

216

In Hinduism, some things have been hidden, such as the Mala of 108 beads and how this can be used. In ancient teachings, 54 is Shiva and 54 is Shakti, making 108. This is expanded outwards to 108 for Shiva and 108 for Shakti, making 216.

This is why the Meru bead is placed on the Mala. You go around 108 to the Meru bead, then turn the Mala back around and go around in the other direction to the Meru bead making 216. The number 108 has power, but so does 216.

In the east, 108 relates to the material realm and physical time. I suspect 216 relates to the union of the astral and material realm. Hence the 216 is the path to get to 666, the union of the astral and physical, making all existence.
