

jewish tactics 2

Good afternoon, everybody. Welcome to Kominsky Goes Ballistic, Behind Enemy Lines on speakfreeradio.com. My name is John Kominsky, and I have a returning guest tonight, Loki Holgard, and we're going to talk about ancient history and the history of something that affects us very profoundly that we euphemistically call Jewish tactics. We've tackled this subject in prior shows a little bit, but there was so much information about it that we have a lot left over, and I also want to apologize for that show because we lost contact with our callers, and I hope we're not going to do it this time.

We are going to discuss these matters in the first hour, and then at 6 o'clock, we're going to accept phone calls. The number to call in is, I'll put the one in front of the number, 605-562-0400. Let's see here.

After you put that number in, you have to punch in a code, 811-7272, and the pound sign. I'm going to repeat that one more time, 1-605-562-0400, and then 811-7272, and the pound sign, 811-7272, and the pound sign. Also, on speakfreeradio.com, we have chat rooms to comment on what's going on.

We have podcasts of all the great hosts we have on the network, and a lot of live stream programming that keep you informed and occupied for as much free time as you want to devote to it. Loki, welcome to the show once again. You're familiar with the way things operate here, and this subject of Jewish tactics pertains to just about everything that's going on in the world today, and it has a certain negativity about its impact.

We investigated a number of aspects of this in the last show that we did, the last several shows that we did, and I'm going to turn much of this over to you and ask you, what do you think is the most profound aspect of Jewish tactics as they relate to what is going on in the world? How would you explain that? Well, I think that the most significant modus operandi of this category, this group, is basically what we could call, with the Jaime Shekelstein's article, we could call simulacra, which is basically creating a counterfeit or creating a fake, basically just a theater. Fake reality, you're talking about a fake reality. That's exactly right, basically trying to impose a plagiarism onto that which pre-exists their influence as a means of deceiving people.

Can you give me a vivid example of that? Pretty much the whole of Hollywood is an example, the whole of all the movies, entertainment culture, I would say mainstream religiosity has been completely contrived, although maybe I'm wrong in some respects, but so far as I can tell, it's largely been a distortion of pre-existent traditions that have been synchrotized and then utilized as a means of putting people into a state of fear and mind control, low vibrational frequency states of consciousness, so that they can be basically harnessed as cattle, goyim, to be exploited for whatever advantages, labor, used as soldiers in war, economic units. The picture that jumps into my mind is this postcard that's been circulating on the internet for a really long time, and it's a series of photographs next to the Jewish six-pointed star, and it starts out with the media, and it has all the owners of all the networks, there's maybe six major networks, and there's maybe six people represented with their photos and the stars, and they're all Jewish, and then it jumps to politics, and it's the same deal with a whole array of mugshots and Jewish stars that represent the entirety of the American political situation, and they're all Jews, and then it jumps to the vaccine makers, where it's the same deal, but there's two more categories. I want to say one might be universities, but I'm not really sure.

Entertainment's definitely one, and it's like what this image pounds home to anybody with half a brain is that all of our major components of the reality that governs our lives are totally controlled by Jews, and this show about Jewish tactics, as our last show was, is aimed at making us understand how our country and really the whole world has been duped into believing things that the Jews have made us believe that give us an artificial reality, and worse than that, they take away our freedom, and as we see today, as the country is sinking into a financial oblivion that threatens to take away our money and definitely threatens to take away our freedom, it's a situation that has been completely invented and controlled by Jews, especially the political angle of it, where we have a— it's like the Jews dominate both parties, but it's the communist aspect of what the Democratic Party has become that is principally our problem now, because it's behind the deliberate destruction of the society by flooding the country with aliens and deliberately destroying the commercial enterprises in the country, and more recently, ruining the food supply to where forecasts of starvation and misery about all we're seeing from the media everywhere, and the way this has been done is what we're going to discuss, these Jewish tactics of—I guess you could start with the middleman. They have their fingers on everything. Jewish financiers betray both the producers and the consumers by demanding that production is in conformity with what they want, and they definitely get their slice of everything with the kosher tax and their ability to kill businesses that don't agree with what they're telling them to do, and as far as the consumers go, the products that they're able to consume have become toxic at such a high level that it's a wonder anybody's healthy at all anymore, because what people can generally afford or prefer in a supermarket, there are very few healthy things in a supermarket anymore, so it's like the penetration, I like to call it the Jewish penetration of reality, is so pervasive at this point.

Here we are on the edge of World War III. We're confined to our homes for long periods of time because we're supposedly contagious from a disease that nobody can properly identify, and we're forced, upon penalty of losing our jobs and other penalties, to take this shot that has been proven by anybody with an open mind that is murderous. It's killed millions of people, and still, it's like the entire financial industry of the country has been ruined by this scam where doctors, it's like doctors, the finest human occupation has been completely profaned and perverted into being forced to kill people for money or they lose their jobs, so all of these things have Jewish manipulation of reality at the center, and now we're going to talk about some of the reasons, the tactics they use to imprison us in these false constructs that have pretty much eliminated freedom throughout the world.

Individual freedom is gone, and we've all become numbers in a system that we are forced to participate in, and for some reason, human individuals have failed to assert themselves and fight and gain freedom that at least we thought we had, but maybe we never really had it. Yeah, and that's the major illusion is that, I guess, Kai Muros, who is a Finnish revolutionary, he had stated that the illusion of freedom is the cruelest slavery, and that's the major hoodwink, the major hyper-real fake reality is to create this appearance, what they call democracy, that that is something very desirable or good, and then they give you false options, either you select this side or that side, one is bad, one is good. Good versus evil, black versus white, it's just a dialectical game of manipulation based on false constructs, as you had said, completely invented ideas, false dichotomy that nobody really had any idea about before this group introduced these ideas from nowhere, all of a sudden they become life or death, very important issues that totally fragment and disrupt normal people's normal societies, and that's their function, is subversive, so even though it appears as if the left wing is a big problem and the chaos, and the right wing is the solution, that's obviously just part of their dialectical game, what they wanted in the first place is to create chaos with the left wing, and then they can impose whatever sort of forceful tyranny with the right wing, which would be even worse, because that way they can do what they want and justify themselves in doing that, so even though the left wing seems obviously very bad, largely it's theatrical, because pretty much most people, 99% of people don't subscribe to extreme left wingism at all, and probably wouldn't likely subscribe to it at all at any point, although it would become more popularized, sure, but that just provides them an excuse to impose their right wing tyranny, which would be their Zion government, which is spoken of in the protocols and so forth, that they will eliminate the vile poison of liberalism, it's a verbatim quote, so obviously this is just part of their theater, this is what they want.

Goethe has a famous quote on that, there's nobody who is more enslaved than those who falsely believe that they're free, and that's definitely the case with America, so which tactic that we were going to talk about is the principal engine of this deception, which one would you say comes into play most in this way? Well, basically what Jaime Shekelstein has called Jewish theater. Theater, yes. What it's also called on in this document simulacrum, or counterfeit, it's basically just inventing, it's sort of like Richard Kudenhove von Kalergi's book, Practical Idealism, that's their modus operandi, is practical idealism, they create ideas, and then they try to manifest those ideas, so it's basically a Kabbalistic black magic, that they get people to believe these ideas have reality, and then to act on the basis of those ideas, and then that creates another reality that they wanted in the first place.

We're talking wars here, we're talking Ukraine, we're talking America's history of pretending it's the savior of the world, and Smedley Butler has the famous phrase, the American military has been a henchman for big business, they haven't been rescuing anybody, they've been going around the world enslaving all these other countries, and having the story written up in the papers and on the TV as some sort of great level of heroism, and I know that when I was a youngster, so very long ago, I was quite proud of our performance, of America's performance in World War II, because we rescued the world from this man who wanted to take over the world, and then 50 years later, I'm saying that the person that they killed in Germany was probably the greatest leader the world has ever seen, and it was portrayed in the local newspapers and on the TV networks as this maniac who was trying to take over the world, which was a complete lie, and not only were this segment of humanity that was in charge of the military operation, they were also in charge of the information that the American people received, and this has been the terrible combination of the people who are creating the wars are also reporting on the wars, and the lemmings in the population are forced to march along cheering this process that is just, it's totally criminal, and this is where we are today, except that the tactics that the controllers of society have used in wrecking all the countries of the world, whose products we wanted to steal, whose assets we wanted to steal, now that's been turned inward, it's like we ran out of enemies overseas, so the enemy became our own people. Well, I think they're at the stage when they don't really need to worry too much about foreign enemies, because they've used all their goylin in the United States, their military industrial machine to go around the world, destroying other people's societies, like David Lane called it the red, white, and blue mass murder machine has gone around the world in the name of the American people, when obviously it's basically the United States of America corporation, which has gone around the world, and even that is just a facade itself, because behind that is the cahal, is the sinister group who seeks their zion government over the earth, that are just using other people under various guises and excuses. You are listening to Loki Hallgard and John Kaminsky talking about American history on speakfreeradio.com, and I think probably it's still a small minority of people who understand where we're coming from, most of the people who live in this country, they're starting to figure out that all is not right with the phony epidemic, the poison vaccines, the constant wars that have been created, not for the benefit of the American people, but for the people who are making the war equipment that they can sell, and it's like everything that's been done in America over the 20th century and well into the 21st has not benefited the American people, it's only benefited the politicians and the billionaires who are running the war, and we're here to itemize and explain the tactics that have led us down this false path, this suicide path, where we're facing now the destruction of the American population, the American way of life with open borders, with destruction of the food supply, and with the threat of nuclear war ready to destroy everything that has been built over the past few centuries.

If we're going to stop this, we have to understand how they have done this. So what would you advise to focus on first? Well, with respect to nuclear bombs, Serrano discussed that quite thoroughly in Adolf Hitler Ultimate Avatar, and also, this is discussed on big-laws.org, I think the website is, that there are actually not any nuclear bombs that exist, so there could not be any nuclear war, and that's one of their major deceptive tactics, basically trying to hold the world hostage with the threat of nuclear war, mutually assured destruction, so that they can fear-monger people into capitulation to their despotism. So they'll say, using a lot of emotionalization tactics in their media, and a lot of this theater, this creation of boogymen like Putin, and so forth, creating all these apparent existential threats, using that as a means of fear-porn people into basically bowing down, saying, oh, we have to capitulate, we have to surrender, there's just no other way, peace, love, unity, and so that way they can just have people give up without even putting up a fight.

And then what will the consequence be? Even if you physically live, your life will be of no value anyway, because you'll just be a robotized slave who will be totally subordinate to their cashless society, their false illusory system or machine based on cybernetics and information control, where you'll be nothing but a robot. The books that we're talking about on Kominsky Goes Ballistic are, Loki has cleverly placed the links in the chat room, and I have to recommend to everyone to at least listen to them, but also study them, because if we can't figure out what's happening to us, the consequences we face are awfully dire. Somebody had told me that that channel where the audiobook is on had been banned in their region, so I'm not too sure if somebody had taken it down or something, or if it's accessible to people, but that would be good to know if that channel has been taken down, because I personally in the past have had channels, channels banned on Bitchute before.

Yeah, yeah, I know you have. Which particular Jewish tactic would you ascribe to what happened a couple of years ago, it's two years in the past now, when this group, this black group known as Antifa, went around the country burning down downtown Portland and Minneapolis and ravaging all these cities with their complaints about being offended at the way they were treated, and it became, it's like the media was on their side, and even the president was on their side, several presidents in fact, and they put forth the impression, as Joe Biden said, that the main threat to safety and freedom in America was white supremacism, and yet it was black people who were burning down the cities and demanding reparations for the crimes they were committing. What particular Jewish tactic would you ascribe to this particular phenomenon? I think that's basically, not only is it utilization of proxies to do the damage that they want to do to the host nation that they're basically ready to destroy now that they've got more or less a global stranglehold, but I think it's also normative inversion, because they're taking the reality and they're inverting it, and then they're blaming the victim.

They're saying that the cause of the problems is actually not the cause, so that's like a logical fallacy, a non-causa pro causa, not the cause of the cause. The thing that's being done and the agents that are doing it, they just project it onto a scapegoat and say, okay, this is the real cause. It's because of hatred or because of supremacy or various of these labels that people have been programmed through endless repetition and emotionalization tactics in the media over the course of their whole lives and the education system.

Basically, all organs of information, they've been brainwashed or mind-controlled by these terms, so they react without thought, and suddenly that has meaning just because it's lent an apparent authority by the media moguls and all the political hacks. It has enabled people to be tricked into believing that what is clearly bad and tearing down all these statues and defacing society and causing mayhem, injuring innocent people as a good thing. This is basically the inversion of values paradigm that Nietzsche talked about for so long and has really been kind of a hallmark back through the French Revolution and even further back in history of how Jews are able to gain the upper hand as they did in France by, first of all, bankrupting the kings and the leaders and twisting the facts of the situation to get everybody to fight each other and ruining the society while behind the scenes they are making fantastic profits not only from weapons of war but from taking over industries and facilities that have been destroyed or wrecked or paralyzed by the violence that they've created.

When people are caught up in trying to view these things that are going on, it's like they can't really identify who the good guys are and who the bad guys are. With the media on the side of the Jews throughout history explaining things away that further confuse the public, this is how whatever portions or vestiges of freedom we have ever had in this country are slowly worn away by these false explanations that you hear when politicians get together and talk about the issues and then when Jewish commentators come in afterwards and explain what they were doing, they completely change the meaning of the debate that took place. Yeah, basically all of these actions that they do, these psyops, it's all pretty much just psychological warfare and beyond that it's actually black magic, kabbalistic black magic or practical idealism and it entails so many different, it's multi-faceted, so many different particular tactics or techniques depending on who they're having to relate to or who they're looking to use.

Usually it's based on deception, creating a fake appearance of a fake reality and then just playing people against one another and trying to keep their hands clean by scapegoating other people, all of these proxies who they lead to the slaughter with whatever incentive because these proxies are themselves mind-controlled with various ideologies that are just invented by them in the first place like communism or whatever else, the capitalist versus communist dialectic or the Christian versus Satan dialectic and then they just pit the people against one another and step back and let them kill each other and fall on each other's swords and then they can just scoop up all their money, you know, like what somebody has called like a harvest, the wars that they orchestrate is like a harvest for them. I recall a line in the Protocols of Zion when it describes this process and explains that these two sides that they create and inflame attack each other like heat-seeking missiles and it's like they don't have to give them much encouragement because for some reason people are always willing to clash and really this is maybe a topic for another show but one of the things that's really been bothering me for the past 20 years is that the opponents of Jews never are able to create a united front against what they can clearly identify as sabotage and it's like the Jews don't have this problem, they are eternally united into captivating the body politic and destroying the society that they're in so they can take all the profits from both the destruction and the rebuilding of these societies and which tactic might that be listed under? It's difficult to say. It is, there's too many.

It all sort of interrelates like it's a tangled skein, this web of deception that they trap people inside. Yeah, we can see it. We can definitely see it with the COVID fiasco where they have scared people into believing that they're sick even though they have no symptoms so they take a precautionary inoculation that kills a goodly percentage of them and then how that is explained on the mass media is that they died from the disease when they actually have really died from the cure.

Right, yeah, more inversion. Yeah, that's right, inversion. Creating their brand of what they consider to be order out of chaos that they create in the first place.

You are listening to Kaminsky Goes Ballistic Behind Enemy Lines on speakfreeradio.com. In the second hour, we are going to have call-ins. I hope somebody calls. The number to call is 1-605-562-0400.

Once you get to that plateau, you'll be asked to punch in a code which is 811-7272 and the pound sign. Also on speakfreeradio.com, we have chat rooms and you're welcome to comment on what's going on and we also have podcasts of all the great hosts on the network as well as live streams of interesting radio programs from all over the world. What is the tactic now underway that has the entire country upset and involved the distribution of alien saboteurs? Society is being forced to venerate people who are breaking the law, which kind of also happened with the Antifa fiasco.

Yeah, it's sort of more inversion. That's like the mafia during the time that they actually existed, the mishpaka or the kosher nostra in like the 20s in whatever the case and even up until who knows when, maybe in the 60s, they were always being given this celebrity facade in the media. Like even during the pre-code period of Hollywood, they had all these gangster films with James Cagney and Paul Mooney, Scarface and Angels with Dirty Faces and so on.

It makes me think of rap music. Well, yeah, it's another example basically what they do. They try to invert the values, revalue the values of the nation that they wish to destroy so that they can take it over more effectively for themselves.

With respect to rap music, I know for a fact, having done research on it, that it is actually created by that group of people by some guy named Lior Cohen in New York City who is affiliated with Def Jam Records, I think, and the Beastie Boys as well who are also that particular group. And then another figure named Ice-T in the 80s, sort of like the origin of gangster rap. And now you see how basically everybody's become niggerified or niggerized, I guess you could say, which of course doesn't imply any specific race because any race can be niggerized.

And Ice-T is now doing ads for Mastercard. Which obviously just goes to show that it's just a scam and an illusion because if these people really not studio gangsters as they're called, then why would they be affiliated with the system? Why would they be making so much money and having this relationship to the elites? With this very polished lifestyle, high society lifestyle. Basically, the whole nature of that is not only to give people this poisoned carrot or poisoned apple of a life of glamour and a life of celebrity if you follow this path of self-destruction and other destruction, being a thug or whatever the case.

But basically, it is designed as a means of basically sabotaging any healthy, strengthening values to make people weak and degenerated mind, body, and soul through drugs, through liquor, through just different thought forms that they are taking on, taking into themselves. Now, I can remember when I was a child that my father gave me a bunch of Mad Magazines that were from the 50s when they first came out. And I had this morbid fascination with these violent and dirty Mad Magazine comics.

But that's what it does to you. It has this weird Freudian type of influence, this demonic influence, I would go so far as to call it. Well, the whole principle of Jewish profiteering has been to cater to people's addictions and compulsions, which is why they control the drug trade and why they control the pornography trade, where forbidden fruit is a very profitable enterprise.

And it also has the even more important value to Jews of destroying the moral fabric of the society. Right. Once you destroy the family unit, then you destroy the whole of society.

I think Gaddafi had said that in the Green Book that the family unit was the basis of a society. So, that's why they focus on this bedrock of society to try to fragment it and create fissures between the man and the woman, try to distort their roles or sense of purpose in life, that way they can lead them to the slaughter, to their own ruination like they've done ever since, who knows when that really began. I mean, we could trace it back hundreds of years.

Way back. Yeah. And that leads to abortion, to pedophilia, to transgenderism, to all of these things that are being promoted by our cherished politicians as hallmarks of freedom when they are components of the suicide of the society that's taking place right now before our eyes.

A good book on that is Merchants of Sin by Benjamin Garland. You've mentioned him before. I'm not familiar with him.

It's a fairly recent book that came out with the alt-right that just pretty much reveals the nature of the culture destroyers as it relates to media and to the sort of sexualization, normative inversion of society through that type of entartete culture as the National Socialists called it, degenerate culture. And they were doing that for a long time. I mean, where does it begin? It's definitely a question, but we can see good examples of that right around the time of the National Socialists with like the abstract art and so forth, like George Gross and various perverted art that was being done in Germany and Berlin during the Weimar period.

Right. Pornography everywhere. The two major elements in the destruction of cohesive society in America, which was neighborhood-based and religious-based, was the liberation of women through the method of smoking cigarettes in public.

And what followed in the 50s with a whole cadre of Jewish women advocating women's liberation destroyed the family system and increased the number of taxpayers. But the clincher that has polluted society at this point was the early 1970s, the 1972 resolution by the American Psychiatric Association that homosexuality was not a mental illness. It was an alternative lifestyle.

And ever since then, the society has been, I don't want to say ruined, but severely polluted by all of these fantastically mentally ill activities topped off today by this whole transgender phenomenon that has kind of like legitimized insanity in the general public and manifests today in public libraries and elementary schools where convicted pedophiles get to paw over elementary school students in the guise of supposedly reading them educational books. And that's maybe the worst thing the Jews have done to society ever. Yeah, it's the same thing they were doing in Weimar too.

Yes. Yes. Like 10-year-old prostitutes in the streets.

What standard Jewish tactics apply to this horrible phenomenon? I would call it sort of, if we trace the history of it, sort of like a gradualistic slippery slope of this creation of chaos, pretty much engineering chaos to impose their Zion order. And then also we could call it maybe a death by a thousand cuts tactic or the war of the flea tactic, which is just chipping away, poking and poking at the host that they feed off, sucking as much blood and leaving a wound behind. And then without the host knowing that they're doing that.

And then after a certain period of time, they become to notice, oh, something's happening, but they don't know what it is. Like Bob Dylan's song, right? Something is happening, but you don't know what it is. Do you, Mr. Jones? Mr. Jones.

Yep. Well, he was a famous Jewish spokesperson, wasn't he? Yeah. I know my dad was a big fan of his, basically a communist, subversive.

It reminds me that degenerate culture that we were referring to, the sexualization of culture of that movie, M with Peter Lorre, which I think was a movie by Fritz Lang from around the Weimar period, where they're trying to psychopathologize pedophilia and portraying it and actually child murder. They're trying to portray it as if it were a mere mental illness. They're calling that today, they're calling that a minor attracted.

No, what is that? Yeah. I think it's called minor attracted person. Minor attracted persons instead of child rapists.

Yeah, that's what they're doing. And beyond that, they were actually portraying Peter Lorre's characters, portrayed as if it were like a murderer of children. So that's even more extreme version.

Well, it kind of is because it's like once you do something to a kid, he's not going to be right ever again. Pretty much. Yeah.

I'm pretty sure that that group are subject to that sort of treatment themselves. Like that one former guest on Oprah Winfrey's show, I forget what her name was in the 80s. Oh, the satanic thing.

Yeah. Yeah. She said it was actually quite common.

And I think that that's probably true because they're all involved in like cabalistic black magic. Well, that's definitely the element that's been missing in the latter half of the 20th century, as opposed to the early part of the 20th century were a kind of religious discipline that was widespread, that was ultimately killed by Jewish commentators, considering it not moderate enough or unduly restrictive. And it's like women's liberation played a big role in that.

It didn't cause it, but the mere existence of it and the acceptance of homosexuality made, first and foremost, it radically diminished the propagation of children along with abortion. And it's like, I don't know what the total murdered population of children by abortion is, but that really played into the same Jewish objective of reducing America's white population and destabilizing the society by making it more interested in drug taking and illicit sex than in learning how to live constructive lives. I think at that time in history too, there was beginning to be right after the second world war, like a sort of biker gang, lone wolf, small cells type of backlash.

And they used that sexualized revolution as a mechanism of undermining any potential resistance. What are the major Jewish tactics that Hollywood has used to destabilize society? Pretty much the invention of new destructive norms, lifestyles, practices, creating fake heroes that they put forth. All of a sudden there's all this, it's sort of like the anti-hero archetype, the sort of nerdy, weak person who wants to crusade for victims or whatever the case, the typical victimology that's built into their Christian and liberal worldview.

Magian soul, I guess Oswald Spengler would call it, sort of this Near Eastern pathos where they're always whining and crying about the last will be first and the first will be last, hooray, win by losing, let's just throw our hands up and not bother to try to achieve something or creative or strong and powerful because that's evil, right? This is a good versus evil morality, the slave morality that Nietzsche spoke of as opposed to the classical morality of good versus bad. And you can take that on the flip side and see how Charles Bronson in movies of the 60s going around and shooting would-be criminals in a maximally vicious way was an example of a good thing to be doing to, I mean, that did two things. It supposedly took crime off the street, but it gave people an excuse to act out that we see.

We saw just the other day where a black fellow in Brooklyn went into a restaurant and started hacking the place up with a hatchet and was threatening everybody. And it's like the exacerbation of violence has been Hollywood's chief product for a long time. And they started out slowly with the film noir of the 40s where they would have these long, slow, romantic photos of a guy holding a gun.

And it wouldn't show him shooting anybody, but that over the past 30, 40 years has degenerated into all manner of just bloodthirsty scenes all over the screen. Yeah, that's talked about a lot in that book, The Merchants of Sin, how it was sort of like a gradualistic slippery slope into the current chaos of the world. You're listening to Kominsky Goes Ballistic on Speak Free Radio.

We're going to have call-ins after the top of the hour. The number to call, where did I put the paper, is one, the one comes first, 605-562-0400. The code thereafter is 811-7272 and the pound sign.

We're headed toward the middle of the show. And Loki, how did you get so expert at all of these very important aspects of society that people don't know and that is ruining their society because they don't know them? I think basically just through acquaintance with actual real encounters with these, this group of beings and all their affiliates, it just, maybe I had a more intuitive understanding of things or was maybe more hyper-aware, conscious of things growing up in the woods in the middle of nowhere and not being bombarded with cellular phones from the beginning of my life and so forth. So I always had a sort of heightened awareness and maybe that's what enabled me to identify and recognize this group and their affiliates, which also was greatly assisted in research, which I just gravitated toward out of a healthy consciousness, national socialist writers and so forth and European philosophers, things that related to something strong, healthy, creative, intelligent, like the Aryan archetype, I guess we could call it, that I just gravitated toward that, not because I'm some sort of superstar, but because I wanted to improve myself and I recognized that that was a healthy path to take.

Why don't more people gravitate in that direction, do you think? I think it might be in large part because they're so bombarded with the welter of sense data through their cell phones and everything else in their life of running in a rat race, wanting to be important, too concerned with other people's opinions and so forth, and wanting to be a member of the popular crowd, so they go along with whatever's popular to get what they believe is the good, when what is the good in their mind is itself a result of media programming. They don't have critical distance, in other words. I think of how my parents counseled me when I was a little shaver, and this was in the 1950s, and there was always a sense that you had to blend in, and even when you could see that blending in, this was kind of before Vietnam, it became obvious during the Vietnam War, but before Vietnam, there were other things that might have just briefly appeared in the news, like when we invaded the Dominican Republic or other less obvious crimes that were being committed by our own government.

I grew up in a kind of a peaceful era before the 60s, but my parents said, well, no, you shouldn't go chase after those things, because they'll bring only trouble, and because they counseled me to do that in the 50s, when the 60s came along, I was really eager to do that, and I did, and yet that was a kind of a false path as well, because protesting the Vietnam War, which seemed like the right thing to do at the time, I still believe it was, but it had the effect of destabilizing the country in a major way, so they had us coming and going there. What were the forces, the Jewish tactics at play there? You could call it basically dividing and conquering. It could be using false authority to create trends, using especially celebrities, which they very typically do, is put the celebrity out there, says, I support this, I'm against that, therefore follow in my footsteps, because I'm very rich and famous, because I have been put into this position, because I'm probably born into this cabal from the beginning of my life.

A lot of these celebrities are military brats, as they're called, like Jim Morrison or Ice-T. They were all part of the cabal from the beginning of their lives, and they were probably raised to play that role, born under certain astrological alignments, deliberately engineered, I guess you could say, to play those roles in their dialectic, in their theater. Fifty years after that, we look back on all those assassinations that took place in the 1960s, and we see that they, because of Jewish media, they were not what they were reported to be.

The assassinations of the Kennedys were falsely reported. The assassination of Martin Luther King was falsely reported, and yet these events, I guess along with all the other events that have, these misshapen events that have happened over the past 50 years, have been falsely reported by the media, and yet were the main determinants of the way society evolved into a very divided, conflicted war footing with each other, compounded by all of these phony invasions of other countries that were couched in heroic terms, but they were really just gross political crimes against countries that weren't behaving in the way that America wanted them to behave, and that's still pretty much going on. After the break, we'll talk a little bit about the Ukraine and the influences that are in play there, but you've got your own problems to deal with in Canada, and Canada has been totally locked in.

It's like they were locked down, but the lockdown has never stopped in Canada. You know, your guns have been taken away. The politicians may be changing on some levels, but all of these laws are being enforced.

Well, I think one of the most disappointing things I've seen in my lifetime was the trucker strike, and such a wonderful performance by the truckers, and even more by the Canadians who supported them. They came out in 15 below zero weather to cheer them every step in the way, all the way to Ottawa, and they got to Ottawa, and they had won the battle at that point, but nothing took place after that, which gave the dictator Trudeau the time to say, no, we're not going to permit this, and as is the same in this country, where we had a totally spineless legislature, unwilling to challenge the bankers who were giving them their bribes, they let Trudeau arrest all the people, close their bank accounts, persecute them to the max, and that was essentially the end of freedom in Canada, and we're now witnessing the end of freedom in the United States, because there's nobody willing to stand up to a clearly insane government, that instead of protecting us from crimes against the people, they're committing crimes against the people. I think that that truckers event was basically a false flag on the part of the government itself, as a means of demonstrating to people what slaves they were, it's sort of like a revelation of the method where they say, oh, look at you, you know, you're impotent, you did all this, but you still didn't do it, and therefore we can impose on you.

I think that's basically the implicit logic there. That's horrible. I think that that's probably what happened with the capital, whatever that would be called, the capital storming in the states as well, that it was just another government orchestrated PSYOP.

Oh, that's not how I see that. I see that as a legitimate event that was making a major statement about protesting a fixed election, and before I go too much farther than this, I'm getting a blinking light, and generally that means trouble, but in this case, it is the halfway point of the show, and we're going to continue after a four or five minute break. You're listening to Kaminsky Goes Ballistic, Behind Enemy Lines on speakfreeradio.com. After the break, we'll be taking phone calls, and the number to call, if you'd like to call, is 1-605-562-0400, and 811-7272, and the pound sign will be required after somebody answers the phone, and of course, I did that too early once again, so we're waiting for the break.

It'd be a good time to get a cold beverage or make a pit stop, if you need to, and we're going to do several announcements for four or five minutes, and then we'll be back with questions and more analyses of nefarious Jewish tactics. Thanks for listening. It seems there is never nothing normal down here among the swamp savages. Over in a nearby town, at the local nose-to-hole hump-and-grind outdoor theater, also known as the Doggy Bark Park, a 50-something gent named Joe got all bent out of shape one steamy eve because some chap in a wheelchair could not, or would not, control his pooch. Seems the canine in question persisted in jumping up on Joe, and that of course is polite speak for leg-humping Joe's leg.

Now, a normal person would have simply shook the dog loose and forgotten the incident in five minutes. But hey, if Joe was a normal, rational, mentally sound mope, I wouldn't be talking about him now, would I? And so, mentally disturbed Joe, burning with indignity, and burning from the tears of laughter pouring from those who were watching the dog grind on his leg, slipped from the dog's amorous embrace, walked over to the dog's owner, then gave him a right sound rap right on the beak. Since that not only stopped the laughter, but it also felt pretty damn good too, Joe smote the man again, and again, and again.

By now Joe was really warming to the idea of smiting someone who couldn't smite back, and so our boy then knocked the cripple from his wheelchair and really got down with a curb stomp. Already helplessly confined to the chair, when the victim hit the turf, he was as defenseless as an earthworm. Joe continued to beat, kick, and punch the leg-humping dog's owner.

When the leg-humping dog's owner's girlfriend's mother stepped in, say that again, okay, when the leg-humping dog's owner's girlfriend's mother stepped in, she too got a sound beating. Meanwhile, the cops did eventually show up. Although Joe insisted that it was he who was the victim, it was pretty hard to shake all that evidence.

Wheelchair turned over, cripple cringing on ground, curled in fetal position, old woman knocked unconscious, cripple's dog whimpering in sorrow for his smitten master while hungrily leg-humping police officer's leg, and so in spite of his pleas of innocence, the Bark Park bully was cuffed and carted away. No doubt Joe is now out on bond, presumably looking for more paraplegics and old ladies to beat on. And who could make this crap up? In 1920, Henry Ford began publishing articles in his newspaper, The Dearborn Independent, which would end up being published as a four-volume set of books entitled, The International Jew.

This four-volume set spanned over 1,000 pages, comprising of 80 articles, and in 2012, Andrew Carrington Hitchcock published an extract of each one of these articles in his book, The Synagogue of Satan, Updated, Expanded and Uncensored. In 2020, 100 years after Henry Ford started publishing The International Jew, Andrew Carrington Hitchcock, Blackbird 9, and Golden Pipe Wrench began recording a 12-part series on this four-volume set. Money Tree Publishing are now proud to offer this groundbreaking 12-part series, containing over 11 hours of audio content, on one of the most astonishing and controversial series of books ever published.

We hope you find it as interesting to listen to as we found it to produce. Yours, A.C.H., B.B., and G.P.W. Welcome back, everybody, to Kominsky Goes Ballistic, Behind Enemy Lines on speakfreeradio.com. It's hour number two, and we have a caller patiently waiting, and I just want to say that if you want to call in, the number to call is 1-605-562-0400. The code to punch in after that is 811-7272, and the pound sign, 816.

What's your name? Brian. Brian, thanks for calling. What's your question? I've called in before.

Oh, Brian, you always call. We're always glad to hear from you. What's up? Well, you were talking about Ukraine, and you reminded me of an article I read on Henry McHale, how the Joint Chiefs of Staff, I guess you would call them for the German Army, the OKWAKH, he had an article on there where Keitel and Yodel and all these people, that they were taking their orders from the city of London, and one of the orders that came in like in 1942 was to go ahead and start massacring a lot of people in Ukraine when the Germans were driving through that area, and Hitler wasn't happy about it, and it just showed to me how they just control every country.

Every country has a deep state, and it doesn't matter what you think that these Jewish people control everything. So anyway, that was the comment I wanted to make. Well, I think both of us kind of agree with that.

I certainly do, because it is a worldwide network, and I think I've devolved to the position that there's really no more independent countries, that all the countries are owned by the Jewish bankers, and they get to say what the leaders are allowed to say, and what do you think about that, Loki? Well, those leaders who are just Gentiles are typically Freemasons that are planted in that position and probably groomed from the beginning of their lives, and they're probably all raised in that sort of cabal, that black magic cabal.

Pretty much none of them are independent. They would never allow anyone to have any independence who didn't play a role in their system, and that goes for most of the people who are disinformation agents, too, that they don't allow anybody on their shows who is not groomed and part of their cabal playing a role.

I've heard that about a lot of talk shows in this country, including some famous well-known ones as well. You don't want wildcards coming out of nowhere and releasing information that might compromise their psyops. Wildcard information, that's our specialty, right? Brian, do you have another question? Well, I'd like to make some comments about some observations I have, if that's okay.

Yes, and I apologize for pushing you so hard on other shows because we've had people lined up behind you, but you've got some time right now. Tell us. Okay, well, thanks.

One thing people don't understand about the occult techniques they have is, if you look at Hitler, he put the Freemasons in those camps. Those work camps were full of all the Weimar Republic people that were doing to Germany what they're doing to us now. The Gestapo, originally, when it was created, it was a good thing because they had to deal with these communist street demonstrators that were killing women and children.

He was doing really good things. If you look at the SS Origious Battalion, there's an article about that on Henry McHale. They were shadowing in Latvia a communist group, and they found them insanitating a small boy.

And, you know, they were doing all this evil ritual stuff, and they killed them. So, originally, they were good, but they know they're always going to take them over, which they do from the inside, and then turn it into something bad. Like, you know, now, you can't say the Nazis are good.

You look at the Nazis in Ukraine, they're absolutely horrendous, but originally, they were good. And the same goes for the Pope is horrendous, okay? The churches at the top, the Jesuits, they try and masquerade as good. They make everything bad look good, and everything good look bad, and that's just one of their black occult, black magic tricks.

So, anyway. That's an interesting observation, Brian. Loki, what do you think about that? Organizations that can seem to be good starting out turn out to be not good.

If they're the organizations that are developed and controlled by the cabal, but I don't think that that applies to the National Socialists at all. Maybe in the current fake Nazis, like Azov Battalion, I look upon that as probably just a fake financed by this cabal from the beginning, and probably just a, you know, sort of shock effect, theatrical effect. I personally don't see how you can get a Jewish Nazi out of anybody.

And I think that calling Zelensky's hired killers, hired by the United States killers, Nazis is really a typical trick that the Jews play on the memory of the National Socialists, who were destroyed by the three Jewish countries, the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union. So that is, it's kind of, I don't know if we were talking about this or somebody else, it's kind of a little joke the Jews play on defaming good people of the past and present when they think they can get away with it. And they certainly have here because of all the Jewish newspapers in the United States who have played up the Nazi angle, when in fact, anybody who's followed this situation knows that the Nazis in the Ukraine are really working for the United States to set up their invasion of Russia by creating all these criminal elements in the Ukraine, which is going on since 2014.

So that's what I think about that. Brian, thank you for the calls and we'll see you on the next show, okay? Okay, thank you. Thanks a lot.

Loki, the next one I have for you is about the Ukraine scam that has been really plaguing me for a long time, since the very beginning of this fiasco, which as I said, was 2014. But I mean, since the Russians responded to what was going on and tried to protect the people in Donetsk from further murders by this insane Ukrainian army. We caused the problem, we being the United States, we caused the problem in Ukraine.

And yet, when Russia decided to do something about it, all of America succumbed to the information in the Jewish newspapers and supported the Ukraine, even though at some level, they had to know that it was the United States that caused the problem that forced Russia to jump in and try to save its people in Donetsk who were being slaughtered. Now, we are defending, by supporting the Ukraine, we are defending our own guilt, which is destroying our country. So what kind of Jewish tactics produce that? Tough one.

That is basically all plausible deniability could play into that, where they try to create this simulacrum or fake organization, fake movement that serves as a proxy to project onto what they do and to try to cover their tracks or serve as a distraction. But I do not think most people have any mind at all, really, that they are basically reactive minded and they only react to stimuli so that they do not even have any conscious awareness of reality or capacity to think at any deeper level or at any more meta level of consciousness. It is just pure reactive mindedness at this point.

And the word Nazi is always associated with anything that is bad, basically, through that classical conditioning, mind control, repetition and emotion combination in the media. Yeah, the thing that sticks in my mind about the Ukraine situation is that the people who are being hurt the most by the United States prolonged underhanded attack against Russia are not the Russians. And they are not even really the Ukrainians, although certainly a lot of them have died by trying to attack the Russians.

But the people who are really being hurt are the Americans who are losing all their money and especially the Europeans who are about to freeze to death this winter. So there's something at work here. And it's like, there appears to be one thing happening, the West fighting the Ukraine.

But really, the people who are getting hurt the most are the Americans and the Europeans. And I think that's deliberate. And I think that some people have said that's the U.S. making war on Europe.

I think it's also to try to drag in Russia so that they can vilify Russia or maybe give Russia an excuse to attack Europe or something similar to what happened in the Second World War that started that off with Hitler trying to recuperate or recover territory and prevent Soviet invasion. And then they just blame him after it was like a provocation. Right for everything.

Yeah. Hey, we have another call. 720.

Who am I speaking to? Hi, this is Steve. How are you guys doing? Hi, Steve. Thanks for calling.

Hi. Hi. First of all, I just wanted to comment on something you guys were just talking about this quote unquote Jewish tricks.

But I really looked into the woman that assassinated that was his last name. Dubin is his daughter. Yes, it was two women.

Yeah. Okay. I really studied her and checked her out.

And I determined it's like there's absolutely on my part. Anyway, there's absolute certainty that this woman is was is Jewish. No doubt about it.

I mean, she looks like an Israeli Mossad agent. So as a member of the battalion, again, you know, this isn't making any sense. And it's, it's, it's a trick, though, because this is a Jewish control that so like, I say, you know, call them haters, call them racist, whatever you want to call them, but they're not Nazis.

No, because then it just gives more credence. Yeah, you know, but then they try to associate that with extreme right wing Americans and everything and you know, and it's like, that's just not accurate. It's completely the opposite.

Oh, yeah. You know, I mean, you have like a their commander in chief, you know, is is Olinsky, you know, so and there's a lot I think a lot of Jewish people in the government of Ukraine, and I know there is in the United States that are the liaisons, you know, the ambassadors and all these people. So anyway, but what I wanted to ask you guys about is, you know, how you hear Jews have been evicted from like, 106 different countries, you know, or, you know, some number like that.

Could maybe your guest or you comment on like, let's take like, maybe not the last time, but the second time in history that that happened? What did it look like? Good question. Loki, what do you think about that? I just like to comment first about all the the Nazi rhetoric, you know, becomes an absurdity, because everybody's called a Nazi. And then it sort of makes the term Nazi, it neutralizes it as having any efficacy, because it's, it's just a nothing meaningless term that means something bad, you know, everyone's a Nazi.

And Daria Dugina. I assume that whole event was just a fake event itself. Because if you look at video footage on it, which is on the channel that I referenced there, in the chat, one of the there's a couple of videos on that channel, I believe, that reveal that that was just basically a psyop altogether.

Of course, that's what the claim the claims are making. But who's to say, you know, it doesn't really seem like it, like it's a legitimate event that actually occurred. But maybe it was just done to frame Ukraine and create this boogeyman in the Ukraine to further justify retaliatory action against Europe or inroads into Europe on the part of Russia.

Oh, let me I have an opinion on this. Why would Russia do that when they were winning the war? I, which is why I would reject that as a possibility. It might have been a psyop, but I don't see how, because it's the same with all these reports that we get.

Recently, we have this, they're trying to blow up the nuclear plant. And recently, I've read a story that the Ukrainian troops attacked and killed a bunch of Russians. And it's like, I wonder about either one of those stories, because from all I can fathom with the sources that everybody else is watching, that the Ukraine is, if they're putting up any resistance at all, it's because the Russians have pulled away from their attacks.

And they're just kind of filling in the blanks. I know, I just read the other day that Kharkov, much of it has been regained by the Ukraine. But I don't know.

And I also don't know if Russia isn't a participant in this whole masquerade. I wouldn't think they would be, because they've lost too many of their own troops trying to establish peace in the eastern part of Ukraine. But it's really hard to get a straight reading on what is going over there, whereas it's not hard at all to get a straight reading out of what's happening out of Washington, because Washington has just been completely brain dead about the whole thing, trying to bankrupt America as fast as they could by throwing all this money down the drain, which winds up going to the black market sale of faulty weapons that were shipping to the Ukraine.

So it's so ugly and so misleading. But I can't believe two things. I can't believe that the Ukraine has any chance of winning.

But I also can't believe that Russia is acting with dispatch. And I have this inkling that because I don't know that we can trust Russia any more than we can trust the United States, that this isn't some grand passion play that's going to be prolonged by politically astute maneuvers on both sides to continue the sale of weapons and not really seek a resolution to this whole thing, because the real war is against Europe and the United States to deplete their resources and make them more vulnerable to attack than they already are. And it's not so much attack, because in watching how America and Europe have behaved over the past couple of years, why would anybody invade the United States when they can just sit back and watch them destroy themselves by all of these ridiculously wrong moves that they're making? That's one of the psyops on the part of the Russians or on the part of the ideologues of it, like some guy named Finkelstein, who is behind Dugan, which is to destabilize the states by funding various movements like the extreme racist movements or whatever you want to call it, the Antifa, and that way they can orchestrate civil war in the states and then tear it apart from within through dividing it, dividing and conquering it, and then they can just sit back and maybe come in later, the Chinese and Russians, and do away with it or something or invade Europe once they take away the NATO power, because once America undergoes revolution and chaos, then they're not going to be able to have military bases in Germany and so on, so that will free up space for Russia to make incursions maybe.

Steve, what do you think about all that? Oh, again, I was just really curious to, yeah, I was just really curious to know when I said, you know, like, do you guys know anything at all about when Jews were evicted out of a country, like, fairly recently or one of the last times? What did that look like? Well, if you look at, like, the measures taken by the Third Reich, that's one way. They basically created legislation to prevent them from playing certain roles and usury and so on, and then they forcibly or they enabled them passage out of the country because of those legislative reforms, but at this time in history, I don't think it's going to be, you know, anything of that nature, because they have more or less total control of the government. Huh, I'm trying to think.

Oh, okay, because... Go ahead. Oh, I was just saying, yeah, like, that's why I kind of wanted to look at, like, the time before that, you know, like, I don't know what it was, when it was, where it was, but what it looked like, you know. The only one, the only one... before World War I, where the Jews were peaceful residents there, but they were restrained from holding teaching positions, financial positions, political positions, and they like, they are in Iran today, living contented lives without unduly participating and gumming up the works of a Muslim country.

I think that's being put in dimitude, I think it's called. Dimitude, yes. Under Sharia law.

Yeah, so, so, but as far as being, being evicted, I don't think they were gone, because they were kicked out of so many countries, it tells me they weren't gone for very long, because they were kicked out of these countries multiple times, and, and they are, I think it starts with the, with the Inquisition, when they had to bail out of Spain and Portugal, when those two countries really put the hammer down, but they, they, they filtered into Holland and Belgium, and all the other European countries, and were able to operate somewhat below the radar, because they were able to bribe their way into, into some kind of secrecy, and by their time, when they were finally allowed by, by English traitors, to penetrate the, the United Kingdom of Britain, and which they, they've taken over in the, in the 1600s, the 1700s, and they've never been dislodged from there, and in fact, that's, that's been the basis of their operations ever since. I think that they were actually there ever since, probably a couple thousand years ago, if not even before that time, with the Druids, which they infiltrated, and I don't think they were ever really totally kicked out by, I think it's King Charles II, in 1200 or so, they, they went to Wales around, they were the Welsh. Yeah, I, I think it's Edward, that's King Edward, I think.

Anyway, Steve, those are good questions. We have another call. Thank you for calling.

Okay, thanks for taking my call, guys. Have a good day. Bye.

See you later, bye. 204, with whom do I have the pleasure of speaking? You figured I'd be calling you, John. It's Zorro.

What's your question, Brian? Well, of course, it's not so much a question, but an observation. I just wanted to find out what Loki thinks about the recent revelation made in the United States and Europe about the RAND Corporation actually being involved with the, with them as a think tank, and possibly other nefarious Jewish-run organizations that planned and have been directing this entire Ukrainian war as a means to basically cripple Europe's economy, to make them once again dependent on the U.S. I wanted to know if Loki and you thought about the validity of what's come out with the revelations made in a Swedish report about this RAND Corporation document. It's very plausible to me.

What do you think, Loki? I suppose so. I'm not really too sure. I've never actually heard about that.

You can read up on it there. Yeah, that's been chatter for some time, as well as predictions of various seers that the United States would have a war with Europe. I think that's fairly plausible because Europe is on the ropes now.

They're all going to freeze to death this winter. They're all going to Istanbul and booking rooms and hotels because they can get heat there. I think it's just going to, they're creating the conditions to build toward some type of revolution, probably.

Once the people there who have been brought there don't have the basic resources, then they're going to be rioting and causing chaos. Yeah, I agree because of the fact is, though, considering that all of Europe's governments are all basically WEF, World Economic Forum clones and stooges, it makes you wonder if it was purposely created to create a ticking time bomb to have this revolution go off. I wonder what facets the Jewish control, because they always try to maintain control that they have in terms of what's going to happen.

Like I said, the RAND report basically stated that as a think tank, they actually came up with this report several years ago about how to create the war in Ukraine in such a way as to force Europe to its knees. And we can see it happening because of the cutoff of Russian natural gas supplies that Europe became dependent on because European leaders, including the stupidity in Germany, where they cut off nuclear power generation about a decade ago, making themselves totally dependent on natural gas from Russia. And the other point you guys were talking about, the Ukraine war, you know, you were talking about, John was mentioning about the Kharkov advance and the Kursk offensives, which were nothing but facades, because in both of those, the West threw away tens of millions of dollars worth of prime weaponry, leaving them basically naked just in case they ever had to go to war directly against Russia.

Reports have come out that they barely have a weak supply of ammunition now, if they were to go to direct war against the Russian Federation and China. So it's really, the question has to be, what next? Like, you know, how far are the people going to put up with this? And we're throwing all our weapons away in Ukraine, leaving us defenseless. Yes, I have.

I have noticed that. And plus Afghanistan and what I'm hearing about the weapons that are being shipped above board to Ukraine are basically dysfunctional and being fobbed off on terrorist groups around the world. So that's just another money making operation.

But I have smelled a rat about this whole thing. It's all too neat, where we set up bio labs in there and supposedly we're going to have birds flying over Russia infected by these diseases. That's too tenuous to be believed.

And there is an overall obvious theme with everything Biden has done since he's been in so-called office, and that is to do the wrong thing when it comes to American security. And that stems back to rumors of a billion dollar bribe that he got from China before he ever was declared the winner of the election. And that's compounded by the bribes that Hunter Biden and the other brother, whatever his name is, have received from both the principals and the tangential countries.

And this isn't something that's just been done under Biden. And it includes almost all the presidents we've had going back to quite a long way. I wouldn't want to try to enumerate every one of them, but many of the presidents we've had have, especially the Clintons, cozied up to China and got all this extra money.

And I'm sure Obama was in on it too. It's hard to pin a lot of this stuff on Trump, but he's certainly not immune from some of it. So, we've had trader presidents for quite some time, and that's because they're more interested in buying $10 million houses on Martha's Vineyard than they are of doing the right thing.

Green rules of day, John. You are absolutely right, John. Green rules of day and all these bastards are in on this twisted game.

And of course, with the Jews controlling them all from the top, it's a sick, sad world we live in. Anyway, my friend, great show. I think it's time for your break, in fact.

So, I'll let you go and I will talk to you sometime later on this week, okay? Good analysis, Brian. Thanks for calling. You're welcome, buddy.

Bye. So, what do you think, Loki? Well, I think that the point that he just brought up, the last point about people selling their soul, like Charles Manson said, dead in the Jews' money, it's finding the thumbscrew is another one of their tactics. That's a new one.

Yeah, that's a new one. Appealing to greed, that's the thumbscrew of most people. Once they can stick this screw into your thumb, then they can just keep twisting and twisting, and then from there, you're their pawn.

If you ever do anything they don't like, they'll twist it into your thumb even more, and then if you do things that they do like, then they'll maybe relent a little bit. But that's also related to another one called thieves' pact, where you're basically making a deal with the devil, or a pact of thieves, a Mephistophelian pact, and you think you're going to get some sort of wonderful reward out of it, but then it just ends up being taken from you in the end with compound interest, where you end up losing more than you would win in the first place, even if only in purely material terms. Because obviously, when you commit massive karma by harming your own people or harming others without reason, other than your own self-interest, then you're basically losing already, losing in the spiritual by winning in the physical.

Oh, that reminds me of a theme, but before we go to that, I want to say that that sounds like you're describing the U.S. Congress. You're listening to Kaminsky Goes Ballistic on Speakfree Radio. We are taking calls at 1-605-562-0400.

The code after that is 811-7272, and followed by the pound sign. We have chat rooms and podcasts of all the great hosts, and a lot of live streams of many shows, all of them good, that could give you something to listen to all day, but we don't recommend you do that. So another question I had was throughout history, leaders of all stripes would direct, and I think I'm right about this, I'm not absolutely sure, but they would direct their hostile efforts and their warrior armies outside their countries, all of this before the 20th century.

In the 20th century, the three major empires, the Soviet Union, China, and the United States, their leaders all have wound up directing their animosity and their murderous rage against their own people. Stalin killed, I should say Lenin and Stalin and all the other guys, killed 100 million Russians, non-Jewish Russians. Mao Tse-Tung, tutored by the great folks at Yale University, killed 40 to 60 million people of his own people, and not so many overseas.

And now we have Joe Biden and pretty much his predecessors, although I think you could exempt Trump from some of this, theoretically in charge of a poison vaccination that has killed anywhere between 12 and 50 million people. And that's not to mention all the other things like the lockdowns and the false flag atrocities, the fires from above and many other techniques, killing his own people. So this is something new in the 20th century.

Is that some kind of Jewish tactic that we don't know about? Well, one thing I can pick out of that is that they typically put in, when they get sufficient power, they typically put in their puppets. And their puppets are usually what are called Skolniks, which is basically that their father is Jewish, but their mother is not. So it's a way they have of cursing the Gentiles by putting somebody who's not by Halakhic law of their tribe.

So they can basically curse the Gentiles by saying, oh, look, this is your leader, this is your hero. But it's basically like cucking the Gentiles because the father is Jewish. So it's like a paternal domination of the Gentile nation.

And then that becomes their leader. And then they take the leader down. It's funny you should mention that because there are cucking the Gentiles, yeah.

There are several great books, Gerard Menuhin's book, Tell the Truth and Shame the Devil. I think Henry Mackow is one of these two, where they have a Jewish father and a non-Jewish mother. And they seem to be human beings, as opposed to those who have a Jewish mother.

And I don't know about having both parents Jewish, but I've observed in my limited experience that there is a difference between children of a Jewish mother and children of a Gentile mother with a Jewish father that tend to be more humane. I think that it has a lot to do with mitochondrial DNA being more prominent in the matrilineal transmission. Interesting.

There's more of an influence on the mother's side, probably. That's very interesting. It seems we have another call.

Let's see who is 360. 360, welcome. Yes, sir.

Thank you very much. This is Drew from New Jersey. How are you guys doing? Hi, Drew.

Thanks for calling. My pleasure. Thank you, guys.

Hey, I just wanted to, first of all, just, I'll keep it brief, but just say thanks for such a great high-level discussion. I really appreciate your guest, Loki, and you guys are having a great discussion and have in the past as well, and keep it up. I really appreciate, like I say, just the high level of thought that is going into what you're talking about.

So many of these things we're touching on, you're touching on, always remind me of the protocols. I mean, so much of it was discussed in, I guess, in a theoretical framework there in the protocols. What would you guys say about the protocols and how they relate to these issues that you all are discussing? I guess that'd be my question to both of you guys.

Go ahead, Loki. I think that the protocols are really a blueprint that is sort of another, basically, recipe for destruction that they concocted, and I think it's actually a legitimate work. There's a work by a guy named Dr. Carl Bergmeister on that subject.

I won't name the title, but it basically legitimates the protocols of the Elders of Zion, that it wasn't some forgery or made-up document made up by the Okrana or whatever. That's basically a canard in itself. Yeah, exactly.

It's just a document that's so on point, you know, in so many ways with what is going on, you know, even as Henry Ford famously said, you know, it fits the description of what's going on today. But anyway, guys, I didn't want to take any more of your time. Drew, I've got a question for you.

What do you think of Putin? Do you think Putin is working for the Jews or working for the Russians? Well, you know, I'm not honestly educated enough to say. I do remember Patriot Pat going over some succinct points about Putin, kind of indicating that he is, you know, in bed at some level with Jewish power, which of course makes sense. But on the other hand, I mean, sure.

I mean, he does a lot of things that, you know, you can say, well, that's good that's going on. But I'm not really educated enough to say, John. But yeah, I mean, you guys were discussing Jewish power throughout almost all nations in the world.

So it wouldn't be surprising if a gigantic country like Russia was completely controlled by the Zionist Jewish power, you know. Well, I just wanted to quiz you, Drew. Thank you very much for calling.

I think I have another call. Yeah. Thank you.

I appreciate it. Thanks, guys. Okay.

See you. Bye. Bye.

816. Thanks for your patience. Who am I speaking with? Well, it's Brian again.

When you brought this up, I just had to call and make a quick comment on it, if you don't mind. Stalin. A long time ago on the internet, you could get the trial transcripts verbatim from the Moscow show trials in 1936, 37, 38.

And I was fortunate enough to read some of those. And they would say things like, this is comrade so and so. He is an agent of City of London.

And he's responsible for the Holodomor in Ukraine. He's responsible for the starvation of the people in Ukraine. And that's how the introduction to those trials started out.

Okay. So then when you realize that, you start understanding that Stalin was not a bad guy. He took over the deep state and then him hunting down Trotsky in Mexico City and having him axed with an ice pick.

Him hanging, oh God, I can't think of his name now, Muchenberg or whatever from that tree, you know, hunting down those Frankfurt school people and hanging them. Then everything makes sense once you realize that he actually was not working for them. So anyway, I just, he didn't have, he maybe had something initially did with the murder of all those poor Russians, but he took it over from Trotsky.

That was the agent of City of London. And that was the problem. It wasn't Stalin.

Brian, let me ask you a question. How do you think, how do you think the Ukraine war is going to turn out? Well, I think that the Russians will prevail and I think we'll get freedom there. I'm surprised they're dragging it out as long as they are.

They've got, you know, people just don't understand the massive amount of armaments the Russians have. They produced, I think it was 50,000 T-34 or T-54, T-55 tanks. Some of those were exported.

They're old tanks, but, you know, when you can put 30,000 T-55 tanks in the field, you know, and just push in, I mean, and then they've got their new Armata T-14 tank, which is superior to our M1 Abrams tank. You know, it's just unbelievable. They haven't even employed that.

They're using their T-72 tanks. They just overwhelm, you know, NATO, Ukraine with all of the armaments that were produced when it was the Soviet Union. So there's just no way unless the deep state is more powerful in Russia than I thought.

So anyway, that's my thoughts on it. I think you're right, Brian, and thank you very much for calling. You have to factor into that there are other types of weaponry that aren't just physical.

There are, you know, EMPs and things like that, and since everything runs on electricity, all you have to do is just take the power out, and then their equipment won't be functional. Well, that's a good point, too. Brian has left the building, and thanks for calling again, Brian.

Your questions are always good. So that's a pretty good group of questions. So Loki, we're running down the stretch here.

We've got about 12 minutes left. What's going to happen to you? Well, my thought is basically that they're trying to frame me in a false flag operation and murder me, but since I'm a TI, they're basically experimenting on me and, you know, subjecting me to the typical gang stalking type of activity around the clock, basically. So, you know, it'd be nice if some people out there who are legitimate and not government agents would accommodate people of that kind or come together in some way, pooling resources, or if they had farmlands or a farm or whatever, then I would basically just probably even hop the border on a bicycle and go there to the States or something like that if there's nothing in Canada.

But in Canada, I reached out to everybody I could, and so far, there's nothing tangible that I can really get out of to actively participate in any, you know, survivalistic activity. Well, you just reached out again, and our phones are working this week, so that might give you a little better shot. Yeah, and it's like your situation is worse than most of our situations, but it's not totally dissimilar, because everybody in the United States of low income who hasn't yet been evicted is facing that possibility, and with some of the more dire predictions we've heard about what they're going to do with the money and our general experiences with the banks doesn't make the future prospects of other people that much greater than yours.

No, I agree. Most people don't seem to understand enough about gang stalking that it's actually a fairly pervasive phenomenon that many people are being subjected to that, but they don't know that. Right, that's right.

Very difficult to understand, but I'm sure that this group of rogues is basically just embezzling all the money now and seeking an escape to South America where they can set up their plan, and Dina Serrano spoke of in a couple of his works, and also maybe to Odessa where they can set up their Kaganate or whatever it is they're looking to set up there, or maybe in China too. Oh, I don't think I'd want to live in China. A lot of them speak favorably about it.

I guess they think that they'll have another host to parasitize off. Oh them, yeah, they probably do, yeah. Yeah, I think that's true of probably every country.

It's like they're not afraid to go anywhere because they have a worldwide network that they can depend upon, whereas the rest of us may know a lot of people in other countries, but you wouldn't call it a worldwide network. Yeah, because most people who are white especially don't seem to understand the severity of this world situation. If you're all by yourself, doesn't matter how much money you have because you can just have an angry mob or horde come and raid your property and take everything from you and kill you, especially once they start unleashing the hordes against us, cut off people or create famine-like conditions or something, crash the system, claim it's China with an

EMP, and then all the hordes will just go radiating outwards, drug addicts and ethnic gangs and whatever.

God, that's happening in the States already, I think, with this new celebrity game that Rhonda Santos is playing to send plane loads of aliens to the posh neighborhoods to see what the reaction would be. And actually, the reaction has been pretty well, although there's a small sample size at this point, and if they keep doing it, I think the reaction is going to be less charitable. Yeah, you can only poke a lion in a cage so much before it retaliates against you.

Yeah, I think that's right. So, none of us has an optimistic forecast for our immediate future, although I did, a lot of people have been talking about September 24th, something dire was going to happen, and I did a little looking at that, and where that date seems to have happened was from February when a German politician said something bad was going to happen on September 24th that we're all going to take notice of and never forget. And he was speaking in February, and the story I read said he meant to say February 24th, but he said September 24th.

To further complicate that matter, other people have said this is going to be a change in the banking situation, and I have no insight of that since I have no insight in the money. But I was in a bank today because somebody generously sent me a check, and I tucked it in there, and it's like something fishy is going on there because I bank in a small-town bank, and they're unpretentious pretty much, but they seem to be scaling down all of their offerings, whether they're debit cards or non-essential frills. Those things are all disappearing, which maybe they should, just sound financial practice, but I get the feeling that there's something funny going on with the banks, and I kind of don't know what to do because I want to leave enough money in there to use my debit card, but on the other hand, I don't want to wake up one morning and find that money has disappeared, and I think the whole country is worried about exactly that.

Yeah, usually that's the way it works with them. They wait for a certain time like 9-11, and then they give the signal, and they all act in concert. Yes, that's right.

So everybody's safety deposit box could be raided over the weekend or a long weekend or something? Right, which, yeah, that's right, and so this is a Jewish tactic we haven't talked about. In fact, that little booklet, I don't recall this, but I don't recall any financial aspect. There's one called Never Give a Sucker an Even Break.

Oh, yes, yes, we talked about that on the other show, yeah. This one could be called Take the Money and Run, like that Woody Allen movie's title. Yeah, it could very well be.

They've certainly done that enough times. I remember a meme, a cartoon illustration of one of this tribal group with a big sack of money on his back running from God or something like that. Yeah, that sounds appropriate.

The relationship of God to the Jews is pretty much a money making, limited to a money making enterprise. So we've done it again. We've run out of time.

We have about a minute and a half left. What's your summation for people who are trying to analyze the people who are trying to destroy us utterly? Make sure you do your research thoroughly and then integrate it or apply it to your personal experience and then make sure you keep hyper-vigilant and look back over the course of your own life and think about times that you've had your life sabotaged and who did it and then recall their images and say, was this person one of that group? Yeah, probably is right. We need a targeted individual database now.

That could be like a new planned parenthood, only we wouldn't be recommending any abortions. Surely there are enough people that need an organization like this because so many people have been attacked. Most of them are controlled opposition organizations.

They have a couple of these organizations, but I attempted to reach out to them myself and it was them trying to gather information on you and run demoralization, PSYOPs and so on. Yeah, it's the same with people trying to start militias on the internet. I talk about a dead-end street.

You say, yeah, I want to join a militia. You've got 10 federal agencies chagging you thereafter. Anyway, be true to yourself and don't tell lies and try to fight them when you hear them.

I can't say we're going to succeed at anything, but we're not going to give up trying. I appreciate everybody who's listened out there. We're on every Monday and Thursday from five to seven.

We have interesting people like Loki with practical information on how to best forestall our own demise. I wish you all the best out there. Thanks again to all the callers.

Thanks again to all the listeners who support our efforts to provide facts for you to keep us alive. Loki, I'll see you next time. All right.

Good to be on. Yeah, same here.
