

Strasserism:

The Real National Socialism?

There are a few individuals and organizations which proclaim that the political philosophy of Otto and Gregor Strasser is real National Socialism, as opposed to that of Adolf Hitler, and that this would be the basis for a viable movement to counter today's bleak racial situation. It is further averred that Adolf Hitler "betrayed the German workers" by altering the "true" nature of National Socialism and selling out to conservative industrialists.

Early Leaders of the NSDAP

Otto and Gregor Strasser were early leaders in the NSDAP who had a small following of their own. Otto Strasser left the NSDAP in 1930, while Gregor remained until 1932 when he resigned after being taken to task for his unauthorized attempt to have himself appointed vice-chancellor in the new von Schleicher government. Neither were able to take any significant number of followers with them. Here, we might also note that both of the Strassers, as well as any influence from their political ideas, were long gone before the occurrence of the great social and economic miracles of National Socialist Germany which astounded the world.

Strasserism

Strasserism seems to have been based largely on Marxism. Big business was duly condemned, the workers glorified, and alignment with the Soviet Union advocated. This condemnation of the upper classes and glorification of the working classes quite naturally tended to divide the Folk. The Strassers seemed to be ignorant of the truth so prominent in Adolf Hitler's Mein Kampf: just as there is an inequality of the races, so there is an inequality of individuals. A Folk is not made up of just one class, but all classes within a group of common blood, common heritage, common values, and common ideals. The "German workers revolution" envisioned by Otto Strasser would not have been a Folk revolution. The National Socialist Revolution which Adolf Hitler created and led to victory was clearly just that: a Folk revolution!

Adolf Hitler's National Socialism

Adolf Hitler's National Socialism was a modern-day revival of Aryan tribalism, pure and simple. Any investigation of the literature of the time shows this to be so. Otto Dietrich's Revolution in Thought and the Terramare series clearly demonstrate this. A tribe, or Folk, is a living, growing, evolving organism. As such, it has to be flexible in order to survive throughout the ever-changing flow of time. Other than the immutable laws of nature, which, of course, are not subject to change, true tribalism could never be bound to any preconceived theories, rules, or constitutions. It must constantly seek to serve the future of the Folk by weighing all of its actions against the answer to one simple question: is it good for the Folk?

Who was Financing the Strassers?

Rather than go on comparing Strasserism with tried and proven National Socialism, we can save a lot of time and effort in forming our opinions by seeing just who was backing and financing the Strassers. When Otto Strasser left the NSDAP he immediately set himself up in opposition to Adolf Hitler. Otto Strasser reveals that he was behind the 1931 Berlin SA revolt, giving advice and encouragement to the revolt's leader, SA Captain Walter Stennes. (Here we might note that Adolf Hitler easily and quickly brought the bulk of the Berlin SA back to him by his personal, on the spot intervention). But of much greater interest to us is Otto Strasser's frank admission that the primary financial backer of the Stennes revolt was the Jewish multi-millionaire, steel and coal industrialist Otto Wolff! It has been revealed in the book, Who Financed Hitler?, by James and Suzanne Pool, that Gregor Strasser's disruptive efforts were secretly financed by the wealthy Jewish industrialist Paul Silverberg, as well as the aforementioned Jew, Otto Wolff. It is interesting to note that both brothers, while presenting themselves as being so against big business, were happy enough to be on its payroll!

Naturally, after Adolf Hitler's assumption of power in 1933, Otto Strasser left Germany. Gregor Strasser remained until 1934 when he was executed for being involved with Ernst Röhm's ill-fated attempt to overthrow Adolf Hitler. In 1935 Fritz Max Cahen, the Jewish head of the "German" resistance movement against Hitler, amicably conferred with Otto Strasser in Prague. Thereafter he met with Strasser once a week! The periodical World Jewry was quite candid about Otto Strasser in 1936: "The well-known rival of Herr Hitler, Otto Strasser... has published an appeal to the German Jewish emigrants to join the newly-formed organization of German Jews headed by Herr Rossheim."... "In his opinion, the solution of the problem of the Jews in Germany lies in the direction of assimilation."...

In 1939 we hear of Otto Strasser from the British Ambassador in Berlin. In a letter to the British foreign Secretary he states: "So many people, such as Otto Strasser and others of this world, are seeking with intense pertinacity to drive us to war with Germany." Thanks a bunch Otto!

Otto Strasser's anti-Folk efforts, as well as his hobnobbing with Jews, did not stop in 1939, but went on throughout the war. After the war he spent his time advocating his ideas of a "third way" between Capitalism and Marxism which he called "solidarism", until he died in obscurity in 1974. There is little need to go into detail about his war time and post war activities. What has already been noted above should be quite enough for anyone to see that Otto and Gregor Strasser were financed and backed by Jews, and, as would be expected by such, their efforts were divisive and destructive. This alone should suffice to show that Strasserism has nothing in common with National Socialism, nor would it be a viable racial movement. Clearly, Strasserism is not good for the Folk!

Betrayal of the German Workers?

Adolf Hitler's alleged betrayal of the German workers is based largely on the book I Paid Hitler, which was attributed to industrialist Fritz Thyssen. However, Thyssen denied authorship in 1948, and further revealed that the book was written by Emery Reves, the Jewish publisher who was also responsible for the equally fictitious book by Hermann Rauschning, Hitler Speaks. Authoritative books such as the aforementioned Who financed Hitler?, German Big Business and the Rise of Hitler, by Henry Ashby Turner, and The End of Economic Man, by Peter Drucker, all lay this myth to rest by honestly showing that Adolf Hitler was financed primarily by weekly dues and small contributions from the Folk. These books are quite anti-Hitler, and thereby would have no reason to hide any dealings which Adolf Hitler had with big business. In addition, it can be pointed out that the dramatically rapid economic and social progress of National Socialist Germany certainly does not indicate any betrayal of the German Folk, workers or otherwise!

All of the above information is fairly easy to obtain, and we recommend that anyone interested should investigate the facts for themselves. Any honest investigation clearly shows that the Strasser brothers and the aforementioned Hermann Rauschning have been willing tools of World Jewry, and have served only to obscure the true nature of Adolf Hitler's National Socialism.

Adolf Hitler loved his Folk as none other. In turn, he was loved by his Folk as none other. His pure idealism is an inspiration to us all, and his dynamic personality transcends time to inspire us anew today. National Socialism is Aryan tribalism, and as such, it is the only thing that can possibly save our race, so immersed in selfishness and materialism, from its tail-spin into racial oblivion. While the world today stands on the brink of a new dark age of savagery, it is up to those of us who understand the true significance of Adolf Hitler and National Socialism to follow in the footsteps of Adolf Hitler-- to build a new, Folk-conscious Aryan Folk!
