You realise if someone isn't dedicated he isn't protected by satan. They will probably get attacked and will turn away from SS forever. And even if you are, after F-RTR everyone should do AC1-2. This is like blowing your own soldiers to peaces.

Loki in regards to your other disapproved post, do not spread jewish disinformation on the forums. The RTR works by the true and full method of reversal which has been destroying the hebrew and variants. The Will impressed with the reversal guided by the affirmation does this. Shills and traitors and jews have limitless deception to say to prevent people from uprooting the jew on the occult root, for which pretending to know and spreading lies is essential to them.

1. The 7 vowels is not "Yahweh" because the jews said so, the 7 vowels correspond to the 7 planetary energies, and the 7 chakras, and there is nothing bad about them. It is not a "Name of Yahweh" and is absolutely generic, and only within context of jewish magick this means anything negative, which it really is not.

2. Intention of reversal is reversing it, and the affirmation affirms the death of it. There is a way to reverse a letter and that is to reverse it [say it reverse, the same goes for some mantras that are same front and reverse, they can be undone either way]. Plus, the letter is reversed, and the reverse sometimes is the front.

"Nish" which is the Shin is actually which used to be a Gentile God, and not "Jehovah". Nissan is one example, and NISA is not the same as NIS as this character states, the letter is hissed. It is also a reversal of the Sin which is the Sumerian God of the Moon. Context and intentions matter more than intellectual letter to letter autism, but this person is clearly spiritually incompetent and they don't understand one thing of what they write.

3. I know who the person writing this message is, and it is of no concern anymore, because every so often this individual always does work for the enemy, and then crawls on the forums and privately to ask for forgiveness, and they write some bullshit comments without any proper knowledge, because they have verified autism and other speaking and writing disorders. They were always uninsightful so we never took them seriously.

Because they have been blocked, if it is this person, then they go to comment on your videos things to instill doubt in the fairly obvious work of enemy destruction, as doubt is necessary for the enemy to operate further spells that will "Hopefully", they believe, will save them or buy them time.

In conclusion to the autism and flat lack of knowledge - No, this autistic person doesn't know more than HPS Maxine, and the ritual is perfectly fine for the purpose, and it does it, despite of what this idiot [and possible jew] says. Unless you are on collaboration with this guy please stop spreading autistic disinformation, and yes, unfortunately for the jews, the RTR is going to finish everything they have.

4. The so called "Tetragrammaton" is not "Jewish" in reality, but an alteration of it was created in Hebrew [it is being wiped out as with anything else] and it was stolen from alterations and placing of the Vowels, which can be used for generic purposes.

5. A rabbi and/or general traitor came to post on your comment section and you instantly pulled the knife on us, so take it for granted, that since you constantly do this to us, in the guise of your "Questions".

Indeed, your greatest problem is your own hypermentalism, which prohibits you from understanding anything spiritual, and this may be great in your situation, considering how unstable and aggressive you have been to us, and constantly discrediting us as if you were the measure of anything yourself, even in subjects you seldom understand, and based on following random accusations from jews and random e-garbage.

I assume you'll see this so here is what the guy said on the video comments which can be seen of course by yourself:

There is no way to reverse letters that don't reverse. The second letter spells a common known name of Yahweh that is in the Bible. This name is of Yahweh as the banner and staff of Moses which is the Leviathan the occult power of the Jewish People which Moses uses to defeat the Canaanites with in Kabbalah the Nissi which holds the sum energy of the 613 commandments of the Mosaic law. Its the name of Yahweh as the power of conquering the nations. The letter Mem is the code for the number of the Jewish god in Kabbalah the 13 Mem is the King of the Jewish race. The Vav and Heh are the majority of the tetragrammaton which is the name most of the system is organized around. The Jewish occultists use the tetragrammaton to vibrate in the regions of their psychophysical being that corresponds to the 10 sephirot. They also use the Vav and Heh to connect directly into the god form of Yahweh in Kabbalah meditations. Which means using these letters also connect the individual into the god form of Yahweh. What do the other reversed letters spell if the Shin spells such a name of Yahweh.

The secret name of Yahweh is the seven vowels. How do you reverse them they can be done in any sequence. The ancient Hebrew was written in the boustrophedon which can be flipped around and reversed.

The Kabbalah mentions each nation has its own guardian angel which would be the Daemon in the Greek. And that Yahweh wars against them as Yahweh is the geni of the Jewish race soul. The individual also has the individual daemon the Fylgja in the Norse tradition. The Elk rune is the rune of the Fylgja its the rune of individual protection the Fylgja if placed with Sowulo it charges it with more energy. A person needs to build up the Fylgja before engaging in psychic warfare against the Leviathan.

With boustrophedon and the Hebrew code ciphers you can reverse Hebrew words into other Hebrew words and generate power with them.

"And Moses built an altar, and called the name of it Jehovahnissi: Nissi is the Hebrew word "נִסִּי" (Nes) and means "banner." "

The spellings of Nis all relate to the god name of Yahweh. The second letter of Shin reversed in Hebrew to Nes and Nis are the Yahweh name which worships and praises Yahweh.

Of the Hebrew letters.

The Heh, Vav, Tet, Mem and Nun do not reverse the Nis is a god name of Yahweh, Nissi.

Loki there are at least five letters that do not reverse and the second letter the Shin its reversal to Nis also spells a powerful name of Yahweh the Jews use constantly that of Nissi. That makes six letters that are chanting the name of the Jewish god and connecting into the Saturnine logos of Yahweh. This is simply just doing Kabbalah exercises of the Jews which are based on chanting the Hebrew letters.

The concept of taking the energy out of Hebrew spells relates to the removal of the vowels the AMT to MT with the Golem tale. The Aleph is the key letter because its the A and all the vowels are permutations of the A letter and the vowels are the soul of the letters you can not speak a letter without the vowels. This Reverse Torah Ritual is very off in its knowledge of Kabbalah.

Thanks for the in depth response. I will have to scrutinize both and try to come to conclusions myself. One thing I can say to verify the probable efficacy of the RTR is that the kikes next door are always hovering around outside my window when I do it and also other local kikes have showed their fear in my company when I had first began using it. I assume my house is bugged or they have accoustics which can pick up noise in here. I am being monitored by cops all the time.

That guy is a real genius, he thinks the boustrophedon is more than just a system of writing in alternate directions and those who wrote in boustrophedon apparently must have reversed the sounds and pronunciation when reading the upside down lines instead of just turning the tablet upside down and reading that line normally. Lol.

There is alternate left-to-right and right-to left boustrophedon that is more common, but nobody read the inverted/mirrored part by reversing the pronunciation and sounds. They read it normally, just in the other direction. The F-RTR's are about reversing the sounds, not the drawing of the hebrew letters.

The guy also said another genius thing: That Nissi is somehow Shin backwards. Except it's Nissi not Nish or even Nis (which is in the final RTR as one of the reversed forms) It's a subtle difference in sounds. it's written using the letter Samekh not Shin so it's pronounced as a soft "s" not "sh" and it has an extra "i". Here you can hear a kike pronounce it:

https://forvo.com/word/jehovah_nissi/

Thanks for the helpful response in regards to pseudo spiritual know it alls - the other day a dedicated satanist who "doesn't go on JoyofSatan anymore, because it was a good starter but there's something off about it" contacted me directly after a really positive working I did - to try and fear monger me by saying "your guardian isn't actually your guardian, you get attacked when you make contact and you need to leave JoyofSatan and only talk to Satan himself"

Not only did she interrupt everything so heavily but she was almost like a breathing walking "attack," she is "psychic" and it's as though she could sense me doing better.

She sure enjoys her psychic abilities she tapped into from JoyofSatan for "not agreeing with JoyofSatan"

I have been attacked during contact with my gd, as many of us may have from time to time. I was made aware of this quite a while ago and have since been given a good solution. She acted as though this small bit of truth was complete validation for every other feeling she had, proclaiming she's the best psychic there is and that she is one of the highest and mightiest ancient souls. Her Guardian after all, is high ranked. She's too good for JoS now, and she has to get stoned to use her abilities too.

The facade can be really deceiving for those that are new in particular, and if I was a young satanist I may have fallen for her bullshit without proper guidance from the groups. The jew can read energy, the jew can be psychic, and they can pick up on attributes and mimic them. The gods never truly bother with these people if they're jewish or unable to progress.... Over time, these potential Jews or heavily infiltrated people don't show any progression or advancement. They're never given anything of use by the gods, and most often they get hurt when they try to call upon the gods or when they bother us.

There was a pedophile jew in the yahoo forums back in 2011-12 who went by the name of Paul pseudonym/Tom, he was around for a while and had some of the youth fooled. He made claims of having felt Satan's energy so on and so forth. He contributed "advice" from time to time and laid pretty low. It was never that obvious. I was maybe 15 at the time, he began emailing me and I had given him my phone number. We were talking on the phone and I mentioned that I had just found out who my guardian was. Right then, all of the phones in the house shut off. When I suspected I was to not talk to him, the phones would come back on. The last call he was able to make to me was of him yelling and screaming that one of the gods was trying to kill him. He claimed he was thrown down a flight of stairs and fell off of his bike. He was completely terrified and never contacted me again. I didn't know he was a Jew but a few months later it was verified. He made a few more shotty attempts at contacting young satanists and messing with them in between that time - it was typically young girls. He was 28 I believe. He lurked for a couple of years prior to that experience, but when the time came and he was gotten rid of, he was kicked off of the groups shortly after.

I still have a lot of healing, catching up, and studying to do. I know I can probably be off at times as well. Doing my absolute best to be the best me now. Thank you for all of your time, effort, and care. It has been making a large impact in my life lately.

The comment person also claimed NES is the energy of shin(shin backwards). Which makes no sense, why should every letter be destroyed by reversal, but somehow shin is an exception :lol: . (everything else is allready disproved by your former comment)

I really like it, when the enemy has to approve partly the truth, so they can mix some lies to it, which we disprove so only the truth stays there, approved from our and the enemy side 8-) . Considering how much they fear us, if they have to make such a big fuss on a video with 150 views :P .

I assume you'll see this so here is what the guy said on the video comments which can be seen of course by yourself:

There is no way to reverse letters that don't reverse. The second letter spells a common known name of Yahweh that is in the Bible. This name is of Yahweh as the banner and staff of Moses which is the Leviathan the occult power of the Jewish People which Moses uses to defeat the Canaanites with in Kabbalah the Nissi which holds the sum energy of the 613 commandments of the Mosaic law. Its the name of Yahweh as the power of conquering the nations. The letter Mem is the code for the number of the Jewish god in Kabbalah the 13 Mem is the King of the Jewish race. The Vav and Heh are the majority of the tetragrammaton which is the name most of the system is organized around. The Jewish occultists use the tetragrammaton to vibrate in the regions of their psychophysical being that corresponds to the 10 sephirot. They also use the Vav and Heh to connect directly into the god form of Yahweh in Kabbalah meditations. Which means using these letters also connect the individual into the god form of Yahweh. What do the other reversed letters spell if the Shin spells such a name of Yahweh.

The secret name of Yahweh is the seven vowels. How do you reverse them they can be done in any sequence. The ancient Hebrew was written in the boustrophedon which can be flipped around and reversed.

The Kabbalah mentions each nation has its own guardian angel which would be the Daemon in the Greek. And that Yahweh wars against them as Yahweh is the geni of the Jewish race soul. The individual also has the individual daemon the Fylgja in the Norse tradition. The Elk rune is the rune of the Fylgja its the rune of individual protection the Fylgja if placed with Sowulo it charges it with more energy. A person needs to build up the Fylgja before engaging in psychic warfare against the Leviathan.

With boustrophedon and the Hebrew code ciphers you can reverse Hebrew words into other Hebrew words and generate power with them.

"And Moses built an altar, and called the name of it Jehovahnissi: Nissi is the Hebrew word "נִסִּי" (Nes) and means "banner." "

The spellings of Nis all relate to the god name of Yahweh. The second letter of Shin reversed in Hebrew to Nes and Nis are the Yahweh name which worships and praises Yahweh.

Of the Hebrew letters.

The Heh, Vav, Tet, Mem and Nun do not reverse the Nis is a god name of Yahweh, Nissi.

Loki there are at least five letters that do not reverse and the second letter the Shin its reversal to Nis also spells a powerful name of Yahweh the Jews use constantly that of Nissi. That makes six letters that are chanting the name of the Jewish god and connecting into the Saturnine logos of Yahweh. This is simply just doing Kabbalah exercises of the Jews which are based on chanting the Hebrew letters.

The concept of taking the energy out of Hebrew spells relates to the removal of the vowels the AMT to MT with the Golem tale. The Aleph is the key letter because its the A and all the vowels are permutations of the A letter and the vowels are the soul of the letters you can not speak a letter without the vowels. This Reverse Torah Ritual is very off in its knowledge of Kabbalah.

Perhaps you could put up the entire quote and your refutation from the video to confirm the legitimacy of the RTR? Here is the entire text:

The Shin letter reversing to Nes, Nis is done by design. The Shin is the energy letter of the Leviathan and given the symbolism of that in its image and description. The Nes is the physical symbol of the energy of the Shin. The question is that the only letter that reverses to the meaning of the energy of the letter probably it is not. This fits the Kabbalah ideology of astral the energy letter and Malkuth the materialization of the energy to something physical.

dionysos response:

The first argument:

Of which the IAO is the trinity of the three main powers. One of the vowels names of YHVH as Robert Graves showed was IAOUAI which was found in a Jewish magical papyri by Clement of Alexandria.

The second argument:

Five letters don't reverse so there is no argument. With the Shin this whole RTR claim is to be reversing the Cabbala system of magic of the Hebrews not the ancient Sumerians so what is the point here? I didn't state anything about 'Nisa' the spelling of the name of Yahweh of NES in Hebrew is the spelling of Shin in reverse the Shin is the energy of Nes the name of Leviathan in Hebrew which shows the code the reversed letters spell other Yahweh titles that connect to the letters which probably shows the letters that don't reverse are designed to stand on their own as energetic principals which makes them power letters. Nissan however is also the name of a Jewish holy month.

The fourth argument:

The argument that YHWH the Hebrew tetragrammaton is not Jewish is false. Its the fourfold name of the Jewish deity. The claim it was stolen from and relates to the placement of vowels also contradicts the first argument that the name of the Hebrew god has nothing to do with the vowels.

This answers my question of what person would put out a ritual that claims to reverse 22 letters and ignore totality the fact five of the letters don't reverse. And at least one of the reversed letters spells out NES the title of Yahweh as the Leviathan. The amount of rage filled insults, pointless raving, double talk and empty accusations from this 'High Priest' demonstrates to me that kind of a person would.

I'm extremely disappointed in you, Loki. I naively thought there was hope for you.

You seem to have forgotten that the letters are reversed in the frames of a reversing ritual, not vibrated individually and random. Nonetheless the letters do reverse when they're recited in a reversing manner especially in a reversing ritual, regardless if they're spelled the same way backwards. This has to do with the intention, the affirmations, reciting all variations of each letter in reverse, reversing the whole hebrew alphabet by starting from the last letter all the way up to the first in a reversing manner, blotting out the letters completely (which you conveniently "failed" to do) and by willing their reversal, thus their complete destruction.

Noon backwards would be nooN, it does not matter if it sounds the same, you're reversing it simply by vibrating it backwards with intent to reverse it. Otherwise, how would the letter have power in the first place? Are you creating and deleting the letter at the same time when vibrating it with an intent to create/empower it? Or are you somehow cheating the system by inventing a letter which spells the same backwards? How come they didn't just make all letters spell the same backwards and just call it a day?

As for one letter spelling one of yahweh's names out of hundreds, maybe even thousands, of mostly stolen pagan names, it's unavoidable and meaningless that some names of pagan Gods or other pagan spiritual concepts were stolen by jews, as all what matters is what kind of energy is being associated with what name when reciting it, meaning when reversing sin to nis it matters not that nis is also a name of jehova as the energy and the intent of reciting nis is the reversal of the jewish letter and its energy.

Satan means truth in sanskrit and also means an enemy in hebrew, which one is true? The first or the latter? The answer would depend on the intent mostly.

You don't get to whine about HP HC not showering you with complements and instead call you out on your bullshit. You've been spewing jewish nonsense for years now and the JoS ministry have been correcting and explaining things for you with great patience only for you to go back to spewing bullshit or backstab a few days later like you always do.

As for what kind of person puts out such a ritual, it was lord Azazel who relayed this information to the HPs.

At this point it wouldn't be an overboard to consider you an enemy, as your behavior doesn't prove otherwise.

Hail Satan!!!!

Thanks for your insightful post. I am simply trying to determine whether this is True or no. I am now convinced it is and IF I weren't I wouldn't have made the video of the RTR to attempt to publicize JOS in my own humble way. Further indications of the efficacy of the RTR: jews outside my place trying to speak loudly and and run power equipment to try to annoy me; the expression on the face of various jews after I had begun the RTR and began shilling for JOS. I am being gangstalked by them so they are almost certainly bugging my place or in some way picking up the audio. To my mind this is 'proof' or nearly so of the legitimacy of the RTR and JOS in general. A thousand apologies if I have offended as that was not my intent, I merely attempt at times out of desperation to force myself on others to get 'The Truth' so I can follow the proper path.

That person doesn't understand that the jews have stolen everything.

Numerous books on Kabbalah mention the name of Yahweh are the seven vowels. The ancient Hebrew magical texts call Yahweh the IAO the fire, air, water and then the IAO is formed into the formula of the seven full vowels. Of which the IAO is the trinity of the three main powers. One of the vowels names of YHVH as Robert Graves showed was IAOUAI which was found in a Jewish magical papyri by Clement of Alexandria.

The numbers 3 and 7 existed in religions before the jews. 7 chakras, 7 temples (in egyptian) 3 nadis, and the numerous triads. The Kablahblah in fact includes much stolen Pagan knowledge. The vowels thing as YHVH is also stolen and corrupted (read the page below about the real tetragrammaton)

The argument that YHVH the Hebrew tetragrammaton is not Jewish is false. Its the fourfold name of the Jewish deity. The claim it was stolen from and relates to the placement of vowels also contradicts the first argument that the name of the Hebrew god has nothing to do with the vowels.

That's a strawman. HP Cobra didn't claim that the YHVH isn't jewish. He said that the Tetragrammaton (i.e that four letters represent the name of God) predates the jews.

https://www.satanisgod.org/see_the_trut ... maton.html

The fact that the YHVH isn't the real tetragrammaton as the 2 Hs are the same. A real tetragrammaton contains unique letters.

Five letters don't reverse so there is no argument. With the Shin this whole RTR claim is to be reversing the Cabbala system of magic of the Hebrews not the ancient Sumerians so what is the point here? I didn't state anything about 'Nisa' the spelling of the name of Yahweh of NES in Hebrew is the spelling of Shin in reverse the Shin is the energy of Nes the name of Leviathan in Hebrew which shows the code the reversed letters spell other Yahweh titles that connect to the letters which probably shows the letters that don't reverse are designed to stand on their own as energetic principals which makes them power letters. Nissan however is also the name of a Jewish holy month.

Again that kike crap is stolen. That person did nothing to refute the fact that it's stolen from Babylonians and others.

ignore totality the fact five of the letters don't reverse

It's because it's irrelevant. If you want to do a ritual that reverses every single kike letter you have to include the symmetrical ones.

Context and intentions matter more than intellectual letter to letter autism, but this person is clearly spiritually incompetent and they don't understand one thing of what they write.

3. I know who the person writing this message is, and it is of no concern anymore, because every so often this individual always does work for the enemy, and then crawls on the forums and privately to ask for forgiveness, and they write some bullshit comments without any proper knowledge, because they have verified autism and other speaking and writing disorders. They were always un insightful so we never took them seriously.

Because they have been blocked, if it is this person, then they go to comment on your videos things to instill doubt in the fairly obvious work of enemy destruction, as doubt is necessary for the enemy to operate further spells that will "Hopefully", they believe, will save them or buy them time.

In conclusion to the autism and flat lack of knowledge - No, this autistic person doesn't know more than HPS Maxine, and the ritual is perfectly fine for the purpose, and it does it, despite of what this idiot [and possible jew] says. Unless you are on collaboration with this guy please stop spreading autistic disinformation, and yes, unfortunately for the jews, the RTR is going to finish everything they have.

4. The so called "Tetragrammaton" is not "Jewish" in reality, but an alteration of it was created in Hebrew [it is being wiped out as with anything else] and it was stolen from alterations and placing of the Vowels, which can be used for generic purposes.

5. A rabbi and/or general traitor came to post on your comment section and you instantly pulled the knife on us, so take it for granted, that since you constantly do this to us, in the guise of your "Questions".

Indeed, your greatest problem is your own hypermentalism, which prohibits you from understanding anything spiritual, and this may be great in your situation, considering how unstable and aggressive you have been to us, and constantly discrediting us as if you were the measure of anything yourself, even in subjects you seldom understand, and based on following random accusations from jews and random e-garbage.

I assume you'll see this so here is what the guy said on the video comments which can be seen of course by yourself:

There is no way to reverse letters that don't reverse. The second letter spells a common known name of Yahweh that is in the Bible. This name is of Yahweh as the banner and staff of Moses which is the Leviathan the occult power of the Jewish People which Moses uses to defeat the Canaanites with in Kabbalah the Nissi which holds the sum energy of the 613 commandments of the Mosaic law. Its the name of Yahweh as the power of conquering the nations. The letter Mem is the code for the number of the Jewish god in Kabbalah the 13 Mem is the King of the Jewish race. The Vav and Heh are the majority of the tetragrammaton which is the name most of the system is organized around. The Jewish occultists use the tetragrammaton to vibrate in the regions of their psychophysical being that corresponds to the 10 sephirot. They also use the Vav and Heh to connect directly into the god form of Yahweh in Kabbalah meditations. Which means using these letters also connect the individual into the god form of Yahweh. What do the other reversed letters spell if the Shin spells such a name of Yahweh.

The secret name of Yahweh is the seven vowels. How do you reverse them they can be done in any sequence. The ancient Hebrew was written in the boustrophedon which can be flipped around and reversed.

The Kabbalah mentions each nation has its own guardian angel which would be the Daemon in the Greek. And that Yahweh wars against them as Yahweh is the geni of the Jewish race soul. The individual also has the individual daemon the Fylgja in the Norse tradition. The Elk rune is the rune of the Fylgia its the rune of individual protection the Fylgia if placed with Sowulo it charges it with more energy. A person needs to build up the Fylgia before engaging in psychic warfare against the Leviathan.

With boustrophedon and the Hebrew code ciphers you can reverse Hebrew words into other Hebrew words and generate power with them.

"And Moses built an altar, and called the name of it Jehovahnissi: Nissi is the Hebrew word "נִסִּי" (Nes) and means "banner." "

The spellings of Nis all relate to the god name of Yahweh. The second letter of Shin reversed in Hebrew to Nes and Nis are the Yahweh name which worships and praises Yahweh.

Of the Hebrew letters.

The Heh, Vav, Tet, Mem and Nun do not reverse the Nis is a god name of Yahweh, Nissi.

Loki there are at least five letters that do not reverse and the second letter the Shin its reversal to Nis also spells a powerful name of Yahweh the Jews use constantly that of Nissi. That makes six letters that are chanting the name of the Jewish god and connecting into the Saturnine logos of Yahweh. This is simply just doing Kabbalah exercises of the Jews which are based on chanting the Hebrew letters.

The concept of taking the energy out of Hebrew spells relates to the removal of the vowels the AMT to MT with the Golem tale. The Aleph is the key letter because its the A and all the vowels are permutations of the A letter and the vowels are the soul of the letters you can not speak a letter without the vowels. This Reverse Torah Ritual is very off in its knowledge of Kabbalah.

Perhaps you could put up the entire quote and your refutation from the video to confirm the legitimacy of the RTR? Here is the entire text:

The Shin letter reversing to Nes, Nis is done by design. The Shin is the energy letter of the Leviathan and given the symbolism of that in its image and description. The Nes is the physical symbol of the energy of the Shin. The question is that the only letter that reverses to the meaning of the energy of the letter probably it is not. This fits the Kabbalah ideology of astral the energy letter and Malkuth the materialization of the energy to something physical.

HP hooded cobra response/refutation:

1. The 7 vowels is not "Yahweh" because the jews said so, the 7 vowels correspond to the 7 planetary energies, and the 7 chakras, and there is nothing bad about them. It is not a "Name of Yahweh" and is absolutely generic, and only within context of jewish magick this means anything negative, which it really is not.

2. Intention of reversal is reversing it, and the affirmation affirms the death of it. There is a way to reverse a letter and that is to reverse it [say it reverse, the same goes for some mantras that are same front and reverse, they can be undone either way]. Plus, the letter is reversed, and the reverse sometimes is the front.

"Nish" which is the Shin is actually which used to be a Gentile God, and not "Jehovah". Nissan is one example, and NISA is not the same as NIS as this character states, the letter is hissed. It is also a reversal of the Sin which is the Sumerian God of the Moon. Context and intentions matter more than intellectual letter to letter autism, but this person is clearly spiritually incompetent and they don't understand one thing of what they write.

3. dionysos response:

The first argument:

Numerous books on Kabbalah mention the name of Yahweh are the seven vowels. The ancient Hebrew magical texts call Yahweh the IAO the fire, air, water and then the IAO is formed into the formula of the seven full vowels. Of which the IAO is the trinity of the three main powers. One of the vowels names of YHVH as Robert Graves showed was IAOUAI which was found in a Jewish magical papyri by Clement of Alexandria.

The second argument:

Five letters don't reverse so there is no argument. With the Shin this whole RTR claim is to be reversing the Cabbala system of magic of the Hebrews not the ancient Sumerians so what is the point here? I didn't state anything about 'Nisa' the spelling of the name of Yahweh of NES in Hebrew is the spelling of Shin in reverse the Shin is the energy of Nes the name of Leviathan in Hebrew which shows the code the reversed letters spell other Yahweh titles that connect to the letters which probably shows the letters that don't reverse are designed to stand on their own as energetic principals which makes them power letters. Nissan however is also the name of a Jewish holy month.

The fourth argument:

The argument that YHVH the Hebrew tetragrammaton is not Jewish is false. Its the fourfold name of the Jewish deity. The claim it was stolen from and relates to the placement of vowels also contradicts the first argument that the name of the Hebrew god has nothing to do with the vowels.

This answers my question of what person would put out a ritual that claims to reverse 22 letters and ignore totality the fact five of the letters don't reverse. And at least one of the reversed letters spells out NES the title of Yahweh as the Leviathan. The amount of rage filled insults, pointless raving, double talk and empty accusations from this 'High Priest' demonstrates to me that kind of a person would.

Vowels are natural sounds. In permuations and specific patterns, they form energies, which may be used in some context, and jews claim them for jewish context, lying that they are bad. How can the sound of breathing be a bad and hebrew letter?

The person in your comment section is either deceiving, or a worried jew, who attempts to instill doubt in what is destroying his whole clique. His aleph bet is dying and he can rave all he wants as his tribe did while it created the hoax of xianity. Its too late now.

I do not care what some inferior kabbalah student says in your comment section Loki or what disinfo he pushes based on hebrew or what lie will be said for you to post disinfo claiming the words of a random jew matter over those of seasoned Pagans ie Satanists.

Coraxo answered you indepth also so did Shrekelstein. However, repetitively attacking us is stupid and no different than a jewish MSM reporter who does bad questions to agitate and subvert. This is not called question or inquiry. I say this based on your general standing in the forums not on this isolated incident.

Is the Sumerian God of the Moon (sin) a enemy entity?

The comment person also claimed NES is the energy of shin(shin backwards). Which makes no sense, why should every letter be destroyed by reversal, but somehow shin is an exception :lol: . (everything else is already disproved by your former comment)

I really like it, when the enemy has to approve partly the truth, so they can mix some lies to it, which we disprove so only the truth stays there, approved from our and the enemy side 8-) . Considering how much they fear us, if they have to make such a big fuss on a video with 150 views :P .

No, of course not. Sin is a Sumerian name for the moon.

You reverse Kik by saying Kik and intending its reversal. It is not rocket science really. Jews however are afraid of massive hordes of people doing RTR so they need to stop even 1 or 10 people, so writing BS is not a big price for them to pay.

You questioning stuff is fine, no one has the right to be mad about this, each one has a unique road to walk in, but when you start using obvious jewish mental diarrhea (aka arguments) to question the legitimacy of the JoS and agree with those "arguments" is when lines are crossed as far as our politeness and patience is concerned. This is when it stops being about questioning and curiosity and becomes simply a form of jewish shelling, especially when you agree with those nonsensical arguments on a public video about the Final RTR in which you also failed to do the ritual correctly as you haven't even plotted the letters out completely; each letter must be covered/erased completely and immediately after vibrating all of its variations, this is even written literally under each hebrew letter. This means, you vibrate all the variations of the top letter in the page and after that you completely plot it out while willing/intending its destruction and THEN you move on to the next letter.

I personally don't have much hope if you keep going in the same circle. That being said, if you're being genuine about your commitment to Satan then I highly advice you to dedicate your soul and to immediately start meditating, this will widen your perspective greatly, especially by working on the upper chakras.

Now the choice is yours, will you keep falling for jewish nonsense? or will you finally commit to the spiritual path and break free?

Hail Satan!!!!

more comments from the guy dionysos on the bitchute video:

"Reviewing the number 22 letter on the RTR website its spelling different variations of the B letter with vowels interchanged the VT is one of the spelling of the second letter in Hebrew and different vowels can be placed within the letter consonants. There is a binary connection between the 22nd letter and 2nd. They both reverse to spell each other. The 222 Cabbala numerology. So your not reversing the 22nd letter your just chanting the second letter and your not reversing the second letter your just chanting the 22nd letter.

Its now eight letters that don't reverse.

Dionysus@ Dionysus@

In Cabala the Aleph reversed in Hebrew is Peleh. And is a word formula for the attribute of their god form.

The Hebrew letters in the reversal of this letter show this and you have the Peh and final Peh which are somewhat different variations in the letter but the same letter sound.

The reverse Aleph is just praising the Jewish god form.

The claim reversing the Hebrew letters erases them is incorrect the Aleph when reversed just gives the attribute and meaning of the Aleph and praises the Aleph. Hebrew is a language of reversal to get meanings of the word that is reversed which is known already in Cabala. This does not erase the energy it builds the energy of the god form of the Jewish people.

"Aleph is the only silent letter of the 22 consonants – it represents the unrevealed, infinite spiritual.

The letters of the word Aleph read backwards is 'peleh'

which means an inexplicable wonder – the wonder of the infinite spiritual being manifested within the finite physical!!"

Now its up to nine letters of the 22 RTR which are praising the Hebrew god form.

One of the reverse permutations of the Aleph letter on the RTR website is PEH-LEH the exact Hebrew mantra in Cabala which praises the meaning of the letter and the Hebrew god form. This is chanting a Hebrew mantra nine times to manifest it.

This is praising Yahweh.

The reversal of the Resh letter in the 22 ritual the spelling of the Hebrew words Sher, Shayr, Shor are Hebrews words for gates and opener of gates, guardian of gates which are the mystical gates of the Siddhur of the religious Jews and in Cabbala that the mind Resh must pass. The reversal of the Resh letter is just a Hebrew formula for opening the gates of their energy body. Which is the point of the Merkava teachings of Cabbala. And the gates of the Hebrew world tree in the other realms."

This is the exact kind of jewish mental diarrhea I'm talking about, and you falling for this obvious jew is exactly why you need to work on your upper chakras.

This rabbi basically repeated the same diarrhea that I addressed and for the last time I'm going to address it again, mainly so people reading this - especially newbies - don't fall for this crab;

"Reviewing the number 22 letter on the RTR website its spelling different variations of the B letter with vowels interchanged the VT is one of the spelling of the second letter in Hebrew and different vowels can be placed within the letter consonants. There is a binary connection between the 22nd letter and 2nd. They both reverse to spell each other. The 222 Cabbala numerology. So your not reversing the 22nd letter your just chanting the second letter and your not reversing the second letter your just chanting the 22nd letter.

Other than this being the most retarded mental gymnastic I've read, it also contradicts itself. Let's forget everything I said about how reversing the letters within a reversing ritual by intending their reversal is what matters regardless how the letters spell or sound backwards and argue the same way this jew is doing, according to (((it))) the reversal of the 2nd letter spells the 22nd, and vice versa, therefore it's null? Wouldn't that just mean that the jews are reversing their own 2nd letter by creating the 22nd? Or does logic apply only when the jew wants and you should just trust him you silly goy?

Its now eight letters that don't reverse.

Dionysus@ Dionysus@

It's now 0 letters since the letters which has one or more variations that spell the same backwards is irrelevant as you're still spelling them backwards and most importantly you're willing their reversal. Also only one letter has all of its variations spell the same backwards which is the letter noon. Notice how this jew proclaimed 5 letters in the ritual to be useless since only one or their variations spells the same way backwards, as if this makes the other variations obsolete, not even mentioning the fact that all of this doesn't matter since YOU'RE REVERSING THE LETTERS WITHIN A REVERSING RITUAL WHERE YOU RECITE ALL VARIATIONS OF EACH LETTER IN BACKWARDS STARTING BY THE LAST AND MAKING YOUR WAY UP TO THE FIRST ONE WHILE FOCUSING ON THE HEBREW LETTER AND INTENDING ITS COMPLETE DESTRUCTION WHICH YOU ALSO AFFIRM BY COMPLETELY PLOTTING OUT THE HEBREW LETTER AND THEN BY AFFIRMING THEIR COMPLETE AND PERMANENT DESTRUCTION AND THEIR TOTAL DEATH ALL OF WHICH IS DONE WITH THE HELP OF THE GENTILE GODS AND MAINLY OUR LORD AND CREATOR SATAN AFTER YOU RECITE A PRAYER RELAYED TO US BY SATAN HIMSELF.

Does this still not make it clear to you? Considering the above it LITERALLY does not matter what a jew has to say about the ritual and you even listening to this filth is why the HP and I are upset and annoyed.

I'm going to continue addressing the rest just to be sure nothing stays confusing for anyone who's reading;

In Cabala the Aleph reversed in Hebrew is Peleh. And is a word formula for the attribute of their god form.

The Hebrew letters in the reversal of this letter show this and you have the Peh and final Peh which are somewhat different variations in the letter but the same letter sound.

The reverse Aleph is just praising the Jewish god form.

The claim reversing the Hebrew letters erases them is incorrect the Aleph when reversed just gives the attribute and meaning of the Aleph and praises the Aleph. Hebrew is a language of reversal to get meanings of the word that is reversed which is known already in Cabala. This does not erase the energy it builds the energy of the god form of the Jewish people.

So does this make the letter aleph the reversal of the thoughtform (yahweh)? Or does it only reverse when the scat-loving jew pleases?

How does this make peleh not work for reversing the letter aleph in the first place? The reversal is also another word in hebrew, therefore it doesn't work? What kind of idiotic logic is that?

"Aleph is the only silent letter of the 22 consonants – it represents the unrevealed, infinite spiritual.

The letters of the word Aleph read backwards is 'peleh'

which means an inexplicable wonder – the wonder of the infinite spiritual being manifested within the finite physical!!"

I do not care what jews has to say about their disgusting language, it can mean literal diarrhea and I couldn't care less.

Do you even realize that their language is nothing but a stolen Assyrian language where half of it was reversed and the rest is corrupted? The simplest example is the letter aleph which is olaph/olaf in Assyrian and alpha in greek, or how the word Kabbala is stolen from pavan Karballa. This has been extensively covered by the JoS ministries with more accurate examples and resources than I can provide so I encourage you and everyone else to read their sermons, you can find most of their sermons on the JoS website or on these forums.

Now its up to nine letters of the 22 RTR which are praising the Hebrew god form.

Still 0 letters, but keep listening to whatever this rabbi has to say, dear goy. He's obviously an honest and respectful rabbi who wouldn't dare to lie, you dumb antisemite!!1!

One of the reverse permutations of the Aleph letter on the RTR website is PEH-LEH the exact Hebrew mantra in Cabala which praises the meaning of the letter and the Hebrew god form. This is chanting a Hebrew mantra nine times to manifest it.

Oh of course, and every time you exclaimate and say wow you're praising yahweh since wow is the 6th letter in hebrew!!

Words, letters and sounds are universal and has a certain type of energy associated with them, just because the jews stole their whole language and culture from us pagans and then corrupted their meaning this does not give them an authority over words and letter nor over certain energies in the universe. This makes them thieves and liars who should be exterminated off of the whole universe which is exactly what the final RtR does. No rabbi in the world can change this fact no matter loud they whine and cry, and you giving them attention is very idiotic from you. The jews are NEVER to be trusted, they will lie to the furthest extent just to save their asses or to push their agenda.

This is praising Yahweh.

No it's not. No matter how much this rabbi try to twist and spin this ritual, it's still spelling their literal oblivion, which is exactly why this jew has spent this much effort by going through each letter and their variations to try and find something that can be twisted in some way to "prove" to you how somehow we are praising their shitty thoughtform by doing the exact ritual that destroys it and all of the jewish souls. Do you not see how retarded his argument is? It's very convenient how he COMPLETELY ignored how this is a ritual and not spelling words randomly.

The reversal of the Resh letter in the 22 ritual the spelling of the Hebrew words Sher, Shayr, Shor are Hebrews words for gates and opener of gates, guardian of gates which are the mystical gates of the Siddhur of the religious Jews and in Cabbala that the mind Resh must pass. The reversal of the Resh letter is just a Hebrew formula for opening the gates of their energy body. Which is the point of the Merkava teachings of Cabbala. And the gates of the Hebrew world tree in the other realms."

This is basically the same mental diarrhea all over again, I addressed it in my last reply as well. This is basically like saying Satan is evil since in hebrew Satan means enemy. It's like me saying water is bad because in my mind the word watter means acid. Also, merkava/merkaba is a stolen pagan concept, just like the majority of their religion, the only difference is that just like the meaning of the name Satan was corrupted, it's the same case of the rest of words they couldn't manage to remove so the ended up stealing them and corrupting their meaning and everything that has to do with them. This is irrelevant just like how jews are irrelevant and are destined to get extinct completely and forever.

I do not wish to waste my time any further addressing a mental diarrhea of a jew, I'm also very positive the only reason why the HPs approved this is for me or someone else to address it, this way everyone can learn more about the final RtR and remove any doubts. I hope you also stop wasting your time following random arguments aimlessly, make sure to read HPess Maxine's sermons as she has shed a lot of light over how jews stole and corrupted Pagan concepts, HPs Magson's sermons talk about this as well.

Loki asks for proof showing that getting your ears pierced and wearing some type of stones/crystals on them doesn't empower/amplify you in some type of way from reading his old post and says that he sees a black cat often and thinks it's some form of spy or something.

His being deceived by Jews shouldn't surprise anyone.

That is true. However what he says is very specific and raises question marks. I'm not convinced the RTR is legit however much of a 'rage response' it elicits

I think it is legit. I don't stay near any Jews so I don't know what kind of affects it has regarding that, but personally I feel the effects. Some would say that could be placebo. That's untrue. I went into the RTR and meditation without expecting anything.

I do it everyday and will continue to. The word of one (Jew?) Is not enough to discredit my experience with it as well as yours.

Right, you can feel that the RTR erases and nullifies the letters when you do it, if you can feel energy and etc.

It's the exact same when we were doing the reverse Torah portions. You could literally feel that it's erasing/undoing that verse.

The jews even admit themselves that the way to reverse a spell in hebrew is to reverse it, that's not bullshit like this jew claims. That's factual.

Go ahead and google it,

“Backwards Reduction

An incantation meant to undo the effects of a given event or phenomenon will often include elements of reversal, reciting a word or phrase backwards in some fashion”.

Found this in literally one minute by googling how to reverse a spell in Hebrew. You just have to reverse it.

So reversing it with intention while imagining it dissipating is obviously working to undo it.

Jews lie incessantly, some people think that the stuff said on here about the Jews is a lie or just theory.

But if you were to actually be around a jew for some time then you would notice this to all be true yourself, more so if you have spiritual awareness.

They're a race of psychopaths

Loki is so much about asking for proof. Ask for proof that reversing a spell in Hebrew doesn't undo it.

Because enough/multiple sources online say from Jews directly state that the way to undo a spell in Hebrew is to reverse the letters basically.

So where's the proof that this is invalid? Just because a Jew says that it's invalid? Where is the proof Loki?

It seems like maybe you favor what Jews say over Gentiles.

Are you sure that you're a Gentile even?

The RTR is legit firstly because the Gods directly instructed the clergy to perform it and encourage us to do the same. Second, upon performing it regularly, many members started advancing in many ways, as the RTR removed the curses applied upon them. Third, advanced members reported that the Shema scrolls and other Hebrew sources of power were considerably weakened when observed.

You will not find a peer-reviewed study on this, hence why, in the Al-Jiwah, Satan said to always trust your Satanic mentors and superiors, for they can see and observe the astral realm clearly, as well as receive clear and detailed instructions from the Gods themselves. In our case, Azazel, Satan's son, has been updating our clergy recently on the state of things.

This is something that calls upon your trust of the clergy and the Gods, because they can grasp the complete state of things on Earth and elsewhere. In a similar manner, a soldier must trust his general. There is not enough time for the general to explain to every soldier what is going on, only to the lieutenants. What is different here, though, is that eventually you will grow to general 'rank' and can then accurately observe astral interactions on your own.

Fourth, observe the recent amount of destruction the Jews and Christians are receiving. Every few days, google "church attack" or "church news" and you will read another Church arson or vandalism, church collapse, church covid outbreak, priest charged for pedophilia, etc. This means that the Christian structure is no longer receiving the psychic support from its Hebrew parent structure.

There was a delay between the start date of the F-RTR and these physical manifestations because the RTR first had to carve through all the astral shit to then influence the physical. We will begin to see more and more physical manifestations, as the astral protection once held has been cleaved away, leaving little between the psychic attack and Jewish physical creations.

What are you basing your opinion on the RTR on? No offense, but if it is just a "hunch" then it could be Jewish curses driving you away from it. We are few in number, so every single member they can convince to not keep up on something as important as the RTR makes a difference.

The problem is you keep getting drawn to Jewish sources, seemingly unwittingly. I think this is because of some sort of Jewish curses applied to you, which were done when you became a public NatSoc figure. These curses or other negative Jewish energy would then steer you back into Jewish lies, thereby bringing about your downfall. Same way a drug user, with this negative energy stuck to their soul, will be lead to drugs in the next life.

Observe the past few months and notice how there seems to have been some sort of force preventing you from accomplishing the key milestones of: dedicating to Satan, performing power meditation, and performing the F-RTR. From what you can observe consciously, this manifests as "just trying to ascertain the truth", but in reality, the energy directed against you is using this route against you. Energy takes the easiest route to manifest, and in your case, it chose to play your mental thought processes against you, thereby preventing your advancement.

If you want an easy form of proof, from JOS, just do the Third Eye opening. There are no prerequisites, and it will be pretty obvious that it is working. No other site or organization just freely gives you the specific mantra used for blasting open your astral vision, because that makes you powerful.

Additionally, steer clear of Jews, because as others said, they will literally say whatever to avoid damage. They are spinning you in all sorts of circles, using facts and arguments that you may not even be fully knowledgeable in to convince you of something. The fact that they are trying to make arguments against the F-RTR just shows that they are worried about it. If it was meaningless, they would focus on attacking the next most powerful thing, but they don't.

When you try to understand a Jew's logical arguments, you are at a disadvantage. Given the same bioenergy as a Gentile, a Jew has a higher logical ability, allowing him to deceive. Where the Jew is at a major disadvantage is spiritual powers, which is why they worked to suppress them in Gentiles. By trying to understand the Jew's logical arguments (which contain blatant lies within them), you are playing into his strength. He knows you are susceptible to lying, because you are a being of Truth. Satan in Sanskrit means truth. This means that you don't expect others to just blatantly, psychopathically lie, as Jews do.

Yes, I know, I transposed "e" and "i" in my name.

"Write the following prayer:

Before the almighty and ineffable God Satan/Lucifer and in the presence of all Demons of Hell, who are the True and the Original gods, I, (state your full name) renounce any and all past allegiances. I renounce the false Judeo/Christian god Jehova, I renounce his vile and worthless son Jesus Christ, I renounce his foul, odious, and rotten holy spirit.

I proclaim Satan Lucifer as my one and only God. I promise to recognize and honor him in all things, without reservation, desiring in return, his manifold assistance in the successful completion of my endeavors.

It is important to bathe before any rituals you perform, this is done out of respect. When you are ready, you can light the candle. Take the needle, prick the index finger of your left hand, squeeze some blood out.

Sign your name in blood.

Recite the prayer either aloud or in your head

Fold the paper and let it burn in the fire of the candle. Many of us have stayed and meditated until the candle had burned itself out.

At the end of the ritual, close with the words "So mote it be." And a Big "HAIL SATAN!!!"

The gentile being is designed to operate primarily in a spiritual sense, not just logical. Imagine taking 100 years to scientifically derive how the body works versus simply using your astral senses to map the energy flow of the body.

You may be trying to ascertain the truth, which is not the problem. The problem is you are neglecting your main method of doing so, which is the astral/spiritual aspect. Nobody is saying you should not seek the truth, but how much truth can you find on this planet where everything related to the topic of spirituality is either destroyed or corrupted? The tools the JOS provides, themselves provided by the gods, are the quickest way to advance such that you can see the truth yourself, not reading from a Jew author. Remember, Satan in Sanksrit means "Truth", and you are a descendant of him.

Your doubts about anything related to JOS will be quickly extinguished by your own experience through your spiritual practice of the tools and exercises provided by JOS/Satan, not by continuous reading of material that you have no idea what is right and what is wrong. I am like you in some ways, I like to overthink things, but please, you need to just commit to the actionable side of things, otherwise the truth will always be hidden from you.

True enough. I am only questioning and trying to ASCERTAIN the Truth.

The gentile being is designed to operate primarily in a spiritual sense, not just logical. Imagine taking 100 years to scientifically derive how the body works versus simply using your astral senses to map the energy flow of the body.

You may be trying to ascertain the truth, which is not the problem. The problem is you are neglecting your main method of doing so, which is the astral/spiritual aspect. Nobody is saying you should not seek the truth, but how much truth can you find on this planet where everything related to the topic of spirituality is either destroyed or corrupted? The tools the JOS provides, themselves provided by the gods, are the quickest way to advance such that you can see the truth yourself, not reading from a Jew author. Remember, Satan in Sanksrit means "Truth", and you are a descendant of him.

Your doubts about anything related to JOS will be quickly extinguished by your own experience through your spiritual practice of the tools and exercises provided by JOS/Satan, not by continuous reading of material that you have no idea what is right and what is wrong. I am like you in some ways, I like to overthink things, but please, you need to just commit to the actionable side of things, otherwise the truth will always be hidden from you.

i know this was for loki but it really speaks to me and applies to things here for me at the moment. i grasp for logical evidence all the time while using my intuition, and can actually be pretty paranoid. i honestly think the biggest thing holding me back is the control freak in me just not wanting to let go and seriously doubting my senses

Explaining spiritual concepts to a non-practicing person is like explaining colors to a blind person. You can do so much, but they have to see for themselves to fully understand.

Also, many newbies, like Loki, are not searching for a proof for the legitimacy of the JoS or the spiritual world, instead they give it their all and keep searching for a "proof" that all of this is just bullshit. You can do so much in this case, but evidently from the way Loki keeps acting, it's all in vain if they keep insisting on finding that one proof that all of this is false.

In Spiritual Satanism, everyone has to walk down the spiritual road themselves. The Gods and SS would point you to the right direction but it's your responsibility to walk.

Hail Satan!!!!

"Nish" which is the Shin is actually which used to be a Gentile God, and not "Jehovah". It is also a reversal of the Sin which is the Sumerian God of the Moon.

Is the Sumerian God of the Moon (sin) a enemy entity?

The comment person also claimed NES is the energy of shin(shin backwards). Which makes no sense, why should every letter be destroyed by reversal, but somehow shin is an exception :lol: . (everything else is already disproved by your former comment)

I really like it, when the enemy has to approve partly the truth, so they can mix some lies to it, which we disprove so only the truth stays there, approved from our and the enemy side 8-) . Considering how much they fear us, if they have to make such a big fuss on a video with 150 views :P .

No, of course not. Sin is a Sumerian name for the moon.

You reverse Kik by saying Kik and intending its reversal. It is not rocket science really. Jews however are afraid of massive hordes of people doing RTR so they need to stop even 1 or 10 people, so writing BS is not a big price for them to pay.

I read this after SouthernWhiteGentile linked it in the main post.

Fun fact - After my original Jack The Good Guy account was lost, I made an account 'Sin' which I wanted to operate, it was blocked and the Moderator wrote some gibberish I couldn't understand. I tried making a post again about why I wasn't allowed to write on that account and he said 'This is an enemy name. Change it.' Or something related like that. Now I'm sure who banned that account lol. I always thought it was incomprehensible that you'd ban a person from using the Sin name as an account, which is both edgy and a Sumerian moon god name.
