That's right. I was avoiding some dots here and see who's behind all this. The ultimate cause of it all, it's not liberalism, it's not communism, it's not capitalism.

It's Jews behind it all, and they're just creating these fictional ideologies which become a reality through people believing in them and acting on that basis. And then they just play people off against one another in this dialectical materialist means of destroying society from within, and everybody's fighting against everybody else, but they don't understand that the ultimate cause is just the Jew behind the curtain, like the Wizard of Zion in the Wizard of Oz. And it's just an illusion.

All you have to do is pull aside the curtain. That's all it is. As you said, the Wizard of Oz, you pull aside the curtain and there's this old man behind the curtain calling shots.

And that's how we have to see it. We have to realize that this whole system, folks, is bullshit. We have allowed it to happen.

And we have to take that on the chin. I'll say it straight out. We fucked up.

We fucked up. And it's not nice to know that. It makes you kind of angry a bit, and you get a bit of anger because it gets you going a bit.

But we have done that, and we have allowed these parasites and viruses to move in to our society and mess it up. So we now have to take responsibility. We have to acknowledge it first, then take responsibility, and then we just reserve all rights.

And that's it. Right. That's why I posted in the chat, I don't know if it's visible to people, it says White General Strike.

White Workers Let the World Unite as Strategy of Passive Resistance and Systemic Withdrawal. That's one of the videos that I made last year where I proposed that people just withdraw as much as possible from the system. But of course, most people are incapable of withdrawing from the system because the rents are so exorbitantly high, and they have no means of really living an independent life because all the farmland is controlled by whomever, Mennonites, Hutterites, people who serve the Jews as their happy slaves on the plantation or Monsanto, so they can't just go and buy up farmland.

But if they could, then obviously they should do so. People should start organizing groups and living communally together in whatever larger domiciles or dwellings or in whatever way they can, and basically mis-escape the cities, go off into the countryside if it's at all possible. The countryside is the best place to be.

But again, what I was coming back to was that they sell us this nice way of living, this again, communal living, the whole thing about community, that's a nice buzzword that's thrown around, sustainability. It all sounds very nice, they market it extremely well, and people, even good, well-intentioned people buy into it, even the environmental movement have bought into the whole climate change bullshit. Now, I had a guest on last week, David Dubin, who was telling us there's actually a natural climate change going on which is down to the sun, not down to CO2.

Right, increased solar system activity. Yeah, and so let's look at all of this stuff. But they're trying to get us that, well, we have to pay more carbon taxes, we have to do this, we have to... In other words, we are paying for our own destruction.

Right. And not only are we paying for it, we are queuing up to pay for our own destruction. That's how crazy it's got.

Well, you can see that they've definitely got their mind control machines really ramped up through a lot of emotional propaganda, which is what they always use to mind control people, is emotionalization. They always create these crises or the appearance of a crisis, and then they get people to react emotionally to it, and they say, oh, here's a solution. We've got to do this, we've got to do that.

But who are they really referring to when they say we? They're probably just referring to you as slaves, doing something collectively, or agreeing to whatever false solution they offer you. When they refer to we, they just mean themselves, the Jews, because the Jews themselves are the only humans on Earth. Yeah, that's why they moved into that part of where you're living, because, as you said, there's good farming land, there's gas, and there's all sorts of natural resources and everything there.

They want to control that. Yeah, and they basically do all right. Dish it out, and then dish it out to us, give us a few crumbs just to keep us happy.

As long as you consent, we'll keep you just about alive, and we'll use you until we decide that we don't need you anymore. You're a useless eater, and go die. Right, that's exactly why people in this society, people with money and so forth, they think that they're secure and safe just because they have a certain amount of money in their bank, digits in a bank account, but that can be reduced to zero if they create an artificial crisis, or they create a war somewhere in the world that they can just create another Great Depression like they did in the States.

They killed off one and a half million people during that Great Depression. That was right around in the interwar years, and they can just as easily do that again this time, pull the plug on people, and then only privileged Jews in their privileged community will get all the food and everything else and hide behind their hired slaves, hired guns. You can see that in this town, too.

I've seen Russian Jews. I've seen probably Israeli Jews in the gym recently. I saw some Jew wearing a shirt that looked like a massage shirt.

It had Hebrew lettering on the back and so forth. So by deception, those shall make war. Pretty much, and the sad reality is so many of these white people, they're still trapped in their consumer paradigm of bragging about their money and their status, and they might think that something's been going wrong, but they don't understand the severity of it, what the Jews are intending to do to them, and I myself didn't really notice the severity of it until maybe 2016 or somewhere thereabouts, maybe even 2014, but before that, I was thinking, well, it's still going to be okay, probably, you know, just so long as you can hide away or something.

I'm sure there'll be a white elite who will do something about it, but most of the white people are corrupted elites through masonry and through the Judeo-Christian churches, so they're not really on Loki. They've turned most white people, not all, but I mean, there are people waking up, there are people who have got intelligence and can see stuff, but sadly, the majority of white folks are stupid, and we have to kind of recognize that and understand that we want to save, and we want to save the white race and the European race. We have to, because if we're gone, that's it, okay? We're the last kind of bastion against this nonsense, okay? But they have turned us into an idiocracy.

We're now moving to this, you know, and the one thing where I've seen it big time is the whole climate change stuff with the whole Greta Thunberg and all that stuff. Yeah, and saying that, you know, if we don't do anything within 10 years, we're all going to die, you know? So what are you going to do to save the planet? So in other words, impoverish yourself, enslave yourself to save the planet. Right, of course.

And they say, okay, carbon, we all need to get carbon emissions or carbon dioxide emissions down to zero, but we all breathe out carbon dioxide, so that's directed at us. Right, and carbon dioxide is not a heavy enough gas to rise to the upper atmosphere, so it can't possibly cause any ozone damage, and it's necessary for plant life and plant growth without carbon dioxide. There'd be no carbon-oxygen cycle, so there'd be no plant life on Earth.

So the very idea is absurd because, you know, dinosaurs were much larger than us, and they breathed out a lot more carbon dioxide than we ever did, and there was never any global warming catastrophes during that time either. There was the ice age, so that's an absurdity. But of course, if the environmentalists are too stupid to understand such a simple contradiction that if you fill your society up with endless amounts of non-white immigrants, then that just creates environmental damage, and that the main environmental damage in the world is China and India, and most of the third world countries, Mexico City, they've got 13 million or more people, it's completely polluted, basically the atmosphere is unbreathable in China, and yet these people, you know, this sort of Christian-Singh expiation complex, most of these upper-class white people who subscribe to environmentalism, they think somehow that evil whitey is the problem with this horrible consumerism, but the reality is all these non-whites are more of a consuming mass than white people, and white people are only how much of a percentage of the population of the world, not even 8%? Yeah, yeah.

Yeah, we have a big battle ahead locally, I mean, as I said, there's 8% of us left, and as I said, we've got maybe, I don't know what percentage of people are awake, but I think it's still, it's growing, but it's still very small, but you have a lot of people who, you know, who are concerned and trying to do the right thing, and they're being pulled in by this freaking bullshit, and they're falling for it again and again and again, and we just need to take it all back, take the power back, we're the sovereign, we're the, you know, we call the shots, not them, and then we have to lose that fear as well, because, you know, the whole world is ruled by this fear that, oh, if you don't do this, this is going to happen. I've let that go, Loki, years ago, the fear, I've let it go. Yeah, cease to hope and you will cease to fear is what Seneca said, don't bother hoping for the future, just do what your duty and do what is right, and I think at this time, it's very important that people, you know, spread as much in a way of physical propaganda as you can, as clandestinely as you can, because you can't reach people through verbal communication, because they'll just shut down, they have to just have this thrust into their face, leaflets and stickers and whatever, just statistical websites showing that Jews are behind all these sorts of things, and that it's a complete, you know, farce, all this false crises and false dialectic, they're creating the chaos in the world, so they can impose their own personal order, and people need to understand that all these crises don't even need to exist, and they wouldn't exist if it wasn't for Jews and their influence, and they're the ultimate cause of all the problems in the world, as Henry Ford said, they're the cause of world unrest.

Yeah, he was right, he was right, he was indeed. Okay, we're coming up to the end of the show here, yeah, we lost a few minutes, but we've gone over a bit, just to compensate for that. First of all, I have to thank you very much for coming on, I appreciate what you're doing, man, you're doing, you know, you're on your own pretty much there, but you're standing up, fair play to you, that's great, it's wonderful, and long may you continue.

Listen, I think you've lost the fear now, you've lost it, okay, I hope you've learned a few things tonight which you can use in your own defence, okay, I reserve all rights, okay. Yeah, I've probably written down, if it ever happens again, I'll be sure to use those phrases. Yeah, see how it goes, see where you go with that one, man, okay, I'd be very interested to hear back, because I haven't been in that situation myself, but I know that's what I'm going to be using if they ever come at me.

And Graham did it himself, I mean, he was held for nine hours in a cop station, and he kept asking if it was a civil or criminal matter, and they couldn't do anything with that one, and they had to let him go, but they're still trying to come back at him, because he might have said something in that interview which he might have contracted somewhere, he doesn't know exactly, because in a situation like that, the adrenaline is pumping, and you can say things, but he knows that now, he knows that now, but he got out of that one, he got out of that situation, but he knows now what to do, and it's very empowering to realise that they can do whatever, they can say whatever they want, and all you have to reply is, I reserve all rights, and it's beautiful, it's simple, so simple, the whole system is simple, you have to bring it down, simple Simon says, it's so simple, and see where they go from there. There are basically these wizards of Zion, these elders of Zion are just basically paper tigers hiding behind the curtain, and the only way they can even buy the loyalty of these people are through mind control, through creating illusions, they're black magicians, and their whole way of controlling the world is through mind control, as Jim Heath said in his book, Mind Control, World Control. So Loki, again, put out your websites, or whatever way people can contact you, if you want that, just put out whatever you need to put out, and then we'll close it out.

Okay, I'm not too sure if it's up there already, it was in the chat. Oh yeah, they're on my chat, yeah, okay, let me look back here, okay, there's the-struggle.net, okay, that's that one, and then I put in your bit shoot one, the white general strike, white workers of the world. I'll also give you another bit shoot channel that has some more of my discourses that I've written, I'm looking for a typist actually, if people wish to go onto the legal website, and email me, I'm needing a typist to type up my writings that I can make available for free to people.

Yeah, I'll tell you what we'll do, look, we'll get all those links together, and we'll stick them in the show notes after the show, so people can have a look at them. All right, so, there's a man, you take care of yourself over there, okay? Thank you for having me on your show. Yeah, thank you for coming on, and we'll touch base again maybe in a few months time, maybe into the new year somewhere, and we'll see where we go.

I'll be available anytime you want to help me out. Okay, Loki, that's great, thank you very much for coming on, I think a lot of people in the chat really enjoyed this one, because we touched on lots of different subjects. So, we'll close it out tonight, folks, thanks for joining us.

For our American listeners, I know it's coming up to Thanksgiving, so I want to wish you all a very happy Thanksgiving, have a great time, enjoy the holiday, and we'll be back with you again next week at the same time. So, until then, take care, goodbye.
