

The Superhuman (The Übermensch)

Friedrich Nietzsche proclaimed that the meaning of life, that is, humankind's purpose on this earth, is to evolve to the Übermensch, the Superhuman. Nietzsche was only echoing the profound understanding of our Forefathers of the last golden age. Both Nietzsche and our Forefathers proclaimed an understanding of the laws of Nature: that all life was in the process of evolving toward higher and higher states of evolution.

Adolf Hitler also understood these laws of Nature. He realized that the dark age forces on this earth had blocked the evolution of mankind, and in fact they were threatening to reverse the natural processes, which would ultimately devolve all mankind out of existence. Adolf Hitler recognized that to save this earth he must lead mankind back into harmony with the immutable laws of Nature. Against all odds, he used his dauntless will to rise from the ranks of the common soldiery to become the leader of the German Folk. He inspired a modern-day revival of Aryan tribalism, and he built a great Folk-community out of the chaotic and degenerating German nation. There were many aspects to Adolf Hitler's National Socialism. The social and economic miracles it fostered were indeed enough to prove its worth. But by far the most important and necessary aspect of this incomparable Folk-movement was its ultimate goal: to change this degenerating world by bringing forth a higher form of humankind, a Superhuman!

Adolf Hitler knew that among all the people on this earth, Aryans had the best possibility to achieve higher evolution. Aryans have been in the forefront of civilization. Political and social stability, lawfulness, hygienic and technological advancements, and a real trend toward individual freedoms prevail in all lands inhabited by Aryans. Aryan homelands are the vanguard of civilization -- including the "human rights" which are so often demanded by, but usually nonexistent in the homelands of other peoples. Unfortunately, Adolf Hitler's desperate attempt to elevate his Aryan Folk and stop mankind's descent to oblivion was thwarted by the most destructive and bloody war in history.

Since the destruction of National Socialist Germany, the process of devolution has accelerated. Today, all Aryan homelands have been opened to massive immigration of alien peoples, many of whom have no demonstrated abilities to maintain any civilization at all. Anyone who dares can see that as the political and social control of Aryans wane, so does civilization's stability, lawfulness, hygienic standards, technology, and finally individual freedoms. Unfortunately, the vast majority of Aryans today are not concerned about their future. Other than economic fluctuations which interrupt their indulgences, they like everything just the way it is! They are completely uninterested in the future of this earth or their heirs. They are content to withdraw into their fantasy worlds of network television and videos, and stifle their fears with the opiate of materialism and aggrandizement. Thereby self-absorbed, today's

Aryans provide a fitting example for Adolf Hitler's warning in Mein Kampf: "AS SOON AS EGOISM BECOMES THE RULER OF A FOLK, THE BANDS OF ORDER ARE LOOSENEED, AND IN THE CHASE AFTER THEIR OWN HAPPINESS MEN FALL FROM HEAVEN INTO A REAL HELL."

So it is today, and obviously there is little chance of successful political activity with such a Folk! The only sure way to save this planet is to form a new Folk out of the few Aryans who exhibit that which Adolf Hitler proclaimed to be mark of higher man: "THIS STATE OF MIND WHICH SUBORDINATES THE INTERESTS OF THE EGO TO THE COMMUNITY, IS REALLY THE FIRST PREMISE FOR EVERY TRULY HUMAN CULTURE. FROM IT ALONE CAN ARISE ALL THE GREAT WORKS OF MANKIND." He was, of course, speaking of Idealism. With proper breeding, environment, and training, Adolf Hitler sought to bring forth a Superhuman Species from the German Folk. In the same manner, but on a much smaller and more intense scale, we are continuing in this work. The task of National Socialism today is not to bang its head against the brick wall of indifference and selfishness. The task today is still the ultimate goal: The Superhuman!

Most of us have some idea about the nature of a Superhuman. The entertainment media, alien though it is, has not been lax in portraying the Superhuman. A number of science fiction movies and television shows have presented us with an idea of the Superhuman. Examples of this are portrayals of martial arts experts, some of Arnold Schwarzenegger's characters, and especially Star Trek's Kahn and associates, the specially bred superhumans who battle the multi-cultural starship crew. These characters all give us some idea of the Superhuman's strength, discipline, intelligence, and paranormal powers. The media, seeking to make superhumans as politically incorrect as possible, usually portray their superhumans with an obnoxious ego. But this is hardly likely since, just as Adolf Hitler pointed out, it is the ego which seriously limits our abilities, let alone any Superhuman powers!

A Superhuman is superior in everything which is considered a human virtue: strength, agility, intelligence, intuition, discipline, responsibility, honesty, loyalty, heroism, sincerity, love, compassion, and nobility! But Superhuman also means less or none at all of what is considered undesirable or contemptible in human behavior: hatred, jealousy, selfishness, irresponsibility, indulgence, dishonesty, disloyalty, cowardliness, -- and egoism.

Superhuman abilities are really only latent abilities within all humans. We can see this somewhat with hypnosis, which is a process of external suggestion to a subject who is in a state of complete relaxation -- a state in which the ego has been temporarily set aside and the mind is freed from self-imposed limitations. During periods of hypnosis, a good subject can exhibit superhuman strength and endurance, insensitivity to pain, and total recall of memory.

Our Forefathers recognized that egoism was the key factor which limits the individual's use of his superhuman abilities, while its opposite, idealism, was the key that opened the door to higher consciousness and superhuman abilities. They realized that once an individual evolved beyond gross egoism, that is, began to develop idealism, he or she could accelerate the natural evolutionary process which would usually take tens of thousands of years more. They developed a system of physical, mental, and psychic exercises which could evolve and rejuvenate the physical body, increase intelligence, cleanse the subconscious mind, dissolve the ego, and accelerate the natural process of evolution.

National Socialism is a living, growing, evolving way of life. Although the forces of greed and selfishness have vanquished the National Socialist citadels of Europe, the ultimate goal of National Socialism is still within our grasp. We have found new ways of reaching the ultimate goal -- ways of which the dark age forces are unaware and unconcerned. It is time to stop wasting our dwindling time trying to educate the selfish and the indifferent. We have a world to save! All Aryans who are idealistic enough are needed to do their part to bring forth a new Folk of Superhumans!

Our way is upward, from the species across to the Superhuman species. But the degenerate mind which says "all for me" [ego] is a horror to us. -- Nietzsche
